MATTERS IN PORTO RICO.

Public Meeting of Delegates From All Parts of the Island.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 31.—The principal theatre of the city was taxed to its utmost capacity Sunday afternoon, on the occasion of a public meeting of delegates from the chief towns of the island to consider the draft recommendations regarding the necessities of the island for the use of the special commissioners, who will be selected later to represent Porto Rico at Washington, when the time comes for settling the administrative system.

The meeting received with enthusiasm the resolutions demanding territorial rights, the cessation of the present military rule and the installation of regular civil government. Other resolutions were adopted asking an eight-hour day for the laboring man and severely denouncing the present corrupt system of registering deeds of land.

It was obvious that the delegates proceeded upon the assumption that the United States would grant Porto Rico territorial rights.

Hunting for Office.

Manzanillo, Oct. 31.—The visit of General Leonard Wood, Governor of the Military Department of Santiago, has been instrumental in bringing all the elements among the Cubans to the front. No fewer than 2,000 insurgents, of whom 500 are officers, want offices, and their clamor almost amounts to a demand. There are two leading factions, one headed by General Jesus Rabi, and the other by General Rios.

General Wood and Col. Pettit regard the outlook as rather discouraging; still, they hope that some means may soon be found to break up the Cuban army.

Passengers With Dynamite.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Oct. 31.—A sensation was caused here yesterday on the arrival of the Red Line steamer Philadelphia from the Spanish Main, by the discovery in the hand bags of two passengers of a number of explosive cartridges containing dynamite. The discovery was made by the customs officials, and the passengers were arrested on the supposition that they are Anarchists. The police, who fear that others belonging to the gang have escaped, are making a strict search.

THE NEWS IS OMINOUS

The French-British War Scare Has Been Revived.

A REQUEST TO NEWSPAPERS.

The New French Cabinet Complete—The Dreyfus Dossier Inspected by Counsel for the Family—A German Proposal About China—The Philippines to Be Taken by the U. S.

London, Nov. 1.—The Daily Mail this morning publishes no news regarding England's war preparations, explaining that silence is due to a letter from the War Office, asking it not to publish "anything which might be useful to a possible enemy."

"We intend to ascertain to-day," said the Daily Mail, "from the War Office and the Admiralty what kind of news it would be permissible to publish."

The Daily Mail confirms the reports of unexampled activity at the French dockyards, notably at Toulon, where the coast fo's have been experimenting with melinite shells against an old gunboat.

Another Significant Order.

London, Nov. 1.—Most of the papers are full of alleged war preparations, despite the undoubted fact that the authorities are doing their best to prevent publication, and even denying statements that have already appeared. Yesterday a sudden order was received at Dover for an experimental mobilization of the defence force. All the heights and forts were smartly occupied in a manner giving full satisfaction.

The arsenal at Woolwich is working until 11 o'clock every night, the Government having given large orders for guns, searchlights and other naval equipment.

The British Channel squadron has cast anchor off Gibraltar.

The advices from Paris in the special despatches this morning add little to what was already known regarding the situation at Fashoda. It is believed that Capt. Baratier is taking only verbal instructions for Major Marchand.

The idea prevails at the French capital that Count Muravieff, the Russian Foreign Minister, while there on his recent visit promised Russian support in reopening the whole Egyptian question, and that Major Marchand will be instructed to fall back and maintain his occupation of all Bahr-El-Ghazal posts.

THAT GLOOMY FEELING

Was Caused by the Aggressive Tone of Some French Papers.

London, Nov. 1.—There was an unexpected gloomy feeling yesterday on the Stock Exchange and the Paris Bourse, both these markets being influenced, it is inferred, from the aggressive tone of some of the French papers. Besides this, something extraordinary seems to have happened, and it looks as if a crisis is approaching. The British naval preparations are certainly being pushed with great activity. The British emergency squadron is gathering at Devonport with all possible speed. Seven battleships and one cruiser have been thus far designated to join this squadron. Officers and sailors have been hurriedly recalled from leave of absence, several battleships and cruisers at Portsmouth are taking their full crews on board, and other warlike preparations are being made.

British War Preparations.

A number of signalmen now on duty with the British channel squadron, which arrived at Gibraltar yesterday, have been ordered home for service, it is presumed, on board the auxiliary cruisers if the latter are required for active service.

A sensation has been caused by the arrest of a supposed Russian spy at a fort near Harwich. The man was already under surveillance and went to a redoubt, where he tried to obtian some information from a sentry regarding the fortifications. He was promptly arrested and inquiries are being made regarding his antecedents.

Volunteers to Mobilize.

It was also asserted yesterday that the commanding officers of the London volunteer regiments have received orders to prepare for immediate mobilization, and it was asserted that the different artillery corps have been informed as to the forts on the southern and eastern coasts to which they have been allotted.

The Pall Mall Gazette in the afternoon said: "England has been and even now is so near war that the Government has carried its preparations to the farthest limit of the preparatory stage. It has been arranged to call out the reserves and militia, and to mobilize the volunteers simultaneously, and to form large camps at various important railroad junctions, where rolling stock and locomotives will be concentrated."

THE DOSSIER AT LAST.

Part of It Seen by Counsel for the Dreyfus Family.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The criminal section of the Court of Cassation yesterday afternoon appointed councillors to proceed with a supplementary inquiry into the Dreyfus case, and counsel for the Dreyfus family went to the Ministry of War for the purpose of studying the secret documents in the case. M. Lookroy, who is still acting as Minister of War pending the installation of his successor, M. De Freycinet, raised difficulties about delivering the documents, but allowed counsel to inspect certain of them.

A Peculiar Combination.

London, Nov. 1.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, dilating upon the fact that the Dreyfus affair occurred under M. Dupuy's former Premiership, and when President Faure was Minister of Marine, says:

"It is disquieting for the revisionists, that M. Faure now confers the Premiership upon M. Dupuy, as these two are called upon to screen their former colleague, General Mercier."

BRITAIN'S SUPERIOR FORCE

Causes the French to Back Down as Regards Fashoda.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Eclair yesterday said it learned on reliable authority that the Fashoda question will be settled favorably to Great Britain by the recall of Major Marchand. France, the paper adds, yields all, reserving only the question of the right to the Bahr-El-Ghazal district, which she does not consider as belonging to Egypt.

Continuing, the Eclair remarked: "M. Delcasse, however, has now decided to raise the whole Egyptian question, which should have been done from the first and thus avoided the humiliation of yielding to the British ultimatum. When the question is thus enlarged, France will not be alone in its discussion with the Marquis of Salisbury. Egypt interests all the powers. Russia has promised M. Delcasse its most effective assistance, and, besides, Germany has the biggest interest, in view of her east Africa possessions and trade in the far East, that the Suez Canal should not become exclusively British, and is disposed to support Franco-Russian arguments for a definitive settlement of the Egyptian question."

Egyptian Troops for Fashoda.

London, Nov. 1.—The Cairo correspondent of the Daily Mail says an Egyptian battalion has been despatched to Fashoda.

JOINT OCCUPATION PROPOSED.

Baron Von Heyking Wants to Keep the Chinese in Check—Tricky Dowager Empress.

Pekin, Nov. 1.—Baron Von Heyking, the German Minister to China, has proposed to the representatives of the powers at Pekin a joint occupation of the railway from Shan Hai Kwan, Province of Pe Chi Li, to Pekin, thus securing communication with the coast, unless the Chinese Government promptly withdraws its troops to a safe distance from the line.

The Empress Dowager, it is reported, has ordered the Kangsu troops to Pekin to serve as a protection against a possible movement on the part of General Yuan Shik Kai, whom she believes is using the foreign drilled force under his command, in the neighborhood of Tien Tsin, in collusion with the foreign envoys.

WILL TAKE THE BUNCH.

United States Wants the Entire Philippine Islands.

Paris, Nov. 1.—At the joint meeting of the Spanish-American Peace Commission, the American Commissioners presented a written expression of the purpose of the United States to take the entire group of Philippine Islands, and to assume such proportion of the Philippine debt as has been spent for the benefit of the islands or their inhabitants in public works improvement and permanent betterments. It was also set forth that the United States would not assume any part of the Philippine debt which had been incurred by Spain for the furtherance of military or naval operations to quell the insurrection of the natives.

The session was eventually adjourned until Friday in order to give the Spaniards time to prepare a reply. The session yesterday lasted a little over an hour.

What the Spaniards Say.

Paris, Nov. 1.—After the conference dissolved the Spanish Commissioners expressed the opinion that the American demands would create in Spain, as they had upon her commissioners, an exceedingly grave impression. Were the Spanish Commissioners pushed to a final determination last night, they would reject the American demands, but the changing tone of the Spanish press recently urges the consummation of a treaty of peace, however rigorous, the argument being that, although the Spaniards bow to the American demands, the commissioners do not acknowledge the justice or admit the legality of them.

Surprise at Madrid.

Madrid, Nov. 1.—The news that the Spanish Peace Commissioners at Paris had referred to the Government a formal demand of the American Commissioners for the absolute cession of the entire Philippine group has caused the greatest surprise in Madrid. The strongest feeling prevails that the Government should protest energetically against what is regarded as a violation of the spirit of the protocol.

What the Thunderer Says.

London, Nov. 1.—The Times editorially this morning expresses its frank satisfaction at the decision of the United States Commissioners to take the Philippines. It says:

"The arrangement is undoubtedly the best that could be made, both for the inhabitants and for all interested in the trade and progress of the far East. Upon this point, as upon others, Spain has no choice but to yield, since her warmest partisans no longer maintain that she has either the means or the wish to renew the war.

"The same irresistible logic of facts controls the question of the Cuban debt. The United States can dictate their own terms. At the same time, we are bound to draw attention to the serious consequences of the policy upon which the American delegates have insisted."

The editorial then proceeds to back up the recent contention of its Paris correspondent, who argued that Spain could only meet the Cuban debt by sacrificing her foreign bondholders, "who by a strange anomaly would thus have to pay for the independence of Cuba."

NEW FRENCH CABINET.

M. De Freycinet in the Office of Minister of War.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The new Cabinet is constituted as follows:

M. Dupuy, Premier and Minister of the Interior.
M. Lebret, Minister of Justice.
M. De Freycinet, Minister of War.
M. Lookroy, Minister of Marine.
M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
M. Peytral, Minister of Finance.
M. Leygues, Minister of Public Instruction.
M. Deloncle, Minister of Commerce.
M. Guillain, Minister of the Colonies.
M. Viger, Minister of Agriculture.
M. Krantz, Minister of Public Works.

Trying Time for Germany.

London, Nov. 1.—The Standard, in its city article, says that between now and the end of the year many millions of pounds sterling borrowed in London and Paris, for use in sustaining German industrial and commercial speculations, may have to be paid back. This will put severe pressure on all German credit institutions. There may be no break down, but the end of the year will be a trying time for Germany.

LONDON STREET CAR STRIKE.

The Company Refuses to Recognize the Union in Any Way.

London, Ont., Nov. 1.—The Citizens' Committee, representing the conductors and motormen, had a conference with the Street Railway officials yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of arranging a settlement of the difficulty between the company and its employes. The points pro and con in the dispute were fully discussed, and the company's representatives expressed themselves as ready and willing to listen to any grievances from the strikers individually or collectively, but positively refused to recognize the Union in any way. This decision was communicated to the strikers, who will hold a meeting this morning, and decide as to their course of action.

It is believed the men will meet the company on the terms laid down to them.

NOT TO BE SHELVED.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Denies the Ottawa Citizen Story.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Yesterday morning Sir Wilfrid Laurier was seen at his office and asked if he had seen the following statement published in the Citizen:

"Lieut.-Governor Patterson of Manitoba is desirous of retiring from his gubernatorial position, and it is currently reported that Sir Wilfrid is anxious for Mr. Sifton to become Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba."

"Well," replied the Premier, "life is too short to take notice of all the misrepresentations and insinuations published daily in the Conservative press, but this latter insinuation is such that I can make an exception. You may tell your readers that there is not even a shadow of truth in the statement. Mr. Sifton is too good a man and too efficient a Minister of the Interior to dispense with his services."

THE THREE EMPRESSES

May Be Turned Into Cruisers, So a Rumor From Vancouver Says.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 1.—It is reported, although the rumor wants confirmation, that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has received notification from the British Admiralty that the three big Empress liners may be required at any moment to be transformed into auxiliary cruisers. Guns and other equipment lie at Hong Kong and Esquimault. One vessel is now in Vancouver harbor, one at Hong Kong, and the other en route to Yokohama. If the trouble with France assumes the worst aspect, two Empresses could be ready immediately.

Engineer Bothwell Died.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—The pitch-in that occurred on the Grand Trunk on Sunday evening at Paris has resulted in the death of Engineer Thomas Bothwell. Bothwell's train was made up and ready to start out for Buffalo, with a long string of freight cars, heavily laden. While standing on the diamond track in the yards, another freight train crashed into his rear cars, and Bothwell was thrown underneath the wheels and terribly mangled. He was removed in an unconscious condition to the John H. Stratford Hospital at Brantford. It was expected that he would recover, but, after having his left leg amputated, he only rallied for a short while and passed away shortly before midnight. Bothwell was a married man and leaves a widow and family, who reside at Point Edward. Mr. W. F. Kennedy of Thamesville, a shipper, on board the train, was also badly cut about the face and hands, and several cars of live stock were demolished.

The Cordelia Going Home.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 1.—The cruiser Cordelia, British, will sail for England to-day, where she will be paid off. The sloop Pelican will also leave port, probably going to the West Indies.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1898.

LONDON STREET CAR STRIKE.

LONDON the less is the liveliest city in Canada now. The excitement over the trial of the peg-leg tramp is mild beside the street railway strike ruction. The employees are on strike. They refuse to run the cars, but they show every disposition to run the manager, another kind of Carr, out of the city. To prevent this catastrophe, the company has applied a Break—to the Carr—Break is the superintendent's name. The company is in a corner; the mayor of the city demands that the cars run at once or he will have an injunction served upon the company. The striking employees, and the mass of the citizens, who sympathize with them, have served a pretty good sized injunction on the company—the size taking addled eggs as one of its forms. The company will get out of its hole all the more readily when in relation to its employees it serves upon itself this injunction; "Do unto others as you would that others would do unto you.' There is only one car belonging to the company that the strikers seem inclined to break, and that is Manager Carr, who is not exactly popular, though he was honoured with a very "high" ovation. Public sympathy is with the strikers, so much so that a dozen aliens imported from Lima, Ohio, to take their places, had to sleep in a car barn, the hotels even refusing them accommodation. We do not want aliens at any time, but aliens imported to assist in adding difficulty to the fight of oppressed labour for its rights, will meet a hot reception, if not a warm welcome. We don't know much about the merits of the strike, but it is safe to say that the London Street Railway Company hasn't been guilty of paying their employees too high wages or of forcing them to work too short hours, or being too liberal with them.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, October 29th.—The process of extracting sunbeams from cucumbers is being reduced to a fine art by speakers and writers in the Opposition ranks. After first prophesying blue ruin in all its various shades and gradations as the outcome of the advent of the Liberals to office, and after refusing for two years to see the marked improvement in every direction which followed the change of Government, they are now discovering that prosperity does actually exist and that the country really is in better shape to-day, than it has been at any time since Confederation—but it is all the result of the National Policy.

"The great crops in Manitoba and the Northwest are the pride of Canada, and they declare the patriotism and wisdom of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper and other statesmen," etc., and again, "When one contemplates the Canada of to-day, with its united provinces, its enormous area, its fields of golden grain, its gold, its iron, its railways and what not, it is impossible to forget the work which Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper did for the Empire." In these identical words does the Mail-Empire credit the late administration through its "National Policy," not only, as at one time, with fostering and developing the resources of the country, but with actually creating them. We evidently never realised before that to the creative genius of these heroes, but in future we will feel a deeper sense of gratitude to the man who called into existence "the enormous area, the fields of golden grain, the gold, the iron, the railways and what not"—the "what not" possibly includes the national debt and the boodling.

But joking aside, it took a terrible time for that old National Policy to get in its work. For eighteen years it had full and absolute swing and the net results of nearly two decades were a depleted population, a struggling people, monopoly ridden Provinces, a tariff bound country, stagnant trade, silent factories, an ever-growing exodus of our brightest and best citizens to more enterprising foreign lands and a hesitancy on the part of desirable settlers to cast in their lot with us. Two years has elapsed since the opportunity came to change all this, and almost to a month did the first signs of change appear. No one will begrudge the Opposition the poor satisfaction of trying to make themselves believe that it is only a coincident, and and that the National Policy deserves credit for the improvement, but unfortunately for them, the electorate cannot be fooled that way.

A FEW STATISTICS.

The Statistical Year Book for 1897, which has just been issued by Dominion Statistician Johnson contains the usual vast amount of valuable information respecting the Dominion. Figures are proverbially capable of being made to prove anything, and widely different deductions have been drawn from the same set of statistics, but the assertion will not be questioned, that the figures appearing in this official record for the past thirty years since Confederation, indicate a steady and substantial growth along the lines of national progress, development and prosperity. The revenue of the country, for example, has grown from $13,688,000 in 1868, to $37,630,000 in 1897; the imports in 1868 were $73,460,000, and in 1897 $119,219,000; the exports of Canadian products were $48,505,000 in 1868 and in 1897 $123,682,500; the railway mileage in 1868 was 2,200, and in 1897, 16,550; the shipping tonnage inwards and outwards 4,319,321 in 1868, and 12,010,980 in 1897; the capital of the chartered banks has grown from $30,289,000 to $61,949,000, and bank assets from $77,872,000 to $335,204,000; post office savings banks deposits from $204,588 to $32,381,000, and the number of depositors from 2,102 to 135,737, while the per capita amount of deposits in post offices and other saving banks has risen from $1.50 in 1868, to $12.33 in 1897. The number o post offices has grown from 3,638 to 9,191 and the number of letters handled from 18,000,000 to 124,000,000. The statistics of the patent office are also interesting and significant; the uumber of patents and certificates issued in 1868 being 546, as against 4,297 last year and the number of copyrights, trademarks, etc., 72 in 1868 and 1,390 in 1897.

THE PULP WOOD INDUSTRY.

The development of the pulp wood industry which has received such a marked impulse by the agreement entered into between the Ontario Government and the Sturgeon Falls Pulp Company (Limited) is of more than ordinary importance not only to Ontario but to Canada. The British market for wood pulp is enormous and growing, and so far the American mills have almost entirely supplied it. When the new company has its goods upon the market there is no doubt that they will prove a very serious competitor if indeed they do not take entire possession. The investment of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 in the erection and operation of the mills, and the employment of between 200 and 300 hands is in itself a great commercial importance to the Province, but the adding of another link in the growing and strengthening chain of inter-imperial commercial interests is of yet greater moment, for it affects not only the entire Dominion but the Empire. The action of the Provincial Government in giving the new comers such inducements as have secured their locating here, while at the same time thoroughly safe-guarding the contry's interests is business-like and far-sighted.

AN OUTSIDE OPINION.

"To those who may say to Mr. Sifton, the responsible Canadian Minister, why was not this decisive investigation into the affairs of the Yukon entered upon earlier, there is this sufficient answer:—"No Minister of the Crown can act on idle rumor and newspaper report. As Major Walsh's report shows, appeal was again and again made for such details of alleged wrong-doing as were essential to identification and to adequate inquiry but no details were forthcoming. Now that Mr. Sifton has a formal petition from the Klondike Miners' Committee he acts as becomes a British Minister." This is not an extract from the "subsidized press," nor has it been instigated by the Minister; it is the sober opinion of the London (Eng) Outlook, than which there is not a newspaper published to-day that is more thoroughly and reliably posted on Canadian news.

WHY THIS SUDDEN LET-UP?

There is a sudden and ominous cessation in the pursuit of the Minister of the Interior; possibly though not probably, the pursuers are a little ashamed of their foolishness and mendacity. Just now the Oppositionists are varying their favourite amusement of hounding the Ministers by shouting at the heels of the Minister of Public Works, a change which leads the Hamilton Hearald to remark: "It looks as if Mr. Tarte was getting roasted for being the best Minister of Public Works Canada has had since Alexander Mackenzie laid down the job."

DAIRY COLD STORAGE A SUCCESS.

It is announced from the North West that Professor Robertson's scheme of small refrigator storages at the creameries has proved entirely successful. During the past summer July butter and part of the June out-put, has sustained no injury and is now being shipped in first class condition. By holding their supplies until now the farmers have cleared about three and one-half cents a pound extra.

NOVEMBER DYEING.

Success, Profit and Pleasure When Diamond Dyes Are Used.

Thousands of city and country women and girls will dye during the month of November. Old dresses, costumes, capes, jackets, wraps, shawls, and clothing for men and boys will be brought from the attics, closets and boxes, and prepared for the dye bath.

It is safe to assert that every wife, mother and daughter who has heard of the wonder-working Diamond Dyes will use them in preference to any other make of dyes.

It is unnecessary to dilate upon the many grand results that users of Diamond Dyes obtain. A few words will tell the story. The Diamond Dyes will make the old things look as fresh and as good as new, and will give colours that sun or washing cannot fade. The unfortunate women who are induced by some dealers to buy imitation and adulterated dyes will certainly suffer loss of money, time and materials.

There is profit in home dyeing only when the Diamond Dyes are used. See that you get the "Diamond" from your dealer; refuse all imitations.

MR. DOUGLAS' DENIAL

He Gives Emphatic Evidence in the Personal Case.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND TRIAL.

Dwight Macdonald Jailed Until He Sobers Up and Can Tell a Straight Story—His Brother's Evidence Given in a Halting Manner—Inquiry Into the Personal Charge.

Colborne, Ont., Nov. 1.—At the East Northumberland election trial yesterday morning two charges were taken up for consideration. The first was that Frederick Macdonald, who lives near Colborne, had been paid $5 on the night before the election to vote for Mr. J. H. Douglas. The money, it was charged, had been paid by Captain Brown, who, the petitioner's counsel claim, was an agent of the candidate. Macdonald swore that the money had been slipped into his pocket by Captain Brown. He knew this was so, because Brown had told him some days before that the money would be put in his pocket.

The witness' evidence was not very satisfactory. At first he was unable to remember any of the conversation which he claimed he had held with Captain Brown, but finally he recalled some of it.

In cross-examination, too, he altered and added to this.

Dwight Macdonald was called to testify on another particular in which it was contended he was paid for his vote. He was under the influence of liquor, however, and was sent down by the judges until he should sober up.

A Personal Charge.

A personal charge against the member was next taken up. The contention of the petition is that the day prior to the election Mr Douglas called at the house of P.C. Breckenridge and obtained his vote and the vote of his son by intimidation. Brockenridge is a mill-owner, and was indebted to Mr. Douglas to the amount of $100, which was secured by mortgage on his house. There was a mortgage of $450, too, on the mill, held by an estate of which Mr. Douglas is the administrator. The contention of the petition is that if these men did not vote for Mr. Douglas he would shut down on them generally and close their business.

The witnesses were Breckenridge and his son, who claimed that they considered that while no threats were actually made, Mr. Douglas' remark that if they did not vote for him they would no longer be friends, was an intimation to them that he would take advantage of his position to bother them financially.

Mr. Douglas' Statement.

Mr. John H. Douglas was called by the counsel for the respondent, and gave his version of the conversation. He stated that he had heard that Mr. Breckenridge was going to vote against him, although he had virtually promised six months previously to vote for him. He was surprised and went around to his house to see him. His son accompanied him, and sat in the rig about fifteen feet from where the conversation took place. It was a clear night, and his son was able to hear what was said. The witness called Mr. Breckenridge out of his house and told him he had heard that he was going to vote against him, reminding him at the same time of his former promise. He said to Mr. Breckenridge: "You will never have a better opportunity of doing me a good turn than by voting for me now." He told him that a great deal depended on the election, and that he wanted to know at once who his friends were, so that he might make up his estimate of what vote he would get in his ward. He denied that he had said, "If you do not help me I will not help you."

Donald Douglas, son of the respondent, testified that he had heard the conversation, and his evidence was corroborative of that of his father's. At the conclusion of the taking of evidence on the charge the counsel addressed the bench, and their Lordships reserved judgment, at the same time ordering that the taking of testimony on other charges be continued.

The court adjourned at this point.

NORTH SIMCOE ELECTION.

A Meeting at Stayner Favors the Nomination of Another Candidate.

Barrie, Nov. 1.—A meeting of electors of North Simcoe was held in Stayner yesterday afternoon. The meeting was attended by about 100 delegates from different parts of the riding, among those present being Messrs. Neil Harkins, James Martin, Sunnidale; Donald Ross, J. A. MacLaren, A. F. Hunter, S. Caldwell, N. W. E. King, J. Cavanagh, C. E. Hewson, Dr. Smith, Barrie; R. Graham, C. S. Burton, W. F. W. Lent, Flos; A. Findlay, W. Webb, D. Stewart, Vespra; Mayor Campbell, David Williams, W. Carmichael, Collingwood. Mr. Donald Ross, B.A. of Barrie, was voted to the chair, and Mr. W. Carmichael of Collingwood was elected Secretary. A resolution was carried that in the opinion of the meeting a candidate should be put in the field at once to contest the riding. Another resolution was carried, setting forth the desire of the meeting to have a convention called by the Liberal Executive Committee, and that the Executive be notified of such desire and given two weeks to comply with the same, but in the event of their not doing so the Chairman and Secretary of the meeting yesterday were empowered to call a convention.

So the Fight Goes On.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Two more election cases have been practically settled, with the transference of their venues to Toronto. West Middlesex and South Grey are the two in question, and the date for the final burial of the hatchet is Nov. 14.

South Huron and West Huron will be similarly disposed of to-day before Justices Osler and Maclennan.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 3,320.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,080 00
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, same policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

HARRY T. SHIBLEY DROWNED.

Went Hunting and Fishing North of Kingston and Lost His Life.

Kingston, Nov. 1.—On Friday last Messrs. James Younger and Harry T. Shibley left the city for a few days' hunting and fishing at Salmon Lake, 25 miles north of the city. At 5.30 o'clock that evening Shibley left in a skiff for a point two miles down the lake, while Younger was to return to a farm house with the horse and rig, Shibley promising to meet him on his return to the lake an hour later. That was the last seen of Shibley. Younger kept watch all day Saturday, firing off his rifle, but did not receive any response. On Saturday morning Younger was joined by William Dunnett and another companion named Babcock. Upon nearing the lake they found the skiff floating. It had shipped some water, and contained two rifles, cooking utensils and other things. Two overcoats, some blankets, Shibley's hat and the oars were found floating a short distance away. Upon enquiries at the shanty, which was Shibley's objective point, the two men there declared Shibley had not been seen, although a lookout had been kept. It was, therefore, concluded that the missing man had lost his life. Deceased was aged about 27 years, was the eldest son of the late Schuyler Shibley, a graduate of Queen's, where he took a gold medal in political science, and also a graduate of Osgoode Hall. He practised his profession for a while in the Western States, but lately settled down here. Two sisters and a brother, Arthur H., clerk of the municipality of Westmount, Que., survive.

Lord and Lady Minto Are Just Now Engaged in That Way.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—A Star special cable from London says: Lord and Lady Minto are busy paying the last farewells, preparatory to sailing on the steamer Scotsman on Thursday.

For this painful trouble, Griffith's Liniment is an absolute pain destroyer—it penetrates and lubricates the joints, takes away all the stiffness and gives relief in a few minutes—works wonders in chronic rheumatism cases.

BAIL ACCEPTED.

The Goderich Township Shooting Case Before Magistrate Seager—Decision Reserved.

Goderich, Nov. 1.—The Cox-Beatty shooting case was up before Charles Seager, police magistrate, and Horace Horton, J.P., on Saturday. Several witnesses were examined, and the court adjourned until yesterday, when all the other witnesses were examined.

The evidence was the same as that given at the coroner's inquest, with the exception of that of the prisoner, whose evidence was taken yesterday and agrees exactly with his statement given before. He gave his testimony freely, and did not appear to try to shield himself in any manner. It seems he did not put the revolver in his pocket purposely on the morning of the tragedy when starting out for Beatty's, but had it in his pocket for days before, thinking that he could frighten Beatty from coming to his house to take Tilly, his daughter, away. He took this method, knowing that Beatty was a cowardly fellow, and had previously, by his own admission, been frightened in this way. After the evidence was in, Mr. Holt addressed the court in the prisoner's behalf, contending that the magistrates should discharge him, as it was a clear case, he thought, of self-defence.

Mr. E. N. Lewis, for the Crown, asked for a committal.

The magistrates reserved their decision until Wednesday next at 2 o'clock, and in the meantime allowed Cox out on bail, himself in $1,000 and W. J. Paisley of Clinton and Thomas Cox, prisoner's brother, in $1,000 each.

The Great Deliverer from Disease and Suffering.

The One and Only Medicine That the Ablest Physicians Recommend and Prescribe.

Paine's Celery Compound

Is the Prescription of a Great Physician.

In Life-giving Virtue and Power It Has No Equal.

It should be well understood by the physically brokendown and diseased that no ordinary concoction, sarsaparilla, nervine or purifier can do what Paine's Celery Compound is able to fully accomplish: cure men and women of such serious diseases as kidney troubles, liver complaints, and affections arising from impure blood, or permanently drive out of the system—and this is the point that no sufferer should lose sight of—rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia.

Paine's Celery Compound is a sure and certain cure for the exhausted nervous system; it is the one and only honest cure for all diseases that indicate vitiated blood.

It is Paine's Celery Compound, the great food for shrunken and unstrung nerves, the marvellous system cleanser and digestive regulator, that we so strongly recommend to you, dear reader, if you have lost the strength and vitality of true manhood or womanhood. Try its wonderful curative effects if only for a week, and you will surely bless heaven that such a life-giver was placed before suffering humanity.

Labor-Saving Machinery.

A St. Louis shoe manufacturer, in an interview in the Shoe and Leather Gazette states that by the use of new "turn machines" his concern can produce about 400 pairs of shoes a day, one operator doing the work formerly requiring eighteen skilled mechanics.

Another trade paper describes a new paper hanging machine, on which a roll of paper is placed on a long rod, on one side of which is a paste receptacle, which applies the paste automatically as the roll of wall paper is unrolled. After the end of the paper is once set at the bottom of the wall and the machine started on its upward course toward the ceiling an elastic roller follows on the outside, pressing the automatically pasted paper to the wall. When the roll has reached the top the workman pulls a cord and the paper is neatly clipped off at the level at which it stops.

Routleys Sensational Sale of Woollen Hosiery and Ladies' Undervests.

This unparalleled Sale has been the talk of the town for the past week, and the wonder has been how the goods are sold so cheap.

In answer to many enquiries, we may explain that this stock was hypothecated to protect a liability of the manufacturer, and placed in our hands to sell regardless of original cost. That accounts for the milk in the cocoanut. We have already sold hundreds of dollars' worth, but there is still hundreds of dollars' worth left. As we are not in the Hosiery business to stay, we will continue to offer the goods at about THE COST OF THE WOOL, until every vestige is cleared out. A few prices will serve to show how much we are in earnest:—

FIRMER AT CLOSE.

Wheat in Chicago and Liverpool—It Felt the War Rumors, But the Small Visible Increase More.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31.

Liverpool wheat futures were easy to-day, closing 1d to 1½d lower than on Saturday. Paris wheat closed 10 centimes higher to 20 centimes lower than on Saturday, with flour 5 centimes lower to 10 centimes higher.

These weaker cables, together with heavy Northwest receipts and the large quantity afloat, caused a heavy feeling during the early portion of the session at Chicago, but later the small increase in the visible and the decreased Russian and Danubian shipments brought about an upturn. Before the close a drop in British consols and a revival of warlike rumors were accompanied by good-sized takings for export, causing general covering. Futures closed 1⅛c per bushel above the lowest point of the day, and ⅝c above Saturday's close.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 628,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 59,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 209,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 39,296,000 bushels, against 35,808,000 bushels a week ago, and 54,894,000 bushels a year ago.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, Oct. 31.—Cattle—The offerings were 280 loads of cattle, including 90 loads of Canada stockers. The trade was very irregular, and it was a question of quality and scarcity to get the price on the bulk of the offerings. Some good cattle sold all right. Stockers were lower. Fresh cows were in light supply, active demand and stronger. Springers were in good demand and stronger. Calves were in fair supply—300 head—good demand and a little higher. The general close was weak and irregular. Good to best smooth, fat, export steers, $5 to $5.25; good to best, $4.75 to $5.10; good to choice butchers' steers, $4.00 to $4.85; common to good butchers' bulls, $3 to $3.50; good to best fat heifers, $4.25 to $4.50; fair to good heifers, $3.50 to $4; mixed fat cows and heifers, good to choice, $3.50 to $3.75; stockers, choice to extra quality, $3.25 to $3.75; common to good do., $3.40 to $3.65; feeders, good to extra, $4 to $4.10; common to good, $3.85 to $4; fresh cows, choice to extra, good bag, $50 to $60; good to choice, $45 to $50; springers, good to extra, $35 to $45; calves, choice to extra, $7.25 to $7.50; good to choice, $6 to $6.50; calves heavy, $3.75 to $4.25.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were 108 loads. The offerings of Canada lambs were about 21 loads. Sheep, being in comparatively light supply and good demand, sold steady. Lambs were generally 10c to 15c lower and not particularly active; but, considering the volume of the offerings and the state of the Eastern trade, the market cleaned up fairly well. The bulk of the offerings sold on the basis of $5.25 for pretty good lambs, and sales above that figure were extra sorts and quality.

MR. W. D. PARKER ELECTED PRESIDENT

OF THE GRANITE CURLING CLUB FOR THE ENSUING SEASON.

The Retiring President, Mr. R. E. Wood, Voiced the Complaints of a Number of the Players in Regard to a Number of Matters.

The re-organization meeting of the Granite Curlers, held last night, was well attended, those present being Messrs. R. E. Wood, president, Judge Weller, J. Jeffries, T. E. Bradburn, Dr. Boucher, W. L. Allen, H. R. H. Kenner, D. Walker, Geo. Morrow, H. Ritchie, W. D. Parker, Geo. Giroux, Geo Boucher, G. E. Whiten, R. B. Edwards, O. Bradburn, A. G. Parker, A. McNee, Geo. Edmison, Geo. Matthews.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed and the following new members admitted: Messrs. F. C. Napier, A. J. McClelland, M. Hamilton, W. Hamilton, H. Ritchie, W. Stocker, O. Bradburn and R. C. McHarrie.

President Wood addressed those present to some length on matters deeply affecting the club's welfare. He stated that in conversation with a number of old players he had ascertained that dissatisfaction existed regarding the present arrangements with the rink management. There was not sufficient light for one thing and again there was no place from where spectators could view the game with any degree of comfort. The noise made by the hockeyists was also objected to. In he was not grumbling for himself, but voicing the complaints of the players. Dissatisfaction, too, had been expressed with a number of the present skips. One player told him that his skip had only been on the ice three times during the entire winter. This player joined the Granites in February and as the rink was closed early in March he did not enjoy many games, although all the other rinks in the district remained open. Another player's complaint was that he had not been asked to play once during the entire season. He had become discouraged, and would not curl this season. This man had good cause of complaint. It was the duty of a skip to keep his rink together and he should look after new members particularly. The skips and their vices go on the ice frequently and made up a rink so that when their own men came on there was no place for them. Some check should be placed on players who turned up at the rink every night and shut others out. It had been said that one man had played with every skip in the club, consequently he had barred out others. The players complained that some of the skips after occupying that position, appeared to lose interest in the matches, and allowed them to go by default. In making these remarks the speaker did so with the desire of seeing the club prosper, rather than to hurt anyone's feelings. Elsewhere the skips looked after their rinks.

Mr. W. L. Allen thought that if skips sometimes strengthened up their rinks, and dropped their regular players, it was occasioned by the desire to win and would not occur in inter rink matches so much as in those for the Kendry Cup or Innes Medal

AGAINST THE THISTLES.

He thought these matches should be discontinued between the two clubs.

Mr. E. B. Edwards thought that the inter-rink matches was one of the best correctives of the fault of dropping off regular players. The rule should be lived up to in regard to only one change being allowed in the personnel of a rink on the occasion of a match.

Mr. W. D. Parker's views on the subject were that it was almost impossible for a skip to get his entire rink out at once. A remedy might be found in a skip giving all his players twenty-four hours notice of a match. Then if a man could not play the skip could notify his opponent and ask for his consent to make use of another player. In the event of the opposing skip not approving of the change the match would be forfeited to him.

Mr. Allen suggested that the Thistles take the Kendry Cup and the Granites the Innis medal or vice versa and play off amongst themselves for the trophies, thus abolishing matches between the two clubs.

Mr. Edwards pointed out that at present both trophies were held by the Thistles and if the Granites were not strong enough to win them it would come with a very bad grace to ask for one. He approved of the matches between the clubs as it generated a SPIRIT OF FRIENDLY RIVALRY.

He suggested that gold and silver badges be awarded as prizes in the inter-club matches, which would invest them with more interest. The O. C. A. Executive were considering the adoption of such a badge and they would make very neat prizes.

Mr. R. E. Wood was also in favour of continuing the matches between the two clubs. There was plenty of time during the season to play all of them as well as the inter-rink matches.

At this juncture the discussion closed for the time being, in order that the election of officers might be proceeded with. The result was as follows:—

President—W. D. Parker.
Vice-President—W. L. Allen.
Sec.-Treasurer—R. Myles Hamilton.
Chaplain—Rev. H. Symonds.
Representatives to O.C.A.—E. B. Edwards and Dr. Boucher.
Executive Committee—T. E. Bradburn, G. E. Whiten and D. W. Dumble.

On motion of Judge Weller and Mr. Geo. Edmison, Mr. H. M. Allen was elected an honorary member of the Club.

Mr. Whiten brought up the matter of the and rinks. Last year, he stated, a motion had been introduced by two of the skips to the effect that all the old skips should be re elected. He did not oppose this method of election, and suggested that each member write on a ballot the names of the ten skips whom he wished to see officiate scrutineers to then ascertain which ten of the candidates should be elected.

Messrs. T. E. Bradburn and W. G. Morrow made a motion along the lines suggested by Mr. Whitten, which carried.

Mr. Edmison suggested that the matter of selecting rinks be left to a committee composed of five players none of whom were skips.

After considerable discussion on this subject it was decided to again select the rinks in the manner followed during the last few years, viz: the skip having first choice of second player to have last chance for his lead, with the privilege given the players of asking for CHANGE IF DESIRED.

Skips were then elected as follows: Judge Weller, D. W. Dumble, R. Myles Hamilton, W. L. Allen, J. J. Jeffries R. B. Edwards, G. E. Whiten, R B Davidson, Dr. Boucher and Geo. Edmison.

On motion of Judge Weller and Mr. Geo. Edmison, a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. R. E. Wood, W. L. Allen and H. R. H. Kenner, on retiring from office.

Whilst the election of skips was in progress Mr. E. B. Edwards reported that his motion at the annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association regarding the abolition of heavy stones, had only been defeated by a narrow majority, those against it being the city clubs, who had purchased these large stones. As members of the Toronto clubs had been named as delegates from a number of outside clubs, who did not send their own members to represent them, the city had been able to defeat the motion. Many, however, had stated that they would not oppose such a step if the matter was brought up in the spring, which would give them an opportunity of sending their stones to Scotland to be cut down.

On motion of Messrs. Wood and Edwards, a circular will be sent out to the various clubs asking them whether they are in favour of the abolition of heavy stones or not, and requesting them to give their reasons in either case.

A KIPLING EVENING.

An Evening With the Author of a New School of Poetry.

It is expected that the meeting of the Fortnightly Club this evening will be unusually interesting. The paper of the evening on "Rudyard Kipling," has been prepared by Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson, and will be read by Miss Alma McCollum. Mr. Harold Claxton will sing Kipling's "Mandalay," the stirring and patriotic selection "The Native Born," will be recited by one of the members of the club, and "The Recessional Hymn" will be sung by a quartette, consisting of Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Grassett, Mr. Mutligan and Mr. Parker. It will be seen that the musical selections, as well as the recitation, are taken from Kipling's writings, and the evening will no doubt be a most enjoyable one to the many lovers of this world famous author.

OLD RELICS.

Four Curious Beads (Which Were Found in the Princess Mound on Sugar Island, Rice Lake.

This morning Mr. J. B. McWilliams received from Dr. Shaw, of Keene, a small vial containing four beads packed in cotton. They are intended for the Victoria Museum, and will be amongst the most valuable of the contributions, being relics presumably of the mound-builders.

Two of the beads appear to be of bone, one is composed of a piece of copper about the size of a hazel nut, with a hole drilled through the centre, and the fourth is a shell. All four were found in the "Princess" serpentine mound on Sugar Island in Rice Lake, and have, as stated, been kindly forwarded by Dr. Shaw to be placed on exhibition in the museum.

OLD LITERATURE NEEDED.

The Aberdeen Association Will be Glad to Use all That can be Obtained.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister, on behalf of the Aberdeen Association, will be glad if those who have literature that they have laid aside will leave the same with Mr. Williamson, this week, at the Y.M.C.A., where it can be obtained and forwarded to headquarters at Ottawa, from where it will be distributed.

If those who are unable to leave the literature at the Association rooms will drop a card to Mrs. McAllister she will have it called for.

No doubt there are a large number of citizens who have quantities of old magazines, etc., which after having been perused are no longer of use and are only dust gatherers. This class of literature, while of little practical use to the owners, is most acceptable to the Aberdeen Association, which undertakes to distribute the same in quarters where it will be greatly appreciated.

FIRE IN ASHBURNHAM.

Partial Destruction of the Cottage Opposite the MacAllister Milling Coy's Property.

The Ashburnham Art Gallery was gutted by fire at an early hour this morning.

It is thought that a number of drunken characters, who were seen in the locality during the evening, set fire to the building either accidentally or purposely. Although the place was an eyesore and was frequently the resort of disreputable persons, still a fire in such close proximity to the valuable McAllister Milling Co. property would be a dangerous experiment. What is left of the old building should be torn down in order to avoid a repetition of the occurrence.

ST. JOHN'S "AT HOME."

A Pleasant Evening at the School House.

Last night there was a good attendance at the parochial "At Home" in St. John's school house. The company was largely composed of ladies, though there was enough of the salt of the earth in the form of men. The genial rector constituted the Reception Committee, and cordially welcomed the guests as they arrived.

During the evening an informal musical programme was presented. Excellent contributions were made by Mrs. Seward, Miss Lily Jackson, the Misses English, Mr. James Brown and Mr. Percy Owens, organist. Mrs. G. A. Smith furnished several of the accompaniments in her usually skilful manner. During the evening also the specially appetizing refreshments supplied by the ladies were served. Altogether a pleasant evening was passed.

Peterborough's Modern Store

Great November Sale!

November will be a month of unprecedented slaughter in Dry Goods at this store. We have been more than pleased with the result of this season's selling in every department of our Mammoth Establishment. The citizens of Peterborough have accorded our Modern Store and modern methods of doing business an unanimous welcome. A welcome so decided that notwithstanding our exceedingly large importations of Dry Goods for this season's trade the selling has been exceedingly satisfactory, and we find ourselves in a position to sell the balance of our importations at sacrifice prices at this unusual time of the year for sacrifice sales. We are not going to rest satisfied with our success already achieved, with the encouragement already received, and with Eternal Vigilance and keeping everlastingly at it, we hope to realize our highest ambition—to give the people of Peterborough a Store equal to any in the province, and to make this more than ever the great shopping centre for Peterborough and surrounding district. GOOD GOODS AT LITTLE PRICES

DRESS GOODS.

This store has enjoyed the reputation of being the leader in Dress Goods for years. You all know the superior qualities of our Dress Goods. Everyone who buys Dress Goods at this store expects them to wear longer than goods bought at other stores. Why? Because experience is a good teacher; because you have bought Dress Goods here before, and they have always been satisfactory. We buy our Dress Goods only from reliable manufacturers—from people we have been dealing with for years, and from people that always give us satisfaction. That's the SECRET. We commence a great clearing sale of Dress Goods this week of the balance of all the season's importation at these sacrifice prices for reliable goods:

Rompish Lads

Should have Clothes neatly designed, yet STRONG.

There is even more economy in getting GOOD QUALITIES in Boys' Clothing than in the Men's lines.

Adults give a certain degree of CARE to their garments which may compensate somewhat for shoddy material and cheap workmanship.

But who expects a boy to do it?

It's worth while reminding parents again that we are going out of Boy's Clothing and selling off our stock at CLEARING PRICES.

You know what we've been selling in Boy's Clothing—strong goods to stand the wear and tear. Besides being full of wear they are neat and shapely.

Not the cheapest in figures but undeniably THE CHEAPEST IN THE END.

In connection with Mr. Halpin's account it was explained that some of the items on the bill were purchased last April, and as it was desirable to impress on the merchants the necessity of rendering their accounts monthly, Mr. Halpin's case would be dealt with as suggested in the resolution.

It was moved by Messrs. Cobb and Best that the chairman and Mr. McBain be a committee to wait on the Mayor and the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to see if they could arrange for one of the town teams to draw charity wood, and if that cannot be done, that they have authority to arrange for having the wood drawn.—Carried.

AGRICULTURE.

The New Text Book for Use in High and Public Schools.

The Education Department of Ontario has just issued a complete little text book on Agriculture for use in any Public or High School in Ontario, if so ordered by the trustees. It is written by Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and formerly professor of Agriculture in the Agricultural College. It is a book of 200 pages, and is condensed but clear in its treatment of the various subjects embracing the rudiments of agricultural knowledge. It is divided into six parts, beginning with the seed, its nature and structural character, accompanied with plain directions as to the proper mode of planting to secure the most effective germination. This is followed by a chapter on the young plant, giving simple details of the manner of growth of roots and the structure and function of leaves. Then another chapter treats of the relation of the plant to water and its necessity to the growth of the plant. Another chapter treats of the relation of the plant to the soil, and the plant to the air, embracing plain and concise information as to the relative conditions in both. A chapter is devoted to the structure and growth and the naming and classification of plants.

The second part is devoted to a consideration of the nature and origin of the soil including a very important and practica chapter outlining the general principles of tilling and draining the soil and the benefits of both operations. The chapter on the best means of improving the soil is founded upon the proverb, "Feed the soil if you would have the soil feed you." This chapter closes with ten paragraphs of summary, embodying the most important principles of feeding the soil. Chapters giving the qualities and general character of crops and directions for culture, includes grasses, grains, leguminous plants, roots and tubers, various other crops, weeds, diseases of plants and rotation of crops. The part treating the garden, orchard and vineyard, covers the whole range of fruit culture, diseases and remedies. An interesting and practical chapter is devoted to live stock and dairying, and the book concludes with a section treating of various other subjects, such as bees, birds, forestry, roads and the country home. An appendix gives a list of our forest trees and noxious weeds with their common and scientific names, and the formulæ of approved and tried spraying mixtures. The book is unusually complete and comprehensive contains what every farmer's boy should know and also a large amount of information which adult farmers could acquire to advantage. The type of the book is clear and the style of the writer also clear and simple, adapted to the intelligence of the average pupil. A grand feature of this little work is the illustrations. Every subject is made plain by graphic illustrations. This is especially noticeable in the part treating of live stock and poultry, in which charts of the different parts and organs of both the live animal and the slaughtered animal are given. A boy taking a course in a school covered by this book and learning thoroughly, which can be done in a comparatively short time, will be equipped with special knowledge which cannot be acquired by the ordinary farmer without some such aid in a lifetime of work. It is difficult to conceive a better book for the purpose of teaching our farmers' sons the rudiments of the most important of our national industries.

A BOON TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

A Great Store for Cleanliness, Where it Doesn't Cost you any More to Have it That Way

"Costs you the same as the other kind, uncleaned."

That was Mr. E. F. Mason's reply when asked: "How do you sell your raisins and currants after they are washed and cleaned by your patent cleaner?"

"But," asked the interviewer, doubtful whether Mr. Mason had made himself sufficiently clear, "how does that pay you? There must be a large loss of weight to you after the fruit is cleaned so beautifully?"

"Quite right; there is a loss of weight to us, as you can see by this," showing a bowlful of black muddy mixture that had been taken from the cleaner. "That's only a small sample of the loss to us, but of the gain to you. We give you cleaned raisins and put them up in neat 1 lb and 3 lb pkgs. for the same price as before the cleaner was introduced. We have faith enough in the appreciative housekeepers of Peterborough that our extra sales will largely make up for losses and extra labour.

Such a boon to housekeepers ought to "take like hot cakes." The principle of cleanliness being next to godliness pervades the whole of Mr. Mason's store, and is religiously carried out in every detail. His new store fittings are a model safeguard against dirt—the drawers, bins and other receptacles for holding the groceries, teas, sugars and other table supplies, being dust-proof, vermin-proof and mildew-proof. If you want some special groceries for Hallowe'en season, pay a visit to Mr. Mason's store. The end of October calls for some extras in fresh and seasonable goods, such as layer raisins, currants, almonds, walnuts, filberts, figs, etc., as well as staple groceries. But don't forget to sample Mason's tea and coffee. 3d1w

The Geisha.

Of all the successes that have been made in comic opera, perhaps that of the "Geisha" has been the greatest. Very few in fact have left such a favourable impression and words of praise hardly suffice to express the pleasure the "Geisha" has given to thousands of its admirers. It is surely a very dainty dish, well served and very palatable. The production this year, as in the past, will be equal to its former greatness. It will be produced with all its splendor at the opera house, Saturday, Nov. 5th. Manager Bradburn is to be congratulated upon securing this attraction.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

The laws of Austria-Hungary are published in eight different languages.

The name Hapsburg, or Habsburg, was originally Habichtsburg—that is, Hawk castle.

Hapsburg prosperity has always depended upon luck, marriage and diplomacy. They have known little of the art of governing.

The dual monarchy is not a happy family. The Hungarians dislike the Austrians, but they are very fond of the present emperor.

The frontier of Austria-Hungary measures 5,896 miles, defended by 95 or 30 fortified cities, camps and coast fortifications. Vienna, the capital, is undefended.

Casimir Felix Badeni, late premier of the monarch of Austria-Hungary, was the son of a cook. This is the more remarkable because of the rigid loyalty to rank and high birth in the Austrian court.

The style of the emperor's dominion is the Austria-Hungarian monarchy. This is made up of the kingdom of Hungary, with its principalities, and the empire of Austria. The latter was an archduchy until 1806.

In Vienna a man is often admitted to court socially because of his official position whose wife is never received. No matter how high he rises and how powerful he becomes, his wife is barred. Even the late empress was snubbed because she was only the daughter of a duke.

On a peace footing the Austria-Hungarian army numbers 24,583 officers, 384,114 men, 47,149 horses. On a war footing the numbers are put at 45,238 officers, 1,826,940 men and 281,886 horses, while the number of men who might be compelled to serve in the landsturm, or national guard, is over 4,000,000.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little at the right time he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

The Sergeant's Tribute.

After the battles of Weissenburg and Worth, which he had won, the crown prince, afterward Emperor Frederick, was sauntering alone one evening past a barn occupied by a party of Wurttemberg troops. Hearing something like stump oratory going on, the prince opened the door and looked in. Every one rose.

"Oh, sit down! I'm sorry to disturb. I dare say there's room for me to do the same," said the prince. "Pray, who was making a speech?"

All eyes were turned on a sergeant, whose very intelligent countenance looked, however, sorely puzzled when the commander in chief asked:

"And what were you talking about?"

Quickly recovering his presence of mind, the sergeant confessed:

"Well, of course we were talking of our victories, and I was just explaining to these young men how, four years ago, if we had had you to lead us, we would have made short work of those confounded Prussians!"—London Illustrated News.

WOES OF THE NEW STAR

Viola Allen's Troubles In Getting a Leading Man.

"CYRANO DE BERGERAC" THE RAGE

Irving Turned Down the Great French Success to His Sorrow — Glen MacDonough's Many Plays—Sam Bernard's New Stellar Vehicle.

Viola Allen has already learned that the lot of the new star is not an unadulteratedly happy one. Some time ago it was announced that she had engaged Frank Worthing as her leading man. Mr. Worthing is a very fair actor, though it is doubtful that he will ever become the rival of Richard Mansfield. It is reported that when the position with Miss Allen was offered Mr. Worthing he accepted by cable, being in London at the time. A little later, when Miss Allen went across to consult the author, Hall T. Caine, as to the conception of the principal character, Glory Quayle, and the mounting of the piece, Worthing is reported to have sent word that he would have to inspect the part intended for him before signing the contracts. Then he said that he had concluded to join Charles Frohman's forces.

Coming only a short time before rehearsals were to have begun, it was irritating in the extreme, but Miss Allen's managers promptly opened negotiations with Robert Taber, the talented husband of talented Julia Marlowe. If Mr. Taber should accept the place originally intended for Mr. Worthing, Miss Allen will have cause to congratulate herself, for in many lines of work Robert Taber has no superior on the American stage. For a couple of seasons he has been with Sir Henry Irving, and when "Frederick the Great" was produced it was generally conceded by the more independent of the London critics that despite the many advantages given

ROBERT TABER.

"Sir Arry" by his son, the author, it was Robert Taber who really carried off the honors of the piece. It is gratifying to hear that this sterling young actor may come back. We already have too few leading men of the first grade in this country, and we have not yet reached the point where we can afford to export our conscientious and rising performers, even though it be for the purpose of pleasing our prospective allies, the English.

Some time ago when Henri Rostand's poetic drama, "Cyrano de Bergerac," was produced in Paris by Coquelin, Henry Irving sought and was given an option on the English rights of the piece. A little later his representative went to Paris to report upon the probable value of the play to Sir Henry. His report was unfavorable, and the great English actor concluded that he would try something else instead. He had practically relinquished his option when Coquelin went to London and gave "Cyrano de Bergerac," of course in French. The play was such an enormous success, even with the disadvantage of being rendered in a foreign tongue, that Mr. Irving wanted to reconsider his determination and is now engaged in a second effort to regain the rights which he voluntarily relinquished. Perhaps he may have been influenced in this desire by the rumor that Beerbohm Tree and Forbes Robertson are both after the piece. It was Sir Henry's original intention to do "Cyrano de Bergerac" in England and then use it in his repertory on the occasion of his next visit to this country, but inasmuch as Richard Mansfield has already secured the rights for America the value of the play to the Englishman has materially decreased. It would be difficult to conceive how Henry Irving could adequately portray a man whose large nose almost drove him to despair, but inasmuch as he once had the temerity to play Napoleon Bonaparte, anything is possible to him. The result, however, of the experiment will be watched with interest on this side as well as in England.

Glen MacDonough, who a few years ago achieved much fame and some fortune by writing a farce entitled "The Prodigal Father" and another which revealed in the designation "Delmonico's at Six," and who later rather destroyed the reputation he had won by perpetrating "The Gold Bug" and "The Algerians," will be well represented on the stage again during the coming season. That clever actress and shrewd business woman, May Irwin, will star in one of Mr. MacDonough's plays that has been named "Kate Kip, Buyer." The piece has already been tried and is said to have been eminently successful. Another play by the same author is "The Marquis of Michigan," in which Sam Bernard will make his stellar debut. This is the farce over the introduction of music into which such a row was precipitated between the author and the manager. Finally Mr. MacDonough gave way, accepted a cash sum for his interest in the piece, and "The Marquis of Michigan" will go out on schedule time with Sam Bernard and the usual musical trimmings.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE....

He says:—Among the proprietary medicines recognized in Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Piles, Eruptions and Eczematic Skin Diseases, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

MR. O. P. ST. JOHN, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

PREPARING FOR WHEAT.

When Wheat Follows Wheat or Oats. Plowing and After Work.

With so important a crop as wheat farmers can ill afford to be negligent in any measures that tend to produce best results. As is well known, timely preparation of the soil in a proper manner is a vital point in raising a good crop, and concerning this an Ohio correspondent of The Prairie Farmer offers the following suggestions: When wheat follows wheat or oats, the preparation of the soil should commence as soon as possible after the wheat or oat crop is off the land. The usual custom is to plow the land, but a question may arise as to whether this is the most advisable plan under all conditions. Sometimes the land may be too dry and hard to plow, but may be put in order by the use of disk or cutaway harrows. But we leave this plan as a suggestion, and will confine our comments to the usual custom, that of plowing and after work.

The greatest error common to farmers is in plowing the land and giving it no work till time to sow the wheat. Instead of doing all the work possible on the land, it appears to be a study as to how little can be done. In the effort to curtail labor at first the amount is often increased at seeding time.

The observing, practical farmer knows that wheat does best sown on a fine, compact seed bed, yet in most cases the plowing is rushed till done before any other work is done on the soil. If the weather is dry, the land turns up cloddy, and the clods are softer right after the plow than at any other time without rain. The rain is uncertain, and the clods are sure to get harder as they get drier; hence the best and surest time to fine them is as soon as they are made by following right after the plow with a roller and packing the soil as tightly as possible.

Whether or not the soil breaks cloddy, it is best to work it down as plowed, for at this time it will pack better than ever after, if the weather remains dry, and the packing will tend to hold the moisture in the soil. With a thorough rolling directly after the plow and continued surface workings with the various kinds of harrows an ideal seed bed may be had.

The last working before drilling the wheat, we think, should be with the roller, as we then have a smooth surface to drive over and can see the drill tracks plainly and do a more perfect job with the drill. In preparing wheat land it should in no case be worked while too wet, and more satisfactory results can be obtained by working while dry.

Continued workings, while in proper condition, make plant food more available and increase the amount the plants may draw on. Reasoning in this line, the amount of work cannot be excessive, as not only the wheat, but the succeeding crops, will be benefited.

News and Notes.

During July and August leaf spot sometimes attacks the sugar beet. Bordeaux mixture is the approved remedy.

One argument in favor of burning the wheat stubble off land that is to be broken for seeding in the fall is that many insects are thus destroyed.

The only true way for a farmer to purchase a fertilizer is on its composition. He must look to see how much available phosphoric acid, how much nitrogen and how much potash it contains and purchase accordingly.

According to the July crop report, the outlook for the apple crop is discouraging. Of the 14 principal apple growing states 11 report even a lower average of condition than at the corresponding date last year. With a few notable exceptions, among which is Georgia, with a condition of 104, indications as to the peach crop are somewhat unfavorable.

Death's Betrothal.

A few years ago a New York newspaper conducted an open discussion upon the topic: "Is Marriage a Failure?" The answer is easy and upon the surface. Where there is mutual love and respect, if there is also health, marriage is a success. When health is left out, even the most ardent love does not count, and marriage is invariably a failure.

Modern science has cried the warning so often that all should realize the dangers of wedlock to people in ill-health. In a case of this kind death lurks on every side—in the kiss of betrothal and the caress of the honeymoon. The man who is suffering from ill-health is a physical bankrupt, and has no right to condemn a woman to be his nurse for life and the mother of babes that inherit his physical weakness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts directly on the digestive organism. It makes it strong and its action perfect. When a man's digestion is all right his blood will be pure; when his blood is pure his nervous system will be strong and his health vigorous.

A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate organism of her sex is certain to suffer from general ill-health, and to be an unhappy, helpless invalid and a disappointment as a wife. Her children will be weak, puny and peevish. A happy home is an impossibility for her until her health is restored. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all troubles of the distinctly feminine organism. It cures them speedily, completely and permanently. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Both medicines are sold by all good dealers.

THE SULKING WOMAN

VALUABLE POINTS IN A MATRON'S LECTURE TO YOUNG WIVES.

Sulkiness Drives Men to Perdition—A Habit That Grows on One, but Which Can Be Broken if Taken In Time and Treated Properly.

"Sulkiness among women has driven more men to perdition than all of the lying, cheating and stealing that have ever been recorded," said a woman of the world to two young wives recently. "To be sulky means to be so many things that are thoroughly disagreeable. It means that you are a moodily silent, sullen, sour, obstinate, morose person all rolled in one."

"But you've just said that I have a sulky disposition, and that that accounts for my having so many little tiffs with Dick," protested one of the young matrons, "and I know I'm not all of those things."

"And you hinted that I have occasional fits of sulks," remarked the other newly married girl in an objecting tone.

"True enough," answered the woman of the world, with a knowing laugh. "I did say and hint those things, and I meant them. We've been here together in this hotel for six weeks now, and I do not make my charges without good reasons. There's no place like a summer hotel for discovering the weaknesses of woman nature, and both of you are sulky women. How I've pitied your husbands and do pity them and shall continue to pity them unless you rid yourself of the sulking habit."

"But everybody says that Dick and I are the most devoted couple here," interrupted one of the matrons.

"No, they say that Ned and I are," insisted the other.

"Of course you are both devoted couples," went on the elderly woman hastily, "but all the same you two women sulk, and so do nine-tenth of the women in this hotel, and the world over, for that matter. If I were a man engaged to a young woman and discovered that she had a sulky disposition, I should first try to break her of the tendency, and if I couldn't do that I'd break the engagement. Men aren't often justified in breaking a betrothal—neither are women, mind you—but they'd be in that case. Sulky women cause more friction in home life than any other kind of disagreeable wives. Sulkiness grows on one. It's such an insidious trait or, as I believe, disease. It takes possession of the mind before one is aware of its presence and can only be cured by the exercise of strong will power and reason."

"What makes you think that I sulk?" asked Dick's wife.

"Why, I've seen you have 40 fits of sulks since I've been here. You never sulk with any one but your husband, and how you can sulk with him is beyond me. But that is a peculiarity of one afflicted with sulkiness. The patient often makes the one she loves best of all the victim of her attacks.

"Soon after you married Dick you made up your mind not to like his family. He had always been a devoted son and had almost taken a husband's and a father's place in his fatherless home. Instead of you encouraging him to keep on in the same way you conceived an intense imaginary dislike for his family, and every time he goes to see them, does anything for them, even mentions them, you have a fit of sulks. You shut up like a clam, you frown, you will not speak, smile or in any way show any interest in what your husband says or does for hours. I've watched it all over and over. He is always so gentle and patient, but I warn you that one of these sulky fits of yours wears him out, "frazzles" him completely, and if you keep them up they will drive him from you. How would you feel if Dick acted toward your family as you do toward his? Put the shoe on the other foot and see if it doesn't pinch. How would you feel if he went apart from you, set his face in a stony stare and showed about as much sympathy and interest as a Chinese god when you mentioned your family?

"Now, Dorothy, here," turning to the other young matron, "sulks in a different way and makes Ned miserable no less than six times a day. Women should remember that men have moods as well as women, and we should indulge them. Unconsciously man depends on woman's love to forgive his whimsicalities, and she should never withhold it. Every time Ned comes down from business a bit moody, instead of you loving him and petting him and telling him a lot of funny things in your own bright way, Dorothy, to make him forget, you get sulky and won't have anything to do with him. If he doesn't pet you just as much as you think he should, you sulk. If he makes some remark you don't quite understand, you sulk. If you want to go sailing and he thinks it looks a bit squally, off you go into a fit of the sulks. I just know Ned sometimes wishes a squall would catch him. A squall, you know, is soon over. It isn't like these heavy black clouds that hang about for hours and keep one from doing anything that one wants to do for fear of an outburst. A woman who lets her temper loose is bad enough, but she isn't a circumstance to the one who bottles hers up and threatens to let it go every minute."

"You say that sulkiness grows on one?" asked Ned's wife in a subdued voice.

"It most assuredly does," answered the woman of the world. "Run over your acquaintances of middle aged and elderly women and think how many of them indulge in sulks. Over half? Yes, I thought you'd find it so. I used to be a great sulker myself, but I was completely cured by my husband during the first year of our married life. At first when I had a fit of sulks he'd pet and coddle and humor and beg for forgiveness when he hadn't done anything, and all this only made me more sulky, made me love to exhibit my power over him more vigorously. Suddenly he tried a new plan. If he left me sulky in the morning, he came home to luncheon in a state of sulkiness that outmatched mine. If I sulked in the afternoon, he sulked all evening, and the result was that there wasn't a minute when one or the other of us wasn't sullenly silent, sour or obstinate. At the end of a week I'd cried myself sick, thought of getting a divorce, of returning home, even of suicide, when it suddenly flashed over me that half of the trouble was my fault, and I went to him and told him so. He folded me in his arms and said that it had nearly killed him to be sulky, but that he had to do it to bring me to my senses. The plan worked. I have never sulked a minute from that day to this."

"For heaven's sake, don't ever tell Dick that story," pleaded Dick's wife. "I'll stop of my own accord."

"And so will I," declared Mrs. Ned. "Come to think of it, sulkiness is the hardest of all states to put up with, and my only wonder is that men stand sulky women as well as they do."—

On the Pronunciation of Pepys.

The Hon. Walter Pepys has collected seventeen varieties of the spelling of the name, and he lays some stress upon the French form Pepy as authority for the pronunciation favored by him. Peeps seems to follow the usual practice, as Weems for Wemys, and, moreover, it is that adopted by the descendants of the diarist's sister Paulina, the family of Pepys Cockerell. Peeps is also the traditional pronunciation adopted at Cambridge. Here is, I think, strong evidence in favor of Peeps. At the same time, I believe that in this name, as in other words, the pronunciation of the vowel e has changed since the seventeenth century, and that the name in Pepys's own day was actually pronounced Papes. This opinion is grounded on the phonetic spellings Peaps and Peyps which have come down to us, and both these would represent Papes: ea—a, as in yea, break, great; y—a, as in obey and they. In this matter, however, I have not the courage of my opinion and I am not, therefore, prepared to adopt this pronunciation.—Notes and Queries.

Cover During Sleep.

The reason that it is necessary to be well covered while sleeping is that when the body lies down it is the intention of nature that it should rest, and that the heart especially should be relieved of its regular work temporarily. So that organ makes ten strokes a minute less than when the body is in an upright posture. This means 600 strokes in sixty minutes. Therefore, in the eight hours that a man usually spends in taking his night's rest the heart is saved nearly 5,000 strokes. As it pumps six ounces of blood with each stroke, it lifts 30,000 ounces less of blood in this night session than it would during the day, when a man is usually in an upright position. Now, the body is dependent for its warmth on the vigor of the circulation, and as the blood flows so much more slowly through the veins when one is lying down the warmth lost in the reduced circulation must be supplied by extra coverings.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Quinine in the Beer.

An apparently authoritative statement was published recently, says a London exchange, to the effect that quinine was being sold to brewers for use as a substitute for hops, and that when the Board of Inland Revenue was appealed to the answer given was that the transaction was not objectionable from their point of view, because hops are not excisable. That, of course, does not prove that a beer made with quinine or other bitter than hops may be safely sold, for it is possible that the vendor might be convicted under the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, if a court took the views that by beer or ale was generally understood a fermented liquor made from malt and flavored with hops.

No other remedy can present such a record of permanent cures as B. B. B. DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

Coughs That Stick.

You don't seem to be able to throw them off. All the ordinary remedies you've tried don't touch them. The cough remedy for you is Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It loosens the phlegm, allays the irritation, heals and soothes the inflamed lung tissue.

MR. WM. FERRY, Blenheim, Ont., says: "I can recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup as the very best medicine for coughs and colds, sore throat and weak lungs.

FAIRWEATHER & Co.

THE LONDON STREET CAR STRIKE.

The Mayor Gives Both Sides of the Question.

At a tremendsous mass meeting in London, the Mayor, who presided, in placing "before his hearers the two sides of the question," said, as reported in the Advertiser: The company had received from the city five years ago an electric franchise. They promised many things, some of which they had not carried out. They had done much, he admitted, by which the citizens were benefisted; but some things they had done were not a credit to the manager at the present time. The speaker was sorry to say anything against the manager. He was but the servant of the company, and there was something behind his action to be considered. That the company had tried to give London a good service was all that could be said in their favour. They had not dealt fairly by their employes and, looking towards the phalanx of uniformed men in the centre of the audience, he said, "and they are as fine-looking a lot of street railway men as we need have in London." (Great applause.) "Every citizen should be proud of the action of the men,' he continued. "They have tried in every way, peaceably, to have the dispute settled. They organised a committee and tried to see Mr. Carr. But what was the reply? 'We will receive you individually.' Then they sent a representative to request Mr. Carr to arbitrate. What could be more fair than arbitration? Their representative said to Mr. Carr, 'All we want is that you choose an arbitrator. We will choose another, and these two shall select a third.' But, no; Mr. Carr would not consent to this. Is that fair? (Cries of "No!" and great applause.) I know that Londoners will not put up with treatment like that. Every citizen should come forward and back the men." (Applause.)

The speaker then referred to the manner in which the street railway company had dealt with the letter carriers. Until recently, he said, the Government paid the company $400 per year for the privilege granted the mail men of riding free. Later, the company wanted $800 a year, and now these men have to pay out of their own pockets. Was that right?

Dealing then with the employees' side of the question, the mayor said they were obliged to pay $13.75 for a suit of clothes every year.

A Voice—Every six months.

Another Voice—No.

"Well, we'll say each year. The company has

ENOUGH SINS TO ANSWER FOR.

(Laughter.) He went on to say that an overcoat and cap made the cost to the men for a complete uniform $25.

As to the wages paid the mayor said sixteen men got $1 50 per day; ten men got $1 42 per day; 41 men averaged $3.56 per week—(hisses and cries of "shame!")—"and twelve of the men," the Mayor went on, "averaged $2.55 per week. (More hisses and uproar.) A great many of these poor employees have families, and $2 55 per week is not much divided between half a dozen people." This was greeted with cries of "How much does Carr get?"

The Mayor dwelt upon the moderation and forbearance of the men in their dispute. They had tried every way possible, and failing to get redress themselves they had applied to the council, and every member of the council had stood by them. The speaker had not throughout the year, he said, been more proud of the council than he was that night, when they said they would see "fair play." "Every citizen should give them his support," he said. "There's a monopoly crushing these men. Let us come forward and say they can't do it." (Prolonged cheering and cries of "More.")

LOW PRICE FOR CHEESE.

At the Lindsay Board over 2700 Boxes were Sold at 8¾c and 8 13-16c—A Little Tiff between two of the Buyers.

Lindsay Post.

The last meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board for 1898 was held Monday morning in the council chamber, Lindsay, and was well attended. The buyers present were Messrs. Whitton, Cook, Fitzgerald, Flavelle and Wrighton.

The following factories boarded the number of cheese placed opposite:—

Star	150
Lorneville	50
Cameron	146
Dunsford	135
Mariposa	115
*Cambray	180
*Janetville	220
Omemee	215
Fenelon Falls	70
North Verulam	90
Minden	25
North Ops	105
Pine Grove	80
Reaboro	225
Bobcaygeon	170
Maple Leaf	120
Palestine	165
Red Rock	225
Oakwood	100
Little Britain	70
	2,725

*Cambray boarded 110 of September make, and Janetville 195.

It was about 11.40 when President Robertson called for offers. Some of the salesmen came prepared to accept 8 5 8c, the top price paid at other sales the previous week, and they were agreeably surprised to see that figure bettered.

Mr. Fitzgerald led off wit 8 1-4c. Mr. Wrighton 8 3-8c, Mr. Fitzgerald 8 1-2c, Mr. Cook 8 3 8c, Mr. Whitton 8 3 4c, and Mr. Fitzgerald 8 13-16c. This was not bettered and Star, Mariposa, Cambray, North Ops, Oakwood and Bobcaygeon accepted; Reaboro was called but refused to sell.

Mr. Whitton took Reaboro and Omemee at 8 7-8c, and Dunsford, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam and Cameron at at 8 13 16c, securing 1,000 boxes in all. After adjournment Maple Leaf also sold to Mr. Whitton at 8 7-8c.

Mr. Cook then offered 8 13 16c for a further selection, and Palestine, Pine Grove, Red Rock and Janetville accepted. The board was thus closed.

Mr. Taylor Parkin, salesman for Cameron factory, at an early stage in the bidding, wanted to know whether it would be better to sell on the board or wait for sidewalk offers; and said he was not satisfied with President Robertson's conduct in selling Dunsford factory off the board last sale day, adding that it was not the way to hold the board together.

President Robertson said the salesmen had voted to give factories permission to close.

Mr. Parkin said it was not fair on the part of buyers to say they could not better a certain bid and then increase their figure on the sly.

Buyer Fitzgerald took the same view of the matter.

Buyer Whitton defended his course as being backed up by the procedure on all boards, and said he had repeatedly raised his own bids on the Lindsay board—something Mr. Fitzgerald had never been known to do.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he had gone home the last sale day after asking Mr. Whitton not to touch several of his factories, but he broke his promise by offering them a better price.

The little storm blew over after a time, and the board broke up after passing votes of thanks to the president and the buyers.

THE PEOPLE'S COAL CO.

Mr J. H. McClellan, the Inspector, is Making Things Hum.

The following from the Prescott Messenger speaks for itself: Mr. J. H. McClellan of Peterborough, Inspector of People's Coal Co's agencies, was in Ogdensburg this week, where he secured the round house of the Rome and Watertown railroad, and is having it fitted up as a big coal shed; the business office will be at 23 Ford street, and is being made very presentable. The People's coal is perhaps the most economical coal sold; free burning, gives an intense heat and lasts as long as other coal. It may not look as bright, but for cooking and heating purposes it is claimed to be better than most of the coal mined in Pennsylvania. As the People's Coal Co. belongs to no combine, honest dealing is the order of the day, and no doubt the Ogdensburg people will appreciate this fact, as it has been appreciated in Canada. The fact of this coal and its burning and heating qualities having carried off a diploma and medal at the World's Fair should be sufficient to warrant its excellence, and consumers will do well to bear this fact in mind, when laying in their winter supply. We have watched with interest the progress made in different parts of the Dominion by the People's Coal Company and note that many of our public institutions in Ontario have bought their supply from these people, whose ordering being under government supervision, is a further guarantee, if further guarantee is necessary, in this connection. The Ogdensburg branch will no doubt thrive as the company's branches thrive elsewhere. It may be mentioned, though a small matter, that coal from this company is delivered in sacks, so that the usual dust of shovelling is done away with, and the fuel delivered in a noiseless, cleanly manner, which must recommend itself to every housekeeper."

EMPEROR MAY LIVE,

Though His Physician Pronounces his Disease Incurable.

Bright's Disease is not Incurable, for Dodd's Kidney Pills have Cured it Thousands of Times, and will Cure it Thousands of Times Again.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Newspaper despatches from Pekin, China, bring information to the effect that the Emperor is dying of Bright's Disease. He is under the care of a famous French physician, who asserts that the emperor's complaint "is an incurable kidney disease."

That is where the famous French physician is mistaken.

There is no incurable kidney disease. Every disease of the Kidneys is curable. They, like all other diseases, yield readily to the proper remedies.

The experience of the past eight years has shown conclusively, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that there is one remedy that will cure any case of Kidney disease, no matter how severe, no matter how long it has run.

This remedy is known throughout the English-speaking world, to physicians and laymen alike, by the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

When Dodd's Kidney Pills were first introduced, medical men were sceptical regarding their power to cure Bright's Disease. Experiments were made, in cases that defied the skill of the most eminent medical men on the American continent, cases that had been given up as hopeless—fatal. To the astonishment of the medical men, Dodd's Kidney Pills worked a complete cure in each and every case. Thenceforth they were recognised as the only known cure for diseases of the Kidneys, including Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

This place they have held since, and hold to-day. No other cure for these diseases has ever been discovered, although many worthless imitations of Dodd's Kidney Pills have been placed on the market.

If the famous French physician, under whose care the Chinese Emperor is, would use Dodd's Kidney Pills in the case of his imperial patient, his recovery would be rapid and certain.

MAJOR MARCHAND NO BE RECALLED.

Unconditional Withdrawal From Fashoda Ordered.

BRITAIN'S CLAIMS CONCEDED.

France, However, Feels Herself Aggrieved —Serious Naval Preparations at Halifax, Newfoundland and Vancouver, B.C.—The French Cabinet Constituted—Important News Cabled Here.

London, Nov. 2.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"France will retire from Fashoda unconditionally and without asking compensation.

"Baron de Courcel, whose term as French Ambassador in London expired long ago, but who has held on to conduct negotiations affecting Egypt, will now be recalled; and no haste will be shown to appoint his successor, with a view of marking French resentment at British action, for England has almost taken the place of Germany as the object of French hatred."

The Paris correspondent of the Times says: "Baron de Courcel gathered from a conversation held after the last British Cabinet Council, that Lord Salisbury's attitude had undergone a change, the British Premier insisting that it was impossible to disregard public opinion in England, and that nothing could be done until Fashoda was evacuated. So far as French public opinion is concerned there is not the slightest idea of going to war for Fashoda, and any government doing so would be regarded as a government of imbeciles."

Details of the Evacuation.

The Daily Graphic says this morning: "We learn from an official source in Paris that Captain Baratier bears instructions to Major Marchand to return to Fashoda and then to withdraw his expedition in the direction of the Upper Ubangi River, evacuating Fashoda and the five posts established east of the frontier indicated in the Anglo-German agreement.

"The Egyptian Government will be invited to send troops to accompany Major Marchand as he retires from the Bahr-el-Ghazal territory and to re-occupy the posts as they are evacuated by the French officers, thus solving the difficulty concerning Major Marchand's revictualment. When Major Marchand's retirement is fully accomplished negotiations based on proposals submitted by Baron de Courcel to Great Britain will be opened. France is disposed to recognize frankly that the reconquest of Omdurman completely changes the situation as it existed when Major Marchand was instructed to proceed to the Nile. The French Government will even state that, had Major Marchand been aware of the Khedival advance, he would not have pushed his mission so far east.

"These intentions have not yet been officially reported to Great Britain, but they probably will be before Major Marchand's evacuation commences."

Without going as far as the Daily Graphic, all the special despatches from Paris to the morning papers indicate that the solution predicted by the Daily Graphic will be the one finally reached, and that even should France sulk diplomatically, no further serious consequences are anticipated. It is not believed, however, that France will pursue the useless course of leaving her Embassy in London vacant.

He Let It Out.

London, Nov. 2.—Mr. Hayes Fisher, one of the junior Lords of the Treasury, and member of Parliament for Fulham, as well as a Ministerial whip, speaking in London last evening, said he had seen despatches which enabled him to assert that the French Government had decided to recall the Marchand mission from Fashoda.

Russia Stands Out.

London, Nov. 2.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says:

"Russia has declined to support France in the Fashoda affair, fearing that a re-opening of the Egyptian question would interfere with her tremendous task in China."

ALL ALIVE AT HALIFAX.

Serious Preparations Going On—Extra Shot and Shell for Admiral Fisher's Ships—Ready for Trouble.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 2.—Orders have been received by Admiral Sir John Fisher, Commander-in-Chief of the British North Atlantic squadron, instructing him to have all his ships supplied with an extra supply of shot and shell and additional arms.

Early yesterday morning detachments from the war vessels were hurried ashore. A score of horses and teams were engaged and the work of removing powder and ammunition to the distributing sheds began.

No such activity was ever displayed in Halifax in naval circles since the Trent affair. The teams were loaded from the magazines in quick succession, and immediately after the work of distributing it among the war vessels began. Hundreds of sailors and marines were employed. Small arms of all kinds were taken from the arsenals to the vessels.

It is expected by night that every ship will have its full complement and will be ready to advance upon the foe, if required, at a moment's notice.

Not for years have such stirring scenes been witnessed in navy and military circles. The navy and military have got their orders, and Halifax, like all other British stations, will be prepared in case of trouble.

The battleship Renown may leave port at a moment's notice. This is the meaning of the recent activity on the big battleship which was productive of even greater changes than has yet been announced. The fact that every shipwright available had been engaged in preparing the vessels for sea is now followed by the news that extensive alterations have also been made on board.

Several days ago the magazine of the Renown was quietly emptied and taken ashore. Government mechanics were then put to work and the magazine was enlarged. The additional storage capacity is now nearly double what it formerly was, and yesterday it was completely filled. The changes were made on the strength of orders from England, and the utmost speed was required in order that the ship might be ready to leave at short notice for a long cruise. In addition large quantities of coal have been placed in the bunkers, and within a few days the stock now on hand at the dockyards will be increased.

Another important order was also issued to the effect that the entire ordnance staff would be required to work overtime. Lieut. Everett, one of the most trusted men in the service, was at Windsor last week, and is known to have left large orders with Windsor firms. Such a proceeding is unheard of, as such goods as have been required were always purchased in this city. The reason of the change is supposed to be in the fact that the character of the business was considered too important for general publicity.

Guns have been overhauled at the gun wharf, and there is no doubt that England is determined to be prepared in case of emergency.

The Pelican, which displayed her homeward bound flag nearly all day, hauled it down late in the afternoon, and soon afterwards it became known that she would be used in a service similar to that of the Cordelia. The latter, it was stated, would go direct to St. John's, Nfld., and the Pelican was to follow her, but call at Sydney, C.B., on the way.

Material of the same kind as placed on board the Cordelia was stowed away on the Pelican, and the two ships carry enough submarine mines to lay a thick network in both the harbors of St. John and Sydney.

It is not known positively whether it is intended to mine Sydney harbor, but that is the presumption. There can, however, be no doubt that the harbor of St. John's and its entrance will, in a few days, be laid with a set of mines that would destroy a fleet attempting to force its way through them.

The Pelican will doubtless receive fresh orders on arrival at Sydney.

In addition to the equipment for constructing submarine defences, the Pelican takes a number of heavy guns, which it is believed are destined for St. John's, Nfld., where it has been proposed for some time to erect strong batteries on the hills overlooking the approaches to the harbor.

The Cordelia got away shortly before dark. The Pelican will sail early to-day.

ON THE PACIFIC.

Startling War Measures Taken—C.P.R. Steamers Ordered to Be Ready.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 2—It is learned semi-officially that orders have actually been received to the effect that the C.P.R. steamships Empress of India, China and Japan be held in readiness for conversion into war cruisers. A cable has been sent to Hong Kong to have the armament in readiness to place on the naval reserve steamships if necessary.

At a meeting of St. Andrew's Caledonian Societies Hallowe'en night, it was decided to send the following cable to Lord Salisbury:

"Scotchmen at Vancouver, recognizing the gravity of the situation, offer to raise a regiment and place the same at the disposal of the country for service, either at home or abroad."

The resolution to cable the message was passed amidst great enthusiasm.

The Cordelia Will Stay.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 2.—The British warship Cordelia, which was to have sailed yesterday for Portsmouth, Eng., to be paid off, her time on this station having expired, received unexpected orders yesterday morning to proceed to the French coast of Newfoundland. She arrived here only last week from Newfoundland.

Japanese Cabinet Resigned.

Yokohama, Nov. 1.—The whole Cabinet has resigned, the Ministers being unable to agree upon the question of filling the portfolio of education.

SOUTH ONTARIO TRUE

Mr. Dryden Returned by a Handsome Majority.

REJOICINGS IN THE RIDING.

After a Hot Fight the Minister of Agriculture Redeems His Old Constituency by a Majority of 124, With Two Places to Hear From—A Monster Procession.

Oshawa, Nov. 2.—After one of the most keenly-contested elections ever held in South Ontario Hon. John Dryden has carried the day, and by the victory of the 1st of November, 1898, the permanence of the Hardy Administration is placed beyond dispute. The event of yesterday proves conclusively that this constituency as constituted for the Legislative Assembly is Liberal. To the Town of Oshawa and the adjoining municipality of East Whitby must be given a large measure of credit for the result achieved in this election. The town wiped out a Conservative majority of 63 in March last and gave Mr. Dryden 31, and East Whitby largely increased its former majority for the Minister of Agriculture. There is great rejoicing here over the result. Thousands of people line the streets, bands are playing and bonfires light up King and Simcoe street square. Beginning at Brooklin, the home of Hon. John Dryden, an enthusiastic procession was started towards Whitby, where the newly-elected member was taken possession of, and amid bonfires and bands a torchlight procession was formed. After a short address from Hon. Mr. Dryden on the four corners of the town, the procession headed towards Oshawa, and by the time the head of the procession reached Oshawa the rear end was over a mile beyond the limits of the town. During the drive though Oshawa the citizens turned out en masse and gave the Minister of Agriculture a most enthusiastic reception. A public meeting was held in the Music Hall at half-past 1 o'clock, after which the procession was reformed and escorted the Minister of Agriculture to his home at Brooklin.

Mr. Dryden's Majority.

The latest returns give Mr. Dryden's majority as 124, with No. 5 Pickering, known as Cherrywood, and No. 3 Reach, known as Gregg's School House, to be heard from.

The majorities so far as received are as follows:

	Dryden.		Calder.
Oshawa	31	Whitby Township	89
E. Whitby	124	Port Perry	36
Whitby	24	Sougog	2
Pickering	51	Brougham	29
Liverpool	27	Orange Hall	17
Grand Hall	14	Epsom	84
Claremont	38	Cedar Creek	40
Greenbank	24	Prince Albert	38
Seagrave	18	Whitevale	2
Manchester	18	Kinsale	26
Utica	17
Cedardale	30
Altona	19

Celebration at Whitby.

Whitby, Nov. 2.—Historic South Ontario, the political birthplace of Sir Oliver Mowat, has been redeemed to Liberalism and good government by the election of Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. His majority over the Conservative candidate, Mr. Charles Calder, is in the neighborhood of 150. The vote was one of the largest ever polled in the riding. When the news of the victory began coming in from the various polling subdivisions crowds began to gather and illuminations to appear in the windows of residences everywhere. The celebration soon took the form of a torchlight procession. An immense gathering's tremendous cheering brought Mr. Dryden smiling to his feet in an open carriage in which he was riding. Speaking to the assembled multitude he said the fight had been a stubborn one from start to finish, but a glorious victory for Reform had been won. It was not only a victory for South Ontario but for the whole Province to rejoice in. Our opponents had said if Dryden was defeated in this election the Government would be destroyed. Take them at their word, the Government is strengthened, its majority is increased from eight to ten. Amidst continued cheering and hundreds shaking his hand in congratulation Mr. Dryden was carried away to Oshawa, where the celebration was continued. Calder's majority in March last was 96.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND

Election Trial—Two Cases So Far Have Been Proven—Many Other Charges Dismissed.

Colborne, Nov. 2.—So far two charges have been declared to be proven by the judges presiding at the trial of the East Northumberland election petition, and a very large number have been dismissed as utterly unsupported by evidence. It looks now as if the whole case would fall, the petitioners having ventured their strongest charges first. It is the general opinion that the trial will conclude at the latest by Thursday night.

At the afternoon session William Juby and William Garnet, two laborers employed by Mr. James Coyle, were examined to discover what was in the charges that they had been given additional night work, for which they were paid extra as an inducement to them to vote for Mr. Douglas. The witnesses denied the charges in toto, and they were accordingly dismissed. The Errington charges were then gone into. John Hill and John Pickle, both railway section men, swore that William Errington, an active worker for Mr. Douglas, had distributed $15 among the men in their gang. Erin Ogden, the section foreman, who was said to have received the money, and W. Seymour and George Bachelor, gave unqualified denials to all the particulars.

Distinguished Passengers.

Southampton, Nov. 2.—The American Line steamer St. Louis, which is scheduled to sail from this port on Nov. 5 for New York, will have on board as passengers Mr. Justin McCarthy, Mme. Nordica and Olga Nethersole.

Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. IS PROHIBITION PRACTICABLE

ACCORDING TO THE CONDITIONS REVEALED BY PLEBISCITE RESULTS?

Opinions of Prominent Temperance Advocates and Workers on the Subject.

In view of the visit of a delegation of prohibitionists to Ottawa to ask the Government to enact a prohibitory law, the following opinions of representative workers in the cause, will be interesting.:

Rev. John Potts, D.D., Education Secretary of the Meth dist church in Canada, said: In his opinion the vote polled for prohibition was not large enough to warrant a demand for the enactment of a prohibitory law. This was in accordance with Dr. Potts' utterances during the campaign, being to the effect that a substantial majority of the electors of the Dominion must declare themselves for prohibition before a prohibition law could be enforced.

Mr. F. S. Spence, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance: "The attitude of the people of Quebec has imparted to the question a racial complication, which the Government will find it hard to solve."

Mr. J. S. Robertson, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Temperance League: "I do not think, in view of the smallness of the majority, that the Government would be justified in legislating on the lines of prohibition. Considering the conditions of the Confederation of the Provinces, such legislation at the present time would not be justifiable. Much as I would like to see prohibition, the vote has shown that prohibition at the present time is impossible, especially with a large majority from one of the provinces against it. I doubt whether the Government, even if it attempted to make a prohibitory law, could pass it. Looking at the matter from a Dominion standpoint and as a citizen, I certainly think that the Government could not attempt a prohibitory law."

Dr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., a leader in the Dominion Alliance: "He admitted that the vote was disappointing. "The temperance people," he said, "have gained an advantage—not so much as they expected, perhaps, but still an advantage. They have a majority as large as that which placed the Laurier Government in power. I take it for granted that they will press their advantage and ask the Government for a prohibitory law. Whether the Government will give them a prohibitory law in face of an adverse majority in Quebec and the verdict of the cities is another question."

Rev. Dr. Dewart, Toronto, ex-editor of the Christian Guardian: He said he had always been of the opinion that a prohibitory law to be effective, must be backed by a strong popular opinion in favour of prohibition.

Rev. William Kettlewell, of Galt, a very prominent prohibitionist, writing the Globe under date of October 6th, said: "I think that it goes without saying that it would be unwise to coerce Quebec into the acceptance of legislation obnoxious to so large a proportion of its citizens; but I think it equally clear that one province the whole of Canada and for generations clog the wheels of moral and material progress." And further, "let the Dominion Parliament enact and prohibit the importation and manufacture of liquors except by the Government and also the sale of liquor in the Territories and allowing the legislature of other provinces to prohibit or license the liquor traffic in its own jurisdiction as it may elect."

Mr. George B. Sweetnam, president of the Canadian Temperance League: "The question is hardly a fair one," he said, when asked if he thought the vote for prohibition large enough to warrant a demand for the enactment of a prohibitory measure: "A consistent prohibitionist would be apt to insist that any majority should be great enough to warrant the enactment of a measure."

Rev. William Patterson, pastor Cook's Presbyterian church, Toronto: "I do not think the Government should enact a prohibitory law under the circumstances, the majority in Quebec and the cities being so great that it would be hard to enforce it."

Rev. E. E. Scott, (Methodist), Toronto: "My opinion is that at least the Eastern Provinces should have prohibition. You take Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; they have had experience of partial prohibition and have voted for it. Of course, it would be hard to enforce such a law in Ontario with the great population of the cities against it. Yet I think there should be in Ontario some form of a Scott act, or local option law, where there are supporting majorities. A prohibitory law could be very well enforced in Manitoba and British Columbia. It could not be enforced in the whole Dominion, with Quebec so strongly against it, but in the Northwest, cut off, as it is, from Ontario and the Eastern Provinces, standing solidly together, it could be enforced. As for Quebec, there are in one-third of the parishes there."

In addition to these there is the statement made in Montreal, says the Herald, by Mr. W. W. Buchanan, that the Government would do right to take cognisance of a large unrecorded vote. Rev. Dr. Rose, late of Montreal, but now of Ottawa, said yesterday from his pulpit in the latter city that "as a prohibitionist he could not disguise from himself that for the present it would be well to leave the Dominion Government alone and not press for a prohibitory law. It would not suffice merely to place a law on the statute books. Such a law must be backed up by the overwhelming force of public opinion. He thought, therefore, prohibitionists should direct their efforts first towards creating that state of public opinion."

In view of such a body of opinion among prohibitionists as is here indicated above, it would be surprising if there were any doubt in the minds of the delegation about to visit Ottawa as to what answer the Government will be obliged to make them. One thing they and everybody else must see that a government, before taking action, in a matter of this difficulty, must wait for a force of public opinion of such unquestioned strength that there will be no chance for widespread distrust of its sufficiency among prohibitionists themselves.

HAVELOCK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The I.O.O.F. concert and supper on the 25th ult., in I.O.O.F. Hall, was a decided success. The programme was good, and although Mr. Swain had a severe cold his comic songs were encored again and again. If the I.O.O.F. get up another concert they are sure of a full house, as this one satisfied every person. The sum realized was upwards of ninety dollars.

The concert that will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday will no doubt prove a grand success, as the committee have secured the services of Miss Tessa McCallum, who has won for herself much repute throughout Ontario as an elocutionist. We hope to see a well-filled room.

It is our duty to announce the death of William Bell, of this place, on Saturday, 22nd inst. He was but a few days ill, of malarial fever. He was a young man, 18 years of age, and beloved by all who knew him. He had been employed in the C.P.R. round-house until the time of his sickness. His remains were taken to Grey county for interment. His sorrowing sister, who is the only living member of the family, has the sympathy of the entire community.

Under the careful teaching of Bandmaster Mitchell the Brass Band is progressing favourably.

Many of our citizens have gone north on a deer hunt, among whom were Messrs. John Carey, Charlie Carey, W. Hart, J. Mark, B. Haig, R. Barlow, W. Bachus and T. Ashby. Several parties from Toronto left this point for the north on the same pleasure.

Mr. W. J. Wiseman's new residence is nearing completion.

Mr. John Maidens has sold the store now occupied by him and purposes moving back into his old store at the West End.

Mr. W. Patterson has moved his family to the West End, where he will be convenient to his grocery business.

Mrs. H. Herrington has gone on a two months' visit to Watertown, N.Y.

W. Burns, who was arrested some time ago on a charge of stealing some sixty dollars from a sewing machine agent, will be tried on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

SULTAN AND KAISER

Make Gifts of the Abode of the Virgin Mary—Church of the Redeemer Consecrated.

Jerusalem, Nov. 2.—Emperor William proceeded to Mount Zion yesterday, where occurred the ceremony of hoisting the German and Turkish flags on a piece of ground which, according to tradition, was formerly occupied by the abode of the Virgin Mary, and which the Sultan presented to the German Emperor. The latter subsequently formally presented the ground to the German Catholics.

The consecration ceremony at the Church of the Redeemer was attended with the greatest pomp. Early in the morning huge crowds began to collect to witness the Imperial cortege. The route was lined with Turkish troops and German sailors.

The Emperor, at the close of the ceremony of consecrating the Church of the Redeemer here, read an address, during which he said:

"From Jerusalem came the light in splendor from which the German nation became great and glorious, and what the Germanic peoples have become, they became under the banner of the cross, the emblem of self-sacrificing charity.

"As nearly 2,000 years ago, so to-day shall I ring out the cry, voicing my ardent hope, to all, 'Peace on Earth.'"

His Majesty then renewed the vow of his ancestors, saying: "I and my house will serve the Lord."

The Emperor then called upon all present to make the same vow, concluding with a prayer that "God grant that confidence in the Almighty, brotherly love, resignation in suffering and efficient work may remain the German nation's noblest ornament, and that the spirit of peace may more and more permeate and hallow the evangelical church."

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

Dear Sir,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $6,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 3,333.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,000 33
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, same policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

LONDON STREET CAR STRIKE.

The Company Offer Certain Conditions for the Men's Acceptance.

London, Ont., Nov. 2.—The outcome of the street car strike depends now on the action of the strikers regarding the company's proposition submitted in conference yesterday afternoon. If the men refuse to accept the conditions offered by the company (whatever they are) an attempt will be made to persuade the company to further modify its position. Should this attempt fail, the company will proceed to run their cars, and call upon the city for the necessary protection to ensure safety of property.

Friday's and Saturday's escapades will not be allowed to go unpunished, and, as a result, a large number of warrants and summonses have been issued. Manager Carr said yesterday that in not running the cars he is observing the request of the Chief of Police and city officials, who wish to avoid trouble, in view of the smallness of the police force. The general impression is that the company have not the men at their command to run the cars.

KILLED BY GUNSHOT.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 2.—Morris Grimshaw, aged 18, while hunting on Wolfe Island yesterday afternoon, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun.

The residence of Michael Doyle, Wolfe Island, was burned to the ground on Saturday night, and all its contents consumed. Mr. Doyle and family had a narrow escape from losing their lives, hurriedly leaving the burning building with only their night robes on.

Election Depositions.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—West and South constituencies of Huron came up for disposition yesterday at Osgoode. Mr. J. G. Harrow will resign his claim to the former, as a new election would prove considerable cheaper than the proposed scrutiny of votes, which would cost $3,000.

Henry Eilber, Conservative member-elect for the South riding, will remain in possession of the seat.

Centre Simcoe and East Simcoe will be similarly dealt with on Nov. 10. Justices Street and Ferguson presided.

EARLY AND LATER.

The Wheat Markets Fluctuated at Liverpool and Chicago—The Cattle Markets—Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 1.

At Liverpool to-day No. 1 Northern spot wheat advanced 1½d per cental, and futures closed 1¼d to 1½d per cental higher than yesterday for all deliveries. Paris and Antwerp observed All Saints' Day.

The advance at Liverpool above noted caused a strong opening at Chicago this morning, but on later news not encouraging to the promoters of a war scare the market broke sharply. The day's news was not indicative of any additional strain between England and France, and there was considerable liquidation by Chicago traders. Other bearish factors were Bradstreet's big increase in the world's visible supply, the big Northwest receipts, and selling by St. Louis. The market closed ⅛c to ⅝c per bushel lower than yesterday's final figures.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?

And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more?

Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer.

It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.

It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.

It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.

We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system, which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

Will Hold Glengarry.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Mr. D. R. Macdonald will sit out his term as representative of the constituency of Glengarry in the Ontario House. The result was anticipated last week, when the venue of the trial was suddenly changed from Alexandria to Toronto. The final act, however, closed Saturday morning, when Justices Osler and Maclennan dismissed the petition in the acknowledged absence of evidence to support it. The respondent was granted costs.

East Northumberland Trial.

Colborne, Oct. 31.—The trial of the election petition against the return of Mr. John H. Douglas, the sitting member for East Northumberland in the Legislature, was begun here Saturday afternoon before Mr. Justice Ferguson and Mr. Justice Meredith. There is quite a large array of legal talent engaged on the case, and the fight gives promise of being a protracted one.

The session on Saturday was largely used in attempting to prove agency, and Mr. John H. Douglas, the Liberal member of the riding and respondent in the present case, gave evidence. His testimony went to show that the officers and members of the association had not been regarded or recognized by him as his agents in the conduct of the election.

SKIN LIKE BABY'S

Skin diseases from the merest pimples to the most obstinate eczema, salt rheum, running sores, are quickly, pleasantly and permanently cured by Dr. Agnew's Ointment—35 cents.

Who does not envy a baby its soft velvety skin? How many suffer from distressing skin diseases—Do you suffer? Have you tetter—salt rheum—scald head—ring worm—eczema—ulcers—blotches on the skin—chronic erysipelas—liver spots and what not else of these distasteful and aggravating disorders which disfigure and discourage? Dr. Agnew's Ointment allays the distressing itching, burning, stinging sensations which are part and parcel of such troubles, and in a thousand cases where internal treatments have failed to heal and eradicate them it has worked wonderful and permanent cures—and no skin disease, no matter of how long standing, has baffled its curative qualities. In cases of chronic eczema it has proved its great worth, and cases are on record where this dread affection has been the birthright of its patient and constant companion until past middle life, and Dr. Agnew's Ointment has cured speedily and permanently. It is a boon to mothers because it is a boon to babyland—scald head and its irritations, which are accompaniments to the teething period, are quickly driven off and restlessness passes away—and where torture reigned with baby this balm brought rest and a cure—it affords instant relief from the itching distress. . . .

Do you suffer from piles—itching, blind, bleeding or ulcerated?—No remedy has brought so quick relief, spared painful surgical operations as Dr. Agnew's Ointment—it has proved itself an absolute cure for piles in all forms and at all stages—one application will relieve the itching, irritating sensations in an instant—and long standing cases disappear after from three to five nights' treatment—the pain and soreness quit you and the tumors vanish.

A lady living in a northern County town writes that for seventeen years she was troubled with salt rheum. She took doctors' treatments and used many lotions without any permanent relief. Reading of the cures made by Dr. Agnew's Ointment, she decided to try it. The first application allayed the irritation and she continued using it—the disease rapidly disappeared and now for two years there has been no sign of a return of it.

The baby of another lady living on Pacific Ave. in Toronto, was terribly afflicted with scald-head and eczema—she tried washes prescribed by her physician, and soaps advertised for such purposes, but the disease remained—Dr. Agnew's Ointment was her good friend; half a box cured the baby and cured herself of troublesome piles which had been the bane of her life since baby's birth.

The Geisha.

The theatrical treat of the season will undoubtedly be the performance of the "Geisha" at the opera house, Saturday, Nov. 5th. It has been the greatest of Daly's successes from his New York and London theatres, having been played over two years in London and 300 nights in New York city. The production, scenery and company will be complete in every detail which insures a performance of rare merit and artistic ability. Manager Bradburn should be congratulated upon securing so strong an attraction for this town, and his many patrons fully appreciate the same. A very large attendance is an assured fact.

An Object Lesson for Housekeepers.

Raisins and currants before and after cleaning is strikingly contrasted in Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co.'s north store window. It is a palpable hit and is leaving its impress on the minds of thoughtful housekeepers. The window shows raisins and currants as received in the original package and as usually sold to customers; it also shows the cleaned fruit and a sample of the dirt extracted in the process of cleaning. One of the strongest points in favour of Mr. Mason's cleaned fruit is that it is sold at the same price as the uncleaned fruit is sold for elsewhere. You don't have to pay for the dirt; you don't have the trouble of cleaning. This fruit is put up in 1-lb. and 3-lb. boxes and sold as the "Crescent" brand. Increased sales make up for the cleaning and loss of bulk in removing the dirt and stems. Be sure and ask for the "Crescent" brand when you want cleaned raisins and currants. dtf

The Probable cut of Logs.

The Crown Lands Department of Ontario has been making an effort to gather information respecting the probable cut of timber upon Crown Lands during the coming winter. From the replies so far received the cut will amount to 500,000,000 feet, which is somewhat less than last year. Three American firms have intimated their intention to take out logs next winter. One firm has about 5,000,000 feet, which was cut last winter, but not hauled, and intends cutting off the Indian reserves under the Dominion Government regulations. The other two American firms which have replied intimate their intention to take out about 25,000,000 feet altogether. All the American lumbermen have been notified that the Government will rigidly enforce its regulations respecting the sawing of logs cut on Crown Lands in the Province. What the intentions of the two firms referred to are is not known, but it is surmised that they are cutting the logs for the purpose of contesting the legality of the regulation.

KIPLING, THE MAN WHO UNDERSTANDS,

CRITICALLY CONSIDERED AT THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson's Admirable Critical and Appreciative Essay—Excellently Read by Miss McCollum—A Delightful Evening With the Cosmopolitan Poet—A Fine Musical Entertainment—Auspicious Opening of the Club's Winter Course.

The opening of the winter season of activity of the Fortnightly Club—a literary institution that furnishes a truly Hibernian paradox by hybernating in the summer—was most auspicious. There seemed a fine appropriateness in placing upon the winter menu as the first dish a delightful literary review of the writings and place in literature of a cosmopolitan poet, as a sort of key note to the wide literary range of the topics discussed and exploited by the Club; that is to say, a charmingly phrased and keenly and appreciatively analytical study of the character, personal and literary, of Rudyard Kipling and of his writings. Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson's clever monograph showed a deep knowledge of the writings of a poet who has founded a new school of poetry—a successor of Tennyson, who marked the merging line between the more metaphysical and stilted of the later poets and the intensely human, revealed in the breezy poems and prose of Kipling. Those who admired Kipling before will re-read him with greater interest after hearing Mrs. Wilson's paper, which, without disparagement of its merits, derived added interest from the excellent manner in which it was read by Miss Alma McCollum, Peterborough's talented elocutionist, who was heard with delight by the large audience of the which filled the lecture room of Association Hall, and overflowed into the anti-chamber.

Sheriff Hall, the president, occupied the chair, but it did not need the awe of his presence in that capacity to preserve order, for the attention was rivetted so closely to the paper during its reading that no distracting interruption was possible.

No paraphrase nor summary can give the reader, who had not the good fortune to hear it read in its entirety, an adequate idea of Mrs. Wilson's paper. It began by recounting the fact that Rudyard Kipling, born in India about 34 years ago, was named after a well known Staffordshire lake. This early acquaintance with England from the relation of his mother's reminiscences laid the foundation of that bent of mind that made the poet an Imperialist par excellence. Kipling dawned upon the world as a writer outside the beaten track, whose wide education and cosmopolitan course of travel and sojourn, reflected in his poems, made the reading of them

AN EDUCATIVE PROCESS—

"a man full of red blood and youth and enthusiasm—a man singing sea-songs and telling camp fire tales, and exulting in the spread of the British Empire and the glory of the British flag." Kipling's warm sympathy with his kind, of whatever state or degree, was eloquently depicted. His cosmopolitan character was shown in the facility with which he touched the core of description in dealing with the languorous life of the east in its multiform phases, or striking the key of life in the breezy west of America. Adverting to his style, the paper asserted that best descriptive of Kipling—strength of mind, vigour of intellect and force of expression—his positiveness is demonstrated in the public, who either admire him or hate him as a writer. Instances were given of Kipling's versatility in his treatment of themes natural to the western world, to grimy London, Whitechapel way, or to orient India.

The warmth and width of his sympathy with every caste of the East, every condition of the Ayrian land, were eloquently set forth, and his pictures of India were in very truth the reproductions of what his eyes saw and his hands handled, painted as only his strong word colour could depict them. A graphic paraphrase of the place of Tommy Atkins in India as set forth by Kipling's sturdy verse, is supplied by this paper, which next proceeds to defend Kipling from the charge of being vulgar and commonplace in his way of speech. He only painted what he saw. His critics in this regard have confounded the interpreter with his subject. Reference was made to Kipling's allusion to Canada and it was justified as a a reflection of what his short stay in the country in the winter revealed. He meant no harm, for the Imperialist Kipling has a kind heart toward all the colonial components of Greater Britain. Though masculinity might be regarded as a keynote of Kipling's writings, he was, as Mrs. Wilson submitted extracts from his poems to show, like Tennyson, a "womanly man," tender and true. After referring to the fact that for the position of poet laureate Kipling was passed over to another, the paper of Mrs. Wilson follows in these words:

"At the time of the Queen's Jubilee when rolled in one gorgeous pageant through London—when England was almost drunken with her own glory—then Rudyard Kipling arose and in language as stately as that used by the Hebrew prophets of old, voiced the sentiment of the nation, before it realised that then it felt as he prayed that, great as England was, she might "not forget" to acknowledge that there is One greater." The excellent paper of Mrs. Wilson concluded with a reference to the fact that in neither the sentiment nor expression of Mr. Kipling's poems was to be found anything to pollute the minds of the impressionable young. Rudyard Kipling was to be valued "not only because of his unifying influence, not only as an imperial subject, but as as a member of the human family, because of the mirth which he has caused in us, and the new vistas he has opened up—because of his patriotic songs which thrill our hearts and make us proud of being Britons."

The conclusion of the paper was a signal for enthusiastic applause, a tribute to both writer and reader.

The paper being somewhat lengthy, its reading was divided into two parts to give the reader, who was suffering from a severe cold, a rest. The interval was capitally employed by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who gave a robust as well as sympathetic reading of the Kipling poem, "The Native Born." In voice and intonation the ringing spirit of Kipling's verse was very faithfully presented, and cordial applause rewarded the expellent reading.

THE INCIDENTAL PROGRAMME.

During the evening the incidental music was Kiplingesque. Mr. Harold Claxton sang with fine effect, "The Mandalay," and a quintette, composed of Mesdames A. D. Parker and H. J. Grassett, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, and Messrs. Parker and Mulligan, sang DeKoven's spirited musical setting of Kipling's, "Recessional," which the chairman, on the authority of the London Times, pronounced the finest poem that has been written during the century. The singing of this grand and uplifting hymn was worthy of the theme and its treatment. The parts were beautifully balanced and the expression and sympathy with the lofty yet humble strain that winds through the poem were in keeping with its character. Mr. Mulligan took the obligato solo with capital effect.

After the usual routine the gathering separated, all well pleased with the evening's entertainment which forecasts a most prosperous season for the Fortnightly Club.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

A Case in Which the Costs Amounted to Quite a Large Figure.

Wm. Lahey, of Otonabee, was fined two dollars and costs, amounting to $6.85, this morning, by County Magistrate Edmison, on a charge of using abusive language to one Moncrief.

It seems that Lahey loaned a set of harness to the complainant and can neither get it or its equivalent in money, so when he met Moncrief on the street he voiced his opinion of him in very plain terms, with the result that a complaint was laid against him.

Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the defendant.

Lahey entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and the magistrate dealt as leniently as possible with the case, stating that he could understand how irritating the circumstances would be.

DEER HUNTING NOTES.

Mr. Harry Allen Said to Have Secured the First Buck of the Season.

A telephone message from Burleigh Falls yesterday afternoon announced that the LeBrun-Strickland party, the members of which are occupying Mr. R. C. Strickland's Stony Lake cottage, had secured their first deer that morning. It is understood that Mr. Harry Allen was the lucky man to bring down the first buck of the season.

Messrs. R. S. Davidson, A. P. Poussette and W. D. Parker left for the north at noon to-day. Mr. Davidson will join the LeBrun-Strickland party, whilst Mr. Poussette and Mr. Parker will identify themselves with Mr. R. B. Rogers' party on the house-boat.

The Hastings Star says: Messrs. T. Fraser, C. Fowlds and Wm. Johnston, of Hastings; S. and Jas. West, of Alnwick; and J. Johnston, S. Headren and J. Burke, of Norwood, left last Friday for Gull Lake, where they spend the next two weeks deer hunting.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Mrs. Allen Waives a Preliminary Examination and is Committed.

In the police court this morning Mrs. Beck, who is more generally known as Mrs. Allen, appeared before Magistrate Edmison, with two charges of theft preferred against her, namely, that of stealing a watch from the Salvation Army barracks, and of being concerned in the burglarising of Miss Lillie's residence during her absence from town.

Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the prisoner, and on learning that a remand until Nov. 10th was contemplated, consented to waive a preliminary examination, and have Mrs. Allen committed for trial.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1898.

OUR STREETS.

During the past three years there has been expended upon the streets of Peterborough the enormous sum of nearly $40,000—to be exact—$37,794.49. The money was expended as follows:

In the year 1896, $14,667.73.
In the year 1897, $14,517.43.
In the year 1898, up to Nov. 1st, $8,609.29.

Let anyone go round about the town and mark well her streets and what does he see to represent this comparatively vast expenditure? He will see chiefly an abundance of mud and rough uneven streets that would be a discredit to a country municipality. Can any person making such an inspection, by the most vivid sketch of imagination, honestly arrive at the conclusion that we have received anything coming within cannon shot of value for the expenditure mentioned? When the streets are not in a condition of mud and rut they are ploughed up by sewer operations that are begun at a time of the season when the work should have been finished, and have afforded time to put the streets in useable shape. Now the sewer trenches will be roughly covered over and the streets alongside left littered with stones. The frost will come and we shall have all winter streets as impassable for sleighs with safety and convenience as an unopened sideline in Burleigh. The money has been expended on makeshift slop work with very little other permanent results than bad roadbeds and ricketty sidewalks. Nothing in the way of permanent work has been accomplished except the pavement laid down this summer.

It is difficult to see what value we have had for nearly $40,000—it will probably amount to that sum before the year is out—spent during the past three years. If we go back for the past ten years we shall have a total of something like $150,000 spent on our streets, with nothing except some bridges, which are not at all above suspicion, to show for it. We have, it is true, given employment to labour, but so far as permanent results are concerned it would have been as well to have paid the money outright to working men without putting them to the toil of earning it in work of which there is so little to show. Would any firm or individual, with the haziest possession of business common sense, have expended such an amount with such results? The strongest business in Peterborough carried on on the same slipshod principles as has obtained in the administration of our streets, would have the sheriff putting up its shutters within six months.

What we want is some systematic attempt at making permanent streets, some plan by which we shall get something like value for our money. What we do we should do well. If we only build a mile of streets in a year we should do it well, and it will stay done. There are roads in England in use to day that were built in the time of Julius Cæsar. They are there because they were made right. Road-making has been reduced to a science, and to have good roads that will last they must be made right. We can't expect good results from the statute labour methods of half a century ago. If we spend money liberally on our streets we insist on getting full value for it. If we are to give it away let the taxpayer know it, but don't let us throw it away any longer on expensive street work that has to be done over the next year at great additional expense.

We most decidedly object to having our streets summer-fallowed every spring and fall to raise a crop represented by tall taxes. It will give just as much employment to labour if the council go about street work as if they knew what they were doing. Trying experiments that always fail at the rate of $15,000 a year has become monotonous.

The public interest demands in relation to our streets that the council shall know something of what it proposes to do. Let a certain section of street be selected and let a system of improvement and construction be decided upon after full deliberation, and let the decision be that the best methods be adopted and that the result will be something permanent—something that will give us enduring streets of a quality that will correspond to the importance of the town. Let the council understand that the public money must not be wasted and that when a street is provided with permanent macadam and paving, it is not to be ripped up upon every slight pretext and kept in a continual state of disrepair and obstruction.

There are several corporations enjoying the franchise of our streets, and, while these franchises represent public conveniences, the understanding must be admitted that the citizens also have rights. These corporations have not acquired a monopoly of our streets to the exclusion of the rights of the citizens at large. Suppose the council should select George street, from Brock or any other point, to the C.P.R. station or any other point for treatment with permanent macadam, the council should give the Water Works Company, the Electric Light and Power Company, the Telephone Company, and the Street Railway Company, to understand that once the streets are laid down to permanent macadam they are not to be opened at their will. The council should insist that all underground or street disturbing work be made, and made to stay, and should also insist that the streets shall not be broken up for any work that could have been done before the street was built, and that only the very gravest reasons shall justify the breaking up of a street for repairs, and the company must pay the cost of the repair when the street has been opened. The town has also a duty in this regard. It should be seen to that all sewer connections be put in before the street is built. If the owner of property is not ready to make connections, the service might be carried to the street line of his premises to be used when needed, to avoid the everlasting grubbing up of our streets which leaves them in a condition that is simply disgraceful. The Street Railway should also be given to understand that if it cannot keep the portion of the street contiguous to its lines in the condition required by its contract with the town, its rails must not be allowed to cumber our streets.

We must have an end to the waste of money on our streets. We must have an end to the perpetual ripping up of our streets, that makes even passable thoroughfares a constant source of annoyance and obstruction to traffic. With half a dozen corporations digging holes in our streets at intervals, we have, with one and another, heaps of loose earth and yawning cavities in our streets all the year round. The council must meet the emergency. It must adopt some system of operation that will lead to work being done when it is finished. Paying for a street improvement once is enough. We don't want work done on streets that will cost nearly as much next year for doing over as a good permanent job would cost.

The council will find that the present system has the universal condemnation of our citizens, who are tired of paying taxes to be sunk in eternally muddy and unsatisfactory streets, and who demand that there be placed a limit to the random and reckless use of our streets by every corporation or individual who choose to fill them with holes at their own sweet will. A council that is strong enough to take a old stand on the street improvement question, and a mayor who is big enough to institute and direct a big broad policy, having first regard to the interests of the people, and secondly, and incidentally, to the interests of corporations, or private individuals, will both have the people at their backs and good, honest, enduring streets under their feet.

SOUTH ONTARIO.

The bye-election in South Ontario yesterday involved the successful promotion of the welfare of the most important interests of the province, that of the farmer, and the return of Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, represents for the future the faithful and effective administration of a department which for the past ten years has been so satisfactorily presided over by the present incumbent. Mr. Dryden's rejection by South Ontario in the general elections in last March was due to local causes entirely unconnected with merits of his administrative record. The election courts which unseated his opponent, showed what the most powerful of these local influences was. Mr. Dryden's triumphant election yesterday shows that Ontario South is still faithful to the administration, and that the record and character of the Government, and Mr. Dryden's splendid efficiency as an administrator in his special department, had, perhaps, more to do with Mr. Dryden's success than his mere personal popularity. Therefore, taken in conjunction with the emphatic verdict of East Wellington, South Ontario is a large-sized straw showing the direction of the wind in regard to the remaining bye-elections. In the bye-elections the Liberals will not be handicapped by that over-confidence which permitted an alert Opposition in the general elections to achieve successes which would have been impossible under normal conditions.

VIM—to work and to win—to keep a sane mind in a sound body—to laugh at worry.

VIGOR—to ward off disease—to conquer obstacles—to transmit health and strength to your posterity.

VITALITY—to resist the fearful strain and tension of modern life—to make up for the constant drains of overwork. Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills confer all these essential qualities on the user.

THIS EVIDENCE IS AMPLE PROOF.

Before using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills I felt weak, nervous and run down. I had lost weight steadily for some time; my circulation was poor; hands, feet and limbs were cold. I always felt weak and my muscles trembled. Now, after the use of one box of Dr. Ward's Pills, I feel like my old self. I have gained five pounds in weight and 100 per cent. in cheerfulness. I now walk firmly, my muscular system is strong and my blood circulates vigorously. I have more comfort than I have experienced in years. Dr. Ward's Pills have done more for me than any medicine I ever took.

ABOUT SMUGGLED WHISKEY.

Inland Revenue Officers Captured Liquor and Lawsuit Followed.

Quebec, Nov. 1.—A highly interesting judgment was delivered in the Court of Review yesterday in the case of Buffe v. Lavallee. Some time ago the plaintiff, who is a resident of St. Pierre Miquelon, sold to the defendant, who belongs to St. Pierre, Riviere da Sud, Montmagny, a schooner load of whiskey, which the defendant proposed to smuggle into Canada. The schooner was seized and held with her cargo by the Inland Revenue officials.

Lavallee then refused to pay Buffe, hence the action. Lavallee adduces in his defence the argument that the bargain does not hold good now, as the whiskey was to be smuggled.

The judges, however, decided that, although this argument would have held good had the agreement been made between two Canadians, it is valueless, since one of the parties was a foreigner, and judgment is consequently rendered against the defendant.

Prize Money In 1763.

To the English victors of Havana belonged the spoils, and very rich and important these were.

Besides the nine Spanish men-of-war found intact in the harbor, which, added to the three sunk at the entrance and to one or two others captured outside in the course of the operations, formed about one-fifth of the naval power of Spain and seriously crippled her for the rest of the war, no less an amount than £3,000,000 was realized in prize money by the capture of this wealthy city.

Of this great sum we are told that Albemarle and Pocock, as commanding respectively the land and sea forces, received no less than £122,697 each, while Commodore Keppel's share amounted to as much as £24,589, and doubtless his brother, Major General Keppel, received an almost equal sum. Thus the Keppel family benefited by this expedition to the tune of considerably over £150,000, and it is recorded that General Elliott, with his share of the prize money, purchased the estate of Heathfield in Sussex, from which he afterward took his title. Such were the solid rewards obtainable in war in the last century, when the profession of arms was for the successful soldier considerably more lucrative than it is at the close of the nineteenth century.—Nineteenth Century.

No Cocaine in Dr. A. W. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Prof. Heys, Ont. We offer a reward of $1,000, to be devoted to any charitable institution if any druggist or doctor can find the least trace of that deadly drug cocaine contained in Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." TENNYSON'S FAITH.

The Problem of the Future Life Had the Dominant Interest.

A reader of the "Life of Tennyson," by his son, will be struck by the fact that no subject interested him so deeply as the problem of the future life. He will also observe that it was always a problem to him, one that he was constantly raising, that would not stay settled. To be sure, he was a believer in immortality, but not a restful believer. He was all the time digging up the roots of his faith to be sure they were alive. The old question would not stay unanswered. The reader of his poetry observes the same thing. He is always on the side of faith, but of a somewhat disturbed faith. He belonged to that "metaphysical society" which invited into its membership believers of all shades, with all shades of unbelievers, whose object was to raise and answer doubts about God and the future life. He was the spokesman of the scientific doubt of the age, fluttering over the dovecots of faith, but hardly settling and resting and nesting therein.

One observes the contrast with this fluttering faith who reads the poems of Milton, with their abiding faith in the future life. This is the spiritual contrast between "In Memoriam" and "Lycidas." In Milton's requiem, even under its paganized form, there is a robust and jubilant faith in God and eternal life. No question enters. The mind and heart are satisfied. The dear friend is beyond all doubt among the saints and choirs above. One regrets that Tennyson's mental structure perhaps could find positiveness and rest on questions of politics or poetry, but must perennially dubitate—to be sure, with the hopeful balance of probability—over questions of faith. "I believe I know," he once said, "the quantity of every word in the English language except scissors," but one seems to detect a tremulousness in his best expression of faith, "I hope to meet my Pilot face to face, when I have crossed the bar."—Independent.

HARNESS REINS.

Made From the Stoutest of Leather. A Word About Hand Holds.

The reins of a set of single harness are each about 18 feet in length, those of a double harness about 15 feet. For business harness reins are made of leather, tanned black; the reins of carriage harness are made of russet colored leather.

Reins require to be very stout, and they are almost always made of steer hide, the leather of which traces are made, these, however, being of more than one thickness. Occasionally lines for light or for cheap harness are made of cowhide, but not often. As a rule the best of leather is used for the reins, even in cheap harness. There can be obtained from the hides of leather suitable for reins strips from seven to nine feet in length, so that reins are always of necessity made in two pieces.

The loops, or hand holds, often seen on the reins of track or road horses are commonly made of lighter leather stitched together and then sometimes stitched to the reins, but more often secured to them in such a manner that they can be shifted on the reins to suit the convenience of the driver. The three loop hold, which is called the Boston hand hold, is commonly used for track driving. The single loop is the one used by most drivers on the road. There are patent hand holds made of metal. The wooden buttons sometimes seen on reins, used as hand holds, are made in pairs, one button of each pair having a stem, with a thread cut on it, which goes through the rein and is screwed into the other button of the pair on the opposite side.—New York Sun.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little at the right time he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

The Canal Man.

A canal man, unless there happens to be a member of his family who can help him, hires a man called "the hand." The men who run the boats come from various positions in life to become canal men. Some have been farmers who own farms along or near the canal and not a few have been born and lived all their lives on a canal-boat. Perhaps one of the most unusual cases is that of a well educated man, who was formerly a Methodist minister, but is now and has been for several years living with his family on one of these boats and driving mules for a living.

The majority, however, are rough and ignorant, and the proverbial swearing is to be heard in its most repulsive forms. One notices frequently a lame or crippled man in charge of a boat, since this is one of the few positions in which a maimed person is able to earn a livelihood. A canal man's family, if he has one, lives with him on the boat during the open season, and the rest of the year some live on little plots of ground, often too small to be called farms, or perhaps they may live in one of the larger towns near by.—Ethel Belle Appel in Godey's Magazine.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE EVERYDAY HERO.

I like the man who faces what he must
With step triumphant and a heart of cheer—
Who fights the daily battle without fear,
Sees his hopes fail, yet keeps unfaltering trust
That God is God; that, somehow, true and just,
He plans his work for mortals; not a tear
Is shed when fortune, which the world holds dear,
Falls from his grasp; better, with love a crust,
Than living in dishonor; envies not,
Nor loses faith in man, but does his best,
Nor even murmurs at his humble lot,
But with a smile and words of hope, gives zest
To every toiler: he alone is great
Who by a life heroic conquers fate.

Homemade Irrigation Hose.

A writer in Rural New Yorker tells how he makes hose from strong 12 cent duck cloth: To make hose to carry 60 gallons per minute I tear the yard wide duck into three strips (it would probably be large enough if torn into four or five strips). These strips are sewed together into hose on a sewing machine. The mixture of tar and boiled oil is then heated in an iron kettle outdoors and the hose immersed in it or drawn through it while it is hot. Immediately on coming out of the hot mixture the hose is run between two rollers or between two sticks held tightly together and the bulk of the tar scraped off the cloth. It is then hung up to dry for two or three days. This hose will not stand any pressure to speak of. The sections are connected by a short iron pipe, and the hose is tied on with strong cord. Probably the hose would dry out best if equal quantities of tar and boiled oil were used, but I usually use about one part boiled oil to two or three of gas tar. When this hose begins to leak, it should be painted over with the above mentioned mixture. One man told me that he had used hose made something like this five years before repainting it.

Trouble For Asparagus Growers.

Danger to the asparagus industry by rust is feared by growers more this year than ever. According to The New England Homestead, experience at Concord, Mass., and other centers of commercial asparagus culture shows that where the rust was serious last summer the crop this year is inferior in size and quality, and similar reports come from Long Island and New Jersey. Experience shows that the recommendation to cut off and burn the rusted tops during summer may be a "remedy" worse than the disease. At Concord fields that were thus cut off and burned last August made very little growth this spring and were hardly worth cutting. To thus mow down the tops while green and full of sap seems to cause a bleeding of the stalks and weakening of the roots that is almost fatal. On the other hand, asparagus beds that were badly rusted last fall, but were allowed to stand, sent out new shoots which made quite a growth before frost. Such beds seem to have partially preserved their vigor, although even when well manured they showed a much lighter yield than beds that were not rusted.

The sun is photographed at Greenwich on every clear day, according to the last annual report of the Greenwich observatory, for the purpose of keeping a record of its spots. In the past year photographs were secured on 191 days, and those taken on 185 days were selected for measurement and preservation. From India and Mauritius photographs taken on 181 days—filling up gaps in the series—were received, making a total of records on 364 days out of the 365 of the year—that is, on one day only out of the whole year a photographic record of sun spots was not secured.

Photographing the sun for this purpose has been a part of the routine work of this observatory for the last forty years. It was the first regular service to which photography was put by astronomers.

The number of hours of bright sunshine at Greenwich is recorded by an instrument which works automatically. The number recorded during the year which ended April 30, 1898, was 1,529 out of the 4,454 hours during which the sun was above the horizon—that is, at Greenwich, and what is about the same thing, at London, during the year the day sky was overcast by clouds about two-thirds of the time.

The rainfall during the year which ended on the same date was 17.33 inches, which is 7.21 inches less than the annual average for the last fifty years. The number of rainy days was 149—two days of rain out of every five in the year.

Work on the astrophotographic chart of the heavens has made good progress at this observatory during the year. The "zone" assigned to Greenwich is the region about the north pole—a circular section of the heavens 60 degrees in diameter. During the year there were taken for the chart—with an exposure of 40 minutes—828 successful photographs; for the catalogue—exposure from 3 to 6 minutes—909 were taken. The Greenwich Observatory has nearly completed its part in this great work, which at one or two of the eighteen observatories among which it was distributed has not yet been begun, and at very few is anywhere near completion, the number of photographs still to be taken at Greenwich being 521 for the chart and 240 for the catalogue.

Permanent Cure of Boils.

R. B. B. Cured Mrs. Harrison Henley, of Musquodoboit, N.S., in 1896, and the Boils have never come back.

Anyone who has ever suffered from boils, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel.

When you think you're about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your wretchedness.

Boils are simply the outcropping of impure blood.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils quickly disappear, never to return—the cure is permanent—your misery is at an end, and your health and strength come back again.

Such were the results in the case of Mrs. Henley, of Musquodoboit, N.S., who recently wrote the following letter:

"In the spring of 1895 I was continually troubled with boils, one coming after another for about six months. Some as large as a hen's egg.

"My blood was in a very bad condition and I was very miserable all summer.

"In September I got a bottle of B. B. B. and began taking it, I felt better after I took one bottle. I kept on taking the Bitters until I had taken five bottles and can say I have been well ever since and have never had a boil on me since.

"I can safely say from my own experience that B.B.B. is the very best medicine in existence for any blood disorder."

Only the tortures of the mediæval rack are comparable to the agonies which many women suffer through the peculiar weaknesses and diseases of their delicate, feminine structure.

Nothing less than unbearable torment would induce sensitive-minded women to submit to the intolerable methods of the average doctor in dealing with diseases of this nature.

That there is "a better way" than these detestable "examinations" and "local applications" is a truth which some women have yet to learn, although thousands are already rejoicing in the knowledge. They have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the one unfailing remedy which heals feminine weaknesses at their very source. This marvelous "Prescription" restores absolute health to the internal organism; stops weakening drains and ulcerated conditions, gives elastic strength to the supporting ligaments, vitality to the nerve centers, and complete womanly vigor to the entire constitution.

It is the perfect fortifier and regulator of women at every critical period in their development; from the time when they merge into womanhood until the "change of life." It is the one medicine which makes motherhood safe and almost free from pain.

A lady living at 7 Park Avenue, Chicago, Ills., Mrs. Emily Howe, writes: "I, myself, suffered a long time from female weakness and seemed to be going into a decline. Took several bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and it saved me from a great deal of suffering. I now enjoy perfect health and will ever praise the wonderful efficacy of your medicine."

The best popular medical book in the world is Dr. R. V. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address the Doctor at Buffalo, N. Y., or send 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

INCREASE IN CYCLING.

More Wheels Than Ever Now Said to Be Ridden.

INDIVIDUALS MAY RIDE LESS.

Mechanism of a New Chainless For Which Much Is Claimed—High Gear and Light Weight In New Patterns—Scorching Bad For the Heart.

There is much discussion as to whether or not there is a general falling off in cycling. The war has taken thousands of enthusiastic wheelmen out of the country, and many women ride in the absence of their big brothers and sweethearts. In the face of all this Secretary Walter Wardrop of the national board of trade does not think there has been any actual falling off in cycle riding. There is no question about there being more wheels ridden now than ever. "In big cities," says Mr. Wardrop, "there is a class of persons who exhaust a sport for a time and change, but they return to it later. Any pastime is exhausted in the city as it is not in the country. Urban riders throw themselves into a new thing with overzeal and experience reaction. They do not drop it altogether, but they do not have the enthusiasm of their neophyte days. They go out for a short ride and pick the finest stretch of asphalt or the neatest bit of road. The fall is the best season and it is getting so that many skip the heated term and leave their best riding to be done then. I think the time is coming when the height of the riding season will be in September and October and when those months will constitute a busy selling season. The bulk of the wheeling being done now is in the outlying districts. Country riders, when they begin, learn to take the roads as they come, and they are not so whimsical as city riders. They continue steadily along without giving much thought to road conditions. In towns of from 5,000 to 30,000 inhabitants all over the country the ridi[ng] is continuous until snow flies, and the [n]umber of cyclers is on the increase all the time."

MECHANISM OF THE NEW CHAINLESS.

A new chainless has made its appearance. The driving mechanism consists of internal gears meshing with small spur gears on hub of rear wheel. These internal gears have a ball bearing external, which runs in a casing made fast to the main frame, and in the bearing there is a ball retainer or dividing ring, which contains 18 balls and is made in this form to lessen friction. The pedal cranks are compound cranks in an eccentric movement. The pedals on their downward motion have a long leverage, and experts who have ridden this wheel claim that at 114 gear it rides as easy as the ordinary chain wheel of 90. The wheel makes a handsome appearance, and the inventors claim it can be made as cheaply as any first class bicycle on the market.

The statement of Dr. S. C. Stanton, who is in charge of the examination of recruits for the regular army in Chicago, to the effect that bicycle scorchers are unfit physically for army service, has caused a sensation in the ranks of the humpbacked brigade who ride their wheels for speed only. He says he has made the severest tests in his examinations in determining that point and has arrived at the conclusion only after exhaustive examination. He states that many men have been rejected because of "bicycle heart," as he calls it, induced by excessive strain in riding the wheel. The persistent scorcher, he finds, has a tendency to enlarge the heart and thus interfere with its action.

Chainless bicycles are now being made that weigh only 23 pounds, and it is not unlikely that they may be made even lighter, although there is little demand for a road machine weighing less than this. Another point that marks the march of progress in connection with the new type of machines is that is is now being fitted with higher gears than at first. It was thought by many that it was unsafe to put on chainless wheels a higher gear than 78 because of the strain on the frame, but the higher gears have come, notwithstanding the theories on their impracticability. Whether or not the lighter frames will remain rigid under the use of high gears is a question for the future to determine.

Already this year it has occurred that records made one day have been smashed badly on the following day. To do this requires speed on the part of the rider and plenty of good pace. The value of pace is more appreciated now than ever before, and as this is an essential thing in the hunt for victory in match races, and also in the smashing of records, the cracks for this style of racing manage to keep men regularly employed, whose sole duty is to furnish pace for match events.

A new device imparts to the steering head a tendency to always return to the normal or straight ahead position after the wheel has been swung to one side by means of the handle bars. This is effected without the use of any spring, and the plan on its face appears to be mechanically sound. When by means of the bars the steering head is turned either intentionally or accidentally, the head is raised very slightly by means of ball rings with hemispherical recesses for the balls, which rings are fixed within the head so that the balls travel up an inclined plane when the head is swung in either direction. The instant the handle bars are released the balls run down the plane, turning with them the set of rings and the head until again the socket at normal level is reached and the head is straight. The balls are, of course, distinct from those in the regular bearings. For those who find it impossible to ride "hands off" and who are almost afraid to remove either hand from the bars long enough to bang at a mosquito or wield a handkerchief something of this kind would prove a boon.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

JOHN BLOW'S TESTIMONY.

Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Saved His Life Recently.

Toronto, Oct. 24—The many Torontonians who know Mr. John Blow, 67 Princess Street, have been in a state of amazement for some time past, because Mr. Blow, who, for years was a great sufferer from Diabetes, has fully recovered, and is now as well as ever, though his case was said to be helpless.

"I was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills," said Mr. Blow, "the only medicine on earth that can cure this terrible disease."

So it does. Dodd's Kidney Pills are keeping up their grand work for human health and happiness unceasingly.

Hugo and His Wife.

The New York Nation says that "first in importance among the more intimate letters of Victor Hugo are those addressed to Mme. Hugo, written during the troubled time of separation, between the flight to Brussels and the reunion of the exiled family at Marine Terrace. Much as we objected to the earlier set, against these nothing is to be urged, for, while confirming the wife's noble hearted devotion, they also establish beyond doubt the hearty appreciation of her merits by her oft maligned husband." He says:

(1859) I begin by telling you that you are a noble and admirable woman. Your letters bring tears to my eyes. Everything is in them—dignity, strength, simplicity, courage, reason, serenity, tenderness. When you discuss politics, you do it well. Your judgment is good and your remarks to the point. When you discuss business and family matters, you show your large, kind heart.

For the Teeth.

To preserve the teeth use a stiff brush and the following preparation: One ounce of quassia chips, one-quarter of a pint of boiling water, two ounces of orris root, two ounces of precipitated chalk and one-half ounce of white castile soap. When cool, strain and mix and apply night and morning. The teeth should be brushed from the roots downward, then thoroughly rinsed with borax water, which is made by putting half a teaspoonful of powdered borax in a glass of water. Dental floss should be drawn between the teeth at least once a month. Never use toothpicks.—New York Tribune.

Flowers on the Table.

In the English country houses great attention is paid to the arrangement of the flowers on the dining table. For even the ordinary family dinner five vases are always used and sometimes nine. A set piece occupies the center of the table, while the other four or eight are placed on either side. Sometimes tall vases alternate with little ones, each holding a single rose, and on other occasions finger glasses set in old fashioned silver wine holders are used. A favorite bouquet for the library is made of the beautiful red poppies mixed with tall grasses.

FERTILIZER TESTS.

A Comparison of Factory and Home Mixtures of Equivalent Composition.

In the spring of 1897 the Ohio experiment station began an experiment in which several brands of factory mixed commercial fertilizers are being compared with home mixtures of tankage, acid phosphate and muriate of potash calculated to contain the same quantities of ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash as are claimed by the manufacturers for the respective brands of factory mixtures used in the test.

As stated in a recent bulletin from the station, the experiment was begun on a tract of heavy clay land, and the plan is to continue it several years in a rotation of wheat, corn and clover, applying the fertilizers to the corn and wheat. The plan of the test and the results on the corn crop of 1897 are fully reported in bulletin 93, which shows that in the first crop of the test the home mixed fertilizers produced results quite equal to those yielded by the factory mixtures, although the cost of the home mixtures was from $6 to $12 per ton less than that of the factory mixtures.

Following out the plan of the test, one of the sections of land set apart for it was sown to wheat last fall, the fertilizers being repeated on the same plots and in the same order in which they had been used on the corn. The wheat was sown late and suffered severely from the winter, the yield on the unfertilized plots being reduced to less than two bushels per acre. The increase on this unfertilized yield given by the several fertilizers is shown below.

The factory mixtures were used at the uniform rate of 200 pounds per acre, but it was possible to duplicate their composition in essential constituents with considerably less than 200 pounds in most of the home mixtures.

	Cost Per Ton.	Increase Per Acre. Bushels.
Factory mixture A	$30.00	8.8
Home mixture A	17.85	12.6
Factory mixture B	25.00	11.8
Home mixture B	17.60	13.6
Factory mixture C	20.00	7.4
Home mixture C	18.55	10.6
Factory mixture D	17.50	5.2
Home mixture D	9.40	6.2

It will be observed that in every case the increase from the home mixture is decidedly greater than from the factory mixture which it was intended to duplicate, the difference being greatest in the case of the most expensive factory mixture. The prices given above for the factory mixtures are what the station paid for them in small lots at the respective factories. The prices quoted for the home mixtures represent the cost of these mixtures at the station, the materials being bought in single sack lots at the regular, publicly quoted, retail prices for the materials, with freight to Wooster added. Nothing is added for mixing, as the freight paid on the factory mixtures would several times over pay the cost of mixing.

The Ohio station claims that its field tests are showing conclusively that out of tankage, acid phosphate and muriate of potash, all of which are in the condition of dry powder or salt, it is possible to make a fertilizer that will equal in effect any factory mixed fertilizer of equivalent composition. Farmers are profiting by this demonstration to form home mixing associations, purchasing the necessary materials in carloads, thus getting the advantage of wholesale prices and low freights, and thereby reducing the cost of their fertilizers by 50 to 100 per cent. In some cases the farmers have agreed upon a common formula and taken bids on this formula, the fertilizer to be delivered in carloads ready mixed and subject to the analysis of the state fertilizer control or experiment station. One farmers' organization of this kind in Pennsylvania numbers more than 600 members, and one in Ohio will use 800 tons of fertilizer this year. Each of these clubs will save several thousand dollars in one year's purchase. In conclusion the station asserts that the best fertilizer houses are glad to meet the farmers in this manner, for they realize that the consumption of fertilizers will be largely increased when the farmers can get them at a fair price.

Anecdote of Aldrich.

A very clever anecdote is told of Thomas Bailey Aldrich. One day the distinguished author happened to saunter into an auction room while a sale of rare editions, old manuscripts and autographs was going on. The auctioneer, holding in his hands a bundle of letters, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I have here two autographs which were written by a man named Thomas Bailey Aldrich. I shall now start them for you at the price of two for 5 cents." No bids were made, and they were sold for that sum.

Mr. Aldrich, in speaking of the incident afterward to a friend, said, "I wouldn't have cared at all if they had gone for 5 cents each, but 'two for 5' reminded me very forcibly of little apples."—Philadelphia Post.

Only the tortures of the mediæval rack are comparable to the agonies which many women suffer through the peculiar weaknesses and diseases of their delicate, feminine structure.

Nothing less than unbearable torment would induce sensitive-minded women to submit to the intolerable methods of the average doctor in dealing with diseases of this nature.

That there is "a better way" than these detestable "examinations" and "local applications" is a truth which some women have yet to learn, although thousands are already rejoicing in the knowledge. They have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the one unfailing remedy which heals feminine weaknesses at their very source. This marvelous "Prescription" restores absolute health to the internal organism; stops weakening drains and ulcerated conditions, gives elastic strength to the supporting ligaments, vitality to the nerve centers, and complete womanly vigor to the entire constitution.

It is the perfect fortifier and regulator of women at every critical period in their development; from the time when they merge into womanhood until the "change of life." It is the one medicine which makes motherhood safe and almost free from pain.

A lady living at 7 Park Avenue, Chicago, Ills., Mrs. Emily Howe, writes: "I, myself, suffered a long time from female weakness and seemed to be going into a decline. Took several bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and it saved me from a great deal of suffering. I now enjoy perfect health and will ever praise the wonderful efficacy of your medicine."

The best popular medical book in the world is Dr. R. V. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address the Doctor at Buffalo, N. Y., or send 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

INCREASE IN CYCLING.

More Wheels Than Ever Now Said to Be Ridden.

INDIVIDUALS MAY RIDE LESS.

Mechanism of a New Chainless For Which Much Is Claimed—High Gear and Light Weight In New Patterns—Scorching Bad For the Heart.

There is much discussion as to whether or not there is a general falling off in cycling. The war has taken thousands of enthusiastic wheelmen out of the country, and many women ride in the absence of their big brothers and sweethearts. In the face of all this Secretary Walter Wardrop of the national board of trade does not think there has been any actual falling off in cycle riding. There is no question about there being more wheels ridden now than ever. "In big cities," says Mr. Wardrop, "there is a class of persons who exhaust a sport for a time and change, but they return to it later. Any pastime is exhausted in the city as it is not in the country. Urban riders throw themselves into a new thing with overzeal and experience reaction. They do not drop it altogether, but they do not have the enthusiasm of their neophyte days. They go out for a short ride and pick the finest stretch of asphalt or the neatest bit of road. The fall is the best season and it is getting so that many skip the heated term and leave their best riding to be done then. I think the time is coming when the height of the riding season will be in September and October and when those months will constitute a busy selling season. The bulk of the wheeling being done now is in the outlying districts. Country riders, when they begin, learn to take the roads as they come, and they are not so whimsical as city riders. They continue steadily along without giving much thought to road conditions. In towns of from 5,000 to 30,000 inhabitants all over the country the riding is continuous until snow flies, and the number of cyclers is on the increase all the time."

MECHANISM OF THE NEW CHAINLESS.

A new chainless has made its appearance. The driving mechanism consists of internal gears meshing with small spur gears on hub of rear wheel. These internal gears have a ball bearing external, which runs in a casing made fast to the main frame, and in the bearing there is a ball retainer or dividing ring, which contains 18 balls and is made in this form to lessen friction. The pedal cranks are compound cranks in an eccentric movement. The pedals on their downward motion have a long leverage, and experts who have ridden this wheel claim that at 114 gear it rides as easy as the ordinary chain wheel of 90. The wheel makes a handsome appearance, and the inventors claim it can be made as cheaply as any first class bicycle on the market.

The statement of Dr. S. C. Stanton, who is in charge of the examination of recruits for the regular army in Chicago, to the effect that bicycle scorchers are unfit physically for army service, has caused a sensation in the ranks of the humpbacked brigade who ride their wheels for speed only. He says he has made the severest tests in his examinations in determining that point and has arrived at the conclusion only after exhaustive examination. He states that many men have been rejected because of "bicycle heart," as he calls it, induced by excessive strain in riding the wheel. The persistent scorcher, he finds, has a tendency to enlarge the heart and thus interfere with its action.

Chainless bicycles are now being made that weigh only 23 pounds, and it is not unlikely that they may be made even lighter, although there is little demand for a road machine weighing less than this. Another point that marks the march of progress in connection with the new type of machines is that it is now being fitted with higher gears than at first. It was thought by many that it was unsafe to put on chainless wheels a higher gear than 78 because of the strain on the frame, but the higher gears have come, notwithstanding the theories on their impracticability. Whether or not the lighter frames will remain rigid under the use of high gears is a question for the future to determine.

Already this year it has occurred that records made one day have been smashed badly on the following day. To do this requires speed on the part of the rider and plenty of good pace. The value of pace is more appreciated now than ever before, and as this is an essential thing in the hunt for victory in match races, and also in the smashing of records, the cracks for this style of racing manage to keep men regularly employed, whose sole duty is to furnish pace for match events.

A new device imparts to the steering head a tendency to always return to the normal or straight ahead position after the wheel has been swung to one side by means of the handle bars. This is effected without the use of any spring, and the plan on its face appears to be mechanically sound. When by means of the bars the steering head is turned either intentionally or accidentally, the head is raised very slightly by means of ball rings with hemispherical recesses for the balls, which rings are fixed within the head so that the balls travel up an inclined plane when the head is swung in either direction. The instant the handle bars are released the balls run down the plane, turning with them the set of rings and the head until again the socket at normal level is reached and the head is straight. The balls are, of course, distinct from those in the regular bearings. For those who find it impossible to ride "hands off" and who are almost afraid to remove either hand from the bars long enough to bang at a mosquito or wield a handkerchief something of this kind would prove a boon.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

JOHN BLOW'S TESTIMONY.

Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Saved His Life Recently.

Toronto, Oct. 24—The many Torontonians who know Mr. John Blow, 67 Princess Street, have been in a state of amazement for some time past, because Mr. Blow, who, for years was a great sufferer from Diabetes, has fully recovered, and is now as well as ever, though his case was said to be helpless.

"I was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills," said Mr. Blow, "the only medicine on earth that can cure this terrible disease."

So it does. Dodd's Kidney Pills are keeping up their grand work for human health and happiness unceasingly.

Hugo and His Wife.

The New York Nation says that "first in importance among the more intimate letters of Victor Hugo are those addressed to Mme. Hugo, written during the troubled time of separation, between the flight to Brussels and the reunion of the exiled family at Marine Terrace. Much as we objected to the earlier set, against these nothing is to be urged, for, while confirming the wife's noble hearted devotion, they also establish beyond doubt the hearty appreciation of her merits by her oft maligned husband." He says:

(1859) I begin by telling you that you are a noble and admirable woman. Your letters bring tears to my eyes. Everything is in them—dignity, strength, simplicity, courage, reason, serenity, tenderness. When you discuss politics, you do it well. Your judgment is good and your remarks to the point. When you discuss business and family matters, you show your large, kind heart.

For the Teeth.

To preserve the teeth use a stiff brush and the following preparation: One ounce of quassia chips, one-quarter of a pint of boiling water, two ounces of orris root, two ounces of precipitated chalk and one-half ounce of white castile soap. When cool, strain and mix and apply night and morning. The teeth should be brushed from the roots downward, then thoroughly rinsed with borax water, which is made by putting half a teaspoonful of powdered borax in a glass of water. Dental floss should be drawn between the teeth at least once a month. Never use toothpicks.—New York Tribune.

Flowers on the Table.

In the English country houses great attention is paid to the arrangement of the flowers on the dining table. For even the ordinary family dinner five vases are always used and sometimes nine. A set piece occupies the center of the table, while the other four or eight are placed on either side. Sometimes tall vases alternate with little ones, each holding a single rose, and on other occasions finger glasses set in old fashioned silver wine holders are used. A favorite bouquet for the library is made of the beautiful red poppies mixed with tall grasses.

FERTILIZER TESTS.

A Comparison of Factory and Home Mixtures of Equivalent Composition.

In the spring of 1897 the Ohio experiment station began an experiment in which several brands of factory mixed commercial fertilizers are being compared with home mixtures of tankage, acid phosphate and muriate of potash calculated to contain the same quantities of ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash as are claimed by the manufacturers for the respective brands of factory mixtures used in the test.

As stated in a recent bulletin from the station, the experiment was begun on a tract of heavy clay land, and the plan is to continue it several years in a rotation of wheat, corn and clover, applying the fertilizers to the corn and wheat. The plan of the test and the results on the corn crop of 1897 are fully reported in bulletin 93, which shows that in the first crop of the test the home mixed fertilizers produced results quite equal to those yielded by the factory mixtures, although the cost of the home mixtures was from $6 to $12 per ton less than that of the factory mixtures.

Following out the plan of the test, one of the sections of land set apart for it was sown to wheat last fall, the fertilizers being repeated on the same plots and in the same order in which they had been used on the corn. The wheat was sown late and suffered severely from the winter, the yield on the unfertilized plots being reduced to less than two bushels per acre. The increase on this unfertilized yield given by the several fertilizers is shown below.

The factory mixtures were used at the uniform rate of 200 pounds per acre, but it was possible to duplicate their composition in essential constituents with considerably less than 200 pounds in most of the home mixtures.

	Cost Per Ton.	Increase Per Acre. Bushels.
Factory mixture A	$20.00	8.1
Home mixture A	17.85	13.8
Factory mixture B	25.00	11.6
Home mixture B	17.60	13.6
Factory mixture C	20.00	7.4
Home mixture C	13.85	10.6
Factory mixture D	17.50	5.2
Home mixture D	9.40	6.2

It will be observed that in every case the increase from the home mixture is decidedly greater than from the factory mixture which it was intended to duplicate, the difference being greatest in the case of the most expensive factory mixture. The prices given above for the factory mixtures are what the station paid for them in small lots at the respective factories. The prices quoted for the home mixtures represent the cost of these mixtures at the station, the materials being bought in single sack lots at the regular, publicly quoted, retail prices for the materials, with freight to Wooster added. Nothing is added for mixing, as the freight paid on the factory mixtures would several times over pay the cost of mixing.

The Ohio station claims that its field tests are showing conclusively that out of tankage, acid phosphate and muriate of potash, all of which are in the condition of dry powder or salt, it is possible to make a fertilizer that will equal in effect any factory mixed fertilizer of equivalent composition. Farmers are profiting by this demonstration to form home mixing associations, purchasing the necessary materials in carloads, thus getting the advantage of wholesale prices and low freights, and thereby reducing the cost of their fertilizers by 50 to 100 per cent. In some cases the farmers have agreed upon a common formula and taken bids on this formula, the fertilizer to be delivered in carloads ready mixed and subject to the analysis of the state fertilizer control or experiment station. One farmers' organization of this kind in Pennsylvania numbers more than 600 members, and one in Ohio will use 800 tons of fertilizer this year. Each of these clubs will save several thousand dollars in one year's purchase. In conclusion the station asserts that the best fertilizer houses are glad to meet the farmers in this manner, for they realize that the consumption of fertilizers will be largely increased when the farmers can get them at a fair price.

Anecdote of Aldrich.

A very clever anecdote is told of Thomas Bailey Aldrich. One day the distinguished author happened to saunter into an auction room while a sale of rare editions, old manuscripts and autographs was going on. The auctioneer, holding in his hands a bundle of letters, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I have here two autographs which were written by a man named Thomas Bailey Aldrich. I shall now start them for you at the price of two for 5 cents." No bids were made, and they were sold for that sum.

Mr. Aldrich, in speaking of the incident afterward to a friend, said, "I wouldn't have cared at all if they had gone for 5 cents each, but 'two for 5' reminded me very forcibly of little apples."—Philadelphia Post.

W. B. BAMFORD,
Chairman pro tem.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson stated that he noticed in many of the schools in other towns the pupils in the primary classes were let off at an earlier hour than in Peterborough. He understood from the parents that such a course would be acceptable to them, as at present the little ones didn't get home till nearly dark and had no opportunity of getting out into the open air. Lindsay, Whitby and Port Hope had adopted this idea. The speaker asked for discussion of the question.

Mr. Peter Hamilton stated that Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education had mentioned this point when in Peterborough recently, stating that four o'clock was too late an hour to keep the little ones in school. He had requested Mr. Hamilton to bring the matter before the board.

Inspector Walker, in giving his opinion on the idea, said that all children when beginning school were allowed to go home at three o'clock for the first session. Personally he was strongly in favour of shorter hours for all the pupils in the primary grade, although it would mean some change in the limits as regarded the studies. The more he went through the schools the more he was impressed with the necessity of looking carefully after the physical health and the eyesight of the younger pupils. Only one room in all the schools possessed the necessary breathing space required for the pupils by the Department.

Mr. Stevenson was much pleased with the inspector's remarks and asked that official to make a report on the matter at the next meeting. The request was put into the form of a motion, moved by Mr. Stevenson and seconded by Mr. McBain.

The board then adjourned.

SCALES COVERED

Head of Six Months' Old Baby. They Would Peel Off Taking The Hair with Them.

Doctor & Remedies Did No Good Tried Cuticura. Hair Grew and Now No Trace of Eczema.

My baby was about six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with it. It would soon form again and be as bad as before. I tried several things and then went to the doctor. He said it was Eczema and prescribed an ointment, which did not do any good. A friend spoke of CUTICURA SOAP. I tried it and read on the wrapper about CUTICURA (ointment) as a remedy for Eczema. I bought a box and washed her head in warm water and CUTICURA SOAP and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back, and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old and has no trace of Eczema. You have my permission to publish my letter.

Mrs. C. W. BURGESS,

WEDDED IN HAMILTON.

Marriage of Mr. Frank Maguire, of Kinmount, and Miss Kate Simpson, of Oil City.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On the 31st inst. Mr. Frank Maguire, one of Kinmount's enterprising young men, returned from Hamilton with his bride, formerly Miss Kate Simpson, of Oil City, who, accompanied by her mother, spent the summer holiday with friends in this vicinity, and by her amiable disposition endeared herself to all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Monseignor McEvoy, formerly of Fenelon Falls and this district.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. R. Simpson, of the Pittsburg Gazette, and looked charming in a brown travelling suit. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Annie Byrnes, attired in Russian blue, with hat to match.

Mr. Jas. Foley was groomsman.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Nelligan, of Stratford, cousins of the bride.

After the usual congratulations the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Kilroy, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast awaited them. The reception over in the afternoon, and 'mid showers of rice and slippers they took the train to Toronto where they were met by many friends. Among those to congratulate were Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Mr. Frank and Harry Richards, Miss B. and M. Foley.

Arriving in Kinmount Mr. and Mrs. Maguire were met at the station by many friends who accompanied them to their future home, where a very enjoyable evening was spent.

The many handsome and useful presents attest to the esteem in which the bride and groom were held. May a long life of wedded happiness be theirs is the wish of their many friends.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM.

During the past few days a number of new pieces of apparatus have been added to the equipment of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and baths. They consist of an incline board, a high jumping and pole vaulting upright, a spring board; a platform has been placed under the punching bag and a set of single sticks and masks have also been purchased. A spring-board has been placed over the plunge bath and a horizontal bar has been suspended from the ceiling. Mr. A. C. McCallum, the chairman of the Physical Work Committee, suggested and superintended these additions and changes.

RUGBY.

If the weather is fine on Saturday the Colts will have a record crowd. Two matches are to be played, and both will be very interesting. The Junior match between The Grove team of Lakefield and the Colts II team will bring out some nice play. The Junior Colts will be strong behind the lines, with Gordon Logan full back, Percy Campbell, Harry McKee and Kempt halves, and Doug. Hammond quarter. The Senior Colts should be stronger than even against Port Hope, and should give the Young Torontos a great game. The Colts II will practice in the Y.M.C.A. gym to-morrow evening at 6.30. A special meeting of the Colts will take place at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 7.

SUTTON BEAT SCHAEFER.

George Sutton, formerly of Peterborough, surprised Jacob Schaefer last night, in Chicago, by defeating him at the eighteen-inch balk-line game at Green's academy. The Wizard undertook to give Sutton 20 points in 100, and was beaten by a score of 80 to 40. Sutton played remarkable billiards, making an average of 20 and a high run of 40. Schaefer's average was a trifle over 8.

A despatch says:—The game confirms the opinion held by many that Sutton is the coming billiardist. From now until his contract closes Schaefer will play the balk-line game each evening against the various academy experts.

In the afternoon Harrison defeated Spinks at the corner game and broke even with Saylor at three cushions. Schaefer was defeated by Cattoe at three cushions. The Wizard conceded odds of 2 in 10. Sutton defeated Spinks at cushion caroms and balk-line. At cushion caroms the score was 50 to 8 and at balk-line 75 to 28.

WONDERFUL ASTHMA RECOVERIES.

Clarke's Kola Compound Officially Tested by the British Columbia Government at the Home for Incurables, Kamloops, B. C.—The Medical Superintendent Pronounced Long-standing Cases Cured.

Many temporary relief asthma remedies have doing the past few years been placed before the public, but until the introduction to the medical profession of Clarke's Kola Compound, nothing has been found to have any effect on preventing future attacks. The Medical Superintendent for the Home for Incurable in Kamloops, B. C., has had probably the best chance in Canada to thoroughly test this wonderful remedy for asthma. He reports that on three cases of asthma where Clarke's Kola Compound has been tried, in not a single instance did it fail to cure, and on one particular case a lady had been confined to her bed most of the time for nearly a year previous to taking the remedy, and less than three bottles have completely cured her. Over one year has now passed and there has not been the slightest indication of asthma returning. Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure any case of asthma. Over 500 cases have already been cured in Canada alone by this remedy. Sold by Ormond & Walsh. Price two dollars; three bottles, with cure guaranteed, for five dollars. COURT AT HAVELOCK.

The Charge of Theft Preferred Against William Burns is Dismissed.

County Magistrate Edmison held court in Havelock yesterday, when Wm. Burns appeared before him charged with theft.

County Crown Attorney Wood was present to conduct the prosecution and Mr. F. D. Kerr, of town, appeared for the prisoner.

The charge arose out of a complaint laid by one Armstrong, of Norwood, to the effect that he had been robbed by Burns whilst drunk. The complainant did not appear in court and as there was no evidence against Burns, the case was dismissed.

OCTOBER WEATHER NOTES.

A feature of the month of October was the excessive rainfall, there being rain on 14 days, with a total depth of 5 inches and 21-100. This is the heaviest rainfall in one month that we have had in this neighbourhood for several years. In October of last year the rainfall was 2 inches and 27-100.

The highest temperature was on the 3rd, namely 81 degrees; the lowest on the 28th, 26 degrees. The mean temperature of the month was 47.8 degrees, one degree lower than same month last year. Freezing point and below was reached on four occasions. First snow flurries on 27th.

Owing to the absence of early frosts, the leaves have remained on the trees longer than usual. To the same cause can also be ascribed the almost entire absence of the beautiful and variegated tints that usually characterize the maples, etc., in the fall of the year, and which are the glory of a Canadian autumn.

British Eastern Squadron Ready to Sail at an Hour's Notice.

RUSSIA THE IMPELLING POWER.

War Preparations at Wei Hai Wei and Chee Foo Are on With a Menace There Is No Mistaking for the Lion's Enemies—Other Important News by the Cable.

London, Nov. 3.—The Reuter despatch that the British ships at Wei Hai Wei have cleared for action is minimized in official quarters. It is thought, however, that possibly Russia is trying to move troops into China.

The Evening News publishes what purports to be a French official note, stating that Marchand will evacuate Fashoda and the five posts in the Bahr-El-Ghazal Province next to it. His party will proceed under the friendly escort of Egyptian troops.

On the accomplishment of this, it is stated, negotiations will be opened on the proposals submitted by Baron de Courcel.

A report is current on the Stock Exchange that the French Government monopolized the international telephone this morning.

British Fleet Prepares for Action—Is Russia Trying to Steal a March on Britain?

Wei Hai Wei, Nov. 3.—All the British warships here, the first-class battleship Centurion, the first-class cruiser Narcissus, the second-class cruiser Hermione, the torpedo boat destroyer Whiting, the torpedo boat destroyer Fame, the torpedo boat destroyer Handy and the first-class gunboat Peacock, have cleared for action, and are ready for sea at an hour's notice.

The first-class battleship Victorious and the first-class cruiser Undaunted, at Chee Foo, not far from here, are coaling to their full capacity.

The greatest secrecy is maintained as to the meaning of these warlike preparations, but there is no doubt important instructions are expected at any moment. A large Russian fleet is assembled at Port Arthur.

Of Grave Importance.

London, Nov. 3.—The despatch from Wei Hai Wei announcing the war preparations of the British naval authorities there is regarded here as being of grave importance, coupled with the Anglo-French war preparations. It is surmised that Russia, profiting by the present strained relations between Great Britain and France, has decided to push forward her aims in the far East by forcibly seizing the valuable treaty port of Niu Chwang, which Great Britain cannot permit, it is said.

A despatch from London to the Associated Press on October 20 said a cable message had been received there from Shanghai announcing the occupation of New Chwang, also written Niu Chwang, by Russian troops. The despatch was worded as follows: "A Russian regiment occupied the town of Niu Chwang (province of Liao Tung) and the forts at the mouth of the river Liaou on October 15, thus securing complete possession of Niu Chwang. The native troops fled without making any opposition, under orders from the Empress Dowager and Li Hung Chang.

"A British gunboat was in the river at the time. Its non-resistance is regarded as the virtual British abandonment of the whole of Manchuria to the Russians and gives Russia an invaluable strategic position. Great Britain is certain to lose the Niu Chwang trade, of which it has had 80 per cent."

War Risks Take a Jump.

New York, Nov. 3.—It was learned yesterday, through the office of the British & Foreign Insurance Company, that rates of war risks on British and French vessels were doubled here the day before; so that French owners must now pay as high as 14 per cent. war risk on sailing vessels.

On the Paris Bourse.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Prices on the Bourse again collapsed, owing to speculators reducing commitments and the decline in the price of consols in London influenced by the news from Wei Hai Wei. Spanish fours declined heavily, owing to the United States demand for the Philippine Islands.

A Menacing Sign.

London, Nov. 3.—The fact that the coast guardsmen throughout the United Kingdom have been warned to be in readiness for mobilization is regarded as a menacing sign. Many of them have already joined their ships.

Help for British Navy.

Cape Town, Nov. 3.—In the Cape Colony Assembly yesterday the Hon. W. P. Schreiner, the Premier, introduced a bill proposing an annual contribution by the colony of £30,000 to the British navy.

MILITARY SUPPLIES.

Furness Liner Bringing a Large Consignment to Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 3.—The Furness Line steamer Halifax City has a large consignment of supplies for the military authorities here. The ship will be hurried along at all possible speed and is expected to arrive here on record time. She brings an unusually large supply of ammunition and arms for this station, and is due on Saturday.

Hurry Orders.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 3.—The Imperieuse, the flagship of the British North Pacific squadron, is expected to sail today, following the Amphion southward. A rush order for 40 tons of provisions was placed with one of the leading merchants yesterday.

The Amphion took on board one of the fastest torpedo boats on the station, and the Leander, now in dry dock, has also taken one on board. This is the first time this has been done in three years.

Storms on the British Coast.

London, Nov. 3.—A severe southwesterly gale is raging along the coast, and the trans-channel traffic is interrupted. Severe rain and windstorms have swept over the south of Scotland, causing serious floods.

ANOTHER TANGLE FEARED.

Tribe of Danakils Attacked the Returning French Abyssinian Envoys.

London, Nov. 3.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The Government has received news from Massowah, in the Red Sea, that 1,000 Danakils, members of a tribe under Italian protection, recently attacked a caravan near Jibutil on the west coast of the Gulf of Aden, belonging to the Abyssinian envoys, who were returning from Paris to the Court of the Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia, with M. Lagarde, the representative of the French Government, and the late Governor of Obok.

"The Danakils, who occupy the territory between Obok and the mountains of Abyssinia, killed four French soldiers and seized 900 camels, 4,000 rifles, a large quantity of ammunition and valuable gifts intended for the Negus. It is feared that the result will be complications with France, Russia and Abyssinia."

Wants an English Protectorate.

London, Nov. 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The Austrian Cabinet considers an English protectorate of the Philippines the only proper solution of the question."

EMPEROR WILLIAM TALKS

About His Friendly Relations With the Sultan of Turkey.

Jerusalem, Nov. 3.—Emperor William of Germany, in thanking the colony of Templars for their hearty reception, said: "I hope that in the future, as in the past, my friendly relations with Turkey, and especially the friendship existing between the Sultan and myself, will facilitate your work. Whenever one of you need my protection, I am there. Let him come to me, no matter what his creed may be. Happily the German Empire is in a position to afford its German subjects abroad effective protection."

Mrs. Druce Sustained.

London, Nov. 3.—The Court of Appeal has confirmed the order of the Probate Court, permitting Mrs. Anna Maria Druce to exhume the body of her husband, Thomas C. Druce, which is interred in Highgate Cemetery. This is her first step in attempting to establish a claim to the great Druce estate, and also to prove that her son, now in Australia, is the rightful Duke of Portland.

Col. Kitchener for Khartoum.

London, Nov. 3.—The Daily Mail announces the appointment as Governor of Khartoum of Col. Kitchener, brother of the Sirdar, General Lord Kitchener.

Turks Ordered to Leave.

Canea, Nov. 3.—The powers will completely occupy Crete on Nov. 4, and the Turks have been ordered to leave.

Great Opportunity Wasted.

"You are trying to introduce a new brand of 5 cent cigars, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"Why don't you go to those fellows who write war bulletins on the big blackboards and see if you can't rent the backs of their coats for advertising purposes?"

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

LORD ABERDEEN'S FAREWELL.

No one can read the farewell speech of Lord Aberdeen to Ottawa, uttered Wednesday night, without receiving a deep impression of the sincerity of the wish of Lord and Lady Aberdeen to do good and useful work among their fellow human beings. They have not spared themselves in this country. They have worked earnestly to help national interests and all good causes. All our Governors-General, remarks the Ottawa Journal, have been gentlemen in the higher sense of the word; one always feels sure of that and one always expects it; and all of our governors since Confederation have been not only gentlemen but hard workers to do justice to the responsibilities and opportunities of their high position. But it is perhaps not too much to say that from Lord and Lady Aberdeen in a greater degree than ever before Canadian interests of every class and description have received the most untiring promotion.

When Lord Aberdeen came to this country five years ago, he used a striking phrase, "the heritage of service," to express the duty which a man owes to his fellows. He applied the phrase especially to men placed by the accident of birth or fate in positions of great opportunity—men who by virtue of riches or rank, leisure or education, power or influence, have exceptional means or ability to help, if they wish, their fellow creatures. To them the meaning of "heritage of service" is that they, rather than pass their lives in empty luxury, laziness, self-indulgence or selfishness shall return to the world in honest and upright work, the value of that effort and industry of their ancestors which makes the world tributary in good things to themselves. Lord Aberdeen told us when he came to Canada that his ambition was to show a Christian and manly recognition of his "heritage of service." The five years that have since gone have shown that both he and Lady Aberdeen have tried sincerely to live up to that ideal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

WHILE the French Marchand is trying to gain a foothold among the chocolate coloured population around Fashoda, the French-Canadian Marchand is making the chocolate king Menier uncomfortably on the move in Anticosti.

THE Mail and Empire says that Mr. Whitney has done a great deal towards reforming the Ontario election law. The services in reforming election methods contributed by Mr. Calder in South Ontario should not be omitted.

THE Winnipeg Free Press comments on the remarkable commercial activity of the Province in the past year, the total imports and exports showing an expansion of about 80 per cent. The figures show that while the trade per head of the population in Manitoba was about $34 for the fiscal year ending June, 1897, it was about $40 per head for the fiscal year, ending June, 1898, and the population has increased in proportion, which makes the disparity more striking.

THE huckstering politicians, grabbers of official spoil and the newspaper that have hooked them, who have flung many a taunt and insult upon Lord Aberdeen, who, faithful to his trust and constitutional requirement, spoiled their game, must feel small when they see how little attention our departing Governor General paid them. In his speech at a farewell banquet in Ottawa on Tuesday night, Lord Aberdeen, with a graceful magnanimity, overlooked all the ill-bred attentions he has received from mere politicians, and paid a generous tribute to the unvarying courtesy and kindness he has received during his official term. In inverse ratio to the morbid pleasure of despitefully using one for whom one feels enmity, is the chagrin and humiliation of having one's insults ignored as beneath notice.

Poor old effete Britain, says the Ottawa Journal (Independent), whose foreign business is being grabbed by Germany and whose home territory is being usurped by American manufacturers—if we accept the reports of some alarmists—manages somehow to seem to be getting along all right whenever a fresh batch of comprehensive statistics come out. For instance, latest figures show that the British shipbuilders have broken the record this year with 598 merchant vessels, of 1,346,250 tons, under construction on Sept. 30th, being 351,000 tons above the previous best record, while ninety-two warships, of 376,435 tons, are also building. Great Britain's maritime position is shown by the fact that 498 out of the 598 merchant ships are being constructed for British owners.

THE PROHIBITION VOTE.

Of the total available vote on the lists 22¼ per cent. was polled for prohibition in the plebiscite on September 29, 21¼ per cent. was polled against prohibition, and 56 per cent. remained unpolled. This is the net result of the vote so far as it has been analyzed. There may be some modification upon further analysis and thorough examination of the returns which have been officially made, but the statement may be accepted as practically correct. It will be seen that less than half of the available vote was polled, and that less than one-quarter of it favoured prohibition as a remedy for the evils of the liquor traffic. It is true that the anti-prohibitionists did not make as good a showing as their opponents, but they will likely set up the claim that the 56 per cent. cannot be regarded as a passively neutral element. It will possibly be urged that they are entitled to add the unpolled vote to that of the hostiles, making an adverse percentage of 77½ per cent., or, failing this, that in considering a demand for prohibitory legislation Parliament will not now be justified in relying upon the non-voters to aid in the enforcement of a law which they did not ask for. On the Provincial lists, which formed the basis of the plebiscite under the new Franchise Act, there were 1,238,637 available voters, of which 542,956 were polled, 278,434 for prohibition and 264,522 against. The favourable majorities in the several Provinces aggregated 128,981, and the adverse majorities 115,047, the net majority for prohibition being 107,890, and against 94,015, placing the prohibitionists in the lead by 13,884 votes.

CANADIAN FRUIT IN LONDON.

Mr. A. W. Grindley, the agent here of the Department of Agriculture, tells me that Canadian consignments of pears and apples are reaching here in very satisfactory condition. Peaches, plums and tomatoes, however, have been gathered too ripe, the result being that most consignments have reached Bristol in a more or less rotten condition. To a mere layman it appears surprising that Canadians have not before taken full advantage of the market here for fruit. Buying apples in the London streets from the hawkers' barrows one has to pay a penny or even three half-pence, for a good "eater," while good eating pears are usually ticketed 2d; yet farmers in Ontario in a good year feed eating apples fully equal to those I have mentioned, to their pigs. Surely there is a means of getting such fruit on the London market in fair condition.

PUBLIC DEBTS.

The public debts of all civilized nations have been estimated by a statistician at 30,806 millions of dollars, which are divided among the prominent countries as follows: France 61,120, England 3,224, Austria 3,082, Italy 2,546, German States 2,498, British colonies 2,376, Russia 1,975, Spain 1,415, United States 993, Portugal 631, German Empire 551, Egypt 552, Brasil 518, Netherlands 462, Belgium 458, Japan 444, Turkey 399, Greece 49 millions. The balance of 2,543 millions is shared by other countries.—St. James Gazette.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND

The Trial Not Yet Ended—Crandell Charges Proven—Charges of Treating Against Mr. Douglas.

Colborne, Nov. 3.—At the East Northumberland election trial yesterday the counsel for the petitioner concentrated their energies on an attempt to prove that Mr. Douglas, the Liberal member, had been guilty of bribery by treating. Nearly twenty witnesses were produced who swore that they had seen him in barrooms buying drinks for electors, and one witness testified that he had been solicited for his vote, and that the candidate had treated him when he told him he would consider whether he should vote for him. The witnesses for the respondent will be heard to-morrow.

Judgment in the Crandell Charges.

At the opening of the court at 9 o'clock judgment was given in the Crandell charges. Their Lordships found that Victor Andrews had been approached and offered money for his vote by Charles Crandell, who was regarded by them as an agent of Mr. Douglas, the respondent. They also held that Mr. Crandell had paid money to Edward Janeway to induce him to vote for Mr. Douglas. Both charges were accordingly adjudged to have been proved.

James H. Ross of Warkworth swore that when Mr. Douglas asked him to take a drink he had asked him for his vote, and when he promised to consider the matter he had treated again.

Mr. Edward Cochrane, the Dominion member for the constituency, who had done some stumping for Dr. Willoughby, testified that on the Friday night before the nominaton he was in a bar in Brighton with some others, and one of those present proposed that Mr. Douglas should "set up" the drinks. Mr. Cochrane, with the intention of relieving Mr. Douglas from an embarrassing situation, proposed that he should do so, saying to Mr. Douglas that, of course, he could not. Mr. Douglas, however, told him that he could do so, and, despite Mr. Cochrane's representations, he did "set them up." When the evidence for the petitioner had been completed this portion of the case was left uncompleted to allow the witnesses for the respondent to arrive.

The next charge was that in which George Johnston of Graham Township is accused of having offered to buy the votes of Fred. and Victor Ellis at $12 each. The Ellis brothers swore that the offer had been made, and Mr. Johnston made a general denial.

The court then adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

In the South Perth election case motions were made by both parties that particulars be added. Judgment was reserved. The trial itself was enlarged till the 11th.

The motion to quash the counter appeal in the North Waterloo case was heard yesterday before Mr. Justice Osler. The counter appeal asks for the disqualification of Dr. Lackner, the Conservative member, who was unseated.

To-day the trial of the West York protests begins before Justices Street and Falconbridge.

DAMAGE DONE TO CROPS.

A Difference of Opinion as to Its Extent in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—Premier Greenway says it is impossible to give anything like an exact estimate of the damage done to crops. However, the loss will be serious enough. Hon. Robert Watson thinks 25 per cent. of the crop will be wet, and more or less damaged. Hon. Mr. Mickle speaks hopefully of the yield and the condition of grain along the Northwestern Railway. The damage has been greater than the millers would have people believe.

The two young sailors killed in the C. P.R. accident were buried yesterday with military honors.

May Frustrate the Plan.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Supreme Court Justice Chester rendered a decision yesterday which, if it is sustained by the higher courts, will prevent the connection of the New York & Ottawa Railway Company at Long Lake with the Adirondack Railway at North Creek, and thereby frustrate the plan for shortening the riding distance from New York City to Canada by 59 miles.

Not the Heart.

Suitor—Your daughter has my heart. It went out to her the first time I ever saw her.

Her Father—Bosh! Nonsense! The doctor examined her yesterday and said it was enlargement of the liver.—Chicago News.

HOOLEY CASE AGAIN.

A Thousand Dollar Fine for Tampering With Him.

EVIDENCE OF THE PROMOTER.

He Hits Several Distinguished People Very Hard—Names of London Newspapers Mentioned in an Unpleasant Connection—The Resumed Proceedings of a Startling Nature—Martin Rucker Fined.

London, Nov. 3.—Martin Rucker, a former promoter of bicycle companies, who was charged with contempt of court in endeavoring to induce Ernest Terah Hooley, the bankrupt company promoter, to alter evidence which reflected upon the Humber Company directors, was fined £900 and costs yesterday, and was further ordered to pay the money at once or go to prison.

Mr. Hooley declared that Rucker, in behalf of four directors of the Humber Company, offered him £5,000 to change some of the evidence presented in the bankruptcy proceedings.

The examination of Mr. Hooley in bankruptcy proceedings was resumed yesterday and attracted much attention. Mr. Hooley continued to testify to the amounts, large and small, paid to trustees and directors in connection with his promotions. He created a sensation by asserting that he paid Sir William Marriott £1,000 for introducing him to the Carlton Club, and asserting later that he paid £10,000 to the Marquis of Abergavenny, a prominent Conservative, for party funds. The witness did not know whether the money reached the party fund. Subsequently Mr. Hooley explained that he paid the Marquis of Abergavenny £5,000, first, and then paid him a second £5,000, because he was told that he had promised £10,000, "but," the witness interjected, "that was lie."

Continuing, Mr. Hooley testified that he paid £1,000 to Mr. Frank Morris, editor of the Saturday Review, "to square a man named Blake, who threatened to publish something antagonistic to the companies."

Witness also said he did not know Blake, nor did he know what the blackmail was.

Witness then said that Mr. Harry Marks, editor of the Financial News, and member of Parliament in the Conservative interest for the St. George's, in the east division of the Tower Hamlets, induced him to invest £22,000 in purchasing the London Sun. Mr. Hooley asserted that he never received a penny from this investment.

Answering further questions, Mr. Hooley testified that he paid £300 to C. D. Rose of the Daily Mail. The witness explained that he could not allot Rose the shares he wanted, and so he gave him money instead.

The examination was adjourned until Monday.

It is announced that Mr. Rose, financial editor of the Daily Mail, who was named by Mr. Hooley yesterday as one of those to whom he gave money, has resigned his position.

FOES UNITE THEM.

The Former Liberal Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs Endorses the Premier.

London, Nov. 3.—The Right Hon. James Bryce, former Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, subsequently President of the Board of Trade, and now member of Parliament in the Liberal interest for Aberdeen, speaking there last evening, endorsed Lord Salisbury's stand in the Fashoda controversy, declaring that "the military control of all the navigable waters in the Bahr-El-Ghazal basin, as well as the Nile, must be secured to Egypt."

Referring to the increasing cordiality between the United States and Great Britain, Mr. Bryce said: "When last in the United States, I was much struck with the change in public sentiment. The spontaneous outburst of feeling in Great Britain when the European powers wished to intervene against the United States during the recent war with Spain made the Americans understand how close we felt the tie between them and ourselves. They have shown that they appreciate and reciprocate our sentiment.

"I would never advocate a formal alliance. At all events, the obstacles at present are serious, but all the conditions exist for a solid and durable friendship between America and Great Britain. They have no adverse interests anywhere in the world, and they have common aims in summary regions.

"Everywhere each can render a great service to the other, and they can understand one another better than either can understand any foreign country.

"Nature and history meant them to be friends, and the closer and deeper that friendship is the better it will be for the greatness and welfare of both."

The Situation Unchanged.

London, Nov. 3.—The situation regarding Fashoda is practically unchanged. Baron de Courcel, the French Ambassador, who, on Tuesday, saw Sir Thomas Sanderson, Permanent Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was absent from Lord Salisbury's reception yesterday.

The special despatch from Paris repeats the semi-official statement that the evacuation of Fashoda is accepted in principle, but that other points in the Bahr-El-Ghazal region will be maintained.

Various rumors are afloat as to Abyssinian expeditions nearing the Nile to assist the French, but nothing authentic is known on this point.

M. Delcasse, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, is expected to announce his policy in the Chamber of Deputies tomorrow (Friday). It is admitted on all sides that Fashoda itself offers no difficulty provided a way can be found to save French amour propre.

Awaiting Word From Marchand.

London, Nov. 3.—A semi-official note, issued last evening, relative to the reports of a settlement of the Fashoda question, says: "The matter is substantially in the same position as when the blue book and yellow book were published. It is not anticipated that France will take further action until Major Marchand's arrival at Cairo on Thursday, when explanations will be forthcoming as to his reason for leaving Fashoda."

Marchand Expected at Cairo.

Cairo, Nov. 3.—Major Marchand and two other Frenchmen, accompanied by Captain Fitton of the Egyptian army, are expected to arrive this evening.

AMERICAN PLAN EVIDENT.

United States Wants Spain's Colonies, But Not the Debts.

Paris, Nov. 3.—The Soleil yesterday, commenting editorially upon the position assumed by the American Peace Commissioners, says: "No monarchical government would have dared to conduct itself after the fashion of the Americans, who are forever talking so much of rights and liberty. The plan of the Americans is now evident. It is to take all of Spain's colonies and leave Spain the debts of all those colonies. This is the result of the holy war, undertaken to insure the independence of the Cubans. What base hypocrisy do these liberals, these democrats, these republicans show."

A Russian Protest.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The Novosti, commenting upon the United States' determination to claim the Philippine Islands, says: "The great powers can, like Spain, protest against the proposed cession, as several of them are directly interested in the maintenance of the status quo. In an extreme case, the question should be arbitrated."

Rupture Expected Friday.

London, Nov. 3.—The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post says: It is expected that a rupture of the peace negotiations between the United States and Spain will be officially announced on Friday. The feeling here is that the attitude of the Spaniards is irrational, in view of the financial proposals of the United States, and that they may ultimately regret having failed to agree quickly with the adversary.

AGUINALDO ASSERTS HIMSELF.

Those Who Go Contrary to His Wishes May Be Declared Outlaws.

Manila, Nov. 3.—Aguinaldo, the insurgent chief, has issued a proclamation pointing out that, although the stringent orders previously issued by him have been generally obeyed, a few Filipinos have refused obedience, and offended in various ways; and he now warns all such that they are liable to be declared outlaws and to incur the extreme penalty. The reference is apparently to the anti-American Filipinos.

In another proclamation, issued simultaneously, Aguinaldo allows all armed foreigners, except Spaniards, to travel in Philippine territory, but all such are forbidden to approach the fortifications or to take photographs of defensive works.

French Spy Arrested.

London, Nov. 3.—A Frenchman has been arrested at Dover for attempting to enter the big gun turret on the Admiralty pier there.

STEADIED UP.

The British and American Wheat Markets Opened Weak But Closed Higher—The Latest Prices.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 2.

The British and American wheat markets evidenced some weakness early to-day, but closed strong, owing partly to continued strained position between England and France. Liverpool wheat opened weak at a decline this morning, but closed with December red winter ¼d and the March option 1½d per cental higher than yesterday's final figures. Paris was unchanged and Antwerp 12½ centimes higher.

Chicago wheat futures were irregular today, declining early, but firming up later on a falling off in Northwest receipts, and a good demand from the seaboard. The report that 165 cars were taken for export during the day at seaboard points was thought to indicate anxiety abroad. Chicago futures closed ½c to ⅝c per bushel higher than yesterday.

COL. ANDERSON'S REPORT.

The Trouble in the St. Lawrence Channel.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Lieut.-Col. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, has reported the result of his examination of the ship channel between Montreal and Quebec, in which a number of steamers have recently grounded. He says the opinion is freely expressed that a good deal of the trouble in the navigation of the river arose from the ignorance of some of the pilots. He voices the belief that a thorough reorganization of the pilotage system is necessary, so as to weed out the poor men, to provide punishments for negligence, drunkenness and incompetency, and to open the system to competition. Mr. Anderson declined to discuss the question of deepening and straightening the channel, as it does not come within the control of the Marine Department. Many recommendations for the improvement of the signal service are made.

The High Commissioners.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, accompanied by Lord Herschell and Sir Richard Cartwright, Secretary of the Canadian Commission, called at the State Department yesterday and were met by General John W. Foster, Mr. Kasson and Secretary Anderson of the American Commission. With the approval of the absent members on both sides, the commission adjourned to meet on Nov. 10, it appearing that some of the Canadian commissioners would be detained in Ottawa awaiting the arrival of the new Governor-General.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?

And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more?

Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer.

It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.

It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.

It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.

We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

NEEDLESS AGONY OF MODERN LIFE.

Painful Ailments that Afflict our Brainy People.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a Positive, Perfect and Permanent Cure—They Not Only Banish the Disease, But Remove its Cause.

There can be not the slightest shadow of a doubt that many people suffer the greatest agony quite needlessly.

Many of the so-called "minor" complaints, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Biliousness, Heartburn, Flatulence, Nervous Headache, Jaundice, etc., are looked upon as practically incurable, and their victims endure the torments of these ailments year in and year out, living in perpetual misery, and enjoying none of the joys of good health and vigorous strength.

This is why so many pale, thin, nervous, shattered wrecks of humanity are to be seen on our streets daily. This is why so many clever, brainy young men and women die, before they have tasted the real joys of life.

It is strange that this should be so, when there is, within the easy reach of every sufferer, a sure, easy and permanent cure.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will banish every vestige of the diseases named. They go straight to the root of the trouble, and by removing the cause, banish the disease.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets act on the food, on the stomach, on the liver and on the bowels. They digest the food, tone, strengthen and stimulate the bowels and the liver, and ensure perfect action on the part of these organs.

This means that perfect digestion is brought about. When this end has been attained the diseases have been thoroughly cured.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets do their work without the least strain on, or damage to the system. They strengthen the entire frame, and give perfect and robust health.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

An Object Lesson for Housekeepers.

Raisins and currants before and after cleaning is strikingly contrasted in Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co.'s north store window. It is a palpable hit and is leaving its impress on the minds of thoughtful housekeepers. The window shows raisins and currants as received in the original package and as usually sold to customers; it also shows the cleaned fruit and a sample of the dirt extracted in the process of cleaning. One of the strongest points in favour of Mr. Mason's cleaned fruit is that it is sold at the same price as the uncleaned fruit is sold for elsewhere. You don't have to pay for the dirt; you don't have the trouble of cleaning. This fruit is put up in 1-lb. and 3-lb. boxes and sold as the "Crescent" brand. Increased sales make up for the cleaning and loss of bulk in removing the dirt and stems. Be sure and ask for the "Crescent" brand when you want cleaned raisins and currants. dtf

The Smoke a Man Most Likes.

You know the old joke on the considerate wife buying her husband cigars and he giving them away to those he most detested. That joke will never be played if the cigars are bought of Charley LeGros. The smoke a man most likes is a pure Havana cigar, but it must be the genuine Havana leaf—no imitation, no matter how good, will "fill the bill." I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Book & Co.," "La Espanola," "Manual Garcia," "Dias Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue label. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "B. B. B. Own Make" of English pipes—all sizes, shapes and prices; together with a lot of snaps in French briar pipes, with or without cases.—CHARLES LEGROS, 329 George street.

A NOVEMBER WEDDING.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Bella Davidson of Town, and Mr. W. H. Middleton, of Smith.

A pretty wedding took place last evening at six o'clock in the presence of about forty guests at the residence of Mrs. Samuel Davidson, No. 198 Edinburgh street, when her daughter, Miss Bella Davidson, was united in marriage to Mr. W. H. Middleton of Smith, son of ex-Warden Middleton.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church.

The bride was prettily attired in white Swiss muslin with chiffon trimmings, and carried cream roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Maggie Davidson, who was similarly costumed, and carried pink roses. The groomsman was Mr. J. E. Middleton, brother of the groom.

After the wedding dejuner had been served Mr. and Mrs. Middleton left on the evening train for Kingston and points east. On their return they will take up residence in Smith.

Congratulations will be extended by their many friends in Peterborough.

A BOBCAYGEON BRIDAL.

Nuptials of Miss Amelia Lavenia Smith and Mr. Frank Turner.

Beautiful Bobcaygeon had its social surface excited last night by one of those perennially interesting events, a pretty wedding. On Wednesday evening Rev. W. J. Creighton, incumbent of Bobcaygeon, performed the ceremony that united in marriage, Amelia Lavinia, daughter of Mr. George Smith, one of the oldest and most respected residents, and Mr. Frank Turner, a popular Peterborough boy, for many years employed with the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father. The bride, attired in a Cuban blue costume with ribbon and satin trimmings, was attended by Miss Flora Straine, of Ashburnham, tastefully gowned for the occasion. Mr. John Smith, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

After the ceremony a large company enjoyed an elegant wedding dejeuner and tendered their congratulations to the happy pair. The wedding souveniers told how many friends the popular bride possessed and how highly they held her in esteem.

A carriage party, consisting of the intimate friends and fellow employees of the groom, drove to Bobcaygeon to be present on the delightful occasion.

On their return to town Mr. and Mrs. Turner will take residence on Water street, where their many friends wish they may have a very happy wedded life.

CAUGHT IN QUICKSAND.

A Little Girl Thinking the Dickson Raceway was Dried up Attempted to Walk Over,

Yesterday afternoon at five o'clock Mr. Dan McCabe was returning to his home in Ashburnham, and just as he reached the Hunter street bridge his attention was attracted by the screams of children coming from the raceway.

Quickly running over he saw that a little girl in attempting to cross the race, from which the water had been run off, had been caught in the quicksand at the bottom and was rapidly sinking, being already submerged up to the waist. He endeavoured to reach her but on finding that he himself was liable to be caught, crossed over to the blacksmith shop and procured the assistance of Mr. Wm. Gibbs. By running out a number of planks to the little girl the two were able to draw her from her perilous position.

THE "ART GALLERY" DISAPPEARS

Destroyed by Fire at an Early Hour This Morning.

This morning about one o'clock the Ashburnham art gallery, or as the sign on the front of the building read, "Brooklyn's Almighty Dollar," was discovered to be in flames. An alarm was sent in and the firemen responded promptly, and successfully prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings. The building was entirely consumed and an eyesore removed from one of the most prominent corners in the village. The burnt building was one of the landmarks of the village, and will long be remembered by the residents in connection with the amusing placards and local hits displayed on its front during the recent plebiscite campaign.

We have four Sturgeon Lakes in Ontario:—one near the head waters of the River Otonabee, in Peterborough County; one in the Rainy River District; another in Victoria County, through which flows the Fenelon River; and one in the Thunder Bay District. In addition to this, two rivers in Ontario go by the name of Sturgeon, and the name is also used in designating two places in Ontario known as Sturgeon Bay and Sturgeon Point.

TWO ROBBERIES WERE PERPETRATED.

Sneak Thieves Gain Entrance to Two Residences.

POLICE ARE THOROUGHLY AROUSED.

There is Evidently a Slick Gang of Light Fingered Gentlemen Making Peterborough its Headquarters—No Clue as Yet.

The police are hot on the trail of a clever gang of sneak thieves which has evidently made Peterborough its headquarters, as of a series of burglaries, the work in all bears the same earmarks.

Last night two more burglaries were committed, and as both took place before ten o'clock, the daring nature of the act is such as to put every citizen on the alert to lend the police all possible aid in running the perpetrators to earth.

The first robbery took place at the residence of Mr. K. G. Lech, Stewart street, entrance being gained into the house, it is surmised, at the hour of half past six or at a quarter to seven. At the latter time Mrs. Lech went to her room for a moment and was astonished to find and the contents of several small boxes and jewel cases in the bureau ransacked. Hastily calling her husband, an examination of the premises showed that the intruder had gained an entrance by utilizing the ornamental brick projections on the corner of the house to ascend to the roof of the verandah, along which he proceeded until he reached the window, which was raised by inserting the end of an instrument exactly similar to that used in forcing an entrance through a window into Mr. T. F. Matthew's residence a few months ago. This "window jimmy" was found still propping the window up. Nothing was missed but an old purse which had been left on the bureau and a bunch of keys which were taken from the pocket of a dress belonging to Mrs. Lech. It is surmised that the burglar was startled by hearing Mr. Lech come up stairs at 6.30, or else took alarm when Mrs. Lech entered the room at about a quarter after seven. The bunch of keys would have enabled the opening of the drawers in the bureau containing Mrs. Lech's jewelery, which she would have been very sorry indeed to lose.

That the intruder was a cool customer is evidenced by the fact that when he could not open by force he evidently went in search of keys, which he just found, apparently, when he had to abdicate. The floor in the bedroom was liberally besprinkled with burnt matches.

The police were notified of the affair, and Officer Stewart made search for the robber, but it is understood that no clue was discovered.

The second burglary was that of the residence of Mrs. Elliott, corner of Water and Dublin streets. At present Mrs. Elliott and her daughter are in Montreal, and her son, John Elliott, only sleeps in the house, getting his meals elsewhere, while the family are away.

On entering the house last night at about eleven o'clock he saw that someone had been there before him, but could not tell if anything was missing, although the search for valuables had evidently been a thorough one by the appearance of the different rooms, the contents of which were scattered promiscuously around the floors. The time at which this burglary took place can also be accurately guaged, as in their search for booty the intruders examined the clock and stopped it at half-past nine by means of a duplicate key or else the lock was picked.

That there are sneak thieves present in the town is shown by an instance, which occurred in a local drug store a few days ago. A hard looking customer entered on a begging errand and whilst making known his wants to the proprietor of the store, the latter was called to the telephone. While talking he turned his head and saw the man's hand disappearing into his pocket in a manner which aroused his suspicion. On going to the front of the store again he noticed a vacant space in the show case and called upon the fellow to disgorge. The man was indignant and protested his innocence, pointing out that such an accusation was a very grave one to bring against any one. A statement to the effect that the police would be called in induced the fellow to produce the bottle, and just at this moment the telephone bell again rang, calling the proprietor away. Turning quickly as he got to the 'phone he saw the sneak thief transferring another bottle to his pocket from the show case. Thoroughly exasperated by the persistence of the scoundrel the irate proprietor was on the point of laying violent hands on him and again threatened to call in the police. The bottle was handed out, the man making the statement that it was only taken for a joke in order to ascertain if he was being watched.

WHERE IS THE COAT?

It Was Given to a Small Boy to Deliver on Saturday Night and has not Reached its Destination Yet.

On Saturday night as Arthur Noble was delivering parcels for J. C. Turnbull he lost a valuable seventeen dollar lady's coat, through a mistake which the police may be called in to rectify.

It seems that the parcel was to be delivered at the residence of Mr. Geo. Davidson, No. 360 George street. On driving up to the door Noble states a young lad was standing on the sidewalk in front of the house and on being questioned if his name was Davidson, replied that it was. He was thereupon asked to take the coat in the house to his mother, but it has not reached its destination yet. Noble knows the youth by sight, but as there may be a mistake, does not wish to put the affair into the hands of the police until he is sure a theft was contemplated.

Later—The coat was returned to the store this afternoon.

A PRESENTATION.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick Remembered by His Parishioners.

Last week a number of Rev. Father Fitzpatrick's parishioners at Young's Point called on their much loved pastor and as an evidence of the prominent place in their esteem which is occupied by him, presented him with two very handsome hanging lamps—one for the hall and one for his parlour.

Father Fitzpatrick thanked those present most cordially for the handsome gifts, and several hours were afterwards spent in enjoying his hospitality.

BICYCLE PRICES DROP.

The Columbia Chainless Has Dropped to $75.

There has been a good deal of skirmishing among bicycle manufacturers regarding prices for next season, the fact being apparent to all that prices would have to come down. The Pope Manufacturing Co has taken the initiative in making its announcement for 1899 and the following schedule of prices is very likely to cause a revolution in the bicycle trade:—Columbia chainless, $75; latest improved 1899 chain, $50; model 49 improved, $40; Columbia tandems, $75; Hartford, patterns 19 and 20, 1899 models, $35; Vedette, pattern 22, women's, with brake, chain and rear wheel guards, $30.

The most striking feature is the price made on chainless wheels, there being a reduction of $50, while their best chain wheel has been cut $25. These prices, coming from such a firm, indicate very clearly that good wheels can be made and sold at a fair profit for a great deal less money than has heretofore been paid for them. Other manufacturers will of course be obliged to meet the reduction. Cheap prices may also have a tendency to flood the market with inferior goods, and the name of the manufacturer will have to be the guide for buyers, in order that they may know what they are getting.

The average weight of chain safeties will be slightly heavier than last year, experience having shown that the extra weight adds to the life of a machine, and at the same time insures safety, which is the main factor. About twenty-three pounds will be the prevailing weight. Chainless wheels will not change to any extent from last season.

Broke his Leg.

Mr. Wm. McGregor, of town, who has been in charge of the bar at the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope, for some time, fell and broke his leg in two places yesterday. It is understood that the accident occurred through Mr. McGregor's foot catching between the sidewalk and the fence.

GOLF.

The golf competition held yesterday afternoon at the links was won by Mr. J. H. Burnham, who was pressed hard for first place by Dr. Beauchamp Boucher and Mr. Will Hamilton.

RUGBY.

The enterprising Colts have a splendid card to offer the Rugby loving public on Saturday next. Two good matches have been arranged and doubtless the boys will receive the encouragement they deserve by having a big crowd. The first game between the "Grove" team of Lakefield and the junior Colts, will be very interesting. The Colts' back division, Logan, Campbell, McKee, Kemp and Hammond, play as nice a game as anyone would wish to see.

The senior match between the Young Toronto and the Colts will undoubtedly be one of the best ever played here. The Young Torontos are in the intermediate series of the O.R.F.U., and in their last match defeated Hamilton II by 4 to 1.

The Colts will be much stronger than against Port Hope. The wings will be strengthened by Auston and McClellan. The latter who has played a strong game at quarter all season, will take his old place at outside, and Crossley will be given a chance at quarter. The teams will be chosen this afternoon after practice.

PLAY UP! AND PLAY THE GAME!

There's a breathless hush in the Close to-night—
Ten to make and the match to win—
A bumping pitch and a blinding light,
An hour to play and the last man in.
And it's not for the sake of a ribboned coat,
Or the selfish hope of a season's name,
But the captain's hand on his shoulder smote,
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

The sand of the desert is sodden red—
Red with the wreck of a square that broke—
The gatling's jammed and the colonel dead,
And the regiment blind with dust and smoke.
The river of death has brimmed his banks,
And England's far, and honour a name,
But the voice of a schoolboy rallies the ranks,
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

This is the word that year by year,
While in her place the school is set,
Every one of her sons must hear,
And none that hears it dare forget.
This they all with a joyful mind
Bear through life like a torch in flame,
And falling fling to the host behind—
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

A BICYCLE STORY.

The Chatham Planet says:—Some time ago a young man, with an almost new bicycle, arrived in town and put up at the Hotel Northern. A day or so afterwards he informed landlord Peterson that he had been summoned to go to some place in Michigan. He requested Mr. Peterson to take care of his bicycle until he returned and got the loan of $8 on the wheel, promising to return the following week and reclaim his wheel. Some time after this Mr. Peterson heard that a bicycle was missing from Mr. Van Tuyl's bicycle store in Petrolea, and as the one he had in his cellar answered the description of the missing bike he wrote to Mr. Van Tuyl telling him of the circumstances above and that he had loaned $8 on the wheel. Nothing more was said or done regarding the bicycle and the machine reposed in the cellar of the Hotel Northern without being disturbed until last night. Thomas Van Tuyl paid Mr. Peterson a visit last evening and requested to see the bicycle that he had in his possession. Mr. Peterson explained how he came to have the wheel and told Mr. Van Tuyl if the bicycle was his property he could have it by paying the $8 which was due to him on it. Mr. Van Tuyl was not willing to do this however. The Petrolea man was taken down cellar and shown the bicycle. As soon as he saw the wheel he identified it as his and claimed that he had possession of it and that Mr. Peterson could not prevent him from removing his property. Mr. Peterson objected and a "hot time" ensued. Finally Mr. Peterson got tired wrangling over the affair, and as the Petrolea man would not leave the hotel without the wheel, Mr. Peterson locked both him and the wheel in the cellar. After awhile Officer Sarvis was appealed to and he endeavoured to separate the man from his love (the bicycle) but it was no go. As a last resort Chief Windred was telephoned for about eleven o'clock to come down to the hotel and settle the matter. He did so, and after using up a lot of persuasive eloquence Mr. Van Tuyl left the hotel and left the bicycle in the hotel cellar. The end is not yet.

SHE WHEELS.

Before she got her bicycle she sometimes used to make
The beds and wash the dishes, and help her mother bake.
She would even sweep the parlour and dust the bric-a-brac,
And once she did the washing, though it almost broke her back.

But now she's got her bicycle she doesn't do at thing,
About the house, but day and night she's always on the wing.
She's done a dozen centuries, and more, I've heard it said,
While her mother does the washing, sweeps and dusts, and makes the bread.

She looks extremely natty in her brief bicycle skirt,
She often talks with strangers, and she has been known to flirt.
Her health was never better; brown and rosy is her skin,
But her mother, if you notice, is looking worn and thin.

FOUND DEAD.

Sudden Demise of Mrs. Charles Robinson During the Night.

The death of Mrs. Robinson, widow of the late Charles Robinson, occurred sometime during last night.

The deceased has been ill for the last few months being affected with heart trouble, but last evening she appeared unusually lively and related many incidents of her early life in Ireland to some callers who were inquiring regarding her health. This morning when her stepdaughter, Mrs. Thos. Marks, with whom she lived, went to awaken her at six o'clock, she found the lady had passed away during the night.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Ireland in 1837 and during the last thirty years has been a resident in Peterborough, her face being familiar to almost every citizen. She followed the calling of a nurse for many years. As far as is known no relatives survive in Canada, but the deceased was well connected in Ireland and recently fell heiress to considerable property there through the death of an uncle.

Mrs. Thos. Marks and Mr. Wm. Robinson are step-children of the deceased. The funeral will take place from Mrs. Mark's residence, Aylmer street, 500 Aylmer street, at 3 o'clock on Friday.

AT GULL LAKE.

The Exit has Been Enlarged and the Water is Now Three Feet Lower.

The enlargement of the exit of Gull Lake at Moore's Falls, above Norland, which work has been in charge of Mr. Ancil Mills, of Lindsay, has been completed to the great satisfaction of settlers and timber-men.

The main channel has been deepened and widened, and across the second or "blind" channel a fine dam has been erected with three openings of 21 ft. each, that are capable of lowering the head of water fully 4 feet.

The water in Gull lake has been lowered about 3 feet, rendering large areas of low lands available for cultivation.

NAMES OF DRESS GOODS.

A Little Dictionary of Dress Goods Names That May be Useful to Shoppers.

Many of our fabrics and dress goods have French names—and we use them without much idea that they originally had any meaning.

Armure is a material woven so that the cloth has the effect of being woven with small seeds on the thread.

Barre refers to fabric crossed by bars of a contrasting colour.

Bayardere comes from the dancing girls of the East, whose garments are made of stuffs crossed from selvage to selvage with stripes, and when worn with stripes appear to run around the body.

Beige—Composed of yarn in which two colours are mixed.

Boucle—A fabric having a marked curl or loop in the yarn, which is thrown to the surface. Boucle is French for curl.

Bourcette—This puts a lump instead of a curl on the surface. The word comes from bourer—to stuff.

Carreau—The same as checks, carreaux meaning squares.

Chene—A printed effect.

Crepon—A crepe or crinkled effect.

Dammasse—A figured fabric showing a contrast in lustre between the ground-work and the figure. We have the same idea carried out in damask linen.

Drap d'Ete—An all-wool fabric with a twilled face and a broadcloth back, woven as a twill and finished as a broadcloth, with the gloss showing on the back of the fabric.

Drap de Paris—A twilled armure. In the weaving the seed-like effects are given a twill effect as in a serge.

Etamine—Openwork effect.

Frise—A fabric in which the pile stands up from the surface in uncut loops. Frisar is to curl, or, as we say, to frizz.

Gloria is a silk and wool material.

Jacquard is a weave called after its inventor, in which every warp thread can be made to move independently of any other, intricate figures being thus produced. All such complex figured fabrics are classed under the broad name of Jacquards.

Matelasse—A fabric whose face is broken into rectangular figures and puffed up so as to resemble quilting. Matelasse may best be translated as tufted.

Melange (literally, mixed)—A fabric produced from yarn that has been either printed in the wool or dyed of different colours and mixed together before being spun.

Satin Berber—A satin-faced wool fabric with a wool back. The effect is one of finish rather than of weave.

Satin Soleil—A satin face armure fabric woven with a ribbed effect.

Sicilian—A plain weave fabric composed of a cotton warp and mohair filling, with the filling threads less twisted and broader on the surface than regular mohair.

Twill—A raised cord running in a diagonal direction in the fabric from left to right. Any fabric with this weave may be called a twill. The number of twills to the inch in cashmere and other standard fabrics is often used to indicate their quality.

Vigoureux—An effect produced by printing the yarn of which the fabric is composed and using it without any regard to order or design.

Zibeline—A wool material used in imitation of sable fur. It has on the face long hairs that give it a fur-like appearance and may be produced in several ways, but all give the same distinguishing feature—a "camel's hair" fabric.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

EUGENIE.

Leading Points in the Sad Life of the Ex-Empress of the French.

Eugenie, ex-Empress of the French, and widow of Louis Napoleon, is the daughter of Dona Maria Kirkpatrick, of Closeburn, Dumfriesshire, Countess Dowager de Montijo, whose father was English consul at Malaga at the period of her marriage with the Count de Montijo, an officer in the Spanish army. On the death of the Count de Montijo his widow was left with a fortune adequate to the maintenance of the position of herself and two daughters, one of whom married the Duke of Alba and Berwick.

For Eugenie, the Countess Teba, a higher destiny was reserved. Her marriage to the Emperor Napoleon III. was celebrated with much magnificence January 29, 1853, at Notre Dame, the Empress then being in her twenty-seventh year. March 16, 1856, she became the mother of an heir to the house of Bonaparte. When war between France and Germany was declared and Emperor Napoleon took the field the Empress was appointed regent (July 27, 1870). Immediately after the revolution in Paris on September 4 she hastily left the Tuileries and escaped from France, landing five days later at Ryde, in the Isle of Wight. Camden house at Chiselhurst was subsequently selected as a residence by the imperial exiles.

Emperor Napoleon III. died at Chiselhurst January 9, 1873, and in 1879 the Prince Imperial, who had accompanied the English army in the Zulu war, was killed. In 1881 the Empress removed from Camden house to the Farnborough estate in Hampshire, close to the borders of the county of Surrey.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

One of the New Processes.

The driving of foreign substances into animal tissue by means of electric currents has been adopted, it is known, with great success in both medical and dental work—in these capacities being employed principally in conjunction with cocaine or some other anesthetic, for the purpose of rendering the flesh or the tooth to be operated upon insensible to pain; that is, the benumbing solution is forced into the tissue, and even into the obduate, sensitive dentine of the tooth, until no sensation whatever is possible for the time being in the region under treatment. Acting upon this idea, it is proposed similarly to immerse the meat to be preserved in a 20 per cent. solution of common salt, and pass through the whole a continuous current of electricity. In from ten to twenty hours the salting is said to be complete, and the meat is taken from the bath and hung up to dry. The electrodes in this case must be of platinum, since, if other metals, such as zinc or iron, were used, the metal salts formed would be injurious.—New York Tribune.

No Cocaine in Dr. A. W. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Prof. Heys, Ont. School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—"I have made an examination of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure for cocaine and in all its compounds, from samples purchased in the open market, and find none present." We offer a reward of $1,000, to be devoted to any charitable institution if any druggist or doctor can find the least trace of that deadly drug cocaine contained in Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." BOTH INSANE.

Mrs. Burrell, Who Killed Her Children, and Miss Minnie Saxton, Who Shot Her Sister.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—In the Criminal Assize Court yesterday two serious cases were disposed of. In both cases the charges were murder and the prisoners women, who had murdered persons who were dear to them.

Mrs. Burrell, the unfortunate woman who strangled her three children on Oct. 21, when seated in the prisoner's box, gazed steadily about the room, and appeared to be entirely uninterested in the progress of the case.

A plea of not guilty was entered for her.

Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q.C., outlined the case to the jury, and told the story of the affair as it has already appeared in the press.

Mr. Charles E. Burrell, the husband of the unfortunate woman, told of coming home from work and finding the children dead. He appeared to be worn out with grief, and showed a disposition to have his wife's irresponsibility for the act brought plainly before the court.

Drs. Sneath and Anderson testified that the prisoner was suffering from acute melancholia, which would render her in such a condition that she would not be responsible for her actions.

Dr. Richardson, the jail physician, and Dr. Clark, superintendent of the Provincial Asylum, also corroborated the previous witnesses.

The case was then concluded, and His Lordship explained that the Crown had been instrumental in fully establishing the facts of the case, but that the defence had brought out clearly the irresponsibility of the accused. He saw plainly the jury's decision, and asked them if they were agreed that the woman was mentally afflicted so as to be irresponsible for the crime.

Each juror assented, and the judge committed Mrs. Burrell to the asylum to await the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

When Minnie Saxton, charged with shooting her sister, Susan Saxton, at Newmarket on Aug. 22, was brought into court she looked extremely pale. The jury were unchallenged and the trial proceeded expeditiously.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., who defended the accused, admitted the facts at the outset, and proposed to call witnesses to show that the prisoner was not responsible for her act. The two women lived together on the best of terms until Susan Saxton told the accused that she was about to be married. This weighed upon Minnie Saxton's mind, which was never strong, and unbalanced it. She procured a revolver, went into the kitchen and shot her sister four times.

After adjournment medical evidence was put in by the defence to show that the woman was not responsible for the act. She had been released from the asylum before she was cured, but only on the expressed wish of the deceased sister.

His Lordship charged the jury along the same lines as he had done in the Burrell case, and a similar verdict was returned.

The two unfortunate women will be removed to the asylum at once.

The grand jury returned true bills against Fred. Pratt, Henry Pratt, Edward Pratt and Fred. Caruse for manslaughter.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little at the right time he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Below Decks During a Fight.

The position of the men below decks on a modern vessel of war, they being isolated by the watertight hatches and doors, has been frequently commented upon, but their position is not always so hard as has been supposed. On the Brooklyn, during the fight before Santiago, Admiral Schley sent orderlies among the men behind casemates and below decks telling them the effects of the shots and how the fight was going. When the chase of the Colon began, the orderlies went down to the stoke holes and engine room and told the men there that the race had begun and everything depended upon them. The wisdom of the action was partly shown in the outcome.—Argonaut.

People of Stone Age.

"The stone age" is not, properly speaking, an expression of time. It refers to a stage in civilization which passed long ago in Europe and Asia, but still lingers in some out of the way corners of the world. A report of La Plata museum in Paraguay describes the Quayoquis, a small tribe of 500 or 600 living near the headwaters of the Acaray river, as a true stone age people. They are timid, harmless folks, desperately afraid of the whites, and with reason, as they have been shamefully abused by them. They have no weapons for defense save bows, lances and stone tomahawks. They are undersized and round headed.

Impressing the Neighbors.

Mr. Wigsby—See here, my love, there is some mistake. The baggage delivery man has left seven trunks on our front porch.

Mrs. Wigsby (who has just returned from the mountains)—Imbecile! Don't you understand? He's coming back after dark for the extra five.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"A SAD NIGHT."

How Carlyle and Leigh Hunt Differed Even About the Sky.

Leigh Hunt and Carlyle were once present at a small party of equally well known men. It happened that the conversation rested with these two, and the others sat, well pleased to listen. Leigh Hunt talked on in his bright and hopeful way, when Carlyle would drop some heavy tree trunk across his pleasant stream and bank it up with philosophical doubts and objections at every interval, but Hunt never ceased his joyous anticipations nor saturnine Carlyle his infinite demurs. The listeners laughed and applauded by turns, and now fairly pitted them against each other as the philosophers of hopefulness and unhopefulness. The contest continued with ready wit, philosophy, pleasantry and profundity and extensive knowledge of books and character.

The opponents were so well matched that it was quite clear that the contest would last indefinitely, but night was far advanced, and the party now broke up. They all sallied forth, and, leaving the close room, the candles and the arguments behind them, found themselves under a most brilliant and starlight sky. They looked up. Carlyle can have no answer to this, thought Hunt, and shouted: "There! Look at that glorious harmony that sings with infinite voices an eternal song of hope in the soul of man!"

Carlyle looked up. They all remained silent to hear what he would say. They began to think he was silenced at last, but out of the silence came a few low toned words in a broad Scotch accent:

"Eh, it's a sad night!"

They all laughed and then looked thoughtful. There might be some reason for sadness, too—that brilliant firmament perhaps contained infinite worlds, each full of struggling and suffering beings.

Unrecognized.

Perhaps when one makes that conversational blunder which is known as a "break" it is best to say nothing whatever about it. Extenuation only renders a bad matter worse.

Not long ago a lady was visiting the studio of a portrait painter and trying to make herself as agreeable as possible in return for a welcome and afternoon tea. She enjoyed the pictures, although in each case they seemed to her much idealized, and she went from one to another, civilly expressing her approbation.

"Ah," she said to her hostess, "you must tell me all about them! Who is this?"

"Mrs. Lorraine."

"I don't know her; charming, but of course I can't speak for the likeness."

"I try to be faithful," said the artist humbly.

"Oh, I know! I know! And who is the very pretty lady in brown?"

"That," said the other, with some frigidity, "is myself!"—Youth's Companion.

ESTERHAZY.

Nothing can save France if Major Esterhazy carries out his threat to print a book on the Dreyfus case.—New York Press.

Count Esterhazy hasn't committed suicide as yet, but he has no doubt noted the suggestion that it would be the proper thing for him to do.—Boston Globe.

Perhaps the first and strongest impression the average person derives from the portraits of Esterhazy is that if the original is not a scoundrel he ought to sue his face for libel.—New York Mail and Express.

The Growth of Towns.

According to recent statistics concerning the populations of towns from 1800 to 1890 it appears that during that period the population has been doubled at Amsterdam, Birmingham, Brussels, Manchester and Rome. It has increased threefold at Copenhagen and Marseilles; fourfold at Prague, Lyons, St. Petersburg, Paris and London; fivefold at Dresden, Cologne, Breslau, Hamburg and Vienna; sixfold at Leeds, Liverpool and Warsaw; sevenfold at Sheffield and Glasgow; eightfold at Munich; ninefold at Leipzig, Buda-Pesth and Berlin, and tenfold at Baltimore. But all this is nothing compared to the growth of New York and Philadelphia, which to-day have twenty-five times the inhabitants they had at the beginning of the century, or like Chicago, which has grown 245-fold, and Brooklyn, where for every inhabitant in 1800 there are now 389! Where will it end?—Westminster Gazette.

Numbering Hairs of Head.

Those who are thirsting for the knowledge of the average number of hairs on the human head will now be able to satisfy their longing. A number of savants have just been counting a square inch of hairs on the heads of several persons, and have come to the conclusion that the average number is 1,066 hairs. By measuring the surface of the entire head it will be easy to calculate the number of hairs on the average pate. Another set of "hair scientists" have made different calculations. According to them a head of fair hair is made up of 143,006 hairs (the six at the end of the round figure is fine; it might almost be reckoned among the hair-splittings); a dark head produces 105,000 hairs, and a red poll only 90,200. The reason for this difference is that fair hair is of the finest and red hair of the coarsest quality.

CROWN-JEWELLER WATCHES

HEALTHY, HAPPY WOMEN.

Pain and Weakness Banished through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It's sad to think that so many women are dragging out a miserable existence—suffering from pain, Weak Spells, Heart Palpitation, Sinking Sensations, Nervousness, Sleeplessness—who could be restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health by a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

There can be no question about the efficacy of this remedy. Thousands of Canadian women, have tested it, found it do all that is claimed for it. Here is the testimony of Mrs. Gillen, Wesley Street, Moncton, N.B., who says:

"Before taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I used to suffer untold agony from violent throbbing headaches, irregular action of the heart, together with pains or spasms in various parts of my body.

"Sometimes I felt so weak that I was unable to look after my domestic duties. However, I had to endure this worry and trouble, because all the remedies I tried failed to give me relief, until happily I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I had only been taking them a short time when I felt greatly benefited. This encouraged me to continue their use until a complete cure was effected.

"I have not been troubled with a headache since taking these pills. They increased my appetite, invigorated my entire system, and gave me back my old time strength and vigor."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills never fail to cure Palpitation, Skip Beats, Smothering Sensation, Dizzy and Faint Spells, Weakness, Nervousness, Female Troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists at 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

"Beauty and Power."

The secret of a woman's power is in her complete womanliness, both physical and mental. This does not mean perfection of outline nor regularity of features. It does not mean wit, nor talents nor accomplishments. It means that physical attractiveness that comes from perfect bodily condition and the bright, happy cheerfulness of disposition which only complete health can insure.

A woman with a bright eye, clear complexion, mantling color in the cheeks and buoyant elastic step and manner has a natural attractiveness that no artificial agency can counterfeit.

A woman who is afflicted with the mortifying misfortune of a dull, sallow, pimply complexion or that listless movement and attitude which provokes only disgust and revulsion in the opposite sex, ought to avail herself of the purifying, invigorating power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which makes a strong, healthy stomach and digestive organism; purifies the blood and imparts a natural stimulus to the excretory functions; insures healthy weight, clear skin, bright eyes and the animated manner and bearing of perfect health.

A lady living in West Virginia, Miss Anna Callow, of Kyger, Roane Co., writes: "It is with pleasure I write you after using a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I think them valuable medicines for female troubles and weaknesses. I could hardly go about my work I had such inward weakness and constant misery in the womb. It worried me so that I would give out in walking a short distance. I had a bad cough and my lungs hurt me all the time. I got very thin, my complexion was bad, and my eyes would get so heavy in the evening they seemed stiff in the lids. I could hardly move them. Many persons were alarmed about me, I looked so bad and had such a cough; they were afraid I would go into consumption. I felt so badly every day that I had no life about me. I used only five bottles in all. I shall ever speak in praise of your grand medicines. They are blessings to suffering females."

Another good thing to have in the house is a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure biliousness and constipation and never gripe.

WOMAN AND HOME.

A WOMAN WHO IS A TRUE PICTURE OF THE "SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS."

Cooking by Gas—To Reduce the Abdomen. Red at Chinese Weddings—Manual Training For Children—Arithmetic Was Not Needed.

Artists are fond of picturing the "Spirit of St. Louis" as a young, debonair girl, but to make a true picture of a woman whose heart is wrapped up in the city of St. Louis and to whom the interests of the city are her own interests one should paint the face of the venerable Frenchwoman who lives on Franklin avenue, Mme. Clementine Papin Carriere, the widow of Charles Carriere.

Pierre Laclede Liguest, the founder of St. Louis, was the great-grandfather of Mme. Carriere. For more than a year, or until the government of upper Louisiana passed from France to Spain, to which it had been ceded by secret treaty before St. Louis was founded, he held sway over this part of the country. He and his stepson, August Chouteau, laid out St. Louis as far west as Third street, established a burying ground and gave out land to those who wished to settle. Liguest, or Laclede, as he was generally called, was king in the forest primeval, and when the king of France received a report of what he had done Laclede, not knowing of the secret treaty until he had sent off the report, ratified the whole. Nothing was changed. Laclede's daughters were Mme. Papin, Mme. Labadie and Mme. Gratiot, whose husbands' names are almost as familiar in St. Louis as Laclede's. Mme. Papin's son, Sylvester Papin, was one of the first generation of Papins to be born in this country. His daughter was Clementine Papin, born and raised in St. Louis, who now is Mme. Carriere.

MME. CLEMENTINE PAPIN CARRIERE.

All her life Mme. Carriere has been a scholar and a writer, keeping her mind fresh by constant translating from French to English, and from English to French. She speaks with the careful diction and rare courtesy of "a lady of the old school." It is a pleasure to her that none of her faculties has been impaired by her increasing years, and, though 80 years of age, she is erect, plump, pretty and vivacious.

Mme. Carriere writes a firm, legible hand, as clear as print. She has little sympathy with the "picket fence" style affected by young ladies of recent years and was glad to learn that the schools of St. Louis are to introduce a more readable system. "I have always thought," said Mme. Carriere, with a fine sarcasm, "that handwriting was made to be read, but a good many people hold a different opinion."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Cooking by Gas.

All food can be cooked more perfectly and scientifically over gas than over coal, for the cook has perfect control of the heat. Meats are much better broiled or roasted by gas, for the even, steady heat retains the juices. Breads, cakes and pastries can be baked more perfectly over gas, for they get done through and through, and there is never any danger of burning at the top, bottom or sides. Take angel cake, for instance. That needs to be put into a very hot oven until it rises. Then the temperature should be decidedly lowered. Just before removing the cake the temperature should be greatly increased, and it comes out as light as a feather. Could you regulate the heat that way in a coal range? No, and that is the reason so few women succeed in baking angel cake and lots of other things.

It is next to impossible to make certain fine sauces over a coal fire successfully because the heat cannot be exactly regulated. Even vegetables are better cooked over gas. If every thoughtful woman had to do her own cooking a month, and to make her fires and clean her range, there would not be a coal range left in use in this big city. We'd see the disadvantage of coal for cooking purposes quick enough then. It is more expensive, harder to manage, dirtier, hotter to stand over and not so satisfactory in results. Put a steak to broil over coal and you have to watch it every second. Hang one in an upright gas broiler, and you can do something else, feeling sure that when the time comes your steak will be broiled to a turn. You could not put a cake or a loaf of bread in a baker heated by coal and go next door to visit a neighbor feeling sure that it wouldn't be burned up when you returned, but you can do that with a gas range. If mistresses would put themselves in their cooks' places, gas ranges would supersede those heated by coal entirely. Food would be so much better cooked and there would be such a saving in time and labor that we would have better cooks and mistresses mentally, physically and morally, and as women are so are the men.—Mrs. Gesine Lemcke.

To Reduce the Abdomen.

There is an old fashioned rhyme which it will hurt none of us to repeat and to ponder:

Hold up your head and bridle your chin,
Turn out your toes and your stomach hold in.

"And your stomach hold in!" That is the crucial test of body excellence, and many there be that fail to meet it. It can never be done until control of the abdominal muscles is acquired, and for this control—a difficult one to acquire—every effort must be made and all the mind directed to the effort. Here is one of the rules by which it may be accomplished: Stand in an erect position for half an hour every day and for five or six minutes at a time practice drawing the abdomen in and letting it out.

This is one of the hardest of all things to do and requires much patience. One will be astonished to discover at first how unresponsive the muscles are and how next to impossible it seems to make one move. When a little flexibility has been acquired, then hold the abdomen in and lift the chest and draw down the shoulders. Keeping the shoulders down, begin again to contract and expand the abdomen. Then begin again, holding in the abdomen, lifting the chest and drawing down the shoulders. You will find your whole body straightened as well. Nothing is strained by these movements. When the muscles have become flexible, one will discover that when one leans over, even to pick something up from the floor, one no longer does so without involuntarily contracting the abdominal muscles, until day by day a greater compactness in those regions is gained, and the "stomach" learns to do the work for itself. Its size in the meantime is reduced. Many persons have gone down several inches in the abdomen by following no other prescription than this.—Harper's Bazar.

Red at Chinese Weddings.

The Chinese place a significance upon every color, and in connection with a wedding red obtains a deep rooted, mysterious importance, the next bridal color in value being gold. At a betrothal the bridegroom elect sends his sweetheart a pair of bracelets fastened together with a piece of red ribbon or cord. The bride and bridegroom drain two wine cups at the wedding, which are also connected by red cord. In northern China the attendants wear a tall felt hat, and each hat has a red feather stuck upright in it. The attendants also carry the wedding presents. A sedan chair bears the bride herself. In south China a sedan most wonderfully gilded is used by the wealthy classes, and it is decorated with what appears at first sight to be brilliant inlaid stones, but which are in reality the glossy feathers of the kingfisher. A handsome cloth of glowing red with trimmed borders is also thrown over the chair. In the case of the poorer classes red is also the prevailing bridal color, and a chair of ordinary carved wood, painted a bright red, is used. Above the door of the chair a kind of charm is placarded or hung upon a red cloth. The chair itself is sent by the bridegroom, accompanied by what corresponds to our best man. This functionary brings with him a letter written in yellow or gold upon red paper, praying the lady to enter and take her place. Men dressed all in red and carrying red parcels containing the presents fall into the procession. Other bearers carry boards and banners, inscribed in golden letters upon a red ground. These banners tell the pedigree of both parties. Behind the bearers come other attendants with long poles on which are hung very handsome lanterns. The bridal veil is of bright crimson hue, and the dress regal gold and scarlet.—Wide World Magazine.

Manual Training For Children.

Sadie American, the successful Chicago kindergartner, enthusiastically recommends manual training when discussing "Child Training by the Froebel System" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"Manual training sharpens the senses and makes eyes that see and ears that hear and a touch that is fine and true. It gives proper balance of values, not only to the physical and intellectual activities of the individual, but to the intercourse of pupil with pupil, for frequently the seeming dullard turns out to be the skillful worker, and vice versa, and mutual respect and harmony result. So the varying yet equal worth of men is taught without sign or seal. Pupils, too, are encouraged to mutually aid each other in construction and in handling and use of tools, and the valuable quantity of social helpfulness grows like the flower from the swelling bud. It is a method of positive creative activity as against passive receptivity or destructive restlessness—in short, it is education, not instruction. It forms the mind instead of furnishing it. It creates right habits and so molds character. It makes careful, thinking, true men. 'We make it our constant aim to let the acquisition of knowledge, the apprehension of truth, grow out of the experience of the children themselves,' says Professor Bamberger. It is the constructive method as against that of cramming with rules and definitions the children do not understand, and facts they do not assimilate. First comes actual acquaintance and repeated experiment, out of which the definition, rule or truth naturally grows and thus becomes the lasting possession of the child."

Arithmetic Was Not Needed.

"It is absurd," said Mr. Blank to Mrs. Blank, "that a woman does not know the simplest principles of arithmetic. I stood just back of you the other day when you and the girl at the counter were trying to discover how much material you wanted to go around in six inch strips a dress that was four yards around, cutting it from cloth three-eighths of a yard wide. That was the problem as you propounded it. But neither you nor the girl knew what to do next. The girl first measured off a yard on the counter and tried her material to see how many three-eighths there were in a yard. There was a little more than two three-eighths in a yard and not quite three three-eighths was her clever solution of that example, but you weren't any nearer what you wanted than before. Then you thought she ought to find how many three-eighths there were in four yards and"—

"Yes, and it was all nonsense, our troubling our brains about it. It may be good practice for children in school, but grown people have other things to think of. My mistake was in trying to go about it in that way. If you were still eavesdropping, you probably saw that we settled the matter without either trouble or arithmetic. I asked the girl finally how much haircloth she sold for a dress, and she said three yards. She knew all the time, only I had puzzled her by proposing that ridiculous problem. I presume you would have stepped forward to help us out if you could have done it yourself."—New York Times.

So much depends upon the purity of the blood that by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla many different diseases are cured.

Angora Goats.

Considerable interest seems to exist just now in Angora goats, the profit there is in raising them, etc. Some details of the business are given by a Texas correspondent of The Wool Record and Textile News as follows:

"The best Angora flocks yield about four pounds per head per annum where they are kept in large flocks, but they will yield more if only a few head can be kept in a bunch. We always shear early in the spring and early in the fall. Shin oak country is pretty good for them, but a live oak country affords more feed in the winter if the oaks are not too tall, but the falling leaves of large trees give much food in the spring.

"Angora goats are scarce, or, rather, they are hard to obtain, because so many wish to buy, and I hear of none for sale. The cheapest way to care for them is to keep them unherded in wolf-proof pastures. They can easily be trained to come home by feeding a little and by salting regularly. They are easily handled after one learns how to handle them. The best market for mohair I know of is in New York, where several commission men sell it to the factories.

"It is difficult to say what it will cost per head to attend to Angora goats properly, but any one going into the business will soon find that they pay as well as or better than any other kind of live stock. Fine goats seldom bear twins. They pay quite well enough by raising one young one each year."

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

JAMES SIMPSON,
Newcombe Mills, Ont.

If the Kidneys are not in a perfectly clean and healthy condition, the blood becomes impregnated with impurities, and a decay of the kidneys soon takes place. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Inflammation of the Bladder, and a long list of Kidney diseases become seated, and sooner or later in so many instances and fatally. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all Kidney troubles. Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box.

ACCEPTING FAVORS AN ART.

Pleasure of Bestowing Them Is Lost if They Are Not Gracefully Accepted.

There are a great many friendships ruined by the unwillingness on one side or the other to accept favors. Two schoolgirl friends united by many congenial ties are forced apart because the poorer one foolishly thinks that she should make some return for the pretty gifts, the party invitations, the tickets to concerts or matinees which her friend loves to remember her with. She knows that she is unable to make any return, so refuses the good times, and by doing so not only deprives her friend of the keenest delight but herself of many opportunities for pleasure, and the family circle at home of the recital of the fresh and novel experience which contact with the world outside of her home would surely bring her.

Favors are of many sorts. It sometimes happens that a wealthy woman may wish to send a girl to college, to help her in her music, to encourage her in her desire for an art education; she may give her books, take her out with her and give her opportunities for hearing great artists. When a girl has such favors offered her she should accept them gracefully and with a clear conscience. The favors are not all on one side; her bright face and enthusiastic appreciation mean much to the woman who is fortunate enough to be able to dispense favors.

JOHN BLOW'S TESTIMONY.

Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Saved His Life Recently.

Toronto, Oct. 24—The many Torontonians who know Mr. John Blow, 67 Princess Street, have been in a state of amazement for some time past, because Mr. Blow, who, for years was a great sufferer from Diabetes, has fully recovered, and is now as well as ever, though his case was said to be helpless.

"I was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills," said Mr. Blow, "the only medicine on earth that can cure this terrible disease."

So it does. Dodd's Kidney Pills are keeping up their grand work for human health and happiness unceasingly.

Watering Dahlias.

Dahlias coming into flower will repay you a hundredfold for every good drenching you may give them, according to Vick. The water saved from the weekly wash and applied at evening, or even water from the well (the latter should be drawn several hours before using and left in the sun if possible), will prove very acceptable. A little soot, bonemeal or phosphate or some kind of plant food dug into the soil about the roots will increase the size of the blossoms. If extra large blooms are desired, allow but one stalk to each tuber set and pinch out part of the buds that form, but this part of the work should have been attended to earlier in the season.

Miss Maggie Millar, of Keene, was the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) MacNaughton last week.

Miss M. Wilson, Toronto, is visiting at Mr. E. Sargent's.

Mrs. Jas. Morgan is very ill at present.

The "At Home" given by the Y.P.S.C.E. in the town hall Friday evening was a decided success. The weather was all that could be desired, and quite a large number came out to spend a sociable and enjoyable evening. The ladies deserve credit for the excellent refreshments which were served.

Evangelistic services are being held in the Methodist church this week. The meetings are conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Rogers.

Messrs. Ryan and Thompson are pushing the building of the new butter factory, and expect to commence butter making by the middle of next week. These enterprising young men deserve every encouragement in their new undertaking. There is no doubt but that winter dairying will be a success, being in the hands of such able men as Messrs. Ryan and Thompson. We wish them every success.

DEADLOCK AT LONDON.

The Street Car Strike Seems to Be About a Phase Now of Active Fighting for Rights.

London, Ont., Nov. 3.—The Street Railway Company announced at 3 p.m. yesterday they would not accept the proposition made by the men for 16 2-3c per hour and the arbitration of disputes. What their plan of action will be is not made public, but it is expected that they will make an effort to operate their cars some time to-day. The police authorities have been requested to furnish protection to their employes, and have notified the company that they will do so.

A number of young men were before the Police Magistrate yesterday to answer charges of disorderly conduct on the public streets on the occasion of the first attempt to run the cars with non-union men on Friday last. They were remanded for a week and in the meantime more summonses will be issued for other offenders.

Nothing very substantial resulted yesterday from the negotiations between the strikers and the street railway management. After repeated conferences the men drew up a fresh set of propositions, which have been submitted to President Everett. The company's propositions and the latest propositions of the men are in many essentials very much alike, save that the men ask for slightly higher wages than the company proposes, and the company's recognition of their union.

The police have learned that several camera fiends got snapshots of the riot on Friday and Saturday last. They will be asked for prints of the pictures, and by this means the authorities hope to identify the ringleaders.

It is hardly probable that the system will be in operation to-day, as, so far as has been learned, the company have no men who will take the places of the strikers.

The citizens are still with the men. The Bricklayers' Union has granted the strikers $50, and the Cigarmakers Union of 130 members, besides making a similar grant, will levy a tax of $1 weekly on each member to aid the men. Manager Roots has placed the Opera House at the disposal of the friends of the strikers, and a benefit concert will be held on Friday night. The Trades and Labor Council will open subscriptions. East End merchants have subscribed $60, and Runians, Gray, Carrie & Company will supply the married strikers with groceries at half price.

The Plate Was Not Cracked.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 3.—Armor plate manufactured by the Krupp process was given its first test yesterday afternoon by the Bethlehem Iron Company at its proving grounds. Many notable engineers witnessed it, besides 200 Russian ordnance engineers, who came from Philadelphia. It was the third test of Krupp armor of American make, and was a great success. Three shots were fired from an eight-inch rifle, the projectile weighing 250 pounds, and the velocity ranging from 1,900 to 1,960 feet per second. The plate was not cracked.

Bag of Gold Stolen.

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—A Vancouver despatch says a sensational rumor is going the rounds that a bag of gold worth seven hundred dollars is missing from the Bank of Montreal. The rumor became rife after the bank closed, and Manager Sweeney cannot be seen. Other officials have nothing to say. It is alleged that the bag disappeared on Friday, and contained English sovereigns.

Treasurer Sutherland Exonerated.

Woodstock, Ont., Nov. 3.—The trouble in the financial affairs of the Township of West Zorra has been settled, and Mr. E. L. Sutherland, the township treasurer, has been exonerated completely, after a searching investigation, which was carried right to the Provincial Treasurer's Department in Toronto.

Major Walsh, late of the Yukon, says he had no interview with Miss Shaw of the London Times.

An Upset for Mike.

Halifax, Nov. 3.—Mike Lynch of Halifax upset his boat in a three-mile scull race on Bedford Basin yesterday afternoon with Harry Vail of St. John. As Lynch was in the act of turning, a squall struck his shell, and in trying to save himself from being upset the oars got looked for an instant and the boat went over. Lynch was picked up by a rowboat. Vail, who had a very slight lead at the time of the accident, rowed home leisurely. The race was for $300 a side, and a large sum was at stake in bets, with Lynch a strong favorite.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 8th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,504 95
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

POSITION OF SPAIN.

Between His Satanic Majesty and the Deep Sea.

CANNOT ACCEPT OR REFUSE.

The Spanish Peace Commissioners Apparently in Worse Plight Than Their Naval Warriors Were at Manila and Santiago—Why They Withdraw Clearly Stated—News by Cable.

London, Nov. 4.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says: I understand that at to-day's (Friday's) sitting of the Peace Commission the Spanish commissioners will reply textually as follows:

"It is impossible for us either to accept or refuse the conditions the United States impose. We do not desire to declare a formal rupture, because it would oblige Europe to run the risk of beholding the humiliating spectacle of an American fleet bombarding European shores.

"We do not intend to furnish America with a pretext for the realization of such an act; but we cannot subscribe to dictates which are not in conformity with the stipulations adopted in common in the agreement that terminated the war.

"We withdraw because we do not feel we have a right to sign the abdication sought to be imposed upon us. We withdraw, leaving public conscience and history to judge the act of violence of which we are the object, and, although we are unfortunately convinced that our attitude will have no effect upon the minds of our conquerors, we cannot assume any other, because, by accepting the conditions imposed, we should become accomplices in an injustice and a violation of international law, to which we may submit, but in which it is impossible to ask us to take any share of responsibility."

COAL FOR THE FLEETS.

British Government Orders Largely for Delivery at West India Naval Stations.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—A morning paper publishes the following: "The probability of war between England and France received fresh impetus yesterday by the action of England, who purchased a large amount of American coal for immediate delivery at her West Indian naval stations. In response to hurried cablegrams from London, ship brokers engaged in the West India trade spent the greater part of yesterday searching for tonnage suitable to transport the coal from Philadelphia and Newport News to points where it will be most convenient for English war craft to fill their bunkers. Sailing vessels from 1,000 to 2,000 tons carrying capacity are particularly in demand.

"The first shipments are to be sent to Kingston, to be followed by vessels for Bermuda, St. Lucia and Demerara, which are the principal ports in the West Indies subject to Great Britain. It is also proposed to discharge a part of the purchase at St. Thomas, a Danish island, where hulks will be used.

"It was reported yesterday that two British warships had been ordered here to undergo slight repairs, which under ordinary circumstances would have been made at either Halifax or the Bermuda Islands."

Coaling at Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, Nov. 4.—Extraordinary activity has prevailed in naval and military circles here during the past few days. But no information on the subject is obtainable.

The British first-class cruiser Powerful has just taken on board over 2,000 tons of coal, and all the other British warships here are taking on board stores and ammunition. It is reported that they have been ordered to be ready for sea immediately. The British second-class cruiser Bonaventure has been recalled from Manila and arrived here last night. She is now coaling with all possible haste.

It is reported that the British gunboats have been ordered to rendezvous here.

At the navy yard here the ordnance department is most active, and is engaged in mounting siege guns.

AN AIR OF MYSTERY.

The Movements of H.M.S. Cordelia Are Decidedly Peculiar.

Halifax, Nov. 4.—A special from Sydney says:

"From the most authoritative information respecting the movements of H.M.S. Cordelia, she is under sealed orders in direct connection with the strained relations between England and France and Russia. Her destination is probably a Newfoundland port near St. Pierre. By the ship coming to Sydney and an officer following by rail, about 12 hours were saved and important despatches conveyed with the utmost caution and secrecy, and besides, the ship is thus a whole day's steaming nearer to either Newfoundland or home ports. Reports are circulated to show that she is going directly home to England to be paid off, but the trend of information points to St. Pierre as the objective point.

"The officers and men are very reticent and cautious in what they say, and little can be had through them concerning the ship's destination, but they one and all fear that war is inevitable."

Mr. Goschen Couldn't Attend.

Sheffield, England, Nov. 4.—At the annual feast of the Master Cutlers here last evening, it was expected that the Right Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, would be present as the principal guest. Mr. Goschen, however, was unable to attend the banquet, and the chairman read the following letter of apology from him:

"It is absolutely impossible for me to leave the Admiralty. My continuous presence there is essential. Sheffield will apureciate this in the present state of affairs. I am truly disappointed, but duty comes before pleasure."

FASHODA QUESTION SETTLED.

New York Report Confirmed by a Despatch From London.

New York, Nov. 4.—A cable to the Evening Post from London follows:

London, Nov. 3.—I am told on the highest authority that the Fashoda question has been settled, and that a general and satisfactory arrangement has been reached with France. Consols are rising steadily. This confirms it.

Official Confirmatory Note.

London, Nov. 4.—An official note issued last evening says: "There is now good reason to hope that the political situation is ameliorating. It can be confidently stated that when the cause of the irritation which unfortunately recently existed in France and Great Britain and on the Upper Nile is removed, which is expected soon to be the case, the door will again be open for a resumption of those friendly negotiations which happily characterize the normal state of the relations between the two countries."

Major Marchand at Cairo.

Cairo, Nov. 4.—Major Marchand, the commander of the French expedition at Fashoda, arrived here at 7 o'clock last evening. He was met at the railroad station by the French officials and residents. The explorer looked thin and worried.

Washes His Hands of Fashoda.

London, Nov. 4.—The most reliable information from Paris confirms the earlier reports that M. Dupuy, the Premier, has decided to wash his hands of Fashoda, and to recall Major Marchand, for whose mission he is not responsible.

This decision is, to some extent, due to a desire to allow nothing to interfere with the success of the exposition of 1900.

To-day will be important in the history of the crisis. It is expected that Baron de Courcel, the French Ambassador, will impart the French decision to Lord Salisbury, who will speak this evening at the banquet to be given to the Sirdar, General Lord Kitchener. Probably the Premier's text will be the official note issued last evening announcing that there is now good reason to hope that the political situation is ameliorating.

The Daily Chronicle, under reserve, published a remarkable story suggesting that the Sirdar captured documents proving that Major Marchand before the battle of Omdurman, sent to the Khalifa a French flag, inviting him to hoist it, and so, by becoming a French ally, to deter the Anglo-Egyptian forces from attacking him.

The Kaiser Got a Concession.

London, Nov. 4.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard says: "Emperor William's visit to Constantinople has resulted in an agreement with the Sultan whereby the latter gives the Kaiser the right to plant a large German colony the whole frontier of Tripoli. This arrangement will protect the Sultan against French encroachments cross the Tripoli-Tunis frontier, and will avoid granting a concession in Asia Minor, which would induce Russia to demand compensation."

VOIDED BY CONSENT.

Mr. Douglas Ceases to Represent the Riding of East Northumberland.

Colborne, Nov. 4.—The East Northumberland election trial was brought to an abrupt conclusion yesterday afternoon, and the election was voided by consent.

When the court resumed, Mr. Douglas, the respondent, was put in the witness box and made a general denial of the charges that he had treated in hotels after the issue of the election writ. He had a memorandum of the meetings which he had held during the campaign, by which he showed that the evidence given by Mr. Cochrane, the member for the constituency in the Dominion House, was incorrect.

Mr. Cochrane swore that he had met Mr. Douglas in a hotel in Campbellford some time in February, after the issue of the writ, and that Mr. Douglas had treated those in the barroom. On that occasion Mr. Cochrane, according to his testimony, had advised Mr. Douglas not to treat, because he would be acting illegally if he did so. Mr. Douglas, however, had considered himself perfectly safe and had set up the drinks.

According to Mr. Douglas' evidence yesterday it was contradicted; he had never met Mr. Cochrane under such circumstances except once, and that was at Castleton on Dec. 31. Mr. Cochrane on that occasion had given him the advice he had testified to. He accounted for every evening during the campaign, in which he had been accused of breaking the law, and showed that accusations of having done so after the issue of the writ were entirely wrong.

At this point Mr. Britton stated to the bench that as a few of the charges of bribery by agents had been proved, and as it was possible some others might be proved, he would consent, if the personal charges were withdrawn, that the election should be voided.

Mr. Nesbitt agreed not to press the personal charges, and their Lordships, after considering the matter, agreed to this termination of the trial.

WEST YORK TRIAL.

Opening of the Case at Toronto—A Dog as a Bribe—Witness Who Got $2.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—The trial of the West York election petition against William J. Hill, Liberal member, was opened yesterday morning at the Court House before Justices Street and Falconbridge. The petition is preferred by Mr. William Duncan McNabb. There are no fewer than 110 charges filed.

Mr. Bristol opened the case by stating that no scrutiny was asked for, and that there was no claim made to the seat by the defeated candidate. Then he read extracts from the respondent's examination, for the purpose of showing the agency of many of the West York citizens.

Mr. H. E. Irwin, secretary of West York Reform Association, and alleged agent of the respondent, was the first witness called by Mr. Bristol. He said the Association took no part in the election. The total expenses of the election were $370.

Mr. J. M. Pearen, license inspector of West York, since June 1 last, said that he was the Mr. Pearen recommanded by Mr. Hill for the position. He had worked actively in the campaign, voluntarily, and not at the request of Mr. Hill or anybody else. There was no organization in his division for election purposes.

Charges 88 and 89 were then taken up, and the witnesses on both sides were excluded. Frederick Armitage said that he had been canvassed by J. M. Pearen, and asked him to use his influence with his son-in-law, Robert Lester, Joseph Dolbery and some others, and he would see that witness got a good situation. There was a dispute between witness and the township as to his liability for arrears of taxes, and Pearen told him that if he did his best with the electors he had spoken of he would see that his taxes were wiped off. He subsequently went to see Mr. Pearen about the matter, as he had been dunned for the taxes again, and Pearen told him he would see Armstrong and fix it. Witness then told him he needed money, and Pearen agreed to give him $250. Looking down at the dog, which witness had with him at the time, Pearen asked him whether he had any pups belonging to it, and told him to bring up one. He did so, and received the money from Mrs. Pearen, as Mr. Pearen had gone out. When he got back to the Subway House he saw Mr. Pearen there, and was treated twice by him. After Mr. Pearen was appointed inspector he asked Mr. Armitage to take the dog back again, as it was crow with his little boy. On the night of the oyster supper to Mr. Hill at Weston Mr. Pearen slipped a dollar bill in his hand.

When the court resumed, Mr. Armitage said Mr. Pearen had asked him if he could change the date of the dog deal, as he did not want Mrs. Pearen brought into the election trial. Soon after this he said that Mr. Weeks and a companion had called at the house and asked him to go and see Mr. Hill. Weeks, he states, then took a $9 bill and handed it to his companion to give to him (Armitage).

Mrs. Armitage was the next witness called, but failed to give any new evidence.

Mr. Pearen was then called by the counsel for respondent, and during his examination contradicted almost every statement made by Mr. Armitage. He was positive that the day on which he bought the pup was the Friday after the election.

John Harris, a conductor on the Toronto Suburban Street Railway, and Arthur Ecoart, manager of the Hayden House, corroborated Mr. Pearen's statements.

Mr. Bristol announced that they wished to add the charges of furnishing street car tickets to voters on election day, and of dinners and refreshments to cab drivers, etc., on the same day.

The respondents, desiring the evidence of Mrs. Pearen, it will be taken prior to the sitting of court, which resumes this morning at 10 o'clock.

BIG FIRE AT COLLINGWOOD.

G. T. R. Station, Books and Records and Str. Pacific Destroyed.

Collingwood, Nov. 4.—Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the Grand Trunk Railway freight sheds, and the building and wharf are now a total wreck. The Great Northern Transit Co. steamer Pacific was also burned. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a live wire.

The Pacific was lying close alongside of the freight sheds, and had commenced loading for the trip to the Sault yesterday. The flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save the steamer, especially as there were no boats in the harbor with steam up.

The Pacific was valued at $55,000, and was insured for $35,000 in different companies.

The Grand Trunk Company's loss will be in the neighborhood of $50,000. All the books, records and papers were also destroyed.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. HICKMOTT, 268 Bloor Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

THE PLEBISCITE AND PROHIBITION.

The question whether the result of the prohibition plebiscite justifies the enactment of a prohibitory law for the Dominion is a most important one. That it is desirable to remove the evils resulting from the liquor traffic will be all but universally admitted. If a prohibitory law would put a stop to the intemperate use of intoxicants its desirability would be unquestioned. Such a law, however, to be effective to this end, must be capable of effective enforcement. All who are in a position to speak with authority on the subject, assert that to secure this effective enforcement very strong public sentiment must be behind a prohibitory law. It will not be denied that the plebiscite vote as given has furnished no evidence of a strong public sentiment existing in favour of prohibition. On the contrary, the result furnishes, so far as figures go, direct evidence to the contrary. The plebiscite taken in the Dominion this year as compared with that taken in the Provinces some four or five years ago, shows a falling off in prohibition public sentiment of about 23½ per cent. The fact of Quebec giving only eight per cent. of a favourable vote and consequently ninety-two per cent. against prohibition, taken in connection with what may be called the perfunctory vote in the other provinces, seems to afford conclusive proof that public sentiment is not sufficiently in existence in favour of a prohibitory law to warrant a reasonable expectation of its effective enforcement. A law placed upon the statute book that is necessarily impossible of enforcement, would only discredit the cause in whose interest it was passed, and bring about moral retrogression instead of advancement. It will be no advantage to the advocates of prohibition to have an abstract law placed upon the statute book. The essence of the utility of such a law exists in the possibility of its enforcement. It is idle for some advocates of prohibition under present conditions, to argue that the majority in favour of prohibition in the Dominion is as great as that enjoyed by the present parliament. With proper discharge of their public duties representatives in Parliament are not, within reasonable limits, dependent for the stability or usefulness of their position, upon public sentiment or public co-operation during their parliamentary term. They are only subject, in relation to public sentiment, to the moral support or opposition of the public. In regard to a prohibitory law, the popular attitude is a direct and essential element in the successful enforcement or disregard of it. The relation of the public to a prohibitory law is clearly set forth in the following from the Montreal Herald:

"In considering the subject of prohibition, we should not lose sight of the elemental truth that laws are not made by parliaments, but only recorded by them; that laws are made and unmade by public opinion, and by no other authority. Axiomatic though this is, it is sometimes left out of mind by those who urge a government or parliament to "make a law." Reasonable would be entitled to prove that though the people's delegates had their way, and though the Government designed itself to pass a law, still with unfavourable tide to carry a bill through both Houses of Parliament, Prohibition would be no further ahead—perhaps it would be put back—since the law has been duly established by constitutional authority. Parliament is but the means of public opinion, and its proceedings are no longer in effect, but can have any strength or stability, than they are supported by public opinion. Any law in day and year to come. The plebiscite shows that a prohibitory law has not yet been made by public opinion.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE returns of the Manchester ship canal for the past nine months show an increase in revenue of nearly $160,000 over the corresponding period of 1897. Who says that canals are not still important factors in the solution of the transportation problem?

THE Canadian insurance companies do not permit unduly chivalrous consideration for the feelings of the ladies to imperil their business interests. They have agreed to refuse insurance risks on the lives of wives unless they happen to be bread-winners. This is as much as to say that an insured wife is worth more dead than living, and that by natural inference a husband is worth more to the wife alive than if he were dead, be he never so heavily insured. On the other hand, the action of the insurance companies suggests the idea that men only are to be feared as capable of sweetening the domestic coffee with arsenic, or its toxic equivalent.

THE following from the Buffalo Express, though designed as a flaying of the Democrats, is a suggestive satire upon the doubtful merits of the political institutions of republics, which, with all the aids to decency of political campaigning supplied by end-of-the-century civilization, permits the possibility of the employment of armed force in deciding national issues:

When Tillman made the campaign which first brought him into power in South Carolina he was accompanied on his stumping tour by a party of red-shirted backwoodsmen armed with Winchesters. This seems to have been the inspiration for the present Democratic campaign in North Carolina. The spectacle of a political party arming and organizing its adherents with the deliberate purpose of carrying the election by terrorism is appalling. That is what the Democratic party is openly doing in North Carolina.

AT a conference of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church just held in Springfield, Mass., it was resolved to inaugurate a movement for the collection of $20,000,000 to express thanks for 20 centuries of Christianity. The call will be sent to Methodists throughout the world and it is expected that the money will be in hand by January 1, 1901. "The fund," it is said, "will be devoted to improvement of educational and charitable institutions now maintained by the denomination and none of it will be used to establish new institutions." A little of such a fund might be profitably employed to Christianize and and civilize those sections of the great republic whose political arguments take the form of shotguns and bowie knives.

A TUB OF BUTTER.

Hood's Dairyman: There is a tub of butter that will always linger in our memory as a horrible example of how not to do it. It was a sixty-pound tub and was sent in by a farmer. We were present when the tub was opened and a tryer put in it. The sample that came out was diary not dairy butter. That round plug was a perfect record of how they had done those things they ought not to have done, and had not done those things they ought to have done, and the result was something to be wondered at but not imitated. The dealer called it diary butter, because it contained such a perfect record of temperature and surroundings. The colour was variegated and the flavour also. Some of the butter was made from sweet cream and some from sour cream evidently depending on the temperature of the ripening period. The flavour depended largely on what was being cooked in the house. Cabbage and sauerkraut was prominent, washing days were represented, and various other strong food odors had their place, and dominating, and was the rankest of poor butter. Some one paid six cents a pound for the mess and got cheated for it was not worth it. Butter like this, only in a less degree (it could not be greater, that is impossible), is to be found in all of the towns in the country. It is compounded mostly of ignorance, partly of carelessness, with but little common sense—a combination that will spoil the best milk ever produced by a cow. It is probable that there is less of such butter than there was ten years ago, but there is sufficient of it even now, to fill the market with low class goods, while the requirement for extras is never filled.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not be Alarmed, but Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor indigestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, and irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal times will cure any form of stomach trouble, except cancer of the stomach.

YOUNG WOMEN NEED Doan's Kidney Pills

They Remove the Headaches, Backaches, Feelings of Listlessness and Tiredness, Bring Colour to the Cheek and Health and Strength to the Entire System

There are many young women suffering from derangement of the kidneys whose disease is attributed to some other cause. These delicate filters are apt to get clogged and congested at times, and the poisons which it is their duty to carry off are absorbed into the blood.

Is it any surprise that there should be headaches, backaches, tired feelings, weakness, dark circles under the eyes when poisoned blood—instead of purified blood—is being carried through the body?

Doan's Kidney Pills are proving themselves a great boon to women, curing many obscure diseases by causing the kidneys to promptly purify the blood and clear away the uric poisons.

A Hamilton lady who speaks highly of Doan's Kidney Pills is Mrs. T. Bradley, 237 Wilson street. She says that for the past nine years her daughter had been in poor health. She was listless, lacked ambition, and always felt tired, weak and drooping. In addition she suffered greatly from nervousness and sleeplessness, as well as heart weakness and palpitation. All the treatment she had did her very little good, until she started taking Doan's Kidney Pills.

"After the first box there was a marked improvement in my daughter's health," says Mrs. Bradley, "so much so that we procured two boxes more. When these finished she was cured. Before taking them she could hardly walk on account of the pain in her back; but this is entirely gone now, and I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly."

Doan's Kidney Pills sold by all druggists, 50c. a box or three for $1.25, or sent by mail on receipt of price. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR,—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 25

Yearly Income for life of—	100 00

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. LONDON STRIKE STILL ON.

Settlement Appears No Nearer Than When the Men Went Out.

London, Ont., Nov. 4.—The strike situation remains unchanged, as settlement appears as distant now as when the men went out. The company and strikers have both made concessions, but the happy medium has not yet been reached. All but three points have been satisfactorily arranged. These are (1) wages, (2) hours of working, (3) the right to arbitrate. The men are determined to fight for the 16 2-3c per hour asked for, and will not accept the offer of the company, which varies the scale of wages from 12½c to 15c. The men conceded one very important point to the company, and that was that recognizing the union, but they have not fought for the right to arbitrate any differences between the company and men. That would protect them almost as much as the union.

Late last night the men decided to make another attempt at an agreement, the Mayor, who has all along acted as mediator between the two parties to the strike, assuring them that the company would consider another proposal. Accordingly a proposal was drafted, and handed to the company. The proposal in brief was to leave the whole question of the differences between men and company to three disinterested and responsible citizens, the gentlemen suggested being Mayor Wilson, Judge William Elliott and Crown Attorney Magee.

The company's reply, received this morning, was a decided one. They intended to stand by their propositions and will concede no more to the men.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS

Present Their Case for a Law Under the Plebiscite.

EARLY DECISION PROMISED.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Speech in Reply to the Legislation Asked for by an Influential Delegation—The Vote in Quebec—Several Erroneous Impressions Corrected—W. C. T.U. Officers Elected.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Fielding, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Sifton received a large delegation yesterday, which asked that a prohibitory law be passed in accordance with the recent vote on the plebiscite. Rev. Dr. Carman introduced the delegation. He read a resolution which had been passed by the Executive of the Dominion Alliance, after the plebiscite vote, to ask the Government for a prohibitory law, and to urge a delegation to wait on the Administration for the purpose.

The resolution had been adopted at a meeting of the prohibitionists yesterday. F. S. Spence was the next speaker. He analyzed the vote in a similar way as he has already done in the press, and said that it was a clean and disinterested vote, and it was a strong and substantial vote. He admitted there were difficulties in the way. Quebec was one difficulty, but Quebec was a province which would loyally support the law if it were passed. He urged that the voice of the people be made law.

Major E. L. Bond, Montreal; Rev. Dr. McLeod, New Brunswick; F. McClure, M.P., Nova Scotia; Rev. Mr. Hogg, Winnipeg; Mrs. Rutherford, Toronto, and D. J. O'Donoghue, all made speeches in favor of prohibitory legislation.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was applauded when he rose to reply. He said: Dr. Carman, ladies and gentlemen, the members of the Government who are now before you have been delegated by Council to be present and receive this deputation and to hear the arguments and prayers which they had to lay before the Government, and which we have now heard. I need not tell you that the Government duly appreciate the motives which have brought this delegation before us; the Government deeply and duly appreciate also the motives which have led such a large body of our fellow-citizens to take the active course which they have taken in the campaign which was concluded on the 29th of September last. I can agree fully with what has been said by Mr. Spence, that the vote which was recorded in favor of prohibition on that occasion was a pure, clean and disinterested vote. I know very well that those who hold the view that there should be enacted in this country a prohibitory liquor law have nothing else in view than the general welfare of the country. They have no personal interests to serve. May I say a word as to the occasion which brought on this vote? The question of prohibition, as has been stated to-day, is not one new to us; it has been before Parliament for a long time. It has been brought up on the floor of this Parliament ever since I have been a member of the House, now 24 years. Both political parties have been divided. They never accepted it in its entirety in all this time. Both parties rejected it in its entirety, but there were in each party men who were in favor of such a law and also who were against such a law. As to the Liberal convention, which took place in this city in the month of June, 1893, there were a good many delegates present who advocated the insertion in the platform of the party of a plank in favor of such a law. Several gentlemen who attended that convention have passed upon me, especially as leader of the party, and upon some other members of the party, the advisability of advocating such a reform and attaching the name of the Liberal party to it. I am bound to be frank and sincere in this matter, I was not then, I am not now, a total abstainer. I may just as well be frank and sincere in that. In these matters we must take the broad national view. I have no hesitation in saying that if I could be satisfied that it could be shown that there was a broad national sentiment in favor of such a cause, which is in itself a good and moral cause, I should have no hesitation in sacrificing my personal view, my education and my inclination, and submitting to the will of the majority. These were the circumstances under which we put this plank in our platform. I have been reminded here that the prohibitionists did not ask for that plank. I know well that they did not ask for it, but it was well, however, in the view of the party to which I belong, that we should endeavor to have a free, honest and sincere expression of the voice of the people upon the question, which would not be entangled with other questions, and which could be presented to the people free from all other considerations. That was the reason why we gave to the people the plebiscite which took place on the 29th of September. The plebiscite has resulted in a majority in favor of prohibition of the vote recorded. May I say that I agree with Mr. Spence when he says that the vote is under the circumstances a large one. While it does not involve a majority of the electorate, though a respectable proportion of it, the consideration for the Government is, what is to be done under such circumstances? I agree fully with the words spoken a moment ago by Dr. Hogg when he stated that we are deeply concerned to know what is to be done under the circumstances. I understand that the ladies and gentlemen present are of the opinion that the vote which has been recorded is sufficient, in the words spoken by Mr. Spence, to authorize the Government to enact prohibitory legislation, and that with the certainty that such law would be effective and loyally obeyed. That is a question as to which you have endeavored to impress the Government, and the views which have been expressed in regard to it will be reported to Council.

A good deal has been said here as to the vote in the Province of Quebec. It is an important consideration that the second province of the Dominion should have pronounced against prohibition, but it is not the primary consideration. Quebec is part of the Dominion of Canada, and I know my fellow-countrymen of that province too well not to know that they are a law-abiding people, that they are willing to take their share of the work of Confederation, as we are in this country as Providence has assembled us. Men who have been in former ages ideal and antagonizing each other Providence certainly intended to be friends, and there must be give and take between them. It would be impossible to carry out the work of Confederation otherwise. We must all of us be prepared to make concessions to meet the legitimate views of each other. I am proud to say, however, that if Quebec has cast its vote against prohibition, Quebec is certainly a temperate province. My friend, Major Bond, will pardon me if I remind him that he hardly did full justice to Quebec when he stated that one-third of the municipalities of that province are actually under a prohibitory liquor law. The figures are reversed; there are more than one-half of the rural municipalities which are under a local option law. Out of 933 rural municipalities the number of municipalities under which licenses were issued last year was 330, while the number in which no licenses were issued was 603. The people of Quebec are satisfied with their law, such as it is. We have had a local option law in Quebec since 1864. It has always been enforced in more than half the province, and outside of the towns and cities I think it is pretty well observed. I may be pardoned if I refer to the few remarks made by Major Bond as to the vote of the Province of Quebec. Major Bond stated that frauds had been committed. I would be very much surprised if, in the large cities, not only in Quebec, but perhaps in the other provinces as well, there have not been some frauds committed, but so far as my information goes, and I have taken pains to obtain information upon this point, I have heard that in the rural parts of the country there was no violation of the electoral law, and that the vote has been pretty honest, not only pretty honest, but absolutely honest.

It will be the duty of my colleagues and myself to report to Council the views that have been laid before us by the ladies and gentlemen who have spoken upon this occasion. I think this is too important a question to be trifled with. We shall take an early opportunity of communicating to the secretary of your association the views of the Government upon the representations that have been made before us to-day.

ON TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

The Three Pratt Brothers Before Chief Justice Meredith.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—The trial of the three Pratt brothers, Fred., Henry and Edward, who are charged with manslaughter in causing the death of John Berryman, a farmhand employed by their brother-in-law, in York Township, on May 2 last, was commenced yesterday. Chief Justice Sir William Meredith occupied the bench.

Mrs. Fred. Pratt is a sister of John Buchanan. Some differences arose between Fred. Pratt and his wife, and she went to live with her brother. Mrs. Pratt, her brother and Berryman went over to get a trunk and other things belonging to her. Pratt attempted to assault Buchanan, when Berryman interfered, and he and Pratt fought it out, Pratt getting the worst of it. The three left without the trunk and went to a neighbor's house, where they were followed by the three brothers. There another fight took place between the brothers on one side and Buchanan and Berryman on the other. Berryman was kicked in the abdomen by Fred. Pratt, and then picked up a board to ward off further blows. Shortly after the fight Berryman was taken seriously ill, and died on June 5.

The deceased's ante-mortem statement, taken on his death bed, was put in, His Lordship granting a reserve case.

The statement was read and it made particular mention of the kick in the groin received by Berryman. Mrs. John Buchanan, William Calhoun and Andrew Brooks also gave corroborative testimony, after which the court adjourned until this morning.

The War Scare Was Not Great Enough to Hold Up the Price of Wheat —The Quotations.

The foreign outlook being less ominous the leading wheat markets ruled easier today. Spot wheat was dull in Liverpool and futures closed ¼d to ½d per cental lower than yesterday's final figures. Paris wheat closed unchanged to 5 centimes lower, with four 5 to 35 centimes higher for the day.

The less angry outlook abroad, together with continued liberal receipts and bearish reports of Russian crop, depressed Chicago to-day, all futures closing ½c per bushel lower than yesterday's final figures.

Montreal Live Stock Market.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—There were about 730 head of butchers' cattle, 30 calves and 900 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The weather was delightful, and the butchers were out in full force, and there was a good demand and rather better prices paid for the best cattle, but the common and inferior beasts are still dull of sale, and the prices of these continue low. There were no really choice cattle on the market, and the best sold at about 4¼c per lb.; pretty good cattle were less plentiful than for some weeks past, and sold at from 3¾c to 4c per lb.; common dry cows and thrifty young stock sold at from 2¼c to 2¾c, and the leaner cattle and small bulls at about 2c per lb. Calves sold at from $2.50 to $10 each, or from 3c to 5c per lb. Sheep sell at from 3½c to nearly 3¾c per lb., and lambs at from 3¾c to 4¼c per lb. Fat hogs are plentiful, and sell at about 4¼c per lb.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 3.—Cattle—There was only one load on sale, and with a moderate demand the situation was unchanged. Fresh cows and forward springers of extra grade are still scarce and wanted. Calves, in fair supply, light demand, and a quarter lower.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were about 18 loads, and included 15 loads of Canada lambs, two of which were left over. The trade was dull and irregular, with the advance of yesterday lost. The basis of the best grade of lambs was $5.35, though a sale of two was made at $5.40. Bids of $5.40 were made for extra Canada lambs in the morning, that would not hold good in the afternoon, the market having weakened with 10 or 12 loads of arrivals. Only a small part of the offerings were sold and the close was weak. Sheep were steady and unchanged. Lambs, choice to extra, were quotable at $5.25 to $5.35, good to choice $5. to $5.25, common to fair $4.75 to $5. Sheep, choice to extra, $4.40 to $4.60, good to choice $4 to $4.40, common to fair $3 to $3.75.

When completed it will be one of the handsomest churches in the district. The insurance on the old building amounted to $6 350. Three men have already subscribed $300 each towards the building fund.

An Object Lesson for Housekeepers.

Raisins and currants before and after cleaning is strikingly contrasted in Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co.'s north store window. It is a palpable hit and is leaving its impress on the minds of thoughtful housekeepers. The window shows raisins and currants as received in the original package and as usually sold to customers; it also shows the cleaned fruit and a sample of the dirt extracted in the process of cleaning. One of the strongest points in favour of Mr. Mason's cleaned fruit is that it is sold at the same price as the uncleaned fruit is sold for elsewhere. You don't have to pay for the dirt; you don't have the trouble of cleaning. This fruit is put up in 1-lb. and 3-lb. boxes and sold as the "Crescent" brand. Increased sales make up for the cleaning and loss of bulk in removing the dirt and stems. Be sure and ask for the "Crescent" brand when you want cleaned raisins and currants. d&f

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A.—Election of Officers.

Yesterday afternoon the annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. was held in the Bible class room of the Association.

The meeting was a most enthusiastic and well attended one. The following ladies were present:

Mesdames Hunter, Mason, Campbell, Best, Wand, Brown, Donnistoun, McAllister and Loch, and Misses Dickson, Robb, Dunlop and Lundy.

Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter, presided in the unavoidable absence of the president, Mrs. Sheriff Hall.

Mrs. J. C. Brown reported the furnishing of the new boys' game room by the Auxiliary.

Miss Lundy, the secretary, read her annual report, giving an outline of the labours of the society during the year just closed.

The following extracts are given from the report:

In presenting the annual report I think we have great cause for thankfulness in the success of a year's work.

The Auxiliary was re-organized on Sept. 14th, 1897, and the constitution adopted and a general committee elected. Later the officers were elected whose term now expires.

The art loan held in November was most successfully carried out.

Mrs. J. C. Brown represented the society at the Provincial Convention in January, and gave an admirable report of the same on her return.

The Auxiliary gave three receptions during the year and a banquet to the boys in April. The visiting basket ball teams were on three occasions entertained by the ladies.

The anniversary was held in June. The Auxiliary has been glad to render great financial help to the Association during the year, but we recognise that this is by no means the leading feature of the auxiliary. I would humbly suggest that the members help the president more in the spiritual part of the work. The total membership is 32."

Mrs. P. Campbell, treasurer, submitted her report, which showed that $295 had been received during the year, with a balance of $32 on hand.

The election of officers then took place, with the following result:

Pres.—Mrs. Sheriff Hall, (re-elected.)
1st Vice-President—Mrs. Mason, (re-elected.)
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Hunter, (re-elected.)
Secretary—Miss Lundy, (re-elected.)
Treasurer—Mrs. C. B. McAllister.

Warm expressions of thanks were tendered to the officers, who, with the exception of Mrs. Campbell, again accepted. It was regretted that the latter owing to other similar work, could not accept this year.

The following are the convenors of the committees: Devotional, Mrs. Brown; Rooms, Mrs. A. E. Loch; Social, Mrs. Nugent; Boys' Department, Miss Dickson.

It was decided to hold a "Kermiss" in February next under the auspices of the Auxiliary. Committees will be appointed to take charge of the various departments of this new undertaking. Preliminary arrangements were left in the hands of the executive, which according to a change made in the constitution at the meeting is composed of the officers and the convenors of the committees.

CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE CONVENTION.

It was Opened This Morning and Will Continue Until Sunday Evening.

The annual convention in connection with the local branch of the Christian Alliance was opened this morning, with a large congregation in attendance, at the hall on the corner of Water and Simcoe streets. The first session took the form of an experience meeting. In the afternoon the principal address was delivered by Rev. D. W. LeLacheur, of the China mission.

This evening Rev. R. Kingman will speak. He has recently returned from a five and a half term of service as superintendent of the Alliance missions in the Soudan. At present he has eighteen missionaries working under him on this field, where the Alliance has five stations, one of which is 220 miles inland and situated near the headwaters of the Niger. Owing to disturbances amongst the tribes the missionaries have been called into Freetown for a time. The outbreak occurred about the first of May, when seven United Brethren missionaries were killed. The Alliance missionaries have been constantly trying to penetrate into the French territory in th Soudan, but have been unable to obtain permission from that government to locate there.

The experiences of Rev. Mr. Kingman amongst these wild tribesmen will doubtless prove most interesting this evening.

Sessions of the convention are to be held morning, afternoon and evening until Sunday night.

SOCIAL EVENING AT ALL SAINTS.

The Men's Union Play the Host Delightfully.

The social evening given to the men of All Saints last night by the Men's Union was most successful, and apparently thoroughly enjoyed. There were over sixty present, and animated conversation and a musical programme were features of the evening.

Those who took part in the programme were Messrs. Barnard, Clarton, Stocker, Brandrette, Pigeon, Roy, Kingscote, Stocker and Rev. Mr. Armitage. Messrs. Chas. J. Rodgers and F. E. Bell were the accompanists.

These events are to be continued throughout the winter, the programme being varied by lectures and other profitable entertainment.

THE MAHONEY INQUEST CONCLUDED.

THE VERDICT IS "CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE."

Additional Evidence Presented—Not Sufficient Protection for the Sewer Trench—Those Responsible To Blame.

The inquest into the death of the late Cornelius Mahoney, who was found dead on the morning of October 22nd in the Charlotte street sewer, was resumed last evening in the Council Chamber.

Coroner Bell stated that an endeavour had been made to trace the deceased from the time he reached Peterborough until he came to his death, but all that could be learned of him was that upon reaching here he had spent twenty-five or thirty cents in Clanna's hotel and taken his tea there, leaving at about seven or half-past. Nothing concerning his later movements could be learned. Some evidence had been procured in regard to the danger which existed in leaving the sewer without protection at night. Two young men who had fallen into it would be examined.

Fred Roy, sworn, stated he had fallen into the Charlotte street sewer on Oct. 7th last, when wheeling to meet the Bellevue train. It was in the evening. He was wheeling down the Rubidge street hill and seeing no lights he fell into the sewer shortly after he turned into Charlotte street. There was no protection of any kind and he did not know a sewer was being opened up in Charlotte street. He did not think the electric lights were shining as he could not see the sewer. He fell by the side of the sewer and the wheel went in. It was probably about four feet deep at this point. He did not think that he fell in through carelessness. If there had been any protection he would not have fallen, as he was naturally on the lookout for obstacles at night.

Wm. R. Brandrette in his evidence stated that he had fallen into a connection trench which was being opened up from the sewer to a residence. It was on the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge streets. The accident occurred three weeks ago Sunday night at ten minutes to seven. He was wheeling eastward on Charlotte street and fell into the drain. There was a light on the sewer, but the place where he fell in was in the shadow. The trench was eight inches deep. He knew the sewer was there, but did not know of the drain. The sewer was now protected across the ends. He had strained his back by the fall, but wheel was uninjured.

Juryman Bartlett stated that the contractor told him that he had the right to close up the street, but that the town did not wish him to do so.

The jury then retired to consider the evidence and shortly afterwards brought in the following verdict:

"That Cornelius Mahoney came to his death from asphyxia caused by falling into a sewer under construction on Charlotte street, in the town of Peterborough, on the night of the 22nd or morning of the 23rd of October, 1898, and in the opinion of this jury there was culpable negligence on the part of those responsible, in not providing sufficient protection for the safety of the public.

REMANDED UNTIL THE 16TH.

Mrs. Allen Appears Before Judge Weller Charged With Theft.

Mrs. Allen, it will be remembered, waived the preliminary examination before the magistrate, and this morning she elected to be tried by the Judge without a jury. The date set for the trial is Wednesday, Nov. 16th, until which time the prisoner is committed.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the defence.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. John Hillier Yesterday—The Funeral Will Take Place at Noon To-morrow.

One day last week a man who represented himself to be Mr. Dean's son arrived at the place and drove off twenty-one head, the pick of the herd. It now appears that he was an impostor and Gerow on Saturday afternoon reported the matter to the local police and they are investigating.

A NEW CHURCH BELL.

To Call the Congregation to Divine Worship—It Was Blessed and Dedicated by the Bishop.

(Campbellford Herald.)

The Roman Catholic congregation Campbellford now pride themselves in being in possession of one of the largest and best bells that swings between Toronto and Montreal.

This new and desirable acquisition to the church is the production of the Clinton H. Meneilly Co. of East Troy, N.Y., where Father McCloskey went a few weeks ago, and closed a bargain for its immediate manufacture.

The bell is 46 inches in diameter, it weighs 2,048 pounds, and was purchased at a cost of $500. It is beautifully polished on the outer surface, and has a soft, sweet tone in "F" natural. It is set on a strong wooden frame, 5 feet 8 inches square, and is swung by a large grooved wheel 7 feet in diameter, upon which hangs a rope.

The name of the firm that manufactured it is cast in raised letters on the bell, and on the opposite side is cast the following: "This Bell named "Mary" was solemnly blessed and dedicated to the honour and glory of God at Campbellford, Ont., 1898, by the Right Reverend R. A. O'Connor, D. D, Bishop of Peterborough. Rev. William J. McCloskey, pastor."

The bell arrived on Thursday and it was dedicated on Sunday afternoon. A canvas covering was provided for the occasion, and under this the Bishop's blessing was pronounced. The frame carrying the bell was decorated with evergreens, upon which were clusters of red berries from the mountain ash, and upon the bell itself were strewn a profusion of coloured ribbons and flowers, while plants were set all around it on the platform.

At three o'clock in the afternoon Bishop O'Connor gave an address to the large number of people who had assembled inside the sacred edifice, his subject being an exposition of the meaning of blessing of bells. This occupied about half an hour, and was given in the plain interesting manner which is characteristic of that distinguished gentleman.

At the close of this interesting service the people retired from the church, and Bishop O'Connor proceeded at once to pronounce the blessing upon the bell and dedicate it to the honour and glory of God. This ceremony was performed after the manner observed by all Roman Catholic churches in the land. In its consecration Bishop O'Connor was assisted by Rev. Father Brown, V.G., of Peterborough, Rev. Father Maguire, of Hastings, Rev. Father Maguire, of Wooler, and Rev. Father McCloskey, the pastor.

After the ceremony an invitation was given to the members of the congregation and others to ring the bell, and quite a number responded, at the same time making an offering.

The Citizens' brass band was present and played sacred music during the proceedings, and a large concourse of spectators of the village and country assembled on the green sward and on the street to witness the ceremony.

The site selected for the bell is on the lawn between the church and the residence of Father McCloskey. It rests upon a platform covering the top of a large frame of square timber 10 feet high and 12 feet square at the base. A roof will be built over it, and galvanized iron laid upon the floor. The top of the bell is about 23 feet from the ground.

Every person has spoken in praise of the tone of the bell, and the congregation are delighted with it. Father McCloskey speaks very highly of the courtesy and kindness of Mr. Clinton H. Meneilly, the leading member of the firm, and of his satisfactory and honourable business deal.

HOW SOUTH ONTARIO WAS LOST

A Voter's Revelation in a Polling Booth —An Attempt to Disqualify Four Dryden Voters.

A gentleman from South Ontario, who was in Toronto on Wednesday, gave one or two examples of the methods used by Mr. Calder and his agents in their endeavour to defeat Mr. Dryden on Tuesday. The occupants of one of the polling booths in Reach township, he said, were treated to a mild sensation during the day. A well-known resident of the village was the cause of it all. When he went into vote he was challenged by a scrutineer, but he took the oath without hesitation. Then, turning to the gentlemen present, he said: "Now that I am on my oath I want to say something; that is, that that man who swore me offered me five dollars one day last week to vote for Calder." The statement caused a flutter, but the elector voted and then left the booth.

The Poor Fund of Port Perry is four dollars ahead by the acts of some person or persons unknown. Three of Mr. Dryden's supporters in Port Perry and one in Manchester were approached by some person and handed a dollar each and told it was from Dryden. They were unbribable men, however, and while not exactly knowing what its significance was, in view of their politics, handed it at once to Mr. Dryden's committee, who gave the money to the Poor Fund. On polling day, however, the reason for the act became clear. When these men came to vote all four had to swear that they had not accepted any bribe, which they readily did. The motive was to have them disqualified by this mysterious messenger's act.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH TAKES DECIDED ACTION

REGARDING THE LANE IN REAR OF GEORGE STREET.

Medical Health Officer's Report—The Question of Vaccination to be Called to the Attention of the School Board.

A special meeting of the Peterborough Board of Health was held in the Town Clerk's office on Thursday evening. Present Mr. B. Saartly, in the chair, Messrs. H. Denne, Adam Hall, Dr. Burnham, Robert Innes and Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer.

After routine a communication was read from Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, in answer to a letter of the secretary of the Board, re the nuisance caused by lack of drainage in the lane in rear of George street, between Brock and Hunter streets, as follows:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your letter of the 10th ult., you will find on consulting sec tions 69, 70 and 71 of the Public Health Act, the rules which will guide you in dealing with the question referred to in your letter. If a drain is required, and in case the owners of the lane, after notification, refuse to put it down, your Board has power to do it, and as provided in section 71, divide the cost.

A letter was also read from Mr. E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, upon the same subject which stated that as the owners concerned had been served with notices requiring them to construct a drain to abate the nuisance, the Board may direct that the work be done at the expense of the persons in default, and the parties concerned having been notified that the work would be done at their expense. Mr. Edwards intimated that some competent officer should be directed to superintend and carry out the work.

The clerk stated that formal notices had been served upon the parties concerned, and thereupon

It was resolved that Mr. S. Belcher, Town Engineer, be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a drain and other work necessary to remove the nuisance in the lane at the rear of the stores on George and Hunter streets between Brock and Hunter, and on Hunter street between George and Water street, and to submit them to the Board at a meeting to be held on Tuesday night next.

Dr. Clark, medical health officer reported that, as directed, he had placed 150 pounds of copperas at different points of the Park street drain. He had also reported a case of diphtheria on Patterson street, the only one in town, and very little typhoid existed in the town. Dr. Clarke also reported that he had looked into the matter in reference to the drain requested by Mr. Lepiante, and could not report that a sewer was more necessary there than at numerous other points.

The secretary was instructed to write the Board of Education, calling the attention of the latter to section 16 and 17 of the act respecting the vaccination of school children—Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chap. 249.

The board adjourned till next Tuesday night.

CANADIAN EGGS IN BRITAIN.

They are in Great Favour there—Practical Suggestions for Improving the Trade.

The following is clipped from the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying, and shows the imports of Eggs into Great Britain in the year ending 31st December, 1898:

From.	Dozens.	Value.
Canada	4,003,170	$ 870,798
Other British possessions	209,310	40,967
United States	477,030	78,339
Russia	24,081,690	3,005,251
Sweden	194,430	29,229
Denmark	15,686,280	2,545,194
Germany	20,304,900	3,805,323
Holland	321,230	48,678
Belgium	23,430,030	3,379,083
France	32,757,760	6 196,310
Portugal	583,020	91,542
Spain	763,230	117,962
Morocco	557,340	73,136
Other foreign countries	136,260	20,534
	132,459,110	$30,365,336

I found in Manchester, Liverpool, and also in London that Canadian eggs were getting a better reputation in the trade. Those that arrived in cold storage chambers were said to be pleasing very well. The only complaint I heard was that when the cases were opened the eggs became very moist, and were said to be sweating, or to be covered with drops like dew. As a matter of fact the cause of that was the opening of the cases containing the eggs immediately after they were taken from cold storage room. That exposed the cold surface of the eggs to the warm moist atmosphere, and the moisture was condensed on their surface just in the same way that it would be condensed on the surface of a pitcher or glass containing ice water. Those importers who left the cases closed for two days in a chamber at the ordinary temperature of the air, and then opened them, found that the eggs had been warmed up gradually and had a fine appearance.

In the matter of improving that trade, I think two points need particular care, otherwise I fear there will be dissatisfaction and loss in carrying on the business:

1. Every handler of eggs, from the one who gathers them from the nests, to the one who exports them in cases, should leave out all those of doubtful quality and all the small ones; and

2. There should be more frequent and regular collection of eggs from the farmers, the eggs being brought together and kept in a cold place where there will be no chance of spoiling.

STEADILY INCREASING.

Figures Showing Mineral Production in Ontario—An Increase Over Last Year.

The Bureau of Mines has issued the following statement, giving the the values of the mineral production of Ontario for the first nine months of the present year, compared with the total production of 1897:

	1898. 9 mos.	1897. 12 mos.
Gold	$ 186,231	$189,344
Silver	11,232
Nickel	232,216	239,651
Copper	205,520	208,027
Iron ore	20,325	4,699
Pig-iron	460,443	228,125
Total	$1,243,425	$1,042,770

During the present year 28,035 tons of gold ore have been treated, yielding 11,489½ ounces of bullion, exceeding the total output of last year. In 1897 no silver mining was done, while this year 673 tons have been milled, with a product of 20,867 ounces. In nickel and copper 85,254 tons were smelted in the nine months. The matte product was 14,472 tons, which, when refined, gave 1,830 tons of nickel, valued at $338,216, and 3,366 tons of copper, valued at $206,560. The production of iron ore increased from 2,765 tons in 1897 to 28,334, valued at $36,366 at the mines.

INCALCULABLE GOOD,

AN EXPRESSION OF FAITH.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done me an incalculable amount of good. I think they are the best, surest and quickest acting cure for nervousness, unhealthy action of the heart, insomnia or sleeplessness, anemia or impoverished blood, loss of appetite, general debility and ill-health. For nine years, before I commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, my heart was weak and in an unhealthy state. Its action was so much impaired that I could not walk across the street without suffering great distress, my heart fluttering and beating so rapidly that I could scarcely breathe, causing faintness, loss of strength, and leaving my nerves all unstrung. My sleep was very much disturbed, I had no appetite and there was little strength or vitality in my blood; I was always excessively nervous.

I have now taken three boxes of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills and since taking them I have not been away from my business an hour. Before taking these pills it was a frequent occurrence for me to be away from business. As a result of taking Dr. Ward's Pills my heart is perfectly healthy and strong and gives me no distress or trouble whatever. They removed all nerve trouble, made my nerves strong and gave me healthy sleep. These pills also made my blood rich and strong and gave me a healthy appetite. Dr. Ward's Pills have given me perfect health, restoring my lost strength, in place of continual ill-health, weakness, heart trouble and nervousness. In justice I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine. Signed, Miss N. Millward, Walton St., Port Hope, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by THE DOCTOR WARD CO. Limited, 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

AN ANCIENT CHESS KING.

Haply some rajah first in the ages gone
Amid his languid ladies fingered thes
While a black nightingale, sun swart as he,
Sang his one wife love's passionate oraison;
Haply thou mayst have pleased Old Prester John
Among his pastures when full royally
He sat in tent, grave shepherds at his knee,
While lamps of balsam winked and glimmered on.
What dost thou here? Thy masters are all dead,
My heart is full of ruth and yearning pain
At sight of thee, O king, that hast a crown
Outlasting theirs, and tellst of greatness fled
Through cloud hung nights of unabated ring
And murmurs of the dark majestic town.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

IN LONDON LODGINGS.

What It May Cost the American Visitor In England.

In England, though in London at least there are many boarding houses, it is more usual to live in "lodgings"—that is, more usual to hire a furnished room by itself than to include the taking of meals at the common table. Frequently, however, you arrange to have part of your meals in the house, but served in your own room. In that case you may buy your own materials and pay for the cooking, or the landlady will buy what you direct and cook it for a slight charge. In a thoroughly convenient and respectable location in London $7.50 a week would be a low price for a plainly furnished sitting room and bedroom and the cooking. You can do better than that in the suburbs, but distances are long in London, and it is economy to pay for a convenient location if time is any object.

Prices are lower in the smaller English places and the landladies more endurable. Those of London are often so bothersome that many Americans advise against taking lodgings there. Figures from the expense book of two American girls who took lodgings wherever they had addresses show that in Lincoln for apartments in a delightfully quaint little house just outside the cathedral close, where the landlady and everything about the place was spotlessly clean, they paid $1.40 apiece for the night's lodging and three meals. In York they had lodging, supper and breakfast for $1 apiece. At Oxford the same thing with a fine grate fire cost $1 apiece. In Edinburgh they had lodging and breakfast for a week for $8.50 apiece.

In London and the large cities it is the custom to go out for dinner. London restaurants are more costly than those of the same grade in the States, and so London is not the cheapest place in which to dine. To live in this way abroad is much simpler than at home, for restaurant life is so much more common. It has been said that a third of the people of Paris dine at cafes. Women seldom have any serious trouble in finding a restaurant where they can dine unmolested, and a great many of the art students abroad live in this fashion, often not spending $1 a day for the whole cost of existence. Furnished rooms, however, are not so easily to be found in Paris as in London, but they are there.—Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

High Bred Americans.

Here a couple of hundred years ago was planted a little obscure trading post by a few score of broad breeched Hollanders. History records nothing more remarkable of this small colony of Dutchmen than that they lived at peace with one another and drove the sharpest bargains with the untutored red man. It is certain that none of them ever talked of his ancestry or regarded himself as a founder.

Indeed the practice among European nations of deporting their social dregs and colonizing their undesirables in the new world marked no exception in the case of the Batavian commonwealth. A span of 200 years is not, forsooth, the antiquity of the Percys or the Howards, but few of the sons and daughters of whom we hear so much could prove a descent half as long. At any rate, it admits no doubt of a grandfather, or even one to spare, and as M. Blouet observes, that is the greatest desideratum of the high bred American.—Philistine.

Finding Tar River.

There is really and truly a tar river in North Carolina, but some folks will not believe it. An old Johnny Reb sent the following story of how the Yankees found it:

"When the Confederates evacuated Washington, N. C., they rolled 1,000 barrels of tar and turpentine into the river at Taft's store, and two months later a steamboat, the Colonel Hill, with 400 Yankee prisoners going from Salisbury to Washington to be exchanged, tied up at the wharf to let the boys bathe. They stirred up the tar at the bottom of the river and were smeared with it from head to foot. When we came upon them, each man had his rations of meat in one hand and a small stick in the other, scraping and greasing for dear life. 'Hello, boys! What's the matter?' I asked. And they replied, 'Durned if we haven't found Tar river at last; the whole bed is covered with pitch.'"—New York Press.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little at the right time he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE SERFS OF RUSSIA.

Flogging Them Was One of the Duties of the Police.

Father will not be appeased, says Prince Kropotkin in The Atlantic. He calls in Makar, the piano tuner and subbutler, and reminds him of all his recent sins. He was drunk last week and must have been drunk yesterday, for he broke half a dozen plates. In fact, the breaking of these plates was the real cause of all the disturbance. Stepmother had reported the fact to father in the morning, and that was why Uliana was received with more scolding than was usually the case, why the verification of the hay was undertaken and why father continued to shout that "this progeny of Ham" deserved all the punishments on earth.

All of a sudden there is a lull in the storm. My father has taken his seat at the table and writes a note to the police station. "Take Makar with this note to the police station, and let 100 lashes with the birch rod be given to him."

Terror and absolute muteness reign in the house.

The clock strikes 4, and we all go down to dinner, but no one has any appetite, and the soup remains in the plates untouched. We are ten at table, and behind each one of us a violinist or a trombone player stands, with a clean plate in his left hand, but Makar is not among them.

"Where is Makar?" stepmother asks. "Call him in."

Makar does not appear, and the order is repeated. He enters at last, pale, with a distorted face, ashamed, his eyes cast down. Father looks into his plate, while stepmother, seeing that no one has touched the soup, tries to encourage us.

"Don't you find, children," she says, "that the soup is delicious?"

Tears suffocate me, and immediately after dinner is over I run out, catch Makar in a dark passage and try to kiss his hand, but he tears it away and says, either as a reproach or as a question, "Let me alone. And you, too, when you are grown up, will be just the same?"

"No, no; never!"

Yet father was not of the worst of landowners. On the contrary, the servants and the peasants considered him to be one of the best. What we saw in our house was going on everywhere, often in much more cruel forms. The flogging of the serfs was a regular part of the duties of the police.

VENOMOUS SNAKES.

The Poison Machinery of the Reptiles and How It Is Operated.

Some years ago a physician undertook a series of experiments on snakes with a view to extracting a sufficient amount of their venom to form a basis for investigation, in order, if possible, to discover some antidote. His laboratory is a curious and somewhat uncanny place and one from which those with unsteady nerves instinctively recoil.

The apparatus for extracting the venom is a most ingenious and yet a very simply one. A bit of chamois is tied over the top of a funnel which leads to a bottle. Everything is secured very firmly. The snake is caught by the back of the neck and placed close to this chamois. He strikes his fangs through it, when tiny jets of venom are thrown from the fangs upon the glass sides of the bottle, trickling thence into the bottle. Again and again the snake is made to strike. If necessary, other snakes of the same species are used until a sufficient amount of the venom is collected.

The relative deadly qualities of the venom of snakes have also been the subject of experiments. It appears that the diamond back rattlesnake is the most to be dreaded. The next in order is the banded rattlesnake, followed by the copperhead and the water moccasin or cottonmouth.

The poison machinery of the snake consists of a pair of needle pointed fangs, which, when the creature is at rest, are folded back in the roof of the mouth. When it becomes angry, these fangs are thrown forward, and in the act of striking a tiny jet of poison is thrown from each. The poison is a thin, yellow fluid which upon exposure decomposes very rapidly. Snake poison, if kept from the air or dried, retains its full force for many years.—New York Ledger.

On Loving Care.

The Chautauqua Assembly Herald relates the following amusing incident:

Miss Burson was trying to develop the idea of loving care in her Sunday school class. To illustrate the idea she asked, "What does mother do for grandma?" "Makes her work," shouted a youngster. The visitors were convulsed, but Miss Burton rose to the occasion and pointed a moral to adorn the tale.

Pleasant Dreams.

It does not lie in the painter's fancy to imagine a prettier picture than that of a young girl, with lips luscious with the promise of love, half parted in the smiles of happy dreamland. The mind of happy maidenhood is a clear and polished mirror, which, when the wits go wandering into the ghostland of dreams, reflects the impressions of waking hours. If those impressions are pleasant and painless and happy, she will smile in her sleep. If the impressions are those of a suffering woman, tortured with the special ailments to which the feminine organism is liable, the picture is spoiled by the lines of suffering and despondency. Maladies of this nature unfit a woman for joyous maidenhood and for capable motherhood. They incapacitate her to bear the burdens of life in any sphere of action. Household, marital and social duties alike are a burden to the woman who is constantly suffering from headaches, backaches, dragging sensations and weakening drains. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription positively, completely, unfailingly cures troubles of this nature. It imparts health, strength, vigor to the distinctly womanly organs. It fits for careless, healthy maidenhood, happy wifehood and capable motherhood.

"I have a little step-daughter who had St. Vitus's Dance, which your medicine cured," writes Mrs. T. F. Bose, of Ford, Dinwiddie Co., Va. "I spent about twenty dollars for doctor's bills and medicine, and it did not do the child one cent's worth of good. We commenced giving Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and used three bottles of each, which cost only six dollars. Now the child is running around every where and is just as healthy as ever."

Some Ancient Instances of Insurance Can Be Easily Found.

Probably the first recorded instance of insurance was one mentioned by Livy. During the second Punic war the contractors for delivering corn into Spain stipulated that the government should indemnify them against loss by the enemy or tempest. Cicero, too, after his victory in Cilicia, seems to have obtained security against the loss of his booty during its transit to Rome. These instances, however, are not regarded as true cases of insurance by many authorities, who assert that only after the revival of commerce in the tenth century did it come into vogue. If this be so, the first mention of insurance is the establishment in 1310 at Bruges at the request of the inhabitants of a chamber of assurance.

"The contract of reciprocal insurance was known likewise in Portugal in the fourteenth century, and in the fifteenth (Sept. 10, 1436) King Edward of Portugal writes from Lisbon that the merchant people of the English, which had been chartered for the Tangier expedition, had not been insured, owing to the liability of their proprietors, while those of the Portuguese, even of the royal navy, were." It is probable, however, that insurance came into use in Italy early in the twelfth century and was by the Lombards transplanted into those countries with which they had commercial dealings. To them, therefore, the invention of insurance, as it is now understood, is generally conceded. —Exchange.

A VISTA OF STYLES.

The Modish Petticoat—Quaint Capes and Useful Traveling Gowns.

How strongly marked out at present is the mamodish woman by her petticoat! The trained skirt no longer permits the undergarment to be lost to sight, and it were better for the wearer of a mediocre petticoat that she had never been lured to consider the fashionable requirement of a trained skirt. And yet a skirt without a train is coming to have an appearance hardly as it should be, a like sensation being uttermost in our minds when some immaculate perfection is raised to show a short uncompromising petticoat of moreen. Even one of silk, fashioned with a skimped piped flounce, strikes a discordant note of taste and incompleteness. Undeniably petticoats are a power in the land, and those of extravagant elaboration are likely to remain master of the situation so long as skirts are raised and until such time as we shall find some alternative possessing equal joys.

For the moment at least our petticoats must be long, full, profusely decked with lace and of daring combination or delicate colorings, so with impunity we may raise our trailing filmsy skirts as high as fancy prompts. And this proceeding on the whole presents more pleasing results than when the skirt is cluttered with decision low down and dragged around the figure until it more resembles a winding sheet than a sartorial triumph.

The shape of the newest cape has been compared to that of a large shawl folded three cornered and rounded off. Its rounded fronts slope gradually to a good depth at the back, with an effect which seems to relegate the garment to bygone days or the exclusive use of the few "old ladies" who have not found the fountain of perpetual youth. Nevertheless it is a model decreed by fashion for early autumn wear, especially in fawn or pale gray, lined with satin of a paler tint, but corresponding shade. A lovely cloak copied from the one here shown has been made in very pale fawn cloth, lined with shot glace silk in light fawn and blue and trimmed with passementerie in tones of golden brown and gold, dotted here and there with turquoise cabochons. The frill is cut on the bias and is very stylish if lined with the shot silk.

THE NEW AUTUMN CAPE.

For evening wear this cape is charming in white broche satin, with frill to match, and either trimmed with pearl and gold passementerie or rushing arranged in vandyke fashion, as shown. Arm slings or straps are cut in a curve to fit the edge of the cape and are of glace silk, interlined with canvas.

For the late summer and early autumn our wardrobes will be replenished with gowns of some slight substance, and veils, cashmere and the lighter makes of serge are all desirable fabrics. As these will be worn in the country, by the sea or on touring trips, the trimming should not be of a too perishable description. Braid of the military or tubular kind is admirable in black or cream, and the white linen braids are very generally used. There are also combinations of braid and gimp which are very effective, or lines of braid, satin ribbon or narrow ribbon velvet can be overlaid at intervals with applique motifs of lace braid or guipure to simulate an embroidered border.

The fancy for gray remains unmitigated, and for the round of autumn visits many gray cashmere gowns are being prepared.

JOHN BLOW'S TESTIMONY.

Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Saved His Life Recently.

Toronto, Oct. 24—The many Torontonians who know Mr. John Blow, 67 Princess Street, have been in a state of amazement for some time past, because Mr. Blow, who, for years was a great sufferer from Diabetes, has fully recovered, and is now as well as ever, though his case was said to be helpless.

"I was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills," said Mr. Blow, "the only medicine on earth that can cure this terrible disease."

So it does. Dodd's Kidney Pills are keeping up their grand work for human health and happiness unceasingly.

Spoiling a Horse.

Buyer—Lookee here, you! You said this horse was sound and kind and free from tricks. The first day I drove him he balked a dozen times, and he's as bad today.

Dealer—Um—you've been wondering if I cheated you maybe?

"Yes, I have."

"And the first time you druv the hoss you sort o' wondered if he hadn't some tricks, didn't you?"

"Of course."

"And you kept saying to yourself, 'I wonder if that there horse will balk,' maybe?"

"Probably."

"And you had your mind on it a good deal, most like?"

"That's true."

"That's wot's the matter—you've hypnotized him. See?"—New York Weekly.

Yawning.

There can be little doubt that one of the objects of yawning is the exercise of muscles which have been for a long time quiescent, and the acceleration of the blood and lymph flow which has in consequence of this quiescence become sluggish. Hence its frequency after one has remained for some time in the same position—e. g., when waking in the morning. Co-operating with this cause is sleepiness and the shallow breathing which it entails. This factor, as well as muscle quiescence, is apt to attend the sense of boredom which one experiences in listening to a dull sermon. Hence it is that the bored individual is apt to yawn. As in the case of sighing, the deep breath which accompanies the act of yawning compensates for the shallow breathing which is so apt to excite it. —"Therapeutic Aspects of Talking," by Dr. H. Campbell.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

COLD CURE

A TEST OF DEVOTION.

In Which One Young Woman Completely Outclassed Her Rival.

There are two north side young girls, dear friends, who let Cupid try to divide himself like the hydra. In other words, they both absolutely and deliberately fell desperately in love with the same young real estate man. If any one should think for a moment that any censure attaches to him, let it here be said that he was not at all to blame.

They are both so lovely that it is absolutely impossible for any man who has the use of his eyes to meet them and not capitulate at once. But, however that may be, and leaving such questions to settle themselves, a more important point is that they got to comparing notes the other day. The affair, begun, as it must be allowed, with a little suspicion on both sides, soon became almost tearful.

Finally one of the girls vowed that the young man concerned cared more for her than he did for her rival. The latter stoutly maintained that nothing of the kind was so. They agreed to test it. They soon hit upon a plan. That was to have each of them write the young man a note asking him to call at a certain hour. And, seeing that he could not obey both commands at once, it was to be conclusive proof that the girl whom he favored was in possession of his heart. After this they felt better.

Whom should they meet just as their decision was reached but the subject of their dispute himself. He spoke to them for a moment, but about the only thing he had to say was that he had lost his umbrella. The girls then adjourned to their respective homes to write the notes, which were both to be to the effect that they wanted him to call that evening.

When No. 1 was safely ensconced in her boudoir, she made up her mind that she would win even if she had to stretch matters a little and say that she was ill, though, as she reassured herself, that would not be a lie, as after the awful experience of the afternoon she really was. Therefore she indited this letter:

"Dear Jack, I am very sick. Perhaps I may die. Come this evening."

The time of trial passed, and as remarkable as it must seem, considering this letter, Jack called on No. 2. The explanation of the whole matter, however, is contained in the other note Jack got. It ran thus:

"Dear Jack, come up tonight. You left your umbrella here."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Success comes to those who persevere. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and persistently you will surely be benefitted.

"Humph!" growled the multimillionaire, "so you want my girl's hand, do you? Have you lots of enterprise?"

"Well," retorted the hardy swain, "I'm after the only daughter of just about the richest and meanest man in these parts."—New York World.

Mr. M. T. Wigle

Of Kingsville, Essex Co.

CURED OF ITCHING PILES OF 23 YEARS STANDING

M. T. Wigle, better known to every one in the vicinity as "Uncle Mike," was troubled for over 23 years with itching piles. At times he was so bad he would have to quit work. The irritation became so intense with constant rubbing that they became ulcerated and would bleed. He had been treated by many physicians, but found nothing that gave him relief. Reading in the paper the cure of a friend who had suffered in a like manner, and been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, he procured a box. After the third application he got such relief that he had the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed in years. The one box made a complete cure, and he says he would not be without it for $50 a box if it could not be replaced. Mr. Wigle is a wealthy farmer, well known in the community in which he resides. It is over two years since he was afflicted, and he has never been troubled since.

Physicians fail to make a cure when Dr. Chase's Ointment gave Immediate Relief. . . .

A Question of Clothes.

A kindergarten teacher was telling recently of one of her experiences in school during the past season. Following are some of the questions and answers:

Teacher—Now, children, I told you yesterday about the various materials from which your dresses are made—silk, wool and cotton. Let me see how well you remember. Margie, where did the material come from of which your dress is made?

Margie—It once grew upon the back of a sheep.

Teacher—Very good. And yours, Blanche?

Blanche—My dress once grew upon the back of a sheep, and a part of it was spun by the silkworm.

Teacher—Correct. And yours, Lucy?

Lucy (with evident embarrassment)—My dress was made out of an old one of mamma's.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

What Beats It?

"Do you observe, sir," said Spooney, "that the old controversy about the stage pronunciation of Irish has cropped up again? One man, who says the Irish never say 'praste for 'priest,' or 'swate' for 'sweet' declares that their way of pronouncing 'mate' for 'meat' and 'bait' for 'beat' is correct, and that we English ought to talk like that."

"Pooh!" rapped out Waggles. "I've heard that an Irishman never opens his mouth but what he puts his foot in it, and, confound it, they now want the English to swallow their brogues!"—Nuggets.

DELAWARE WHIPPING POSTS.

Three of Them In the State, With Different Kinds of Lashes.

We were sitting outside the capitol house at Dover, Del., under the shade of the city trees on the green, and though we didn't exactly say so we were waiting anxiously in the hope that when the conference that was going on inside was over either the attorney general or Dunning or both would have something to say. So that when the former did come forth he was surrounded, but he wouldn't talk except to hint at expected arrests. So some of us adjourned to the field behind the administrative offices to take a look at the whipping post and pillory. The post is shaped octagonally and is provided with a pair of double handcuffs of stout iron, which may be padlocked over the wrists of the prisoner to be castigated. It is an ugly looking instrument of torture, and I asked whether it had any real effect in suppressing crime. Nobody seemed to know, so I couldn't get any statistics. There are three of these posts in Delaware, one at New Castle, where a cat-o'-nine-tails is used; this one at Dover, where the victim gets it on the back with a rawhide, and another at Wilmington, where a bundle of hickory switches is laid on. I was told that the news of a whipping used to bring the country people into town in shoals, but there is not much interest taken in the ceremony nowadays.

From the top of the whipping post extend two arms, making it look like an exaggerated letter T. These are the pillories. The holes for the neck and wrists are smaller in the one than the other, presumably one being originally intended for man, the other for women. It is a good many years since a woman was whipped or pilloried at Dover. Perhaps that is why the interest has abated. Not every man was strong enough to stand for an hour in the pillory. The strain is said to be very great, and the sheriff stands by to release the victim as soon as he sees him begin to droop or weaken in the knees. Otherwise he would hang himself, and that might be awkward. The sheriff does the whipping, and the warde stands beside him to uphold him in his office and count.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

AS TO NERVES.

They Are a Valuable Asset When Diplomacy Is Needed.

Some friends of mine live in an apartment house—the housekeeping apartment kind of house—down town. The arrangements for laundry work are limited and the occupants of the flats take Mondays turn about. If Mrs. A. washes on Monday this week, she lets Mrs. B. take that day next week and contents herself with Tuesday. Mrs. C., whose linen is laundered on Wednesday this week, has washing done on Monday week after next. The arrangement is complicated, but gave great satisfaction till Mrs. D. moved into the top flat. On the first Monday she took possession of the laundry in person, for she has no maid of all work. The second Monday she prepared to do the same thing, though it was Mrs. A.'s turn. Mrs. A.'s maid is Irish, nearly 6 feet tall, and weighs about 200. She refused to vacate the laundry. Mrs. D. went up stairs in tears. Presently Mr. D. came down to claim the place for his wife. He upbraided Mrs. A.'s maid for her conduct and insisted that his wife must have her way.

"Mrs. D. is so very nervous," he said, "that I can't have her annoyed. You must give way to her. She's so exceedingly nervous, you see."

Mrs. A.'s maid reported the conversation to Mrs. A. later.

"And what did you say to him, Anne?" asked her mistress.

"Faith, mum," said the maid, "I told him I was the most nervous lady on the block. Indeed," says I, "I'm that nervous that I can't answer for the consequences if I be crossed. And it's my clothes are out now, mum."—Washington Post.

Are We Losing Shakespeare?

I would not say that we have already lost Shakespeare or that we shall lose Shakespeare within the space of a generation, writes Mark H. Liddell in The Atlantic. What I would say is that we can lose Shakespeare, and more easily, too, than we think. We English speaking people have already been advised to abandon Chaucer—in a journal, it is true, whose advice is not usually worth the taking, but such straws show the way the current sets. Perhaps it will be some time before any one will boldly tell us to give up Shakespeare and thus show that Shakespeare is already practically given up.

But if it is true that we have lost Chaucer as popular literature, that we have lost Spenser as popular literature, that we are losing Milton as popular literature, how shall we ultimately escape losing Shakespeare? Of course we can selfishly say that Shakespeare will last our time, and the future can take care of itself, or we can fall back on a narrow ideal of culture, and say that there will always be enough scholars among English speaking people to keep the light burning before Shakespeare's shrine, or we can ignore the facts and grandiloquently say that Shakespeare is for all time. But the day may come when Shakespeare will be added to Chaucer, and we shall have in literature a Rachel weeping for her children and not to be comforted.

Knew His Habits.

The following anecdote is given me by an Indian officer as illustrative of the manners and customs of the wily Pathan. A certain general and his staff, while wending their way through one of the narrowest valleys of Tirah, were annoyed by the attentions of a solitary marksman, who from time to time sent a bullet unpleasantly close. At last the general turned to his orderly—a Pathan sowar—and told him to dismount, take his carbine and try and stalk the mountaineer. The sowar started off, and presently there was a crack, and a gray bearded old Afridi tumbled headlong down the mountain side. The sowar rejoined and fell into his place.

"Well done!" said the general. "But how on earth did you manage it so easily?"

"Oh," replied the sowar, "I knew his habits. He was my father."—London Truth.

Lord Salisbury Announces That France Has Receded.

THE KITCHENER BANQUET.

Enthusiasm Exhibited Over the Sirdar—A Distinguished Array of Guests—Impressive Speeches by Lords Rosebery and Salisbury—The Sirdar's Modest Reply—Cable News in General.

London, Nov. 5.—The streets of the city were crowded all the morning, an immense number of people seeking to witness General Kitchener's triumphal progress to the Guildhall, to receive the freedom of the city of London, and the sword of honor presented to him in recognition of his defeat of the Dervishes at Omdurman. The General received a great ovation as, accompanied by three aides-de-camp, and dressed in full general's uniform, with the Egyptian sash, he drove through the streets. At the Guildhall there was a ceremony which was witnessed by some 3,500 spectators, chiefly city dignitaries and their families, though Lord Rosebery and Lord Salisbury, the Lord Chancellor, and a few other notabilities were present. There was a scene of great enthusiasm as General Kitchener took his place on the dais by the side of the Lord Mayor, Mr. Horatio David Davies. The clerk then read a document setting forth that certain citizens had declared the General to be a fit and proper person. In presenting the sword of honor, the Lord Mayor read an address, in which he said this honor was only reserved for England's greatest sons.

The Banquet Was Brilliant.

The banquet given to General Kitchener at the Mansion House last evening was an exceptionally brilliant affair. A trophy of British and Egyptian flags entwined had been arranged above the Lord Mayor's seat. The guests, who wore full dress uniforms with ribbons and decorations, included the Duke of Cambridge, the Marquis of Salisbury and the other Cabinet Ministers; Lord Roberts of Kandahar, Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Lord Rosebery, Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief of the forces; Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the new appointed viceroy of India; Sir Joseph Lister, President of the Royal Society; the Duke of Marlborough, Mr. Henry White, the United States Charge d'Affaires; Baron Rothschild, Judge Lambert Tree, formerly United States Minister to Russia, and members of the highest rank in the British Empire. In all, there were about 350 guests present.

The Lord Mayor received his guest in the grand salon. General Kitchener was attired in the uniform of a major-general of the British army, with the ribbon of the Osmanli Order. He was greeted with tremendous cheers from the assembled guests. The banquet, appropriately, was served in the Egyptian Hall of the Mansion House.

Rosebery's Remarks.

Lord Rosebery toasted the Army and Navy, paying a glowing tribute to Lord Kitchener and his gallant comrades, and to Lord Cromer and the Egyptian and Soudanese forces, "whose brilliant campaign, just closed, is the most consummate in the annals of British military history for eighty years, and far more beneficent and extended in its results than, perhaps, any recorded in history." The campaign, said Lord Rosebery, had wiped out the "bloodiest and most barbarous tyranny in the history of mankind." He concluded by expressing the opinion that Great Britain had a right to expect from nations whose territory bordered on the Dervish territory not illfeeling and jealousy, but the fullest measure of gratitude."

What Salisbury Said.

The assembly greeted the rising of the Marquis of Salisbury to toast the Sirdar with nervous silence, as it had been whispered that he had an important and grave statement to make. His statement was important, but it was pacific, as he announced a settlement of the chief difficulty with France. The Premier said in part: "No one can wonder at the vast enthusiasm by which the career of this great soldier has been received, especially when we consider the strange dramatic interest in the circumstances and conditions amid which his laurels were won by the Sirdar. Besides being a splendid soldier, he is also a splendid diplomatist. It must have required unusual talents successfully to carry out the delicate mission up the Nile, which conducted him into the presence of Major Marchand.

"The Sirdar has lately expressed the hope that the difficulties arising from the presence of Major Marchand may be within the power of diplomacy to adjust. I am glad to say that up to a certain point he has proved a true prophet.

"This afternoon I received from the French Ambassador the information that the Government have come to the conclusion that the occupation of Fashoda is of no sort of value—(prolonged laughter and cheers)—and that they thought, in the circumstances, that to persist in an occupation which would only cost them money and do harm, merely because some had advisers thought it might be disagreeable to an unwelcome neighbor, would not show the wisdom with which, as I think, the French Republic has been uniformly guided.

"They had done what I believe every Government would have done in the same position—resolved that the occupation must cease (cheers). I must not be understood as saying that all causes of controversy are removed. That is not so. Doubtless there will be many discussions between us; but a somewhat acute and somewhat dangerous cause of differences has been removed."

General Kitchener's Reply.

General Kitchener's reply, which was modest, gave unstinted praise to the British, Egyptian and Soudanese troops. The Sirdar said he would indeed have been an incapable leader if he had failed to victory with such soldiers.

The Eastern Trouble.

London, Nov. 5.—Despite the jubilation of the country over the favorable announcement by Lord Salisbury regarding Fashoda at the Kitchener banquet, there is serious uneasiness as to the real object of the continued war preparations, which can hardly be justified even by Lord Salisbury's warning that there are still matters in dispute with France.

A despatch from Hong Kong received late last night again remarks upon the unusual naval and military activity there. The despatch says that General Black and his staff have been inspecting the old frontier of British Kan Lung (Kow Loon) and selecting points for the erection of defensive works. Field and siege guns are being mounted, and the men-of-war lying off Hong Kong are embarking large quantities of ammunition. The fleet has been signalled to send no mails by the French steamer leaving to-day (Saturday). This order is regarded as very significant.

NAVAL PREPARATIONS GO ON.

Evident That Britain Intends to Have Some Questions Settled.

London, Nov. 5.—The correspondent of the Buffalo Courier cables as follows:

There is no cessation in the hurried naval preparations which have been under way for more than a week, and it becomes more than ever evident that Great Britain is preparing for one grand coup which shall settle once and for all some of the perplexing questions which have beset the Government for years past.

That the question of the "open door" in China and the limitation of the Russian advance into Manchuria is to be one of these there is little doubt; but it is also apparent that Lord Salisbury and his colleagues have decided that the time is opportune for the definite settlement of the Egyptian question, which is becoming embarrassing by reason not only of the French occupation of Fashoda, but through the intrigues of the young Khedive, who is chafing at the restraint put upon him by the British Administration.

That Great Britain intends to define very clearly her position in Egypt and to back up that definition with all the power at her command there can be little doubt. The Fashoda incident simply opened the way for a step long under contemplation.

Emperor William Fondled Arab Babies and Was Very Good-Natured.

Jerusalem, Nov. 5.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany embarked on board a train for Jaffa yesterday, amidst firing of salutes from the guns of the fortress and the cheering of large crowds of people.

Their Majesties have made themselves most popular with all classes of people, the affableness of the Emperor being much remarked. He took Arab babies in his arms and told their frightened mothers that he was the father of seven children and also complimented them upon the healthfulness of their infants.

WEST YORK ELECTION.

An Alleged Attempt to Bribe an Alien With Cordwood.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Proceedings opened at 10 o'clock yesterday, with the reading of Mrs. Pearen's evidence, who was too ill to attend court in person. George Angus, the stenographer who took the evidence, was called to read it. She swore positively that the dog was bought on March 4, and corroborated the date by a number of trivial incidents. She did not pay Armitage for the dog until she had satisfied herself that she would like it.

Henry Harwood, who was on the street car when Pearen was alleged to have slipped a dollar into Armitage's hand, swore that Pearen was on the platform and Armitage inside throughout the whole trip.

Walter J. Wright, who was charged with having been in charge of a fund to be used for corrupt purposes on the electorate, said Mr. Pearen had induced him to become an active worker in the Reform interests. Two days before the election Mr. Hill had informed him of a man named Neilson who was badly off for want of wood. He had promised thereupon to attend to the matter, and had done so at once by telephoning to Watson's woodyard, and ordering them to send a half-cord of wood to Neilson immediately. He did not pay for it. Witness was recouped for his outlay in June. The purchase of street car tickets, groceries, etc., and a few other incidentals, made up the bulk of what he had spent personally on the election. Witness had not intended the wood sent to Neilson as charity, but as a means of securing his vote.

After the noon recess Armitage was recalled and endeavored to prove an alibi with regard to the statements of Mrs. Pearen about March 4. Armitage swore he had been collecting election bets that day.

Albert Head swore to meeting Armitage opposite Booth's Hotel the same day. Armitage passed him the dollar he owed him, and they talked together for a little while.

Mr. Bristol, in summing up, laid special emphasis on the fact that Armitage had no reason for swearing falsely. Mr. Justice Falconbridge said Pearen's version was probable, but Armitage's story about the dollar bill was improbable.

The court then settled itself to listen to specific charges brought against agents. The half-cord of wood delivered to Neilson was the bone of contention here. Mr. John Shell, who delivered the wood, was first called and swore that he delivered it to Mrs. Neilson, as ordered, but Mr. Neilson was there when it was delivered.

Peter Neilson admitted having received the wood, but had not the slightest idea who sent it. He had never been canvassed for his vote.

The court rose at 5 o'clock until this morning at 10.

North Toronto Election Case.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Particulars in the North Toronto election case were filed yesterday. The trial will be held on Nov. 18. Henry Summer is the petitioner, and Mr. G. F. Marter, ex-Conservative leader, the respondent. The charges are most of them of the heavyweight variety. Thus it is claimed that Mr. Marter gave one W. Yorke, who was not a regularly appointed agent of his, some $1,068, to disburse in corrupting the electorate. S. W. Burns, a barrister, received $335 under precisely similar conditions. One John Townsend got $100 for hire of livery rigs on election day, and G. A. Kappelle, a barrister, also paid out money to livery stable keepers. Another charge of a serious character is that the Clerk of the Peace omitted 56 names from the voters' list of men known to be unfavorable to Mr. Marter.

Mr. Foy Is Assured.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Mr. J. J. Foy, Q.C., M.P.P., is out of the woods, and the case was yesterday dismissed by J. J. Osler and Maclennan. Mr. W. McDonald did the talking for them, and Mr. W. D. McPherson for Mr. Foy. Mr. Foy did not ask for costs, so the case was dismissed without them.

Pratt Brothers Being Tried.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—The trial of the three Pratt brothers on a charge of manslaughter dragged along the whole of the day in the Criminal Assizes yesterday.

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 11 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am

THE TRUE AND THE FALSE.

THE W. C. T. U., while doing a great moral work in the promotion of temperance, etc., are, like all enthusiasts, in danger of going to extremes, becoming intemperate themselves. When there is so much real, right-down, soul-destroying, happiness-wrecking, home-saddening sin to combat, one would think it hardly worth while to spend very much energy, as was done at Ottawa, upon denunciations of cigarette smoking. This is, if carried to excess, an evil, more ostentatiously effeminate, but not more physically, and, perhaps, not more morally injurious, than eating too much cake at a church social. There is a possibility of being almost too good. It is not always safe to tie down or sit on the safety valve. We are all human, and if we have not some little outlet for our inborn depravity, there is danger of exploding in some other part of our moral anatomy. We cannot, being heirs of the nature of Adam, be perfect. Though we conform to all the outward forms and exhibit all the negative evidences of morality — abstention from drinking, smoking, the use of the cigarette, dancing, dicing, wicked novel reading, tattling, gossiping, and so on, we may have some little vice, known only to our intimates, that represents the fly in the ointment.

A story, which is worth retelling, is told of a man who some time ago went to Mr. Moody, the evangelist, and claimed to possess spiritual prefection. He commiserated Mr. Moody on his low level of religious attainment and hinted that the evangelist ought to come up to the high standard of his visitor. Mr. Moody, in a kind manner, asked his caller if he never sinned nor did anything wrong. "No; I have not sinned for years, neither have I done anything wrong," was the prompt reply. "Well, I'm glad to know it," said Mr. Moody, "but before I am convinced I would like to ask your wife.' This is suggestive of the finite quality of a great deal of ostensible goodness we see in the world. A man may move about among his fellow men in the streets and elsewhere, literally perspiring perfection and oozing oily spiritual sweetness. At home he may be a tantalising nagger and generator of more irritating unhappiness than the overt blackguard that comes home drunk occasionally and smashes the furniture. It is easily possible, we all know, for a man to worthily gain a claim to the common appellation of "a street angel and a home devil." A fair, average, all-round moral outfit of goodness is far preferable to a specious outside of invulnerable perfection, while the safety valve working in the dark may discharge into some subterranean moral sewer. While we are human, the smoothest moral complexion may show an occasional pimple—an indication that the evil humour is not retained in the blood. On the other hand a spotless moral complexion accompanied by supercilious claims to perfection of moral character and a holy intolerance that patronizingly pities the frailties of common mortals, may be maintained at the expense of the retention in the blood of the moral microbe that riots in the vitals and works unseen.

Religion of the true mintage is the grandest quality a man can possess; a counterfeit religion is the greatest curse of humanity—that is the religion used to cloak sinful practices. The devil can quote Scripture for his purpose; but the outward sanctity that is used as a screen to hide secret wickedness, can discount Satan himself in the practice of prostituting sacred things to evil ends. We see many of these persons in every community, who gain credit by pretensions to sanctity and a simulation of meekness that would make a Moses look to his laurels, moving amongst us like angels taking a holiday on earth, and, too often, some fine morning society is shocked, humanity is outraged and religion discredited with the unthinking, by the scandal of some child-girl ruined, some bank broken, some treasury rifled, some widow robbed, or some other devilry perpetrated by the man who posed as a saint. On the other hand, the citizen who lives his religion, who is as good as gold and honest as truth, goes on the even tenor of his way, making little parade of his piety, but enforcing the golden rule in his life, paying one hundred cents on the dollar, and making the world better for his presence, even though he may shock the over-righteous by taking a glass of ale to his dinner or smoking a pipe. Spurts can't last, any more in the spiritual race, than in the race of the arena. The steady-going, honest, moderate pace wins in the long run. St. Paul "finished his course;" he did not collapse with the distance flag in front of him. Real religion is honest, is genuine. It is not something to be put on like a personal adornment. It is the mainspring of a good life, the good man's stock in trade. That religion only counts which a man can work out in his daily life, which the carpenter can drive in with his nail, which a bricklayer can lay up with his wall.

We should all be good, but not so very good as to be uncomfortable to our fellow men. When we exalt our horn unduly, and when we claim to be perfect—while we are human—and while our trousers bag at the knees as badly as a common burglar's, we rather overclass ourselves. We are too good for this world and should be forthwith transported to that Better World, where alone we can find perfection This is a good old human world where our poor humanity is honoured by being used as humble instruments to perform the work of Him who took our humanity upon Him; who, while he hated sin loved the sinner, and forbade not innocent pleasures and performances, which that self-righteous humbug, the Pharisee, who was withered with His holy scorn, considered sin. There is great and noble work to be done for humanity, and great and noble women are doing it. But, while there are drunkards to reclaim, while there are the fallen to be raised, the Magdalen to be brought to repentance and a thousand other blessed works of charity to be done; while a thousand forms of oppression and vice that bring heavy harvests of human misery, are to be overthrown, one might not inaptly inquire if it is not a woful dissipation of energy to pause one moment in so holy a work, to smother the smoke of the emasculate cigarette.

THE MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

Protracted Meetings of the Cabinet Held Almost Daily.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Protracted meetings of the Cabinet are being held, and considerable curiosity has been manifested as to the reason for this extraordinary activity. The fact that past engagements at Quebec and prospective ones at Washington have occupied and will occupy the time of leading members of the Government makes it necessary for the Ministers to take every advantage of the interval between the adjournment and reassembling of the International Conference. It is believed that questions of general policy are being considered in anticipation of the meeting of Parliament. The Cabinet remained in session until midnight, and met again yesterday morning, continuing with brief adjournments at 1 and 6 o'clock until late last night. Speculation has been indulged in as to the probable date of the meeting of Parliament, and the prophecy has been made that not before the ides of March will the legislators be summoned to the capital. The belief that the session will be deferred until springtime is based upon the assumption that the bye-elections and the conference will not be disposed of sufficiently early to permit of a winter session. It is too soon to even approximate the period at which the session will open, because everything depends upon the duration of the conference at Washington. It may be that the questions still pending between the commissioners will be expeditiously resolved, and, if so, there will be nothing to prevent the assembling of Parliament in February, which is the most convenient time for the members to come to Ottawa.

Thinning Apples.

Most of the early apples are abundant bearers and are apt to be small. Those that are sweet are not good for much until ripe, but Early Harvest and the Twenty Ounce apple will bear picking when two-thirds grown and make excellent pies. If this is done in all parts of the tree, plucking a few apples where they are fullest on the bough, it will make what apples remain much larger and better, besides supplying early apples for household use, says an exchange.

AN EPILEPTIC SUFFERER.

A PENELON FARMER TELLS OF HIS REMARKABLE CURE.

At Regular Intervals he was Subject to Fits and Doctors Told Him that the Trouble was Incurable—Now Free From the Malady.

From the Warder, Lindsay, Ont.

Mr. Robert McGee of the 9th concession of Fenelon, Victoria county, says in speaking of his cure from this terrible malady: "I am 35 years of age and live on the old homestead where I was born and have lived always since, and where my own little family was born. This part of Fenelon is known as McGee's Settlement, there are so many of that name living in the vicinity. Never in my life did I know what a day's sickness was until March, 1895, when without any known cause and without any warning I was stricken down with an epileptic fit. It came on in the night, causing great consternation in the household, as my wife who never saw anything of the kind before, thought that it was my end. As for myself I neither felt nor knew anything that was going on about me. After coming out of the convulsion, which they tell me usually lasted from fifteen to thirty minutes, I would fall into a heavy sleep from which I would awaken with a dull heavy feeling, and all the muscles of my body would be sore. This would pass away and in a day or two after the attack I would be able to attend to my work, but strange to say every four months after as regular as a clock I would be seized with a fit, which always came on in the night. Various doctors and specialists were consulted and I took several different medicines, but without effecting a cure. Several doctors said the disease was incurable. I read of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in the newspapers and was advised by friends who had experienced cures from other seemingly incurable ailments, to try them. In November 1896 I commenced and kept on taking them regularly for a year. The dreaded period passed and passed again and again without a repitition of my trouble, and I felt that I was at last released from this terrible malady. I am now in the best of health, and I attribute my cure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In conversation with Mrs. McGee she said that her husband's trouble was the cause of most seriously affecting her nerves and general health, as she was always living in dread and could never enjoy a night's rest. The slightest noise would startle her, and if it had not been for the kindness of a neighbour who always came and stayed at the house over night, she believes she would have broken down altogether. She also is thankful for the great change that has been wrought and is only too glad to let others with similar afflictions know that there is a remedy for this terrible disease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trademark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. If your dealer does not keep them they will be sent postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Hang Next Month.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Elzear Mann, who killed his mother-in-law, and then fired at his wife, was found guilty yesterday forenoon of murder, and was soon after sentenced to be hanged on Dec. 16. Judge Wurtele, who presided, told the prisoner that he had little hope of Executive clemency, and should prepare to meet his Maker. Mann took things very coolly, and thanked the Judge after the death sentence had been pronounced. Mrs. Mann, upon being asked if she would sign a petition to save her husband's life, said that the law had better take its course. The execution of Milloy for murder at Longue Point in 1883 was the last to take place in Montreal.

PULPIT AND PEW.

The Metropolitan tabernacle still keeps its unique position as possessing the largest congregation of any Baptist place of worship in England.

A certain Episcopal clergyman is in favor of compelling all clergymen of the church to say the morning and evening service daily, because it would improve the vocal utterance of the ministers.

The town in England best provided with places of worship is the ancient one of Rochdale, where there are 145 churches and chapels. Fifty belong to the church of England and 95 to the Nonconformists.

Professor Agar Beet, a distinguished theologian of the English Wesleyan Methodist church, recently wrote a book in which it is asserted that the souls of the wicked are annihilated at death. His church has made him promise not to teach or preach the doctrine.

Bloomfield, Ont., Nov. 5.—The Rogers case was resumed yesterday morning before D. S. Hubbs, J.P., of this place, J. Roland Brown, Crown Attorney of Picton for the Crown, and E. M. Young of the same place for the prisoner. The first witness called was Chief Jamieson of Picton, to whom James Rogers, father of the deceased girl Mary, had applied for assistance in finding his daughter, whom he suspected had gone away with her brother-in-law, George Authouse, and was likely to be in Winnipeg.

The second witness called was Mr. Rogers, father of the deceased girl. His evidence favored the prisoner. He was under examination until court adjourned for noon.

The case was resumed again at 2 p.m. The first witness called was Ellen Rogers, mother of deceased. She gave conflicting evidence and was examined for three hours, after which Mrs. Terry, sister of deceased, and Albert Rogers, brother of same, were examined, both testifying strongly against the prisoner. The case was adjourned until next Wednesday, Nov. 9, leaving yet five or six witnesses to be examined.

The Very Proteus of all Diseases

IT IS COMMONLY KNOWN AS GRIPPE.

Paine's Celery Compound the Only Medicine that Can Cope With the Dread Visitor.

The old enemy grippe is now prevalent in many sections of the land, and as in the past, is the same old insidious foe—cruel and deadly.

The late eminent English physician, Sir Morrell Mackenzie, held that grippe was the result of "poisoned nerves." Sir Morrell compared it to an extraordinary disturbance in the telegraphic system produced by a thunder storm, which is nothing compared with the freaks played by the living conductors in the human body when the governing centres are out of gear.

It is certain that the majority of medical men now agree about the theory of "poisoned nerves," which explains the almost infinite variety of the attacks that mark the disease. The profound impression made on the nervous system by the poison explains all the after effects of the malady, and more especially that curious loss of vital energy experienced by the victims of grippe.

In past seasons when grippe was epidemic, the ablest and most thoughtful doctors prescribed Paine's Celery Compound a medicine that acts directly on the nerves of the body, cleansing them from all deadly poisons, toning and bracing up the entire system. In this way fresh vitality is quickly bestowed and sound health restored.

The mysterious visitor grippe may pass many of us this autumn and winter; we have, however, no guarantee that we shall be spared, so that it behooves all to be prepared for the arch enemy.

To those who are run down, weary, tired, sleepless, nervous, who have periodical headache and debility, we say, "Use Paine's Celery Compound to fortify the system for all emergencies." Physically strong men and women are not readily attacked by disease; the half-well and weakly mortals are the first victims. At this time precaution and prevention are all-important; the banishment of nervousness, sleeplessness, languidness, debility and headache should be first thoughts with old and young.

To safely guard against grippe and all other common diseases, Paine's Celery Compound is the one effective medicine—the only sure preventive of danger.

Do not be misled by dealers who attempt, for the sake of large profits, to substitute something they call just as good; where health is concerned there is no other medicine that can take the place of Paine's Celery Compound and give satisfaction to those who are anxiously desiring a new life.

DUPUY'S STATEMENT

At the Assembling of the French Deputies in Paris

THE CIVIL POWER SUPREME.

The Dreyfus Case Principally Occupies the Attention of the Chamber—M. Delcasse Postpones the Discussion of the Fashoda Affair—Foreign Policy of France—Declaration Discussed.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The Chamber of Deputies reopened yesterday with a crowded assembly, after its adjournment on Oct. 25, the day of the fall of the Cabinet presided over by M. Brisson. Amid great animation the new Premier, M. Dupuy, read the Ministerial declaration. He began by declaring the Cabinet fully recognized the difficulties and responsibilities of the task undertaken, and affirmed the supremacy of civil power as the fundamental principle of a Republican State, and expressed confidence in the army, which, he added, would faithfully respect the laws of the republic.

Continuing, M. Dupuy said: "We do not leave the national army a butt to the campaign of insult waged against it if we place it above the blind polemics which futilely seek to throw unjust responsibilities upon it. The army is still entitled to the solicitude and protection of the public powers, since it can only work usefully for the security of the country in quietude and silence. It is equally necessary that calmness attend the work of justice, and respect of our duty is to ensure the execution of its decisions, whatever they may be."

Continuing, the Premier said: "In the opinion of individuals this is the only safe means of calming the public mind, disturbed by an affair which cannot much longer cause anxiety to the republic.

"Other questions call for the attention and vigilance of a great people. The permanent interests of the nation at home and abroad, its greatness and prosperity, will be the predominating objects of our cares and efforts."

M. Dupuy then emphasized the imperative necessity of fulfilling the obligations of the exposition of 1900, and continued: "France must neglect nothing to maintain the position she has won by her loyalty, which was consecrated before the whole world by a precious alliance.

"The Government's foreign policy will be inspired by the interests of the country, and care will be taken that our efforts are only proportionate to the value of the objects at stake."

In conclusion, the Premier remarked that the Ministry would rely upon the support of a purely Republican majority, and he expressed the hope that it would give effect to the continuous policy of progress and reform.

After the budget was voted, the Premier then said the Chamber would be asked to deal with the various financial measures, including bills to foster agriculture.

The Ministerial declaration was applauded in both chambers, in the Chamber of Deputies and in the Senate.

In the Chamber of Deputies, M. Mirman, Socialist, opened a discussion upon the general policy of the Government. He complained of the excessive measures taken during the recent strike, of the reactionary tendency in the army and of the dismissal of pro-Dreyfus university professors.

M. Dupuy replied that the Government did not intend to introduce new laws, as those already existing sufficed to guarantee order and protected the army.

As to the Dreyfus case, the Premier added, light will be thrown upon it the day the court renders its decision, which will be enforced by the Government. The Chamber approved the Ministerial declaration by a vote of 429 to 64.

The Minister of Finance, M. Peytral, introduced the budget, and M. Delcasse, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, replying to demands for the discussion of the Fashoda question, said he was unable to fix a date for it, in view of the interests he had to safeguard, but the Minister hoped to arrange an early date for its discussion.

The Minister of Justice, M. Lebret, replying to a motion providing that all revision cases be submitted to the whole Court of Cassation, instead of to particular departments, said it was impossible to alter the procedure already started in the Dreyfus case.

The House then adjourned.

NO COUNTER PROPOSAL.

Though Spain Has Refused the U. S. Propositions.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The joint session of the Peace Commissions yesterday lasted two hours. The Spaniards refused the propositions made by the Americans on Monday last, but the negotiations were not broken off. While it is believed that no formal counter proposition was made, there was a discussion of the Philippine question outside the lines of the American propositions. The commissions then adjourned until Tuesday next.

The Temps says: "The claims of the United States on the Philippine Islands are looked upon with disfavor at St. Petersburg. The powers might, in case of America proving too obstinate on this point, be provoked to protest."

Your Money or Your Life.

The Evenement remarks: "Your money or your life," is the attitude taken by America in regard to Spain. The latter, having no money, offers Port Rico and the abandonment of Cuba, and thinks she has thus discharged her ransom.

"Pardon me," answered Jonathan. "You yet have the Philippine Islands, which are only an encumbrance to you. I will relieve you of them. Why? Because, with Funstons, I have the strongest reasons for so doing."

Hard Words These.

Madrid, Nov. 5.—The Imparcial yesterday, commenting upon the peace negotiations now in progress in Paris, says: "If the United States had shown in the protocol their intention to keep the Philippine Islands the matter would not have taken the course it did. Spain has never considered the Philippines as lost, nor has she desired their loss. On the contrary, her intentions were shown by her facing the anger of Germany on the question of the Caroline Islands." In conclusion the Imparcial remarks: "America by her conduct has lost her place among civilized peoples, and henceforth will only count as the most numerous and opulent of hordes."

KANG YI HAS THE PULL.

He Is Bitterly Anti-Foreign and Hopelessly Non-Progressive.

Pekin, Nov. 5.—In spite of the formal promises of the Tsung Li Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office), there is every indication of a concerted move of Chinese troops in the neighborhood of the capital.

It is said that Kang Yi, the high Manchu official who was next in rank to the late Prince Koung in the Kioun Ki Tchou, or Council of State, has obtained great influence over the Dowager Empress. He is bitterly anti-foreign, and hopelessly conservative. It is probable that Kang Yi was the suggester of the edict re-establishing the bow and arrow exercise by the Chinese soldiers.

It is reported that Yuan Shek Hai, the Chinese general in command of the foreign drilled troops at Tien Tsin, and an officer whose power is much dreaded by the Dowager Empress and her advisers, has received a grant of money, ostensibly for the purpose of increasing the strength of his division to thirty thousand men, "if time shows that the Dowager Empress can rely upon his fidelity."

It has been said that Yuan Shek Hai might use his troops in conformity with the views of the foreign Ministers at Pekin.

Her View of Evolution.

When the late Professor Henry Drummond was giving a course of lectures on "Evolution" in the Lowell Institute, he overheard two women, evidently much opposed to his views, discussing them. One of them said, "Mary, if what he says is not true, we can stand it, but if it is true we must hush it up."

TERRIBLE EFFECTS OF FAMINE.

Nerve-Agony Consequent on a Dearth of Rich Blood.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Only Remedy—They Supply the Want by Ensuring Rich Blood, Thus Curing Nervous Headache.

Nervous Headache is not a disease. It is a symptom or indication of the disease. It is a sign that the nerves are ill; that they are starving for food.

The food upon which the nerves subsist is pure, rich blood.

Pure, rich blood is made from wholesome food, thoroughly digested.

The food is digested by the stomach, with the aid of the digestive organs.

When the stomach is out of order, weak or overworked, it cannot do its work properly. The food is then only partially digested.

Rich, pure blood cannot be made from partially digested food. Such food makes thin, watery, weak and unhealthy blood.

On blood like this the nerves grow weak and starved. The result is Nervous Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc.

There is a cure—simple, easy and rapid, but effective, perfect and permanent. It is prepared by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a purgative medicine, although they have a gently stimulating effect on the bowels. Their action, chiefly, is on the food, and the stomach. They digest the food, and they tone, strengthen and stimulate the stomach.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets simply ensure a perfect digestion. In this way they provide a supply of pure, rich blood for nerve food. In this manner they banish Nervous Headache, and all other nerve troubles originating digestive derangements.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets never fail. Their action is effective; their results positive and permanent. Try a box and rid yourself of that terrible nervous headache.

An Object Lesson for Housekeepers.

Raisins and currants before and after cleaning is strikingly contrasted in Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co.'s north store window. It is a palpable hit and is leaving its impress on the minds of thoughtful housekeepers. The window shows raisins and currants as received in the original package and as usually sold to customers; it also shows the cleaned fruit and a sample of the dirt extracted in the process of cleaning. One of the strongest points in favour of Mr. Mason's cleaned fruit is that it is sold at the same price as the uncleaned fruit is sold for elsewhere. You don't have to pay for the dirt; you don't have the trouble of cleaning. This fruit is put up in 1-lb. and 2-lb. boxes and sold as the "Crescent" brand. Increased sales make up for the cleaning and loss of bulk in removing the dirt and stems. Be sure and ask for the "Crescent" brand when you want cleaned raisins and currants. dtf

I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Henry Clay & Co.," "La Esperanza," "Manuel Garcia," "Diaz Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue label. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "E. B. R. C.P.R. AND TOWN COME TO TERMS

Regarding Settlement of Claims for Damages.

THE CLOSING OF WOLFE STREET.

Claims of Property Holders to be Jointly Met by the Railway and the Town—Valuators Will be Appointed.

The vexed question of the settlement of claims for damages to private property by the closing of a portion of Wolfe street for the C.P.R. appears at last to be in a fair way for settlement, after hanging fire for thirteen years.

Yesterday afternoon Supt. Leonard, of the C.P.R. was in town and for several hours conferred with a number of the town councillors. No settlement, however, was arrived at and the council met again at night in Committee of the Whole, when the old question was disentangled from that of putting in a siding for the Matthews Co., and the former, as stated, put in a position for final settlement.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. McWilliams urged that the C.P.R. purchase the lots, which were claimed to be injured, and thus amicably settle the matter.

Mr. Leonard claimed that he had bought the right for the C.P.R. once and did not propose to do it again. The lots in question were only good for manufacturing purposes and ought to be acquired for such purpose by the town.

Mr. McWilliams thought it would be a good thing if the C.P.R. erected a cold storage warehouse on the site.

Mr. Leonard acknowledged that the lots were well suited for the purpose but said that the C.P.R. had too many irons in the fire already.

THE MAYOR EXPLAINED

that the difficulty in arranging the question of who should settle the damages existed in the fact that affairs had been much complicated by certain agreements which a former mayor had entered into without authority from the council. The gist of the matter was that the town had been placed in such a position that the siding into the Canadian General Electric Works had to be purchased from the C. P. R. In the consideration which was given for the property was the deeding of the north half of lot 11 to the C.P.R. and the closing of Wolfe street. The agreement on the part of the town had never been fulfilled.

Mr. Best rose to claim that the councillors had not been summoned to discuss this old matter, but for the purpose of deciding what could be done about putting a siding in for the Matthews Co. The C. P. R. was acting in a strange manner in connection with this siding, as without getting the town's permission they had begun work on it, and unless stopped would have it completed in 24 hours. This work would have to be stopped until such time as the C. P. R. settled with the property holders who claimed to have had their lots damaged.

Mr. Leonard claimed that these questions were involved one with the other.

Mr. Best did not see things that way. He pointed out that in every deal the C. P. R. had with the town, the railway company had got

THE BEST OF IT.

When the Edison works were coming here the railways verbally agreed to do everything to assist the project but after the agreement had been entered into with the company, the railways "soaked" the town, the C. P. R. refusing to let the G.T.R. cross its tracks unless it was given certain concessions, one of which was the closing of Wolfe street. When the demand was made in such a manner, the speaker thought that the town was excusable in backing out of the bargain if it could.

The Mayor urged that some settlement be reached, as already he had been served by a letter from the Chamberlain estate, objecting to the Matthew's Co. switch being put in.

Mr. Leonard stated that the C.P.R. was so disgusted with the evasions of its contracts by the town that they had resolved to have nothing more to do with it or its streets, but that it had been represented to him that an amicable settlement could easily be reached now. This accounted for his presence.

Mr. T. F. Matthews was astonished to find that the Chamberlain estate was offering objections. He had seen Mr. Winch and thought he was satisfied. There had been no kick until work had commenced.

Mr. McWilliams suggested that the whole matter be

REFERRED TO ARBITRATORS.

Mr. Matthews was satisfied to pay his fair share of the damages but did not desire to purchase the lots.

Mr. Best claimed that the town was not entitled to pay anything towards the damages. Consent to the building of the siding had been given on the condition that the C.P.R and Matthews Co. first settled the matter with the property owners.

Mr. Matthews stated that as his company was afforded the convenience and the C.P.R. the revenue, both, he thought, would be willing to bear their fair share of the cost of the damages. But he could not see how the property was damaged to any extent.

Mr. Leonard pointed out that the lots were only valuable for manufacturing sites and the siding was therefore a benefit to them.

Mr. Peck, in behalf of the Chamberlain estate, placed a value of $900 on lot No. 1 south of Wolfe street and just west of George.

Mr. McWilliams thought a settlement could be reached by the C. P. R. or Matthews Co. purchasing Lot 2 and fifty feet off Lot 1. Valuators could be appointed.

Mr. Matthews said the town should do something towards bearing the expense. During the past year his company had paid out and purchased hogs to the extent of $500,000. Next year over a million dollars worth of hogs would be bought. This turnover must mean a good deal for the town.

Mr. Leonard stated that the C. P.R. was willing to stand by its agreement of last year, which had been accepted by the town, but never signed. By this the C. P. R. and the town were each to bear their half of the damages in connection with the siding. This matter could be settled between the Matthews Co. and the C.P.R.

The meeting was then adjourned until the evening.

In the interval between the afternoon and evening sitting of the conference the Chief of Police notified the workmen to cease work on the siding till such time as an arrangement in regard to the matter under discussion had been arrived at.

At night Messrs. Laplante, Green and Flesher, the property owners affected by the closing of Wolfe street, were in attendance, as were Mr. Leonard and Mr. Bamford, of the C.P.R. The council went into committee of the whole with Councillor Denne in the chair, the other members present being Mayor Davis, and Messrs. Best, Robertson, Harper, Hamilton, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams, Meldrum and Langford.

Mr. M. T. Laplante complained that the C.P.R. had acted very indifferently in respect to the property owners. The railway had actually almost completed a new siding into the Matthews Co. without even saying "by your leave." The town had told the C.P.R. that Wolfe street would be closed for them, but as the would damage the speaker's property, he had quashed the bylaw, therefore the town was not in a position to carry out its bargain with the C.P.R., and the railway should settle with the property owners.

Mayor Davis thought that even if the bylaw closing the street for the C.P.R., according to agreement, had been quashed, yet this did not discharge the town's moral obligation to live up to its bargain. The question should be settled now, once and for all.

Mayor Davis stated that when the C.P. R. was erecting its buildings in Peterborough the station was to be on the south side of the track and the freight shed on this side. The council had thought that if the freight shed was on this side it would be an eye-sore and had asked the C.P.R. to reverse the positions of the buildings. The officers pointed out that there was not room on the south side for a freight shed, but the town had promised to close Wolfe street and make room in this manner. The C.P.R. then agreed to the proposition and erected the buildings, but when the town passed a bylaw closing the street Mr. Laplante had quashed it. The freight shed was still left there, however. Then came the Edison Works, and the town purchased a siding leading into them from the C.P.R., giving the railway the north half of Lot 11, for cattle yards, and $1,400 in cash, as well as agreeing again to close Wolfe street. The cheque for but the rest of the bargain had never been carried out. Then last year Mr. Leonard came down and offered to meet the town half way, paying half of the cost entailed in closing Wolfe street. The council agreed to this. An agreement was drawn up but nothing further was done in the matter. The question had dragged along for thirteen years and ought to be settled in some way now.

Mr. John Green, one of the property owners, claimed that there was no use in appointing arbitrators until it was seen that terms could not be reached between the parties interested. He had never been approached in any manner by the C.P.R. in reference to the purchase of his lot. The property was totally damaged and was useless in its present condition. He would sell it but would not accept a sum in lieu of damages.

Mr. Harper, another of the property owners, was willing to leave the question to valuators.

Mr. Green refused to put a price on his lot, asking for an offer to be made.

The mayor urged that an effort be made to settle the matter, and asked for a figure stating that the Chamberlain estate damages had been settled during the early part of the evening.

Mr. Denne pointed out that Mr. Green had already threatened a law suit if the town did not settle and yet when the opportunity to settle had arrived

HE HELD OFF.

Mr. Langford thought that the C.P.R. had used the town shamefully forcing it into an agreement with the pistol at its head. The town could not be blamed if it wanted to back out now. The town should not be called on to pay any of the damages, but as a party interested in settling the matter should know the figure at which Mr. Green held his lot. The latter should not hold out for big money but should give his figure like a man.

Mr. Leonard stated that all the C.P.R. was asking now was for the town to live up to its bargain and close Wolfe street as agreed.

Mr. Dawson—"But the bylaw closing the street was quashed."

Mr. Leonard—"That isn't our fault; if it had been properly drawn it would not have been quashed.

It was moved by Councillors McWilliams and Meldrum:

"That with a view of arriving at a final settlement of the difficulty with the Canadian Pacific Railway with regard to the closing of Wolfe street, be it resolved: In case an amicable settlement between the C.P.R. and the owners of Lot No. 2, west of George and south of Wolfe street, cannot be made, we would recommend that three valuators be appointed to make a valuation of said property; that the company appoint one valuator, the property owners a valuator, and the town appoint Mr. James J. Lundy as the third valuator. This decision to be final."

Carried.

THE MAYOR PROPOSED

that the following resolution be passed:

"That as soon as the C. P. R. or the Matthews Co. had settled with the property owners for the new Matthews Co. siding then the town will be prepared to carry out the agreement made last year."

Mr. Leonard was not prepared to abide by the terms of this resolution. He wished to know whether the town was prepared to carry out the agreement of last year irrespective of the siding. The siding might be put in some other way.

An expression of opinion was then taken as to the wish of the council regarding the carrying out of the agreement of last year, which as amended, reads as follows:

"The town will convey, or procure to be conveyed, to the C.P.R., by a sufficient deed in fee simple, the north half of lot 11, west of George street and east of Rink street, free from all encumbrances.

"The portions of Wolfe street shown coloured pink on the map hereinto annexed, shall be closed up and conveyed by the town to the C.P.R.

"The C.P.R. agree to open and maintain a roadway for the use of the public from Wolfe street on the west side of the creek to George street, across the Company's property, such roadway to be 40 feet in width, as shown in green on the plan annexed. The corporation not to assume any liability in respect of such roadway. This roadway to be in lieu of that portion of Wolfe street, across which the tracks of the C. P. R. are laid, which portion is to be wholly closed, as shown in pink on said plan.

"The town and the C.P.R. shall bear and pay in equal proportions, the compensation (if any) to which the owners of the lands opposite the closed portions of Wolfe street may be entitled for lands injuriously affected by such closing.

"This agreement is made subject to the approval, as far as may be necessary, of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council of Canada, and the town and the C.P.R. will concur in a joint application to the said committee for any order that may be necessary in the premises, in order to enable the parties hereto to carry out the purpose of this agreement, in respect of the matters aforesaid."

Those in favour of carrying out these terms as agreed on were: The Mayor and Councillors Denne, Hamilton, McWilliams, Cobb, Meldrum and Langford—7.

Nays—Councillors Robertson, Best and Dawson—3.

The committee then adjourned.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1898.

STAND BY THE TOWN.

Co-operation is a characteristic of proper human conditions. No one can be independent; we all live each by the help of the other. Since, therefore, co-operation is a condition of prosperity, the more widely it is applied the greater the resulting benefits.

This suggests the plain duty of every citizen doing all he can to help his fellow-citizen; and at the risk of becoming tedious we would again insist upon the duty of our citizens patronising home merchants and employers of home labour. If a man makes money by the help of fellow citizens, he should in all fairness expend the money among those who help to make it. Apart from the self-evident honesty of such a practice is the profit. The more money he leaves with his neighbours the more they will, in turn, have to leave with him.

In last Saturday's issue we made a reference to the benefits mentioned by a Toronto paper as resulting from the money brought into Toronto from outside places (of course including Peterborough) through the mail-order department of the big stores. This means that the money that should have been left with local merchants went to build up Toronto, a process that directly impoverished the local contributors to Toronto's prosperity.

The idea that exists amongst a certain class that better goods at lower prices can be obtained in the big city shops, is a delusion, pure and simple. Why should a Toronto merchant sell goods of the same quality more cheaply than a Peterborough merchant? Both have access to the same foreign market, and the local merchant knows as much about buying as the city merchant, for the latter is only human, and not endowed with any greater or supernatural business brains or shrewdness than his Peterborough competitor. The local man, besides, carries on his business at less expense, and can therefore sell as good goods just as cheaply, or better goods all round more cheaply. The so-called bargains that the city stores throw out—sprats to catch whales—are another delusion.

We have before given instances of this. Another will do no harm. A newly-married Peterborough couple when they furnished their new nest, lovally purchased the necessary furniture at home, though the good wife, being of the sex that dearly loves a bargain, had her loyalty to the town somewhat disturbed by the idea that she could have got better value at a city departmental store. They took advantage of a run to the city to see some friends, to visit the departmental store in question. The bargain hunting bride found that in the matter of common chairs, something that everybody knows the price of the departmental store's "leaders," were a trifle cheaper than they were sold in the regular way at the local dealer's warerooms. But on pricing a bed room suite, "exactly like ours, John, that we bought at home," the figure proved to be several dollars dearer than the suite purchased from the local dealer without freight charges. And so it goes through all the gamut of commercial articles. When, to the usually higher price in a city store are added freight, and the guilty consciousness of having not only wasted money, but also of having defrauded a local merchant of his right, according to the law of the golden rule, to the advantage of selling the article or articles similar to that, and probably better than that, purchased in the city, the bargain becomes, as Shakespere says, "a horse of another colour."

It may be thought that a good deal of fuss is being made over a very limited amount of the unfair practice we hereby condemn. But it is carried on to a great extent. Former citizens of Peterborough who now live in the city can bear testimony to the degree to which Peterborough citizens are guilty. Almost every day in the week persons from town can be seen going into the departmental stores and making purchases which should be made, and made to better advantage, at home. When town ladies form syndicates for the purpose of sending for a supply of certain articles of common need to them, and send a big order to the city, it would seem that the practice has been very much systematized.

What, then, do our citizens accomplish by patronizing city stores?

They build up the city at the expense of Peterborough.

They commit the commercial crime of robbing the local merchants by a breach of the law of commercial co-operation—that we should spend our money with those who help us make our own.

They have the knowledge that in nine cases out of ten they are punished in part by paying more money for no better, and often inferior goods.

They lose the pleasure of "blowing up" the local merchant if the purchase should, by any chance, prove unsatisfactory, and also the pleasure of having a mistake of this kind rectified.

They are self condemned, for no one guilty of the practice has ever had the courage to defend it.

Let those who have sinned in the direction discussed, think the matter over honestly and if they are inclined to do the fair thing, turn over a new leaf and

Stand by the town.

SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

A Sewer to be Constructed on Gilmour Street—Aylmer Street and Stewart Street Sewers Unsatisfactory.

At a meeting of the Sewerage Committee last evening a petition was received from R. S. Davidson and a number of others for the extension of the sewer along Gilmour street from Park street to the westerly limit of Lot 11, Plan 78

The engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the same.

On motion it was resolved—"That the contractors for the Aylmer street and Stewart street sewers be notified that these sewers are in a very unsatisfactory condition and request them to do the work necessary to put them in a proper condition."—Carried.

HOME DRESSMAKING

How the Whole Family can Dress Well at Small Cost.

No Need of Looking Shabby Even Though Times are Hard—Easy to Make Old Gowns and Suits Look Like New When One Knows How.

It is astonishing how much can be made from seemingly useless garments by the woman that knows how. The old faded gown that is out of style can be readily dyed with Diamond Dyes to a fashionable colour and then made over so that it will look quite as well as new. Suits for the boys can be made from old ones discarded by the father, and a bath in the wonder-working Diamond Dyes will make them look like new. Dresses and cloaks for the little girls can be made with but little trouble and scarcely any expense from cast off garments of the older folks, and when the colour is changed with Diamond Dyes the made-overs will look as though they were fresh from the dressmaker.

Diamond Dyes are made especially for home use, and the plain directions on each package make it impossible for even the most inexperienced to have poor luck with these dyes. They colour anything, from ribbons, feathers and scarfs to heavy coats, jackets and gowns, and make colours that are fast to sun and washing—colours even handsomer than those made by the professional dyer.

VISITORS TO THE VICTORIA MUSEUM.

The Apartments Crowded During the Week.

NOW CLOSED FOR THE WINTER.

Many Express a Desire to Further Increase the Valuable Collection which the Society now Has on Exhibition.

The Victoria Museum was thrown open to the public during the week, and no greater compliment to the management could have been paid than the interest which has been awakened in Peterborough by their efforts. Every afternoon from two until five the rooms at Inverlea were crowded and each day the interest increased, as evidenced by steadily growing crowds of citizens, who took advantage of the opportunity of examining the many curios which the Town and County Historical Society has collected. Many who were not aware of the Society's object in forming the museum or of the arrangements which had been made for receiving and protecting contributions and loans have been enlightened during the week, and it is safe to predict that on the re-opening of the museum in the spring every nook and corner will be filled, many expressing their desire to aid the society in its effort to preserve historical relics of the county as well as contribute anything of a sufficiently interesting nature to be ranked as a curio.

During the week Mrs. W. J. Sime, after a visit to the museum, loaned a valuable collection of Indian relics, which are very highly prized.

Amongst the visitors during the week many omitted registering their names, which ist be regretted. Those whose signatures are inscribed on the register are:—

Why Continue Suffering?—Nature Holds Out Her Arms to Help You—Clarke's Kola Compound Has Successfully Coped with this Dread Disease and Cured to Stay Cured

In the Kola plant—a medicinal botanical product discovered in Africa—has been found the mecca for asthma patients. Clarke's Kola Compound has had most successful tests in the leading hospitals of England and the United States and Canada. In three years in the Dominion alone five hundred testimonials have been received. Wm. Brown of 309 Bernard street, Vancouver, B.C., says:—"I have been a great sufferer from asthma for four years. For four months I could not work a day. I lost my appetite and lost 40 pounds in weight. Physicians told me to leave the country or I could not live. Just about this time I procured a bottle of Clarke's Kola Compound and in one week I was back to work. I have taken the treatment two months and I am a cured man." Sold by Ormond & Walsh at two dollars per bottle; three bottles, with cure guaranteed, for five dollars. Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, Ontario.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

BRITAIN ORDERS U. S. SPIRITS.

The Stuff to Be Delivered at Montreal for Use in Powder Making.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The British Government has closed a contract here for the immediate delivery of 125,000 gallons of distilled spirits at Montreal. An intimation was also given that about 450,000 more gallons would in all likelihood be ordered within about 10 days. This order of 125,000 gallons amounts to nearly 3,000 barrels and will require over sixty cars for its transportation into Canada. The use of the distilled spirits thus ordered will be in the manufacture of smokeless powder, of which distilled spirits is one of the ingredients.

Found Dead on the Track.

Newbury, Ont., Nov. 4.—The sectionmen on the G.T.R. here were going over the line, two and a half miles west of Newbury yesterday, and found the body of an unknown man, who had evidently been walking on the track during the night and was struck by a train. From papers found on the body he is evidently Albert McKenzey of Hook Glen, N.Y.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

An Astute Astronomer.

Cassini, an Italian by birth, was the best known of the astronomers of the Paris observatory when founded by Louis XIV, and, in consequence, posterity has very generally supposed he was the director. That he failed to be such was not from any want of astuteness, says Professor Simon Newcomb in The Atlantic. It is related that the monarch once visited the observatory to see a newly discovered comet through the telescope. He inquired in what direction the comet was going to move. This was a question it was impossible to answer at the moment, because both observations and computations would be necessary before the orbit could be worked out. But Cassini reflected that the king would not look at the comet again and would very soon forget what he had told him. He therefore described its future path in the heavens, quite at random, and with entire confidence that any deviation of the actual motion from his prediction would never be noted by his royal patron.

We offer a reward of $1,000, to be devoted to any charitable institution if any druggist or doctor can find the least trace of that deadly drug cocaine contained in Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." A Bird's Nest of Steel.

In the natural history museum at Soleure, in Switzerland, may be seen a bird's nest made wholly of steel wire. There is at Soleure a considerable number of watchmakers, and in their yards are pieces of cast off or broken watch springs. This debris a bird thought proper to use for the construction of its nest. One day a watchmaker observed in a tree in his yard a very queer looking nest. He examined it closely and saw that it had been made entirely out of watch springs. It was more than a decimeter (two-fifths of an inch) wide and was perfectly adapted to its object. When the brood had been raised, the nest was taken down and given to the museum, where it is a striking example of the adaptiveness of birds in taking advantage of circumstances in building their nests.—Cosmos.

ENCOURAGED IN HIS MUSIC.

The Hardworking Amateur Sent to the Barn and Finds Appreciation.

"I'll tell you of the only encouragement I ever received since I began to play the violin, and that's many years," said a hardworking amateur the other night as he stretched his neck toward his music stand to make out a difficult movement which he was trying to play.

"Let's hear it," said his friend, for it was a blessing to have him stop playing.

"Well, it was this way: I was spending my vacation at my music teacher's house in the Adirondacks. One day after practicing some hours on the same piece that you heard me playing now my teacher came to my room and suggested that there was a nice place to practice in the barn, and by doing so I would oblige her and her mother, who was sick in the adjacent room. Well, of course, I felt somewhat hurt, but was not going to lose my daily practice and went to the barn. I got into the hayloft and began to play. In about half an hour I was surrounded by rats that squealed and cut up all sorts of capers. I often heard of animals being charmed by music, but nothing could make me believe it until now.

"Well, do you know, I never was as happy in my life, to think that all my time was not wasted in trying to be a musician? I always like rats since then, and I was tempted to trap my barn audience for future use. I was pleased to see that I had at last charmed some one with my music. I felt like catching them all and bringing them home for future encouragement."—New York Tribune.

Tragedy in the Church.

The Baltimore News says that not long ago an Episcopal bishop was a guest at a dinner party in Baltimore. "By the way," said one of the guests, a woman, "do you know that there are times when it is dangerous to enter an Episcopal church?"

"What is that, madam?" said the bishop, with great dignity, straightening himself up in his chair.

"I say there are times when it is positively dangerous to enter the church," she replied.

"That cannot be," said the bishop. "Pray explain, madam?"

"Why," said she, "it is when there is a canon in the reading desk, a big gun in the pulpit, when the bishop is charging his clergy, the choir is murdering the anthem and the organist is trying to drown the choir."

A hearty laugh went the round of the table at the bishop's expense, and he acknowledged that at such a time he could well imagine it disagreeable at least if not dangerous to be present.

Dear Belva.

Perhaps this story of Mrs. Belva Lockwood is true, and perhaps it isn't, remarks the Binghamton Herald. One day while traveling on the Erie road she was calmly watching the landscape when a trainman with a high tenor voice opened the door and piped out, "Belvidere!"

As Mrs. Lockwood was the only woman in the car, she rose to the occasion and demanded that the men present thrash the trainman for the offered insult. It took a good bit of eloquence to convince her that it was the name of the station that the trainman had called.

British Schoolgirls Are Birched.

Corporal punishment exists as much in ladies' schools as in those for boys, only it is kept quieter. The girls know they deserve their punishment, so they take it with a good grace, dry their eyes, smooth their curls and don't let any one know, not even their parents, that they have had a taste of the rod. Some of those whining boys would do well to follow their example.—London Mail.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

CONSCIENCE AND THE LAW.

Queer Notions Most People Entertain as to Right and Wrong.

"A lawyer is the repository of more secrets than a priest or doctor," said a member of the fraternity while taking his ease at the club.

"Mostly rascally," suggested his listener.

"Well, yes," admitted the lawyer. "It is my experience that there never yet was a case where one side was wholly in the right and the other side wholly in the wrong. That is what makes it easy on a lawyer's conscience. You didn't think he had one? Come, give us something new. But what I was about to say was that very few people have a conscience."

"I thought everybody had one."

"Theoretically everybody has, but it is only used in judging other persons' acts. When a man is personally interested, he puts his conscience to one side. That's what makes work for the lawyers. Every term there are hundreds of cases tried in which one party knows he is entirely in the wrong, but hopes to get the better of his opponent by some slip of the law.

"The root of the trouble," he went on, "is that people have got their morals mixed. Nine-tenths of the people think that nothing is wrong unless the law says it is. If they should happen to land in a country where stealing was unknown and where of course there would be no laws against it, they would feel justified in stealing. Now, laws don't make crimes; crimes make laws. If there wasn't a law on the statute books, it would still be wrong to kill, steal, cheat or commit any other crime, but you can't get people to understand that. And mean, overbearing, tricky or wrong action that the law does not absolutely forbid they will do. The inherent sense of justice which is supposed to lurk in every man's breast is largely a myth."

"Why don't you preach that to your clients?" asked his friend.

"And lose all my clients? No, thank you," said the lawyer indignantly.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Versions of a Child's Prayer.

I lay me down to rest me.
I pray the Lord to bless me.
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take.

This hymn reminds one of Dr. Watts' well known "Evening Song," in which he says:

I lay my body down to sleep;
Let angels guard my head,
And through the hours of darkness keep
Their watch around my bed.

Possibly the doctor was acquainted with the child's hymn before he composed his song.—Notes and Queries.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THE AID OF

Catarrh Sufferers

SUCCESS in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from Catarrh; sometimes from Catarrh of the Stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from Catarrh somewhere, and Catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore Catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure Catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing Catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

TRICKS OF A PET CROW.

These He Played on His Neighbors Led to His Death.

Of all the pets I ever had, which were many, I never found one so knowing or so full of mischief as a pet crow which was given me when I was a girl of 12. When he came to me, he had been slightly wounded in one wing, which at first disabled him, but from which he soon fully recovered.

At first he occupied a cage made by nailing some slats across the open end of a small box, and this box always remained his headquarters. A handful of corn and a dish of water were his daily ration. When he became sufficiently tame to be trusted to go and come as he pleased, he undoubtedly foraged for such tidbits as crows are said to be fond of. Jim Crow, so named, never seemed to care for the society of other crows; otherwise it may have been that his black brethren did not care to associate with one cowardly enough to submit to captivity. At all events, they were never seen together. Jim's boon companion was a large house dog. When the dog was told to go after the cows, which were pastured at least a quarter of a mile away, Jim Crow always went with him, flying slowly a couple of feet above the dog's back and frequently riding homeward on the back of a cow. Some young men were at work at carpentry that summer on my father's barn who never tired of teaching Jim tricks, and they often declared, if Jim's tongue was only split, he could be taught to speak like a parrot.

Jim's powers of imitation were very amusing. If one bowed to him, he usually returned the compliment in a polite manner. At other times he would scratch in the earth and call like a hen who was scratching for a brood of chickens, imitating every motion as well as the hen's voice. I have seen him pick up pebbles and drop them in the bunghole of an empty barrel just for the report the pebbles made, and when he tired of this mischief he would put both legs into the bunghole and whirl round and round, as if his legs were an auger boring a hole, in imitation of the carpenters, who frequently had Jim as a spectator while working in this line of business. But Jim's proclivities for mischief brought him into disrepute with our own family as well as our neighbors. A washing spread out on the bleaching yard was sure to be visited by Jim, who would fly off to a mud puddle or the cow yard, and when his feet were fully saturated with filth he would walk over the clothes until his footprints resembled Egyptian hieroglyphics. This trick cost him his life, for he was undoubtedly shot by a neighbor.—Country Gentleman.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 50
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	186 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low-ering rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

When a young man asks a father for his daughter's hand in marriage, if the father is a wise one, he thinks of one thing equally as important as the young man's morals, social and business standing and intelligence. A young man who suffers from ill-health has no right to marry until his health is restored. To do so is to commit a crime against the human race. While all diseases may not be directly inherited, the constitutional tendency to acquire them is inherited. If a man is a consumptive, the chances are that his children will have weak, undersized lungs, and a predisposition to acquire the same disease.

The young man who suffers from bronchitis, weak lungs, spitting of blood or any disease of the air-passages which, if neglected leads up to consumption, may take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with almost absolute assurance of recovery. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases when taken in time. It soothes and heals the delicate and sensitive tissues of the air-passages and lungs, checks the cough, facilitates expectoration, drives out all impurities and disease germs from the tainted blood and builds new and healthy tissues.

Mr. John G. Born, of 4020 Liberty Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "Some thirty months ago I said to my wife, 'I don't want to keep anything from you, I must tell you I am in the last stage of consumption.' In December 1896 I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I could then only speak in whispers. I have taken thirteen bottles, and can say with truth I am greatly benefited. People are surprised to hear me speak. I can hallo, and my voice has not been as good in eight years. My stomach was never in better condition. Formerly I could not eat without suffering very much immediately after, but now I can eat anything."

LONG DISTANCE FIGHTING.

Impossible to Tell Infantry From Cavalry at Two Thousand Yards.

"Unless they have had experience," remarked an army officer, "people are very likely to have a very imperfect idea as to distances in army and field operations and as a result get things considerably mixed. When they read that armies are engaging with each other at 2,000 yards between them, they may think that they can see each other, but the reality is far different.

"At that distance, to the naked eye, a man or a horse does not look any larger than a speck. It is impossible to distinguish at that distance between a man and a horse, and at 800 yards less, 1,200 yards, especially where there is any dust, it requires the best kind of eyes to tell infantry from cavalry. At 900 yards the movements become clearer, though it is not until they get within 750 yards of each other that the heads of the columns can be made out with anything like certainty.

"Infantry can be seen in the sunlight much easier than the cavalry or artillery, for the reason that less dust is raised. Besides that, infantry can be distinguished by the glitter of their muskets. At 2,000 yards, however, everything is unsatisfactory, even with the aid of field glasses, for a marching column in dry weather raises a great deal of dust."—Washington Star.

INDIANS AS WAITERS.

They Don't Seem to Belong to the Obsequious Type.

"Apropos of Indians as waiters," said the social traveling man, "I dare say the students from Indian colleges will do first rate, but I have in mind a time when it was tried in Nebraska in a small town on the Missouri bottoms and in a way that was not altogether satisfactory to the guests who were waited on."

"Were you one of them?" asked the representative of a piano house.

"No, but I was at the little river tavern where it was tried. The girl waiters had all left for a new big hotel that was to be opened in the next town, and the landlord had to do the waiting himself, and then he thought of the Indians at the reservation and went and hired four of them. They didn't get around until breakfast was over the next day—an Indian doesn't have any idea of time—and then was only one man who hadn't eaten. He was a drummer for a New York clothing house and the biggest growler in 16 counties.

"'You take his order, Jim,' said the landlord to the man whom he had been drilling. 'Put this bill of fare under his nose, give him a glass of ice water, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul!'

"Indians are not as slow as they seem, and this was one of the wickedest bucks on the reservation. He managed to get the order all right and carried it in and served it, and then, towel on arm, he stood at the back of the guest's chair, as he had been instructed to do. But the drummer was ugly and swore a big round of oaths that he would have no Indian in his.

"At that the grim statue at his back whipped out a savage dirk from his store of accouterments, and, holding it over the head of the grumbling guest, he said, with consistent Indian brevity, accentuated by a Choctaw swear word, 'You eat!'

"And eat he did, flesh and fowl, not daring to move a muscle, while the arm of fate held the murderous looking knife within an inch of his visage, and it was not until he had eaten everything in sight that his dilemma was discovered, and he was rescued in a state verging on collapse.

"That particular guest was never again heard to complain, but the trial of Indians as waiters ended then and there, their methods being quite too original, or aboriginal, for practical application."—Chicago Times-Herald.

So much depends on the purity of the blood that by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla many different diseases are cured.

A True Caballero.

Well in the middle of the grounds stands General Anderson's headquarters. As we went up the steps a tall man, rather shabbily dressed, preceded us. We noticed his military bearing and were told that he was the captain of one of the Spanish men-of-war which lies with projecting spars at the bottom of Cavite harbor. Following his footsteps, we of necessity overheard what he said to the general's aid:

"Senor, I borrowed, some time ago, $200 from Admiral Dewey to pay off my men. I have come to repay the debt."

He turned his profile toward us, and we noticed how thin he looked. He must have starved himself to collect the money. With a very straight back, he counted out the Spanish bills and turned to go.

"Will you not take a receipt?" asked the aid of General Anderson.

"Never from an officer," answered the gray haired old gentleman, with a courtly old fashioned bow.

Here at least is a true Spanish caballero.—Harper's Weekly.

A Gorgeous King.

Luinaka, the king of Barotse Land, says a traveler, is held in great fear and respect by his people. His court has as much etiquette and ceremonial as that of Louis XIV. His band of musicians make both day and night hideous with their performances. The music is done to drive away evil spirits. Luinaka himself is an imposing spectacle.

The king wears a long blue dressing gown trimmed with red braid, trousers and shirt, and on his head a scarlet nightcap, and above it a black tarni hat.

His Idea of Luck.

A Poet's Trials.

The poet Rogers was rather unfortunate in his servants, one of whom, who had been a long time in his service, suddenly died. A kind hearted man called to condole with Rogers on his loss.

"Well," said Rogers after listening for some time, "I don't know that I feel his loss so very much after all. For the first seven years he was the most obliging servant, for the next seven years he was an agreeable companion, for the last seven years he was a tyrannical master."

On one occasion his favorite groom with whom he rode every day gave notice to leave. Rogers asked him his reason. "Nothing," replied the man, "but you are so dull in the buggy."

Knew Too Much.

"Do you know what conservatories are for, Willie?" asked his uncle.

"You bet I do!" replied the boy promptly, and then, turning to his sister, he asked, "Shall I tell them, Mamie?"

That being the first intimation she had had that he had been in or near the conservatory the evening before, naturally she blushed.—Chicago Post.

Dead Invited to the Banquet.

On the accession of a new emperor of China he goes in solemn state to the temple of Heaven, in Peking, and formally announces to his imperial predecessors the new titles and dignities which he has assumed. These ancestors are then dutifully invited to the banquet of commemoration, where seats are duly reserved for them.

"Well, no. For a woman, she has a remarkably straight aim," was the reply.

MRS. GEO. NASH CURED OF HEART TROUBLE.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.:
DEAR SIRS,—My heart bothered me terribly for the last year. In trying to lift anything or exerting myself even slightly, my heart would palpitate so violently that I had to sit down, and felt as if I would suffocate. I had frequent spells of dizziness and my sleep was broken and restless. Sharp pains would shoot through my heart frequently and make me catch my breath. I also had cold sensations running down my arms.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured me. As a result of taking them my heart has resumed its natural action, and I am not troubled with the fluttering or palpitation any more.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.:
GENTLEMEN,—For a number of years I have been greatly troubled with my heart. It was very weak and at times the fluttering was very distressing and caused me great anxiety. I started using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and praise God they have cured me. I wish I had known of them years ago, as they would have saved me so much suffering. I never fail to praise the Pills to my neighbors for the good they have done me.

Yours truly,
MRS. HENRY FOX.

MY COTTAGE DOOR.

My cottage home to me is fair;
The treasures of my heart are there—
My wife, my boy. Oh, what could be
Dearer on all this earth to me?

No sudden storms nor dismal glooms
Can drive the sunshine from our rooms;
Clouds do not linger in the skies
When love makes home a paradise.

Our hands in labor sweet have wrought
Adornment for this much loved spot,
And tree and shrub and climbing vine
Attest the skill of me and mine.

I sit me 'neath the waving boughs,
Where sweet bird lovers breathe their vows,
And watch the antics of my boy,
His merry glee my parent joy.

Ambition cannot find me here,
So hedged about by all that's dear.
Could envy here a refuge find
Or hate leave poison for the mind?

We know them not, my boy and I,
With the dear mother standing by,
Watching our sport with gentle smile,
Which tells where her heart is the while.

The wandering wind our minstrel is,
To sing of past and future bliss;
He tells of lonely hearts that ache
Who ne'er have lived for sweet love's sake.
—Housekeeper.

The Russian Artel.

An "artel" is a Russian institution, a kind of syndicate, in fact, among the workingmen of that country. A certain number of mechanics of all descriptions join together, forming gangs, and undertake such work as railway making, dock work, agricultural work and all kinds of skilled artisans' trades and then share the profits between them.

A Mean Remark.

Flossie (weeping)—I am so disappointed in him. I am sure he was tipsy last night. He threatened to kiss me.

In the eighteenth century Polish ladies obliged their daughters to wear little bells in order to proclaim where they were all the time.

In Peru it was once the custom for domestic servants to have two of their upper front teeth extracted. Their absence indicated their servitude.

It is a common Asiatic custom for the bridegroom to give chase to the bride either on foot, on horseback or in a canoe. If the bridegroom catches the fugitive, he claims her as his wife, otherwise the match is broken off.

—The Board of Management of the Y.W.C.A. will hold their monthly meeting on Monday afternoon next, Nov. 7th, at half past three o'clock.

Hall, Georgie Donaldson and Messrs. Rodgers, Crane, Dawson and others. Admission, 10 cents. 2d

The Geisha To-night.

Unlike many operas the Geisha has a story. Of course it is a very fragile story, as fragile as a delicate piece of Japanese porcelain. There is a nice young Lieutenant Fairfax of the English army who is in love with Miss Molly Seamore, and who, while in Japan, carries on a flirtation with O Mimosa San, the greatest Geisha in all Japan. Of course there is an awful muddle—we all know how things can get muddled in comic opera, and in real life for that matter, but, within real bounds, everything comes out straight in the end and Molly has her Reggie and Mimosa finds happiness with Kinkon, Lieutenant of the Imperial Japanese Artillery. The company is an exceptionally strong one. The costumes, scenery and effects a perfect thing of harmony. Opera House to-night, prices 25c., 75c., $1.00

HUNTING NOTES.

The LeBrun-Strickland Party Enjoying Themselves—Dickson Hall's First Deer.

Mr. H. LeBrun came in from camp last evening and reports two fine bucks being secured by the LeBrun-Strickland party. The hunters are enjoying the exceptionally fine weather, and this particular party is having a thoroughly good time. Mr. Harry Strickland keeps the larder well equipped with ducks, and but for the inopportune beating of a fifth of November drum, Mr. Geo. Hatton would have brought in a fine buck yesterday. He had just drawn a bead on him when a settler struck up "The Protestant Boys" and the buck took to the woods. Mr. Hatton, however, says he won't come home till he bags his deer, and as the party remain out all next week, his chances are good.

Two fine runs were participated in yesterday, and a buck would have been cornered, but for a certain member of the party leaving his watch to examine the rock with the object of ascertaining if it would do for street grading purposes.

Partridge are found to be plentiful.

Word comes in from the Gold Lake Hunt Club that their first deer fell before the rifle of Mr. Dickson Hall.

A QUEBEC GIRL

Compelled by Female Weakness to Give up School.

Till She Began to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills—Now She is Healthy and Strong—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Women's Ills.

St. Cunegonde, P. Q., Nov. 4—The case of Mrs. Ellen Downes, of Gerrard St., Toronto, has a parallel in this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills have brought happiness into a stricken home, by restoring a beloved daughter to health and strength.

Mr. P. Dubois, who resides at No. 100 Napoleon Road, in this place, tells the story in these words: "For many months my daughter endured the agonies of "Female Weakness" and Kidney Disease. No remedy we used gave her the least relief, and she became so ill, finally, that she was obliged to remain at home from school for fully three quarters of the time.

"By a friend's advice, I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills for her, and was delighted to see that she began to get better almost immediately after beginning to use them.

"She has taken in all four boxes, and is to-day in better health than she ever enjoyed in her life before. She is strong and healthy and goes to school every day.

"I conscientiously certify to the wonderfully beneficial effect of Dodd's Kidney Pills in cases of Female Trouble, for besides my daughter's cure, I know of a number of instances in which they have completely cured the sufferers."

Women who suffer from any of the diseases peculiar to their sex, can find no other remedy that will relieve their sufferings and permanently cure their complaints so quickly and thoroughly as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The testimony of thousands of women who have been cured proves the truth of this.

Dodd's Kidney Pills go to the root of the matter. They heal and strengthen the kidneys, and so remove the cause of disease.

Why Does Britain Continue the War Preparations?

A GREAT RUSSIAN PROJECT,

It Is Believed That the Czar's Disarmament Proposal Was Only a Move to Gain Time Until the Completion of the Great Canal From the Black Sea to the Baltic —Cable News.

London, Nov. 7.—The Marquis of Salisbury's declaration on the subject of the withdrawal of the French mission from Fashoda, made at the Mansion House banquet in honor of Gen. Lord Kitchener, is not regarded here as being wholly satisfactory. The entire absence of any reference to the extraordinary naval preparations is considerably commented upon. It is recognized that the French Premier, M. Dupuy, and his colleagues intend to carry out what they have promised, but, a factor which must be reckoned with is the fact that there are influences at work in Paris which render the existence of any Ministry precarious, and which might at any moment in the event of certain contingencies provoke a general upheaval.

The English press point out that the evacuation of Fashoda is only an instalment of the satisfaction expected by Great Britain and that France has yet to swallow the pill of withdrawing from the Bahr-El-Ghazal region.

It is understood that Gen. Kitchener has prepared and placed before the Marquis of Salisbury a scheme defining the frontier of Bahr-El-Ghazal, and the position he regards as vital to the proper protection of the Soudan and Egypt.

The attitude of the Marquis of Salisbury towards the commercial side of the question is explained by the London Times, which, after reiterating Great Britain's determination not to allow the French a foothold in the Bahr-El-Ghazal Province, says: "A French outlet to the Nile, for commercial purposes, is secured by our general commercial policy, and may be doubly assured by a treaty, provided she grants Egypt reciprocal commercial facilities in the French Congo."

BRITAIN AT WORK.

The Naval Preparations Still Go on Unceasingly.

In any case, work at the arsenals and dockyards actively and silently continues, and information on the subject has been curtailed to an unprecedented point. All the officials have strict orders not to talk. The Admiralty has suspended its daily announcements of the movements of British ships abroad, and the naval men express the opinion that such far-reaching preparations mean something far more than a naval demonstration.

The whole reserve squadron has assembled at Devonport and is now completely fitted out and ready to sail at a few hours notice.

Besides this, eight reserve cruisers at Portsmouth—five first-class cruisers, the Latona, Naiad, Sybille, Mercury and Iris—have been ordered to be commissioned for service with the emergency squadron.

Coal Carriers in Demand.

London, Nov. 7.—A despatch to the Central News from Glasgow says that pressing enquiries have been received there for steamers to carry coal to Gibraltar, Bermuda and Sierra Leone, and efforts are also being made to secure stokers and artificers, for the navy recruiting in the Scotch regiments has shown a marked increase since the defeat of the Dervishes at Omdurman. An additional force of 100 men arrived at Devonport dockyards Saturday morning to expedite the coaling of the ships that are being put in readiness for sea. The roster of the Devonport yard shows that there are 15,000 men there. Beyond the usual Saturday until Monday leave, no one is permitted to go away.

Every Man to Duty.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 7.—Orders have been issued for all officers to return here for duty. Captain Kent, R.E., who was to have gone to Bermuda, is instructed to postpone his change of station. During the past few days engineers under his direction have been kept busy. On Saturday several mines were exploded during practice.

AN ARMED ALLIANCE.

One Said to Have Been Arranged Between Turkey and Germany.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The Frankfurter Zeitung says it learns from a well-informed source that Emperor William's visit to Turkey led to an agreement by which Germany undertakes to support the integrity of the Sultan's Asiatic possessions, for which Germany will receive commercial and industrial privileges. The paper adds that it is believed this agreement is tantamount to an armed alliance between the two countries.

Now at Beyreuth.

Beyreuth, Nov. 7.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany arrived here on Saturday, but they will remain on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern until they start for Damascus to-day.

Violent Attacks on Government.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Paris newspapers are exceedingly bitter over the surrender of Fashoda, many of them making violent attacks upon the Government. The Figaro declares that the humiliation of France is unprecedented since the war of 1870-71. "We leave Fashoda," the paper says, "with bleeding hearts, and despair in our souls."

M. Rochefort says in the Intransigeant: "Now that Fashoda has gone, England will find another pretext for war."

The Liberte says: "The sacrifice has been made and negotiations are about to commence. Let us await their results."

Something Behind the Nile Question.

Paris, Nov. 7.—A special to the New York Sun says: "The Fashoda crisis has ended. There is reason to fear, however, that a graver situation has been masked behind the Nile quarrel. The explanation which probably has the widest acceptance in Paris is that England has decided to accept the French challenge, and, as reposed after last week's Cabinet Council, will soon declare a protectorate over Egypt. St. Petersburg has better reason for believing that Great Britain has at last decided upon aggressive resistance to Russian schemes in China."

Marchand Will Go Home.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Matin confirms the report that the Government will instruct Major Marchand to return to France with his expedition from Fashoda by way of Jibutil, on the Gulf of Aden, the "only route consistent with French dignity."

Prince George's Appointment.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The appointment of Prince George of Greece as head of the new administration in Crete is imminent. His title will be Commissioner-General of the European Powers in Crete. The Prince is expected to arrive at Canea and assume his duties about the middle of November.

PAVLOFF DETAINED.

He and Some Russian Sailors Are Held at Tien Tsin.

London, Nov. 7.—A despatch from Shanghai says a telegram from Tien-Tsin reports that 40 Russian sailors, an admiral and M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affaires in China, have been detained there, permission to proceed to Pekin not being forthcoming, and that there is strong official opposition to their going to the capital.

The admiral and M. Pavloff, according to these advices, declare that if the train attempts to leave without the sailors being on board they would stand in front of the engine. This, it is stated, is a forerunner of a probable affront to Russia.

REASON NOW APPARENT

Why the Czar of Russia Was Anxious for a General Disarmament of the European Powers.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Russia's disarmament proposal and war talk which keeps all Europe busy are responsible for the fact that an immense Russian undertaking has been kept from the outside world, though it is so enormous in its possible results that it may mean a revolution in industrial conditions in Europe.

The project is nothing less than a ship canal across the empire, which shall connect the Baltic Sea with the Black Sea, so that the largest battleships can pass through it at reasonable speed. Great as the plan is, it is so simple in its engineering aspects, and also from a financial view point, that the only wonder is that the work has not been done long ago. Though the waterway will be ten times as long as the Suez Canal, the territorial conditions are so favorable, and the existing waterways are so large and deep and convenient in their natural direction, that only about 150 miles of the 1,000 miles will be needed to be dug, and comparatively little dredging will be required to complete the availability of the natural waterways.

The least width of this great ship canal is to be little more than 213 feet at the water level, and 114 feet at the bottom. The depth will be 29½ feet uniformly.

The Baltic Sea terminus of the ship canal is to be the port of Riga. Riga is on the mouth of the Dunz River.

The topographical conditions are so favorable that the canal needs only two locks, one at each terminus, and the soil of almost the whole territory through which the canal will pass is of the best possible character, being clay of exceptional consistency, and of such good quality that the bricks and much other necessary material can be manufactured as the work proceeds from the earth which is dug up.

Five years is the time which it is calculated will be necessary to complete the work and open the canal for shipping. The cost is estimated at only 900,000,000 roubles, or $154,000,000, or about one-half that of the recent valuation in American gold of the fluctuating rouble.

Perhaps the most direct interest for Americans is in the fact that this ship canal will open a cheap and quick route of transportation to the wheat growers and petroleum producers of Russia. They can reach the Baltic and the Mediterranean with equal facility and economy, and thus supply Asia and Europe and Africa more quickly and economically than can the Americans. The canal passes through the best petroleum territory.

The Russian navy will gain immeasurably in effectiveness from the new canal. With the canal the entire question in time of war would resolve itself into a question of commanding the Dardanelles, with an immense advantage on the side of the Russians.

Should the Black Sea fleet, on the other hand, be menaced by a victorious enemy, the canal would save it. For where the ships now would be locked up helplessly, with the canal they could steam into the Baltic in a week.

In addition to this, the Russians have almost completed their work on their new ice-free harbor in the Baltic, which will offer a safe winter port for their northern navy. It is within striking distance of the most eastern German coast fortification, and with Riga well fortified the Baltic coast of Russia will be impregnable and a steady menace to all the other powers.

Brought the Turks to Time.

Candia, Crete, Nov. 7.—Rear-Admiral Gerard Henry Noel, British commander in these waters, on Saturday ordered the Turkish troops, whose embarkation was delayed by an order from Constantinople, to embark on a British transport. The soldiers proceeded to obey, but the Turkish officer in command stopped the embarkation, whereupon the British Admiral caused the barracks to be surrounded and declared the Turks prisoners. He also threatened to use force to compel them to embark. The Turkish commanding officer then allowed the embarkation to proceed.

Mr. J. S. Webster, of the Marine and Fisheries Department, Ottawa, to Become the Assistant of Mr. Bastedo in the New Fisheries Branch in Ontario—Intensive Cultivation.

Rev. A. B. Simpson, the Canadian clergyman who recently talked $118,000 out of a single New York audience, is in Toronto.

The Lotus Club of New York banqueted Lord Herschell on Saturday. It was a real, old-fashioned Anglo-Saxon jollification.

There will be elections on Tuesday in 42 States of the Union. State legislatures, State Governors and in a few cases United States Senators will be elected.

Herman Blake, who was plowing on the farm of Henry Martin, near Elmira, was killed by the horses, which ran away from him. His neck was broken.

J. S. Webster of the Marine and Fisheries Department is going to be transferred to the new fisheries branch in Ontario. Mr. Webster, who is reeve of Ottawa East, will have to resign the reeveship. He will be assistant to Mr. Bastedo.

George Dunnim, a young man about 28 years old, was arrested and lodged in jail at Berlin, Ont., on Sunday. His mind is deranged. He is supposed to have escaped from the Ogdensburg, N.Y., asylum. The authorities are investigating the case.

Mr. E. Guss Porter, solicitor for W. H. Ponton, was in Toronto on Saturday applying for the Attorney-General's aid in subpoenaing witnesses for the coming trial. The ground for the application is that Ponton has not the funds to defray this expense.

Hereafter British Columbia will not sell lands or timber except under special circumstances. The new policy, gazetted on Saturday, will run in the direction of Government leases of lands for legitimate purposes, and speculation in public lands is to be ended.

All sorts and conditions of men and women and children farewelled the Earl and Countess Aberdeen in Toronto on Saturday, culminating in a magnificent banquet at the Pavilion in the evening, at which ladies were present, and at which Her Excellency made an after dinner speech.

At attempt was made to rob the vault of the Elgin Loan & Savings Company at St. Thomas. Burglars attempted to break through the 26-inch stone wall below the vault. They succeeded in breaking through 14 inches of wall. A number of coats and other articles, value about $30, were taken.

Archbishop Bruchesi has appeared before the Montreal Municipal Committee and delivered his argument in favor of tax exemptions for church and charitable property. The representative of the Labor Council followed and said the laboring people wanted all property put on the same taxable basis before the law.

In the London Lord Mayor's procession on Wednesday there will be a car emblematical of the English-speaking races, representing, among other things, Britannia and Columbia seated beneath a canopy, while the American flag will be borne by a British sailor, and the British flag will be borne by an American sailor.

Britain protects her subjects. At Havana Alfred Betancourt was assaulted by a Spanish officer for wearing the Cuban emblem, and was jailed. He was a British subject, and Mr. Jerome, British Vice-Consul, would not leave Capt.-General Blanco's palace until the man was released. It took some hours of persistence.

The coast mail steamer Virginia Lake has returned to St. John's, Nfld., from a trip to the farthest northern points on the Labrador coast. She reports that the entire ocean in that vicinity is blocked by ice floes, and that there is not the slightest prospect of Lieut. Peary's steamer Windward getting out of the Arctic regions this season.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. Fursins.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

OTTAWA'S proposal to have a winter carnival closes the mouth of the Canadian critics of Kipling's "Lady of the Snows."

Kitchener comes back to London to meet an ovation. Shafter comes back to his native land to meet an investigation.

WAS it to be expected that Mr. Whitney would win in the first round where a man of almost equal ability, Mr. Meredith, failed half a dozen times?

HON. WILLIAM HARTY, Commissioner of Public Works, took cold on his way to Toronto a few days ago, and is ill with a mild attack of pneumonia.

LORD SALISBURY says the Fashoda incident is "closed." And lest the "open door" in China should be closed also explains the continued military and naval preparations Britain is making.

YESTERDAY'S neglect causes two-thirds of the worry of to-day. If our streets had been properly built we should not be floundering in mud or wrestling with hard-to-be-suppressed profanity.

THE Trades and Labour Council of Montreal objects to the property qualification for aldermen. Common sense is the best qualification, and the man who has the right kind of common sense will have the other essential, honesty. Common sense and common honesty are the two proper qualifications, and proper qualification is better than property qualification.

THE Quebec Government is urged to follow the example of the Hardy Government and encourage the wood pulp industry. If the Quebec Government had imitated the practical and economical methods of the Ontario Government for the past twenty-five years, it would not now be struggling under a debt o twenty-five millions, as against Ontario's surplus of nearly five millions.

A CANADIAN club has been established in Detroit. While we are sorry to see enough Canadians there to form such an organization, one is glad to see that Canadians under stress of citizenship with Uncle Sam, still cherish a love and recognition of their native land. It's a good sign. A Chicago Canadian says, that the Canucks in that city are the chummiest, most clannish representative nationality there, not barring the clannish Scot.

THE legal proceedings likely to arise out of the London street car strike will develop the value of the photographic camera as a witness. Snap shots of prominent persons in the crowd which rotten egged Manager Carr have been taken. These pictures should constitute good evidence. It is held that photographs don't lie, but the lady who has a picture taken that looks just like her will hardly agree to this.

ANOTHER evidence of the practical nature of the knowledge imparted at the Agricultural College, Guelph, is afforded by the fact that at the Trans Mississippi Fair, held at Omaha, Ontario students who had their training at Guelph and had gone to Iowa to study other conditions of stock breeding, were successful in capturing the first and third prizes—$125 and $50—in the inter-collegiate stock judging competition at the Fair. Messrs. J. H. Grisdale and W. J. Kennedy, of Russel county, Ontario, were the winners' names.

WE, in Peterborough, needn't be alarmed at the predictions which occasionally crop up indicating the exhaustion of the coal supply) We are quite independent of coal for mechanical purposes. So long as we have at command the Dickson Company's water power supply and the immense reserve behind it in the Otonabee river that rolls past our doors, we can snap our fingers at the coal barons and cornering coal corporations. We have enough available water power to generate electricity enough to run ten times as many factories as we have now. Nature looks out for her children, and if she intends this old world to go on for a few more centuries, she will provide facilities in the future as she has done in the past. If steam takes upon itself to make itself troublesome, we can fall back upon electric energy, which in exhaustless abundance is now and has been going to waste since the flood.

THE COAL QUESTION.

The owners of the anthracite coal mines of the Pennsylvania district have for years been referred to as the "Coal Barons," and well might they be designated with this title, for they have controlled the fuel trade of the large consuming centres of the United States and Canada. Recent developments indicate, however, that they are being deposed from the high position they have held so long. Since 1893 the production of anthracite coal has failed to make the yearly gains that had been previously registered. Hard times were ascribed as the cause of the failing consumption. The truth is now becoming more apparent that the decreased demand for anthracite coal is the result of an increased use of bituminous coal.

As the demand for bituminous coal grows, new supplies are coming into request. Recently a new coal has been introduced into this market from West Virginia, known as the "Pocahontas" coal, which, in spite of the immense distance which has to be covered in its transportation, promises to obtain a hold upon the market. The supply of this coal is very abundant, extending over a territory of about 300 square miles, and it is estimated that an output of 10,000 tons a day would exhaust only one acre daily. An analysis of this coal shows it to have 81.10 per cent. of carbon matter; as extremely high showing. When such supplies as these can economically be drawn on for heating and power generating purposes, it will readily be seen that the anthracite coal producers are having a hard time to hold their own in the market.

MR. H. E. IRWIN.

Mr. W. J. Hill's Manager in West York Campaign on the Stand.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The correspondence between Banker C. W. Hartman of Carlsburg and Barrister Irwin was produced at the opening of the West York election trial Saturday morning. The papers have reference to the alleged repayment of money expended by Wright during the election, among them being a statutory declaration, signed by Wright, to the effect that the money was used for legitimate expenses.

Mr. H. E. Irwin, W. J. Hill's campaign manager, was then called by the defence to disprove Walter Wright's agency, and said that he knew nothing of Wright, and never knew him personally, until he saw him in court.

Mr. Hartman's papers were produced at this point, and among them was a statutory declaration signed by Wright stating that he had spent $10 working for Mr. Hill during the election, but it was for legitimate purposes, and that he had spent no money illegally to influence people to vote for Mr. Hill.

A. J. Anderson, barrister, refuted W. J. Wright's statement that the witness invited him to the committee room or assigned him work. He did not see Wright during the election, in which he took no active part after he was appointed returning officer.

James Devines testified that he never saw Wright in the committee rooms, but saw him in the building.

Alexander Heydon never saw Wright before his appearance in court.

William Hill, who was poll constable at No. 12 polling booth, said he saw Wright around there on election day, but denied the statement made by Wright as to his appointment. He said he was appointed by Returning Officer Piggott. Wright had called at his house, but did not see him.

Clayton W. Hartman, banker, of Clarksburg, and candidate in Grey as Independent Liberal in 1894, was the last witness called. In July he received a letter from Mr. Irwin, but he kept neither it nor his answer. He received from Irwin a letter written by Walter Wright.

The court resumes to-day at 10.30.

IT WAS COMMON ASSAULT.

Pratt Brothers Plead Guilty to New Charge and Are Fined.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The trial of the three Pratt brothers charged with manslaughter, came to a sudden termination in the Criminal Assizes on Saturday, and a plea of guilty of common assault on Berryman was entered.

Chief Justice Meredith withdrew the charge of manslaughter and suggested that the case go to the jury as one of common assault.

Counsel for the prisoners agreed that a plea of guilty of assault be entered against each of the brothers. The finding of the jury was formal.

His Lordship administered a severe lecture to each of the prisoners, and then fined Frederick Pratt $100 and Edward and Henry $50 each.

The trial cost the accused brothers at least $1,200.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

A Toronto Firm's Remarkable Record of Success.

THE DODD'S MEDICINE CO. LIMITED.

Their Wonderful Expansion—Branches Established in Buffalo, N.Y., Melbourne, Australia; London, England, and in South Africa.

Letters received in Toronto recently from Mr. R. C. Davidson, late of the Land Security Company of that City, and who went to Australia some time ago as the representative of the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, to open a branch of the company's business there, show that most remarkable success has crowned his labours in the Land of the Southern Cross.

This fact draws attention to the unparalleled progress made by the Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, of Toronto, during the past eight years. It is a noteworthy circumstance that the firm has achieved as great success in Australia, South Africa, Great Britain and the United States as it has at home in Canada. This is a record that perhaps no other house in America can truthfully claim, and the Dodds Medicine Co. have good reason to be proud of their success.

Commencing business seven years ago, in comparitively modest quarters at No. 536 Bloor street west, with J. A. McKee, Esq., as manager, the company undertook the task of making Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy from one end of Canada to the other.

Their enterprise was along entirely original lines. For the first time in the history of proprietary medicines, a kidney remedy, in pill form, was placed on the market. It was the business of the Dodds Medicine Co. to make known to the people of Canada, first, that such a medicine could be had, and, next, to convince them that this medicine could be confidently relied upon to cure kidney diseases in all its forms. How thoroughly and how well this task has been accomplished, the success of the company emphatically indicates.

Mr. J. A. McKee, president and manager of the company, in speaking of their early experiences to our representative, remarked:—"We had a world of arduous work in those early days. But we had an honest, reliable medicine, and we started with strictly honest intentions, which we have faithfully carried out.

"The people have seen that we mean every word we say in our advertisements, and that we carry out faithfully every promise we make. The result has been that our business has increased enormously every year.

"Our success has all through been based first, on the solid foundation of the genuine merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and, second, on the fact that we have advertised extensively and treated the public fairly; have made no claims that we could not easily prove, no promises that we could not fulfil, and always gave the people full value for their money.

REACHING SOUTHWARD.

That the business methods and energy of the Dodd's Medicine Co. brought the success they so well deserved is shown by the fact in 1895 their business covered the entire Dominion of Canada. Now it practically covers the entire earth. It has been established in the United States, with a splendid agency in Buffalo. To meet the constantly increasing demands from Australia, a large agency has been set up, and an immense increase of business has followed.

GREAT BRITAIN INVADED.

On June 21st last President J. A. McKee and J. W. Lester, Esq., of Toronto, sailed for London, England, on yet another mission of expansion, and Messrs. McKee and Lester opened the British headquarters of the Dodds Medicine Co. at No. 23 Farringdon avenue, London. No sooner had Mr. McKee reached Toronto on his return from England than preparations were commenced for establishing a branch in South Africa, and this enterprise was successfully carried out.

THE COMPANY'S HOME.

The company's headquarters, at No. 62 Yonge street, Toronto, next door to the Globe office, is a model of spaciousness, comfort and convenience.

About two years ago the firm commenced the manufacture and sale of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, which became, almost immediately, the favourite remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion, and all stomach troubles.

Day by day the demand for these two great twin medicines—Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—grows larger and larger. In Canada, the United States, Great Britain, Australia, South Africa, British India, the West Indies, South America, and, in fact, all over the world, they are known and relied upon by millions of people. The Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, of Toronto, is doing a noble work for humanity, and the wonderful and unparalleled success achieved has been well earned, and is no less richly deserved.

An Inexcusable Interruption.

Lord Elgin, late viceroy of India, like all the Bruces, is a great walker and, as a rather natural consequence, a remarkably poor horseman. They tell a good story of him in India. At Simla one day he was taking horseback exercise along the local Rotten row. One of the pillars of Indian state wanted to discuss a matter of imperial importance with him and sent an aid-de-camp to ask him if he might join his excellency in his ride. The aid-de-camp cantered up and said, "Your excellency!" No answer was vouchsafed. A little nonplused, the envoy tried again, with no better result. In desperation he returned to the attack with: "Your excellency! Mr. So-and-so requests"—

Lord Elgin turned upon him furiously with this laconic but to his mind all sufficient excuse for his preoccupation: "Good Lord, sir, can't you see that I'm riding?"

CATARRH STARTS

With the Simple Cold in the Head—Neglect it and the Seeds of this Ruthless Robber of Health and Happiness are Sown—Prevent the Seed Sowing by a Speedy Application of Japanese Catarrh Cure—Cures the Head Cold in a Minute.

Japanese Catarrh Cure attacks the disease no matter how violent or how long standing. It is just as potent in cases that have held the victim in chains for fifty years as the most incipient and, to the diseased, almost unconscious presence of the malady. You take no chances in trying it, and the most disheartened sufferer has always this hope—it has cured others, and they have testified to it. If I give it a fair trial and it does not cure me my money's mine again. But that's poor satisfaction to a man who would spend his last dollar for relief. Japanese Catarrh Cure is a guaranteed cure. It heals, soothes, allays inflammation, drives away the foul breath and the distressing headache accompaniment, and never leaves a bad after effect. Some so-called cures do. Japanese Catarrh Cure guarantees to cure or your money back. Find the guarantee in every package. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR,—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,506 26
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,520 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4 per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ling rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

MR. MORINE RESIGNED.

Governor Murray of Newfoundland Has Demanded the Resignation of the Finance Minister.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 7.—There is a serious crisis in Newfoundland. Sir Herbert Murray, the Governor, demanded the resignation of Mr. Morine, Minister of Finance. The ostensible reason is that Mr. Morine is the general counsel of Mr. Reid, the railway contractor, but the real cause is the continued friction between Governor Murray and the Minister.

Mr. Morine, in tendering his resignation, points out that Sir William Whiteway, a former Premier, and Messrs. Emerson and Morris, members of the late Cabinet, held a similar relation to the contractor and that Sir Herbert Murray acquiesced in the arrangement in all three cases. He reminds the Governor also that he has been aware ever since April 1 of his (Morine's) relations to Mr. Reid and insists that the Governor's omission to interfere before stamps his action now as personal and vindictive.

THEATRE COLLAPSES

And Fifteen Workmen Find Death at Their Daily Toil.

MINE HORROR AT PITTSTON.

Seven Men Instantly Killed—Three More Fatally Injured—The Accident Said to Be Due to Carelessness on the Part of the Engineer—How the Accident Occurred.

Detroit, Nov. 7.—The new five-storey Wonderland Theatre building is in ruins, and 15 or more lives have been sacrificed by an appalling accident which occurred therein Friday afternoon. Shortly before 2 o'clock, while some 300 men were at work in various parts of the unfinished theatre, the roof fell in without a second's warning. Nearly every workman was carried down into the theatre pit; the top gallery was crushed down upon the lower gallery, forming a slope down which slid broken steel girders, planks, timbers, bricks and a great quantity of cement from the roof, and carrying along a struggling company of men into the pit below, very few of whom escaped injury. The front wall of the building remained intact, but the east side wall bulged and threatened to fall. Notwithstanding the later danger, the work of rescuing the injured and taking the dead out was rushed and good progress was made until 5.15, when the upper portion of the east wall fell, a shower of bricks striking around the crowd of laborers, officers and newspaper men, extinguishing the temporary electric light and causing a stampede for the front.

The cause of the catastrophe has not yet been definitely settled.

Three more victims were on Sunday dug from the ruins of the new Wonderland building. This makes the list so far eleven. It is believed that $100,000 will entirely cover the loss.

A MINE HORROR.

Seven Men Killed and Three Fatally Injured at West Pittston, Pa.—How the Accident Occurred.

Wilkes-Barre, Nov. 7.—Seven men were killed and three fatally injured at the Exeter colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company at West Pittston, near here, Saturday morning. The accident was due to the alleged carelessness of Engineer David Price, who, acting in disobedience of positive orders, caused three cars to run into the top of the shaft. These cars, loaded and weighing eleven tons, fell down the 360-foot shaft and crashed with frightful force upon the carriage carrying ten men. Seven were almost instantly killed.

The accident occurred at 6.30 o'clock as the men were going to work, and being sent down the Exeter shaft in parties of ten at the same time. Engineer Price, in charge of a little donkey engine, was shifting loaded cars from the new red ash shaft, several hundred yards away, to the Exeter breaker. This track approached the head of the Exeter shaft and at a distance of 30 feet from it curved gently to the right and around the shaft to the breaker. At the point where this track commenced to curve was a switch and the 30 feet of track leading to the head of the shaft was used for storing crippled cars. Close to the head of the shaft it was closed by a headlock. Price's orders were to approach the breaker with the engine at the head of the train. A few days ago he was caught pushing cars and was threatened with discharge for disobeying orders. Saturday he did the same thing. The train was going at good speed, when, instead of curving around the shaft, the cars dashed into the switchbar, which was open. Price reversed the engine, but it was too late. The cars struck the headlock, smashed it and three of them toppled down the shaft. About 20 feet from the bottom they struck the carriage with awful force, completely wrecking it. The mass of wreckage fell to the foot of the shaft, choking it, and when, after hard work the men were extricated, seven were dead and three were fatally hurt.

INFANTA MARIA TERESA.

The Old Spanish Flagship, Now Under Three Miles of Water.

Charleston, S.C., Nov. 7. — Lieut.-Commander Harris telegraphed the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, on his arrival here on Steamer Merritt, with all of the crew of the Infanta Maria Teresa, that he had abandoned that Spanish vessel in a heavy northeaster, Nov. 1, 30 miles north of San Salvador, and that he had 58 enlisted men.

Upon the receipt of the news, the naval officers attached to the Navigation Bureau immediately consulted the charts to locate the scene of the disaster. The first glance satisfied them that the last had been seen of the ill-fated Maria Teresa. As near as they could calculate, the vessel lies in about 2,600 fathoms of water, or nearly three miles. The location is about 225 miles distant from Nassau.

At the time the Teresa sank she was 310 miles distant from Calmanera, the port from which she had started a little over two days before.

The vessel sank at midnight on Tuesday, after battling with the gale six hours. She met the storm Tuesday morning, and began to strain in the high seas. Part of the hull, thought to be safe, weakened, the rivets broke, and the water made rapidly in the hold. The boilers began to give way, and finally the water extinguished the fires in the engine room. The pumps would not work. The whole vessel showed signs of a collapse, and the men stood stripped awaiting orders to quit the ship. The Vulcan was towing the Teresa, while the Merritt rescued 114 of the crew. The ropes were then cut and the Teresa rapidly filled.

Supreme Court Blown Up.

Washington, Nov. 7.—An explosion of gas which occurred in the sub-basement of the Capitol just beneath the Supreme Court room at 5.30 Saturday afternoon, destroyed the flooring and entrance to the room immediately below the Supreme Court room, and the fire which followed communicated at once to the law library and Supreme Court room. The explosion destroyed the lighting apparatus in the immediate vicinity and because of the darkness it is difficult to learn the exact damage.

The damage is enormous. The entire central eastern portion of the great marble pile, from the main floor to the subterranean basement, practically is a mass of ruins. The force of the explosion was so heavy that the coping stones on the outer walls, just east of the point where the explosion occurred, were bulged out nearly two inches; windows in all that part of the building were blown out and locked doors were forced from their hinges quite 150 feet from the scene of it.

A Young Lad on Fire.

Guelph, Nov. 7.—A young lad named Thomas Morris was working near a can of benzine, when it exploded and set fire to his clothes. He rushed into the open air in a mass of flames. Frank Cote, a G.N.W. lineman, who was passing at the time, threw his own coat around the burning boy, and succeeded in smothering the flames. Morris was severely burned around the body and legs. He will probably recover. Mr. Cote's clothes were badly burned.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN

Stood Godmother to Son of a Soldier Slain in Battle—Health of the Prince.

London, Nov. 7.—Queen Victoria's solicitude for her soldiers wounded in battle and the families of the slain is an old story. Last week Her Majesty performed one of those kindly acts which endear her to the army. Capt. Finlay of the 79th Highlanders was killed at Atbara, a few months after his marriage. His widow has just had a son, for whom the Queen has made herself godmother. Her Majesty has also sent the infant a handsome baptismal cloak, and by the Queen's request the boy has been christened Victor Alexander.

The Prince of Wales has very nearly recovered from his accident at Sandringham, where he has been joined by the Princess. He is now able to walk about the house without the aid of a stick. The Duke and Duchess of York and children are also at Sandringham, where they will remain till after the celebration of the Prince of Wales' birthday, on Wednesday.

COX A FREE MAN.

Police Magistrate Decides That He Was Justified in Shooting Beattie.

Goderich, Nov. 7.—Police Magistrate Seager and Horace Horton, J.P., gave their decision in the Cox murder case Saturday afternoon. The Police Magistrate, who delivered the judgment, reviewed the case at considerable length. The unanimous decision of the bench was that Cox was justified in shooting Beattie, and on Cox being discharged there was considerable applause in court, which was instantly stopped by the authorities. Before the court was closed the Crown prosecutor asked the bench to bind over the constable who preferred the charge to prosecute at the Spring Assizes, but that officer refusing to be bound over the court closed.

Boils Banished.

Mr. O. J. Murray, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "About six months ago I was troubled with painful boils and got one bottle of B. B. B. which completely cured me."

No other remedy can present such a record of permanent cures as B. B. B. It not only gives every sufferer prompt relief in such diseases as arise from disorders of the stomach, liver, blood and bowels, but makes cure so lasting that even after ten or twelve years there has been no return of the trouble.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

THEY WANT OUR TURKEYS.

Great Demand in Great Britain for That Species of Canadian Fowl.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—The Minister of Agriculture intimates that advices have been received from the agent in Great Britain of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, saying that there is a good demand in Great Britain for well-fattened turkeys of good size. He advises the making of small shipments early in November.

The turkeys are killed by the breaking of their necks, and they are also bled from the mouth. No cutting or mutilation is apparent on the outside. They are fasted 48 hours before being killed. About eight ornamental feathers are left on each wing. In nearly all cases the tail feathers are picked off.

Turkeys of nearly the same weight should be sorted into boxes together. Only choice birds are wanted; others do not fetch good prices. Shipments sent in November, and those sent as late as February, are likely to do better than those sent immediately before Christmas, when there will probably be a glut in the market. Birds of extra large size do particularly well before Christmas time. At a large show held at the Agricultural Hall, Islington, Oct. 17 to 20, American bronze turkeys took all the prizes, and in dressed poultry a Dorking cock took the champion cup.

RULING WAS HEAVY.

Wheat Markets Feel the Influence of Foreign Peace Prospects—Ontario Markets—The Latest Prices.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 5.

On the peace outlook, Liverpool wheat futures sagged lower again to-day, closing ¾d to 1¼d per cental below yesterday's final figures. Paris wheat declined 15 to 20 centimes, and flour 20 to 30 centimes for the day.

The lower cables, heavy northwest receipts, advices of an increase during October of 10,000,000 bushels in European stocks, and a falling off in the cash demand, caused Chicago futures to rule heavy and to close a full cent a bushel below yesterday's final figures.

E. F. MASON & Co.

Lecture.

Rev. Father Chidwick, who was chaplain of the Maine, and was on board at the time the vessel was blown up in the harbour of Havana, and who is now chaplain of the warship, Cincinatti, at the request of a number of friends, has consented to deliver a lecture on the The Maine disaster and other events of the late Spanish-American war, in the Opera House about the last week in November. Rev. Father Chidwick leaves to-morrow for Syracuse, where he is engaged to deliver the same lecture, and on his return the date will be fixed and further notice thereof given. The reverend gentleman is a fine speaker, and the lecture will prove a great treat for those who attend.

"A Trip to Coontown."

Cole and Johnson's "A Trip to Coontown," will be presented at the Opera House on Saturday, Nov. 12th, and the mere fact that this performance is given by negro singers would make it interesting of itself, but the excellence of the performance raises it far above any such level. Their lightness of foot, their mellow voices, and the grace and distinctness with which they carry themselves, place these artists high above the average white farce comedy level. The music consists of the following: The Wedding of the Chimes and the Coon, The Black 400, 4-11-44, La Hoo, La Hoo. Prices, 25, 35, 50 and 75c.

It was Much Enjoyed.

Saturday evening is not a satisfactory night for an Opera Company to stage a performance in Peterborough, but nevertheless a large audience gathered evening before last to witness the presentation of the Geisha in the Bradburn opera house. The company was one of the largest which has ever visited Peterborough and the Geisha met with a most flattering reception. The various characters were exceptionally well taken, O Mimosa San, Mollie Seymour, Reggie Fairfax, Lady Constance and the big Jap being accorded most liberal applause, although the part of Fairfax was hardly as well assumed as when taken by Mr. Park when the Geisha was here last season. Manager Bradburn is indeed to be congratulated on his enterprise in securing a treat of this nature for Peterborough. The company is showing in the Grand at Toronto this week.

An Object Lesson for Housekeepers.

Raisins and currants before and after cleaning is strikingly contrasted in Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co.'s north store window. It is a palpable hit and is leaving its impress on the minds of thoughtful housekeepers. The window shows raisins and currants as received in the original package and as usually sold to customers; it also shows the cleaned fruit and a sample of the dirt extracted in the process of cleaning. One of the strongest points in favour of Mr. Mason's cleaned fruit is that it is sold at the same price as the uncleaned fruit is sold for elsewhere. You don't have to pay for the dirt; you don't have the trouble of cleaning. This fruit is put up in 1-lb. and 3-lb. boxes and sold as the "Crescent" brand. Increased sales make up for the cleaning and loss of bulk in removing the dirt and stems. Be sure and ask for the "Crescent" brand when you want cleaned raisins and currants. dtf

The monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association was held this morning in the Y.M.C.A. parlours. The visitation of the Nicholls Hospital and the Protestant Home was arranged for as follows:

Nov. 7th and 9th—Rev. Dr. Torrance.
Nov. 14th and 16th—Rev. D. O. Crossley.
Nov. 21st and 23rd—Rev. W. Bennett.
Nov. 28th and 30th—Rev. J. E. Moore.

The Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, was elected president, and Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Park street Baptist church, secretary for the ensuing year.

On nomination of Rev. Mr. Moore, Rev. J. Kilgour was elected a member of the Association.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. relative to the week of prayer, which is from Nov. 13th to 19th, inclusive.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Day, of Toronto, sang with much acceptance in St. Paul's church yesterday morning.

The morning anthem in the George street church yesterday was "Nearer my God to Thee"—Beirly.

Mr. G. K. Martin gave a fine rendition of the solo "Cleansing Fires," in the Murray street Baptist church Sunday morning.

Rev. F. D. Weeks, of Carleton Place, delivered two powerful sermons in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday.

Mr. A. L. Davis sang "The Old, Old Story" as an offertory solo in excellent voice last evening in Charlotte street church.

An unaccompanied chorus, entitled "Follow Me," was especially well rendered in the George street Methodist church last evening.

At St. Andrew's last night "Home at Last" was exceedingly well sung by Mr James Brown, whose presence in the choir will always be welcome.

The annual thanksgiving service of the Ladies' Home and Foreign Missionary Circle of the Park street Baptist church will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Hunter's rendering of the solo "Come Wanderer, Come," last evening was greatly enjoyed in the Murray street Baptist church, being sung with much expression and sweetness.

Shelley's "Hark, Hark my Soul!" was the evening anthem in the George street Methodist church, solos being taken by Miss Pascoe and Miss Clara Bellegham in a most effective manner.

A quartette—"Thy Will be Done"—was most effectively rendered and much enjoyed, as sung by the Misses Bellegham and Messrs. Browne and Turner, yesterday in the George street Methodist church.

The anthem, "King of Love," which was rendered in the Charlotte street church last evening, was one of the most pleasing which has been heard for some time, being sung most harmoniously and with splendid effect. Mr. Fred Skitch took the solo.

In the Charlotte street church yesterday morning the choir sang the anthem "I Will Praise Thee," Mr. A. L. Davis taking the solo, and Miss Florence Hall and Mr. W. J. Squires taking the duet.

Rev. Mr. Pear, Baptist minister of Norwood, is recuperating a few days at Oak Lake, Belmont. In his absence, Mr. James Sutherland took the services at Norwood and South Dummer yesterday, preaching two excellent discourses.

The pastor of the Charlotte street church yesterday asked for a special collection of $100 to purchase coal and wood for the use of the church during the winter. He seems to have the happy faculty of getting what he asks for from his people. The total collection yesterday was $105.

Mr. T. H. Cornish, who has been conducting the mission at Indian River during the summer months, delivered the sermon in the Park street Baptist church last evening, taking as his text, "When I see the blood I will pass over you."—Exodus xii chap, 13th verse.

At the offertory in St. John's on Sunday night Mrs. Seward and Mr. H. Morphet sang "Forever with the Lord," beautifully arranged as a duet, by Gunod. The execution was clean and finished. The demands of expression were well met, the fusion of voices agreeable and the entire work pleasantly successful.

TRUE CHRISTIAN CHARITY.

There was a very large congregation at Vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral last evening when the speaker was Rev. Father Chidwick, chaplain of the United States warship Cincinnati. He is in town on a visit to his sister at St. Joseph's Hospital. His address was upon the subject of Christian charity, and was founded on the text "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." To give a scriptural illustration of true Christian charity in principle and act the preacher cited the parable of the Good Samaritan. He next referred to the lack of Christian charity that embittered and intensified the struggle between capital and labour, in which the power of riches was unscrupulously used to crush the poor, and exact the maximum amount of work for the minimum amount of pay, and both were kept in a position of mutual antagonism, each ready to fly at the other's throat. While labour was not always true to the duty it owed to capital, its power to injure and oppress was nothing like that of capital, which treated the labour that created it like slaves, like brute beasts. The principle of Christian charity hardly ever received practical recognition in industrial relations, and the continual struggle between capital and labour—between the strong and the weak—would never cease till this divine principle was made the basis of action on both sides. The pulpit itself did not escape. The preacher said it was too often used to preach hatred of those whose creed differed from that of the preacher, instead of the charity that our blessed Lord practised and preached. The spheres of politics, business and even the family circle were blighted by the lack of the practice of charity. The true objects of true Christian charity were eloquently set forth. It did not matter whether the object of charity was Catholic or Protestant, good or bad, black or white. If he were poor he was God's poor and a fit subject for the ministrations of the true Christian who had the love of God in his heart. The suffering, no matter what his creed, class, or condition, had a claim upon the charity of every good man, and he should have it without questions being asked. The eloquent father closed a most impressive and practical address by paying a warm tribute to the worth and work of St. Joseph's Hospital, whose doors ever swung open freely to admit the sufferings, with no question as to their creed, character or condition in life. It was an institution doing a grand work and should be liberally supported.

HABITS.

Yesterday afternoon at St. John's, the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, delivered the fourth of the series of Sunday afternoon winter lectures to men. His subject was "Habits." Habit was a derivation from a Latin word, to have to hold. Bad habits, as foes, held us in thrall, and good habits, as friends, upheld us. Habits, by the frequent and continuous practices of a series of acts, became a part of our moral fibre. Judas was mentioned as an example of avaricous practices passing into habits of greed that led to the betrayal of our Lord, and the practice of self denial and self sacrifice of Abraham, formed the habit of obedience to God that led him to offer as a sacrifice, his only son Isaac. Habits gained a hold on us which might not be noticed by ourselves but attracted the critical attention of others. Attention was then given to the acquirement and benefit of good habits. That of punctuality in keeping engagement was especially insisted upon. If the habit was acquired and practiced generally it would immensely improve the smooth running of the social and business relations of the world. Punctuality would give us a character and reputation for reliability that would brighten and improve all the relations of social and business life. Consideration was given of the habits courtesy, observation, attention, etc., and the numerous advantages resulting from practice of these habits were very instructively set forth. Attention, in closing, was given to the effect of habit in church attendance, especial prominence being given to the facility with which habits of remaining away from church were formed. The address was both interesting and practically instructive.

BACK FROM THE COAST.

Mr. Aaron Cox Returns From a Business Trip West.

Mr. Aaron Cox has returned from a trip to the Pacific coast, being one of a party composed of Mr. Robt. Jaffray, president of the Globe Printing Co., and his son and Mr. E. W. Cox, manager of the Canada Life Insurance Co. for Eastern Ontario.

On the eastward trip over the C.P.R. the party left the main line at Medicine Hat, proceeding to Lethbridge and from there to Fort McLeod. Furney, which is 105 miles from Fort MaLeod, is the scene of the operations of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., of which Hon. Geo. A. Cox is vice-president. The prospects here were found to be very bright. The company has erected sixty houses for miners, and has already in operation fifty cooking kilns. Building is still going on, the total number of kilns needed at present being two hundred, with a capacity of two hundred and fifty tons of coke per day, which is the amount required by the Trail, Yale and other smelters in the neighbourhood, as well as the various accessible mines.

From Furney the party proceeded to Kaskanook, the terminus of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, on Lake Kootenay, where the C. P. R. intends operating a ferry to Nelson on the other side of the Lake, for the purpose of carrying their trains across.

At Rossland is the big Trail smelter, and after viewing the works the party proceeded on to Victoria and Vancouver. The return from the coast was made via Vancouver over the C.P.R. to Moosejaw, and from there through to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago and Detroit, at all of which cities short stops were made.

The entire trip occupied four weeks, and was taken with the object of ascertaining the future prospects of the coal fields at Furney and the different mining ventures in which Senator Cox and others are interested.

Mr. Cox enjoyed the trip immensely and returns from his long journey in the best of health, and predicting a very bright future for the far west.

COLTS I. LOSE, COLTS II. WIN.

Two Games of Rugby Football on Saturday.

PLAYED IN THE POURING RAIN.

The Wet Weather Prevented the Attendance From Being Large, but the Enthusiasm was Intense at Times—There Ought to Be a Senior Match.

The Colts played a great game on Saturday against the Young Toronto's, and although they were beaten by the score of five points to four still they have the satisfaction of knowing that they held the champions of the Toronto district down well.

When the visitors arrived on the ground the Colts were surprised to see that it was no light team they were going up against, but one of a weight to equal that of the Peterborough seniors. A hasty search for recruits took place with the result that the Colts strengthened up their scrimmage by the addition of Archie Stethem and Rev. Mr. Bushell, besides adding a few heavier wing men as well. When the two fifteens took the field they lined up in the following order, with Dr. Letellier acting as referee, and Vic McWilliams as umpire:

THE TEAMS.

Young Torontos.		Colts.
Stollery	back	G Bell
Taylor, Taylor, Tandy	halves	N Bell, A Holling-head, F McGrath
Westborne	quarter	P Crossley
Terrington, Love, McGregor	scrimmage	Roy Bushell, A Brundrette, A Stethem
Brown, Mason, Stollery, Cooper, Hicks, Stone, McHardy	wings	R Collins, V Austin, A McClellan, Harry Morgan, E Maybee, A Young, Burnham

The rain which had been falling at intervals all the afternoon, came down in a steady pour just as play began, with the result that the field became too wet for open play, the ball being kept in scrimmage as much as possible. The visiting team being much the heavier was able to keep the play so far down in Peterborough territory nearly all the time that when the ball was passed back to McGregor from the scrimmage his long punts were frequently factors in scoring, as a rouge, or safety touch, was counted each time the ball struck the fence. In the first half three points were scored by the Young Torontos in this manner and they added another point to their score when McGregor kicked a goal from the field, being given the opportunity on a penalty kick, awarded the visitors for an offside play on the part of the Colts.

TOWARDS THE LATTER

part of the first half Burnham's knee was hurt and he had to retire, being replaced by Vic. McWilliams, who played a very strong game, being responsible for the Colts' only score when he went over the line for a touchdown. It happened in this way. The Peterboroughs made a great rally in the latter part of the game and had worked the ball down to within a few feet of the visitors' touch line. Scrimmage after scrimmage resulted, one side gaining a foot or two only to lose it again, finally the ball was worked over the side line by a Young Toronto player, which gave the visitors the throw in. Capt. McGregor ran out in the field and signalled for a long throw to him, but McWilliams marked him for his own and charged out at the right moment. Over went the doughty captain and Vic. sailed across the line for a touch down. This brought the score up to four points to five and the excitement was intense as the ball was being placed for the try. It rolled however at the critical moment just a second before McWilliam's foot touched it and the Colts lost their chance of winning. There was only a few minutes more to play and as it was becoming quite dark it was decided to call the game at this juncture.

COLTS II 34—SEVEN 1.

One of the prettiest games of Rugby ever witnessed on the P.A.A.A. grounds took place when the second team of the Colts played the fifteen from Rev. Mr. McKenzie's Lakefield school on Saturday. The ground being fairly dry, the play was more open than in the senior match which followed, and consequently it was much more interesting for the spectators to watch. Harry McKee was the bright particular star of the match, and his brilliant runs evoked much enthusiasm. The teams were composed as follows:

The Grove.		Colts II.
Dunn	back	Gordon Logan
Campbell, Bloomfield, Lathbun	halves	Percy Campbell, Harry McKee, Chester Kemp
Ridout	quarter	Douglas Hammond
Gibbald, Barret, Carey	scrimmage	H Shorey, W Hodgson, Harry Rogers
Leonard, Kirkman, Elliott, Burnett, Seagram, Hibbard, Hutchins	wings	Herb Wood, W Bradburn, Roy Armstrong, Geo Rogers, Qaina Cameron, Art Boucher, G Ferguson

As several of the junior Colts were almost without any experience in the game it was thought that the Grove team would be able to play too fast for them, but the work of the local team was of such a character as to warrant the prediction that Peterborough will in a few years be able to turn out the strongest Rugby team that ever represented the town. The remarkable running combination of the half backs was amazing, their passing being far surer than anything in that line ever seen on the grounds.

AT THE START OFF

almost, Hammond passed back to McKee and away he went past half a dozen men and over the line for a try. The try was not converted. Score, 4—0.

A few minutes later McKee went over again, the ball having been passed by Logan. The try was again missed. Score, 8—0.

Kemp started the next run, passing to McKee, when tackled and the latter again passing to Campbell. The latter went over for a try which was not converted. Score, 12—0.

The Grove boys then made a determined rally, Bloomfield getting in some good runs and working the ball down close to the Peterborough touch line. McKee relieved well, however, and gained fully 25 yards on a run. McKee and Campbell each made short runs and McKee started another but was tackled. The ball went on to Kemp on a neat pass and he crossed the line. Unfortunately he touched the fence and only scored one point, whereas, if he had touched the ball to the ground it would have meant 4 points. Score 13—0. Before half time McKee again went over, raising the score to 17—0.

In the second half McKee forced two rouges and made three touch downs. Campbell converted one of the tries and also punted the ball to the fence for a rouge, raising the Colts' score to 34. Bloomfield for Lakefield forced a rouge, and at the end of the match the score stood 34—1 in favour of the Colts.

Brundette made the best run of the day, breaking right through the scrimmage.

Peterborough's halves did not have much work to do beyond tackling the visitors when they broke through.

Graham Ferguson will develop into a great wing man. He didn't do a thing on Saturday but tangle up his opponent from the Grove.

McClelland should not be moved from his position as quarter-back. No better can be found.

Campbell, on the half-back line of the Junior Colts, made long gains for his team by his timely punts.

Reggie Bloomfield did some great work for the Grove team, but he was too closely watched to be effective. He is a fine tackler.

Logan relieved well for the Second Colts when called upon.

Young Hammond at quarter passed back to the halves remarkably well.

Roy Armstrong did some nice work on the line, and followed up very fast.

Harry Rogers held his end up well in the scrimmage.

The Young Torontos, who witnessed a portion of the junior game, said it was worth the trip from Toronto to see the work of the half back line.

CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE CONVENTION SESSIONS

THREE SERVICES IN BETHANY MISSION YESTERDAY.

Rev. Mr. LeLacheur Gives a Most Interesting Account of the Entrance of the First Missionaries into Thibet.

Rev. D. W. LeLacheur, superintendent of the different stations of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in China, addressed three largely-attended meetings in Bethany Mission yesterday. In the evening, especially, the hall was inadequate to accommodate those wishing to attend, and numbers were unable to gain admission.

In the morning Mr. LaLacheur's theme was principally on the second coming of Christ, and he gave a clear exposition of a subject that is evidently very dear to his heart. The speaker showed that though the second coming of Christ was a fundamental belief of every evangelical body, yet there were various interpretations of the Bible as to the manner of His appearing and also of the period,

IN THE AFTERNOON

Mr. DeLacheur gave an account of the work thus far accomplished in China by the different missionary boards, and of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in particular. The latter body had now 127 missionaries in China alone, having the largest representation, with the exception of one, of any board. In 1887 the Christian Alliance had but 8 missionaries; at the present time 400 were supported by them, and this number was being added to continually.

The opening of Thibet to missionary effort was Mr. LeLacheur's subject in the evening, and the speaker's account of that long-closed county to foreigners, and how the way was providentially opened for Mr. LeLacheur and his party to enter, was interesting in the extreme. The speaker exhibited a "passport" given to him by the Buddha, entitling the bearer to freedom of movement in Thibet, which is said to be the only one in existence. The parchment is several feet in length and is beautifully engrossed in black, relieved with sentences in bright red.

THE CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE,

the speaker stated, organized its missionary society in 1887, with the object of covering but one field, Thibet. The Lord, however, had seen fit to allow them to enter almost every other field first. The missionary society had prospered greatly, however. In the last eight years four hundred missionaries had been sent out, and at last the ambassadors of Christ had been permitted to enter Thibet.

Mr. Le Lacheur then took his audience with him on a trip through the Chinese Empire from Woo Hoo to Thibet. In the former city Miss Hawkins and Miss Quinn of Peterborough are stationed. In the seven months required for the trip one hundred days were spent in the saddle, and more than one hundred addresses were delivered to people who had never heard the name of Jesus before. For three months the party slept in the open air. Woo Hoo was left on April 1st, 1897, and for ten days previous 30 of the 127 missionaries now in China, were gathered together engaged in prayer. On the trip the speaker was accompanied by Rev. Geo. Shields of Toronto.

In starting on the journey the two missionaries went down the Yang Tse river 200 miles, and then proceeded in a coasting vessel through the Yellow Sea, stopping at Tsin Tsin, where Li Hung Chang resides, and where Admiral Dewey had orders to send two United States battleships to anchor beside the British fleet. From here the two went on to Pekin, the capital of the largest empire on the face of the earth. Travelling was now done in a Chinese cart, which resembles a dry goods box with the end knocked out, and a mat placed over the top to keep out the rain. There is no seat in it, and no springs under it. The wheels are a fixture to the axle and turn with it. The mules are driven tandem and the muleteer sits on the shaft. A bed has to be taken along are furnished the traveller in China. Sometimes the roof of the cart is high enough to enable the passenger to sit upright. Sometimes isn't. The roads are indescribably bad. From Pekin to the northwest the travellers proceeded on mule-back. On past the great wall they reached Bow Tow on the borders of the desert. The only missionaries working beyond the great wall are those of the Alliance, and they number sixty. From there a caravan was procured with which to cross the desert, which is 500 miles in width, and has been travelled since the days of Abraham, being yet crossed with camels as in the time of the patriarchs. Sometimes 18 hours a day had to be spent in the saddle, as the caravan could not stop until water was reached. The wells were built by the natives centuries ago and are still kept in repair by their descendants.

Whilst crossing the desert the speaker was stricken down by a dread disease known in those parts from which few are ever known to recover. Calling his companions he asked them to pray with him, and immediately his body, soul and spirit were bathed in a strange restfulness which gradually restored to him his strength.

The party pressed on to the border of Thibet, which was reached on the last Friday in July, and the day was spent in prayer with the two missionaries which had been sent there to learn three years ago. Augmented by the addition of Rev. Mr. Christie and a Thibetan priest for a guide, the missionaries prepared to cross the robber infested district, through which it was necessary to pass to gain the Thibetan cities. These tribes gain their living by plunder, and such blood curdling tales were told of their fierceness that the guides were afraid to proceed and were with difficulty persuaded to keep on. When almost through the district the caravan suddenly found itself surrounded by the robbers who were camped on either side of the road. The great spears were poised to be thrown at them should resistance be offered, but the missionaries bared their heads, and after uttering a few words of prayer, passed between the ranks, asking protection of God. Not a hand was raised to stay them, the robbers appearing to be paralyzed. It was no marvel, but on the contrary it would have been a marvel if God had not guarded the hearts that trusted Him. They had been offered soldiers to guard them through the mountains, but they were glad they did not take them, as when the natives were told that God alone had protected the missionaries through the robber district, a great impression was made.

The Voodah of the first city entered was met, and proved a great friend, giving the missionaries, as stated before, a passport through Thibet, which is stated to be the first and only one issued.

Mr. Le Lacheur's interesting account of his journey occupied almost two hours in relation, but was followed with the closest attention.

Though Rev. A. B. Simpson was unable to be in attendance, the convention was probably the most profitable and largest attended of any of the series held by the local Alliance.

The Smoke a Man Most Likes.

You know the old joke on the considerate wife buying her husband cigars and he giving them away to those he most detested. That joke will never be played if the cigars are bought of Charley LeGros. The smoke a man most likes is a pure Havana cigar, but it must be the genuine Havana leaf—no imitation, no matter how good, will "fill the bill." I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Bock & Co.," "La Espanola," "Manual Garcia," "Diaz Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue label. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "B. B. B. Own Make" of English pipes—all sizes, shapes and prices; together with a lot of snaps in French briar pipes, with or without cases.—CHARLES LeGROS, 329 George street.

COCKFIGHTS IN SPAIN.

An Amusement That Divides Attention With the Bull Ring.

Bullfighting is believed to be the national diversion of Spain, but cockfighting divides interest with it. In Madrid people subscribe annually to the cockfights as they do in New York to the opera season. These chaste affairs take place in Madrid every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon almost all the year round, with due advertisement and entire publicity.

A mixed crowd patronizes them—toreros and grandees, youths and staid men of business. The Circo de Galles, or cockpit club, is quite close to the Mediodia station. The entrance fee is 1 peseta, equal in its present depreciation to 10 cents. The building is octagonal and about 16 yards in diameter. It looks like a miniature circus arena inside. In the middle stands the circular platform where the birds fight. It is raised about three feet from the main floor, is six feet in diameter and is covered with a matting of thick rope woven firmly in circular rings. This is inclosed by a broad meshed white netting fastened to a rail about a yard high which runs around the "pit."

In this netting are two small doors opposite each other. A triple row of seats surrounds the theater of action. Usually about 200 people are present. The birds are generally of English game breed. They weigh seven pounds on the average. After being put on the scales the odds on either side are chalked up on a blackboard. The handlers squeeze lemon juice on the birds' spurs to make the wounds smart more and so increase the fierceness of the conflict. The feathers are plucked from the necks of the combatants, giving the cocks an uncanny appearance. Metal spurs are seldom used, but the wounds are nevertheless hideous.—New York World.

When the Tots Travel.

When on a journey with little children, especially in hot, dusty weather, it will be found a great comfort to have with you a bottle of soft soapy water to which has been added some good cologne. To keep the bottle company there should be some soft cotton wash cloth material cut into bits about two inches square.

You can frequently quiet a tired, travel stained child by wetting a bit of cloth and washing the dust from its hands, throwing away the rag when it has once been used. It is most soothing to a nervous child to have its dry lips and heated cheeks touched with a wet perfumed cloth.

A dear old lady told me of this satchel convenience, and at the same time described to me how once on a hot, dusty day in a crowded car she answered the longing look of a troubled young mother by passing her the bottle and several of the bits of wash cloth. Because of the fragrance of the cologne other eyes were turned their way, and eventually she said that the other mothers should take and keep the bottle, giving also all the pieces of cloth she had left. The speedy result was clean and happy faces for all the little children in the car.—Philadelphia Press.

An Unfortunate Age.

"There is one thing that I am thankful for," remarked the young woman of an uncertain age, "and that is that I am no longer a bread and butter miss. There is no period of her existence, I think, wherein woman appears to less advantage. It is almost impossible for a girl of 18 not to be conscious, and she has so little knowledge of the world that she is unable to hide her awkwardness. It is amusing, albeit rather pathetic, to see the efforts of the poor things to appear natural and at their ease and to say their little say without betraying that they have prepared it beforehand. Bread and butter misses may be classified under a few heads. There is your frank hobbledehoy, who despises affectation and who in consequence is apt to be rough and ill mannered; then the sweety girl, who puts on an indescribable smile of fatuity and who you feel at times you would like to shake; next the aristocratic girl, conscious of her position, who has nothing to say and therefore does not say it, and the last and funniest development of all the inexperienced little girl from the nursery, who thinks it is the thing to be a little 'rapid.'"—New York Tribune.

LONDON CAR STRIKE.

An Attempt to Run a Car Frustrated by Small Boys—Both Parties Held to Their Positions.

London, Ont., Nov. 5.—At noon yesterday the time expired for the Street Railway employes to go to work, or to return their punches and other articles of the company. They did not go to work, but, instead, notified the company that their punches are at the company's disposal, and can be had any time the directors send after them, but the men do not intend to take them back.

At 2 o'clock there was considerable activity at the police stations. Every man on the force reported at the police headquarters at that hour. There are 40 men in all, and the majority of them feel deeply concerned over the possible consequences. The men have been armed with revolvers. Fifteen of them were detailed to proceed to the street car barns to protect a car which the company started at 2 o'clock. This car was jeered all along the route, and was followed by about 100 bicyclists.

Inside the car, besides the two nonunion men in charge, were the Chief of Police and about a dozen of his men, who gazed out from the windows at the throng of people as the car sped on its way down town. On the return trip it ran off the track at a point on Rectory street near the G.T.R. car shops, where a number of small boys had piled sand on the tracks. After much difficulty, and without interference from the crowd, it was finally placed upon the rails again about dusk, but immediately upon the motorman applying the power and attempting to run the car a shower of rocks demolished the windows. The car came to a standstill, and the few police present attempted to frighten the crowd by firing blank cartridges, but without success, and the car was abandoned for a time until the crowd dispersed somewhat, when the car was finally gotten in to the barns, a complete wreck. Those in charge at the time, a policeman and two employes, were severely bruised by the flying missiles. It is not likely any further attempt will be made to run the cars until the police are reinforced.

It has been obtained from the best of authority that Mr. Carr has 75 experienced men housed in the barns ready to man the cars at a moment's notice, but the reception the cars have received upon their every appearance since the strike has convinced the company that they are better in the barns than on the streets.

The striking employes say they have information that men are being brought from Ohio.

The Mayor received a letter from the company yesterday, asking for permission to delay the operation of their system for "a reasonable period."

A special meeting of the Council was called to consider the request, but no action was taken on the request of the company to be allowed to delay operating their cars. On the advice of Mr. Meredith the Council resolved not to interfere in the difference between the men and the company in any way.

The meaning of the Council's action is that the company must obey the bylaw governing the running of cars. The Council has already demanded that the bylaw be complied with, and this has not been rescinded. This means that the company may lose their franchise over the strike.

The Mayor yesterday, at the request of the Chief of Police, made an attempt to procure special police, but from the number of applicants it is evident that special constables for service against the strikers and their sympathisers are not easily procurable.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble become worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely be relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Testing Cornstalk Pith.

The American consul general at St. Petersburg gives this account of a trial of cornstalk pith made by the Russian admiralty board on the proving grounds at Peligon, near St. Peteraburg:

"A cofferdam 6 feet long, 6 feet deep and 3 feet broad was packed with blocks of cellulose made from the pith of Indian corn stalks. The material was supplied by an American corporation. A 6 inch solid shot was fired through the dam, striking it about 20 inches from the bottom. The shot passed clear through both the iron walls and the cellulose packing. Less than half a pound of cellulose was carried out by the projectile. The water compartment of the dam was filled, giving a pressure of nearly five feet of water on the perforated surface. In just half an hour a moist spot began to show on the outer surface of the dam, but it was evident the moisture had come along the bottom of the packing and not along the path of the shot. In four hours no water had come through the shot's path.

"The experiment conclusively demonstrated that a ship provided with a cofferdam packed as was the one used in the experiment could be perforated five feet below the water line without the least danger of the entrance of water."

METHOD OF WARFARE

THE LADIES' CLUB HAS AN INTERESTING DISCUSSION THEREON.

Novel Definition of the Sounding of Taps. The Bridges at Manila Explained—The Complicated Process of Deciding Which Side Is Entitled to Fire First Shot.

"Order, ladies!"

The Club For the Study of Modern Methods of Warfare settled itself with gentle dignity at the president's command, and there were not more than a half dozen whisperings among the members as she explained regretfully that the textbooks, ordered from the secretary of war, had not as yet been received.

"However," she said, "we can discuss informally some of the present prevailing methods which will help us perhaps to better understand the conduct of war."

"If questions are in order," interjected the member from Madison avenue, "I would like to ask, Mrs. President, if some of the ladies could explain what is meant by the phrase 'taps were sounded.'"

"As I understand it," said the president, thinking so deeply that a frown extended straight across her forehead, "the phrase is simply a figure of speech. As we all know, in warfare soldiers must be very quiet, for there may be spies about to overhear, should they discuss their plans. That is why they have 'taps.' It is the duty of one man to go quietly among the soldiers sounding taps. Each tap means a word. In this way it is not difficult to issue orders without danger of the enemy discovering the plans. It is a system just like telegraphy."

"Can any member tell me," asked the lady from Fifty-eighth street, "what is meant by the bridges? The newspapers had dispatches about bridges at Manila."

"The member must be mistaken," said the president, with quiet protest.

"I may be," assented the lady from Fifty-eighth street. "I admit that I don't know what I am reading about when I'm reading the newspaper reports of the army and navy, but I read about bridges"—

"She means the bridge of the flagship," blushingly announced the member from Murray Hill. "I've read myself about General Miles or somebody standing on the bridge. From what I understand the man in charge, who is the admiral, has a folding bridge which the sailors place with one end on the land, and it is on this that the admiral stands to show the men where to shoot."

"No wonder they call him admiral, which I suppose is a corruption of admirable," broke in the literary member. "I should say that the highest degree of courage was required for such a deed. In the event that the Spaniards should capture the end on land and attempt to come on board, what then would the admiral do?"

"He would return to his ship. It is what they call a retreat." Miss Murray Hill blushed again. "And our sailors would sink the Spaniards. It seems very dreadful, but there is nothing else to do."

"You all seem so perfectly well informed," poutingly put in the Sixty-fifth street member, who had arrived a little late, "but do tell me, some of you, who shoots first, our men or the Spaniards. We declared war first, if I remember rightly."

"There is some doubt in my mind about that point," replied the president, the evidence of thought again upon her brow, "but I am under the impression that it is left to chance. Our men may fight bravely, but if the Spaniards shoot first our ranks will be depleted."

"But why should they shoot first," demanded the member from Madison avenue. "Why"—

"But, my dear"—the president rapped lightly with her hatpin to restore order—"my dear child, you have heard of the fortunes of war. This is merely one of them. Oftentimes the leaders of the opposing armies settle such matters by tossing a penny, and go back to shoot at each other after they have shaken hands."

"And," broke in the hitherto quiet member, "the side to shoot first stands up and fires at the other side, and then the other side shoots back, and so on"—

"And that is the reason," said the president, "that they sometimes call it the war of extermination."

Then the president, who was hostess as well, served tea, after which the meeting broke up with everybody declaring "had such a lovely time; so instructive, you know!"—Vim.

The Giant Despair.

One of the most horrible things about the nervous diseases to which women are peculiarly subject is the sense of overwhelming despair which they bring upon the mind.

A woman's mental condition is directly and powerfully affected by any ailment of the delicate, special organs of her sex. Such a difficulty not only racks her body with pain and suffering but burdens her with mental anguish which words can hardly describe.

Thousands of women have had a similar experience to that of Mrs. Burath A. Williams, of Westport, Oldham Co., Ky., in which the use of Dr. Pierce's wonderful "Favorite Prescription," by imparting health and strength to the feminine organisms, has not only restored complete vigor and capacity to the bodily powers but has also given renewed brightness and buoyancy of spirit.

"I suffered for over a year," says Mrs. Williams, "with indigestion and nervous prostration. I was unable to eat or sleep. I tried several physicians, but they only helped me for a short time. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' I commenced taking the medicines last May. Took three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of the 'Pellets,' and am now feeling better than I have for two years. Have a good appetite, sleep well, and do not suffer from indigestion or nervousness. I have gained seven and a half pounds since taking these medicines. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine to several ladies, one of whom is now taking it and is being greatly benefited."

HAD THE LAST LAUGH

HOW THE LAWYER ENJOYED SOME INNOCENT FUN.

Aided by the Language of the Dumb Exchanged Between Two Pretty Girls on the Street Car He Had a Pleasant Trip Down Town.

"When I learned the deaf mute sign language a few years ago," said the young lawyer, "it was for a definite purpose, and since then incidentally it has furnished a good deal of amusement to me. There are not many deaf mutes in this city, and when in coming down on an elevated train one morning I discovered that the cross seat opposite me was occupied by two young women who were conversing in sign language my interest was at once excited. They were neat looking girls, and as I settled in my seat I discovered that they were having an animated conversation on a certain young man whose merits and demerits they were frankly discussing, never dreaming that any one else in the car could understand them. Suddenly one of them noticed that I was looking intently at them, and her fingers she said to the other girl:

"'Don't look up just now, but in the seat across from you is a young man on whom you have made an impression. He isn't bad looking.'

"I glanced idly out of the window to give the girl a chance to inspect me, and with difficulty I suppressed a smile. She looked me over critically and then with her fingers she said:

"'You saw him first. He is yours. I don't like blonds myself.'

"'It was you at whom he was looking,' came the reply.

"'No; he was looking at you. I don't like his mustache. Just look at him now, conceited thing! He is curling it.'

"'I think his mustache is very nice,' said the first girl. 'Don't look in his direction so frequently or he will suspect us.'

"'He looks too slow to suspect anything. Besides I can see him by looking in the mirror, and he doesn't know it. I am going to size him up again now.' And as she turned toward the mirror so did I, and I caught her glance square in the eyes. The young woman flushed a bit and then pretended to be looking out of the window. The girl who admitted that I was not bad to look at nudged her friend and with her nimble fingers said:

"'His clothes fit him well, don't they? Wouldn't he be angry if he knew that we were talking about him? I think that he is nice.'

"It was with difficulty that I could prevent myself from acknowledging this compliment in sign language, but I didn't want to spoil the fun. The second girl looked at me again by way of the mirror and then said:

"'He is staring at us too much. Let's look at his shoes and embarrass him. He will think that there is something wrong with them.'

"'All right,' said my friend, and two pairs of eyes were turned on my shoes, which I knew were all right. Being forewarned, I was not embarrassed, and I thrust my feet a little forward so that they might be in full view.

"'It's no go,' said the second girl, 'and in a long experience it is the first time that I ever failed at this trick. He does not even look down at his shoes. I will bet that he is awfully conceited.'

"They kept up a very free discussion of my appearance, and when we reached City Hall station I arose to go out, and they followed right behind. The car had been well filled, and the girls were in a hurry. I stepped to one side and in sign language said to the one right behind me:

"'Excuse me; I am sorry to be in your way.'

"That girl read my hands in amazement, and I would not have missed the expression of her face as her eyes met mine for anything. It was a blush to remember. Without explaining to the other girl, who was behind her, she grabbed her arm and hustled her about face and out of the other door. As I reached the platform I saw the girl whom I addressed explaining it to the other girl, whose face indicated that she was struggling between mortification and mirth. Just as they turned toward the bridge both of them looked back at me. I smiled and raised my hat. They laughed, and on they went. It was a pleasant little entertainment for a down town trip."—New York Sun.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. This is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

A Little Surprise For the Bridesmaid.

Two girl friends met in the street and stopped to shake hands.

"So glad to see you, Grace," said the tailor made Alice. "Was just on my way to ask you, as my oldest friend, to be one of my bridesmaids."

"Bridesmaid! How lovely! I did not know you were engaged," replied the fin de siecle Grace.

"It's sudden—very sudden—but he's awfully in love and is just too lovely to live. Will you act?"

"Act? Of course. I'll be charmed. But," moving forward and speaking in an undertone, "do come round the corner and tell me all about it. Here comes that idiotic, irrepressible donkey, Jim Berton. He's grinning as though he meant to stop, and I don't care to be seen talking to him."

"Jim Berton? He's the man I'm going to marry!"—Woman's Life.

A Test of Patriotism.

"I've made an important discovery," remarked the lessy western editor, "and one that would be invaluable to the government in making up its patriotic statistics if there be such things."

"What is it?"

"The man who won't pay for his paper won't go to war. I offered to cancel the indebtedness of every delinquent subscriber who would enlist, and not one of them took advantage of the generous offer."—Detroit Free Press.

Strange.

Mrs. Wallace—Oh, I had an awful time in the country! A bull chased me clear across the field. The farmer's wife told me that it was my red hat and parasol that angered him.

Mr. Wallace—That is strange. He was not the one who had to pay for them.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

Gastronomic Hints.

Where ice tea is called for it is prepared by steeping for five minutes, straining into a bottle or pitcher and, when cool, standing close to the ice until thoroughly chilled. It may be served plain or with sugar and a slice of lemon. Iced cocoa is made without milk, chilled and served plain or with a spoonful of whipped cream.

Though it savors of winter, a well broiled slice of ham is very appetizing on a summer's morning, but it should not appear too often—once a week at most. It should be cut from the center of the ham and should be thin and cooked over a quick fire.

Potatoes baked and served in their jackets, a small pitcher of cream being passed with them, will find a welcome at the lunch table summer or winter.—Table Talk.

A Rich Man's Wise Rules.

Baron Rothschild, the head of what is reputed to be the most powerful family in European financial circles, is said to have posted in his bank in London the following list of rules for the guidance of his clerks:

Shun liquor; dare to go forward; never be discouraged; be polite to everybody; employ your time well; never tell business lies; pay your debts promptly; be prompt in everything; bear all troubles patiently; do not reckon upon chance; make no useless acquaintances; be brave in the struggle of life; maintain your integrity as a sacred thing; never appear something more than you are; take time to consider, then decide positively; carefully examine into every detail of your business.

A Monkey Cyclist.

In Vienna there is an accomplished Simian cyclist in "Miss May," the pride of the zoo. She jumps into the saddle without touching the pedals and at a given signal rides merrily on.

Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

DECLINE IN WHEAT.

A Natural Reaction of the War Scare Affects Prices on the Markets—The Quotations.

Friday Evening, Nov. 4.

British, American and French wheat markets were again heavy to-day, doubtless owing to a reaction from the recent war scare.

Liverpool futures were weak, closing ⅝d per cental lower than yesterday. Paris wheat declined 5 centimes, with flour 25 to 35 centimes off.

Chicago futures followed suit, declining about ⅞c per bushel below last night's closing figures. To the depressing cables were added the large receipts, lower prices at outside markets and crop reports from India and Russia. Later there was more good news as large clearances and damage to Antipodean crops, but the market closed at near the low price of the day.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, Nov. 4.—The offerings one load, and with a very light enquiry, the situation was quiet and unchanged. Calves were in moderate demand and about 1c lower than yesterday, or a basis of $7 for choice to extra calves.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were a little more liberal—40 loads, including four left over and 25 loads of Canada lambs. The position of the market was about the same as yesterday—a dragging market, with no particular interest. Lambs, choice to extra, were quotable at $5.10 to $5.30; good to choice, $4.75 to $5; common to fair, $4.50 to $5. Sheep, choice to extra, $4.25 to $4.50; good to choice, $4 to $4 15; common to fair, $3 to $3.75. Sheep were a shade lower in sympathy with the dulness in the lamb trade.

Cheese Markets.

Brantford, Nov. 4.—At the Cheese Market to-day, 2065 boxes cheese were boarded. Sales: 800 at 8¾c, 150 at 8 13-16c, 309 at 8¾c. Next market Friday, Nov. 18.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The Ottawa Cheese Board had a good meeting to-day. Buyers were more numerous than usual, but prices were low, and the firms represented were: Hodgson, Ayer & Co., Alexander, McPherson & Lovell, and Christmas, all of Montreal, and the Ottawa Cold Storage Co. was also represented. The bidding, while not running high, was lively at times, and the highest price paid was 8¾c for colored; white sold at 8⅝c. Many of the sellers would not accept this price, and held their cheese. In all, 1754 cheese were boarded—1307 white and 447 colored; 712 were sold altogether, and the recent failure of Warrington & Co. of Montreal has made the sellers more cautious, and no doubt affected the sales to-day. The Ottawa board is in for a large amount.

Kemptville, Ont., Nov. 4.—Six hundred cheese were offered to-day, nearly all selling at 8¾c to Rissell & Webster.

Perth, Ont., Nov. 4.—There were 1125 boxes of cheese brought into Perth to-day, of which only 425 were sold, all white, October make. Alexander, Hodgson Bros. and Johnston were the buyers; 8¾c was the ruling price.

British Markets.

Liverpool, Nov. 4.—(12.30)—No. 1 North., spring, 6s 3½d; red winter, no stocks; No. 1 Cal., 6s 11d to 7s; corn, 3s 10½d; peas, 6d; pork, 50s; lard, 27s 6d; tallow, 20s; bacon, heavy, l.c., 31s 6d; light, 31s; short cut, 31s; cheese, white, 42s; colored, 43s.

Liverpool—Close—Spot wheat dull at 6s 7½d for Walla and 6s 3d for No. 1 Nor. Red winter futures steady at 6s 6¾d for Dec. and 5s 10¾d for March. Maize, 3s 10¾d for spot. Futures, 3s 9¼d for Nov., 3s 9¼d for Dec. and 3s 7½d for March. Flour, 20s.

Jack Horner Up to Date.

Little Jack Horner
Sat in a corner,
Eating his sister's pie,
Till he uttered in woe
A little round "O!"
And doubled him up to die!

And the little round "O"
(So the tale doth go)
In the center of that same corner
Next day was discerned;
And the tables were turned—
For the corOner sat on Jack Horner!

D. WARD'S BLOOD & NERVE PILLS — D. WARD'S BLOOD & NERVE PILLS

READ THE PROOF!

GENTLEMEN,—I have for a long time needed something to make blood and build up my system. My blood was watery and thin, lacking strength and vitality. Last January a friend said:—"Why not try Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills? They will supply the oxygen your blood needs and give you health and strength." I told him I was very skeptical as to any benefit that could be derived from any proprietary medicine and had no faith in them. There the matter rested until four months ago, when reading so much about what Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done for so many people with impoverished blood, I concluded to give them a trial. I have taken four boxes and my unbelief so far as Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are concerned has been entirely removed. They are a splendid blood builder and strength restorer, and an invaluable medicine for weak, enervated people. This has been my experience, they having given me strength of body and strong healthy blood.

OF

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Mrs. C. Allard Eight Years ago, and she has had no Return of the Disease Since.

From the tortures of Rheumatism who would not give his all to get release, even though it were temporary. But when, for a small outlay, not only temporary but permanent relief can positively be procured through the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, who need endure the agony of this terrible disease.

The case of Mrs. C. Allard, of Pembroke, Ont., is another of those instances, some of which we are publishing from time to time, where B.B.B. not only gave relief for the time being, but made a cure so lasting that after eight years there has been no return of the disease.

This is the letter written by Mrs. Allard, Jan. 18th, 1894:

"About three years ago I was troubled with Rheumatism in my arm and shoulder, and a queer, sleepy feeling in my arms so that they pained me a great deal at night.

"I tried different doctors and a good many remedies, but found no relief. I was advised by a lady friend to try B. B. B., and after using one bottle I felt so much better that I continued using it until I had taken in all three bottles, when I was completely cured.

"B. B. B. I consider a splendid remedy, and I cannot speak of it too highly." (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

This letter was received July 6th, 1898:

"Since I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters some eight years ago I have never felt any pains or aches in my arm or shoulder. I still have the same confidence in B.B.B. now that I had then. It gave me so much relief and made such an effectual cure that I never fail to praise it." (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not be Alarmed, but Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor indigestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, and irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of the tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents.

A PETERBOROUGH POET SOUTH.

He Combats the Accepted Theory of the Bad Luck of Friday and Thirteen.

Canadians don't as a rule take the back seat when they go to the land of Uncle Sam. Mr. John C. Douglass, now in Atlanta, Ga., has blossomed out into a magazine publisher and become a poet with a graceful garb and rythmic swing to his rhyme. The following taken from the Atlanta Constitution, a paper a little particular as to the literary quality of what it prints, contains the following from the pen of Mr. Douglass, a former Peterborough boy :—

FRIDAY AND THIRTEEN.

Oh, Friday is my lucky day; of all days 'tis the best,
When other folks are scared to work, and scared to take a rest
For fear some dire confusion, or microbe, come to town,
Will fasten on their vitals, or turn 'em upside down.

On Fridays at the race track I always bet and win,
For then I hook the favourite with my little pot of tin;
'Tis then I find the talent and the rooters all agreed
That the winning of a favourite on Friday ain't decreed.

And then the number thirteen, tabooed since time began,
For some idiotic reason by some prehisteric man,
I count my lucky number, and 'twas never known to lose,
For it counts the letters of my name, and the number of my shoes.

One of thirteen at a dinner, regardless of the sign,
I'll sit me down and stuff me on the terrapin and wine.
What matter if the bucket some other fellow kicks,
So I am fat and hearty an' a-taking of the tricks.

Good friends, wheal everybody else is scared to make a deal
Is when I find an opening to score on fortune's wheel;
And if ever Luck shall ride me in her airy palanquin
I shall owe it all to Friday, and the virtue of thirteen.

Hall was returning officer and duly opened the polls at 8 o'clock. J. McGowan acted as poll clerk. The excitement partook of the nature of a federa election. A. Laing as constable, controlled the situation. The ballots were unique—none were spoiled. The contest was a most friendly and good natured one.

THE HORSE SHOW.

Prodigal has seven new 2:30 performers this season, and their average record is 2:15 1-7.

Of the 14 starters in the 2:24 class trotting, at Baltimore all were in at the finish excepting one.

Martha B, the 2-year-old filly that recently paced a half in 1:04 in a race at Wichita, Kan., is by Ashland Wilkes.

Dan M, 2:09¼, was sent a mile after the track record of 2:14½ at White Plains, N. Y., recently. He covered the distance in 2:12.

The black gelding that won the 2:50 class, trotting and pacing, in straight heats, at the Durham (Me.) fair races is named Lobster Claw.

Bingen and Ralph Wilkes conjointly hold the 5-year-old trotting record, 2:06¾. The sire of Ralph Wilkes is Red Wilkes, while the dam of Bingen is out of a daughter of Red Wilkes.

Horse stealing in the Creek Nation, Indian Territory, is almost unknown. This is accounted for from the fact that the lightest punishment is 15 years' imprisonment and a fine of $1,500.

The name Oskaloosa sounds a little queer, but at the recent race meeting held in that Iowa city the starters included Me Too, by Gambo; Can Go, Witch's Dream, Brown Medicine and Talk To Me.

The pacer Some Pumpkins won a good race at the recent Batavia (N. Y.) races and equaled her record of 2:24¼. She has started six times thus far this season, has been a winner and never behind second money.

One of the special features of the Hartington (Neb.) fair races was a 15 mile match race between a horse and bicycle. Ginn, a Vermillion (S. D.) cyclist, rode the wheel and was an easy winner, as the horse was completely worn out at the end of the first nine miles.

During the recent races at Louisville a horseman, in giving his order for dinner, included the following: Saddle Rock oysters; sweepstake, rare, blanketed in onions; horse radish, curried eggs, thoroughbred; coffee with whipped cream and ribbon cake.—Horseman.

A TIDE OF TESTIMONY

In Favour of Doan's Kidney Pills Sweeping Over Halifax!

People being Cured of all Kinds of Kidney Complaints.

Almost every one in Halifax, from the little white-headed boy to the silver-locked old resident, knows Mr. Thomas Hogan, of 183 Creighton street, and one and all will be interested in reading the story of his rescue from the pangs of pain and his restoration to perfect health.

When our reporter called on Mr. Hogan he was comfortably seated in his cosy parlour nursing his little daughter of four. Said Mr. Hogan: "About 19 years ago I fell a victim to kidney trouble, and ever since that time have suffered more or less from the terrible effects which almost always follow kidney derangement.

"The disease kept growing steadily worse until in the last few years the various distressing symptoms became almost too much to bear. The pains in my back were nearly continuous. Nervousness and dizziness gave me great distress, and although I tried many remedies I could obtain no relief.

"Finally I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and am pleased to testify to their remarkable effects. They completely removed the pains from my back, and left me feeling like a new man with a fresh lease of life.

"Several of my neighbours have used these pills for kidney troubles, and I have not heard of one instance, where, after a fair trial, they have not given entire satisfaction. For my part, I am fully convinced of their powers as a kidney cure, and recommend them to any one suffering as I did."

Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Backache, Diabetes, Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Urinary Troubles, Female Weakness, etc. Sold by all druggists at 50c a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

NIPISSING PROTEST.

Mr. John Loughrin, M. P. P., Abandons the Seat.

THE QUESTION OF MAJORITY.

The Evidence Taken at North Bay on Monday—Whisky Furnished for the Voters—A Serious Case Under Section 170—Judgment Veiding the Election—Costs as Agreed Upon.

North Bay, Ont., Nov. 8.—The Nipissing election trial opened here yesterday before Justices Osler and Maclennan. The petition was filed by William Hewitt of Mattawa, and contained 14 charges against Mr. John Loughrin, the sitting member. Mr. W. D. McPherson of Toronto and Mr. J. M. McNamara of North Bay were counsel for Mr. Hewitt, and G. Ross and W. Lount, Q.C., of Toronto, looked after the interests of the respondent.

The returning officer, H. C. Varin, was the first witness, and said the official majority, as declared by him on March 21 last, was 61, but the result in two polls was not included, as the deputy returning officer had made no returns. In one poll Mr. Lamarche, the Conservative candidate, had obtained a majority of 39, and in another Mr. Loughrin, the Liberal candidate, had a majority of 7. Their Lordships then declared that the official majority was 29.

Charges 27 and 28 were then taken up on behalf of the petitioner. Alexander Seeces of Mattawa Township testified that he had six drinks of liquor at W. N. Murphy's house in Mattawa before he voted.

Murphy, in his evidence, admitted he had given him one drink, but had used up 21 ½-pint flasks in treating electors during the day. He got these from B. J. Gilligan, the Crown Lands Agent in Mattawa, the day before the election, to be used in corrupting electors. He admitted he was an active agent of Mr. Loughrin.

Sam J. McMeekin of Cameron found a valise in his house on election morning containing about 20 flasks, and it was all consumed by electors that day in Mr. Loughrin's behalf. B. J. Gilligan, Crown Lands Agent, spent between $900 and $300 during the election. He provided the liquor that went to Murphy's; also that which went to McMeekin's, and paid S. Payette of Mattawa $2 for driving voters to the polls on election day.

Counsel on behalf of respondent admitted corrupt practices and consented to the election being voided, and paid $1,000 costs.

W. N. Murphy, B. J. Gilligan and Sam McMeekin will be reported by their Lordships for having been guilty of corrupt practices.

THE WEST YORK TRIAL.

Case Still Continues—A Number of Witnesses Examined on Monday—Not Concluded Yet.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—In the West York election case the most of yesterday was occupied in a discussion of the question whether W. J. Wright was an accredited agent of Mr. Hill. No decision was given.

Mr. Hartmann was the first witness summoned on the opening of the court, and his evidence related chiefly to the letters which passed between Mr. Irwin and himself. Wright had asked Mr. Irwin to pay him $10 for legitimate expenses in the campaign. Witness had paid the $10 to Wright on behalf of Irwin, after receiving a statutory declaration from Wright that the expenses were actually legitimate. Wright was to furnish the items of the bill to Irwin. He had never done so, and Irwin had denounced him to witness as a fraud. Witness was, therefore, out the $10.

Mr. Hartmann in cross-examination told Mr. Nesbitt he had destroyed the correspondence relating to the affair, as he never expected it would be of any use. Wright had thoroughly understood the statutory declaration.

J. M. Pearen, being recalled, swore that Wright was not an agent of Mr. Hill. He was doubtful of Wright's politics. Witness had never authorized him to give groceries to Redmond. He had not given Wright car tickets on election day. He denied also in toto the charges embodied in the petition.

A. B. Rice, Mr. Hill's financier, also denied all knowledge of Wright as an agent.

Mr. Hill, the respondent, was then put in the box. He had met Wright a couple of weeks before election day, but did not know him as an agent of his own. He did not even know that Wright was going to vote for him. Wright's story of the Nelson case, Mr. Hill characterized as absolutely untrue. He did not know anything about Wright's share in the election till the particulars had been filed.

Edward Redmond told the story of the groceries, which Wright had supplied him. He did not consider them in the light of a bribe at all. Witness had only voted Tory twice in his life. He thought his brother had sent him the groceries.

Walter J. Wright was called again, and re-examined on the subject of the statutory declaration he had signed and other pre-election matters—including the goods charged to the Redmonds. On cross-examination he said the goods were not originally charged to the Redmonds. He expected Pearen to pay for them. It was afterwards that he fell out with Pearen. He had insulted his wife by refusing to recognise her. Wright did not understand the statutory declaration to be as binding as an oath. He was getting no money for his evidence.

Henry Brown swore that Wright and Parsons had canvassed him. Wright had promised to appoint him a constable, but he didn't feel sore over not getting it afterwards. Wright had asked him to give evidence.

Henry Marshall, outside scrutineer for Mr. St. John at Mount Dennis, corroborated various statements to the effect that Wright was scrutineer there, as did also James Synnet, James Marshall, Robert Marshall and other witnesses. This closed the prosecution.

Mr. Irwin and Mr. Pearen were then recalled. The latter completely disclaimed the story of the street car tickets, and asserted that if Wright was outside scrutineer he knew nothing about it. Hurst also did not see Wright at the polling place, nor did he receive a street car ticket from him. John Brown also swore that he got no ticket from Wright, and did not see him on election day.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, in summing up for Mr. St. John, said it was perfectly apparent that Wright was an active agent of Mr. Hill. The evidence of a number of reputable men emphatically proved that. The explanation of Mr. Pearen re the outside scrutineer was very clever, but Brown's evidence, which bore that out, must be utterly discredited. Mr. Wright was undoubtedly an agent, known as such to Mr. Pearen, if not to Mr. Hill. Redmond's evidence established that. With regard to the Nelson case, Wright was not in the charity business. Mr. Irwin's failure to produce the letter from Wright, Mr. Nesbitt characterized as the most extraordinary performance he had ever witnessed in a court of justice.

Counsel for the respondent thought a weaker case could not be presented to a court. It had one foundation only, the evidence of Walter Wright, a self-confessed briber, a self-confessed liar, and a self-confessed perjurer.

South Perth Again.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Mr. Nelson Monteith, the Conservative candidate for South Perth, is the object of additional charges, the particulars of which were filed yesterday. Mr. Moscrip, the sitting member, now brings the total of accusations up to 46. Mr. Monteith is charged in this new batch with having himself treated a number of electors at Anderson's Hotel, Downie Township, last December, and at Verton's Hotel, Logan Township, about the same time. Mr. Moscrip also demands the qualification of some 30 and odd alleged Conservative corruptionists.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

The Former for Four Months Shows Betterment of $3,351,666.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The revenue for the four months of the financial year ended October 31 shows a betterment of $3,351,666, the total receipts for this period of 1898 being $14,797,697, as against $11,446,611 in 1897. There was also an increase in the income for October, the figures for the month just closed being $3,355,797, as compared with $3,121,953 for October, 1897. The expenditure on consolidated fund account for the four months period ending October 31 was $8,530,159, while during the similar period of 1897 there was paid out $7,983,413. The expenditure for the month shows an increase, the figures being $2,735,569 for October, 1898, and $2,460,740 for October, 1897. On capital account there was paid out during October, 1898, $1,547,498, as compared with $598,035 for October, 1897, the increase being almost entirely accounted for by canal and railway works. Public works, railways and canals took $567,778 in 1898, as against $370,590 in 1897, while $787,090 went out for railway subsidies in 1898, as against $100,164 in 1897. The total capital expenditure to date for the present current financial year is $3,834,512, as compared with $1,296,065 for the corresponding period of 1897.

THREE BOYS, ONE GUN.

How Charlie McGillis Shot Jack McPhee Last Week.

Cornwall, Nov. 8.—Three 13-year-old Glen Robertson boys—Jack Richardson, Charlie McGillis and Jack McPhee—went hunting partridge last week with a gun belonging to Richardson's father. McGillis was shooting at a bird on the wing, and did not notice that in swinging around he covered McPhee at the moment the trigger was pulled. The consequence was that McPhee received a charge of 25 shot in his face, neck and breast. Dr. Kirk extracted nearly all the shot, and was obliged to cease probing on account of symptoms of heart failure. One shot near the breast could not be extracted, and another, which entered between the eye and nose, cannot be located.

NEW PHASE IN CAR STRIKE.

Company's Magnates and the Strikers Have a Conference Together.

London, Ont., Nov. 8.—During yesterday Messrs. Everett, president; Moore, Smallman, Hallmanth, Ivey and Carr of the street car company, had a lengthy conference.

At a regular meeting of London Division, No. 16, Order Railway Conductors, held yesterday afternoon, a strong resolution endorsing the strikers and stating intention not to use the cars until strike was ended, was unanimously adopted.

The busses operated by the street railway strikers on Saturday were more liberally patronized than the men anticipated, and one thing is certain—if the patronage is continued, the unionists' funds will be largely increased.

Three cars were running yesterday morning, all filled with policemen. No passengers were carried, and the non-union men were greeted with jeers and cries of "Scab!" at every corner. No resistance was offered against the company running the cars. The motormen were protected from missiles by heavy wire netting around their compartment. Union bus lines are running to all parts of the city. The shareholders met in the morning, and a meeting of the strikers' committee with the company was arranged for the afternoon.

The company kept three cars running from 10 a.m. to sunset, when they again returned to the barns, it being considered too dangerous to run the cars after dark. The company's magnates and the strikers have now been brought together in conference and a settlement is probable.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

(Special Correspondence of The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 5th.—The journalistic romancer, who is always allowed a little extra latitude during the season when politics are dull, has over-reached himself at last in announcing, as he did, in certain Opposition papers early this week, that the ministerial situation was getting desperate, and that, as it was now a question of whether Mr. Sifton or the whole Cabinet would have to go, the Minister of the Interior had been urged to take the Lieutenant-Governorship of Manitoba. While this gentleman confined the working of his fertile imagination to Yukon stories, immigration novelettes, etc., he was on reasonably safe ground, because no one in authority thought them worth denying, but so definite a story as this could be dealt with just as definitely, and in short order. The Premier himself has seen fit to answer it in the following words to a representative of the Toronto Globe: "Life is too short to take notice of all the misrepresentations and insinuations published daily in the Conservative press. But this latter insinuation is such that I can make an exception. You can tell your readers that there is not even a shadow of truth in this statement. Mr. Sifton is too good a man and too efficient a Minister of the Interior to dispense with his services." Too bad to knock the story out so completely in the first round; if Sir Wilfred had any consideration at all, he would have left some kind of a knot hole for the mendacious scribe to crawl through.

LIGHT FROM THE MIDNIGHT SUN.

This week has produced its regular crop of "evidence" for and against the administration in the Yukon, and the Government officials there. Trial by newspaper of the absent officials continues with unabated energy in the Opposition press; the decapitation of the responsible minister has been arranged for, the executioners named, and a decent place of burial provided. Owing to the unusual pressure on their columns through the reporting of interviews with, and the printing of letters from various gentlemen who are "ashamed to call themselves Canadians," who "have witnessed such awful scenes of debauchery," etc., that they are convinced "it is worse than the mind of any honest man can conceive," and so forth, these Opposition journals have had no room to mention the fact that, so far, Administrator Ogilvie has been unable to start the investigation for want of one line of definite charge upon which to work.

Nor have they referred to the other fact that Mr. Lester Haworth of the "Yukon Midnight Sun," published at Dawson City, which has been credited with some of the most sensational condemnatory stories, not only denies that there is any corruption among the officials, but adds that, as a newspaper man, he had made it his special business to trace up charges that had been floating around the streets in Dawson City, and in every case when investigated the charge proved to be without foundation. Of the Gold Commissioner's office where so much corruption is charged Mr. Haworth says, "Mr. Fawcett I believe is as honest as the daylight, and in the whole course of inquiries into stories of this sort, I found not one that gave evidence of corruption or improper official acts. If it could be proved that Mr. Fawcett gave "B" a claim by his decision that should belong to "A," all this talk would be justified, but not one case has been found, and I don't believe it ever will be."

THE POST OFFICE TOO.

Of the Post Office Department, the other branch of the public service that has been so much advertised upon, the same pious out thanks are given of the vacuity of any corruption on the part of the officials. Of the talk correspondent of the [illegible] Mr. Hawkins re[illegible] when I [illegible] to [illegible] the influence of Miss [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

But this latter insinuation is such that I can make an exception. You can tell your readers that there is not even a shadow of truth in this statement. Mr. Sifton is too good a man and too efficient a Minister of the Interior to dispense with his services." Too bad to knock the story out so completely in the first round, if Sir Wilfred had any consideration at all, he would have left some kind of a knot hole for the mendacious scribe to crawl through.

LIGHT FROM THE MIDNIGHT SUN.

This week has produced its regular crop of "evidence" for and against the administration in the Yukon, and the Government officials there. Trial by newspaper of the absent officials continues with unabated energy in the Opposition press; the decapitation of the responsible minister has been arranged for, the executioners named, and a decent place of burial provided. Owing to the unusual pressure on their columns through the reporting of interviews with, and the printing of letters from various gentlemen who are "ashamed to call themselves Canadians," who "have witnessed such awful scenes of debauchery," etc., that they are convinced "it is worse than the mind of any honest man can conceive," and so forth, these Opposition journals have had no room to mention the fact that, so far, Administrator Ogilvie has been unable to start the investigation for want of one line of definite charge upon which to work.

Nor have they referred to the other fact that Mr. Lester Haworth of the "Yukon Midnight Sun," published at Dawson City, which has been credited with some of the most sensational condemnatory stories, not only denies that there is any corruption among the officials, but adds that, as a newspaper man, he had made it his special business to trace up charges that had been floating around the streets in Dawson City, and in every case when investigated the charge proved to be without foundation. Of the Gold Commissioner's office where so much corruption is charged Mr. Haworth says, "Mr. Fawcett I believe is as honest as the daylight, and in the whole course of inquiries into stories of this sort, I found not one that gave evidence of corruption or improper official acts. If it could be proved that Mr. Fawcett gave "B" a claim by his decision that should belong to "A," all this talk would be justified, but not one case has been found, and I don't believe it ever will be."

THE POST OFFICE TOO.

Of the Post Office Department, the other branch of the public service that has been so animadverted upon, the same clean cut denials are given of the wrong doing or corruption on the part of the officials. Of the fair correspondent of the London Times, Mr. Haworth remarks. "I was rather surprised when I came east to notice the influence of Miss Flora Shaw's report. She was there but a few weeks; she is a pretty smart woman, but she was too much carried away by loose street talk." A more exact description of the impression produced by a careful reading of Miss Shaw's letters it would be difficult to find.

A SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT.

In connection with the series of farewells to the Governor-General, which had been occupying this part of the country for the past couple of weeks, the remarks of Lieutenant-Governor Patterson, who responded to the toast of the Governor-General at the Bankers' banquet in Toronto were opportune and worth repeating. Having borne testimony to Lord Aberdeen's high sense of honour, his equally high sense of duty and the and the loyalty he showed his Ministers so long as they had the support of the people, he continued: "There are little secrets known only to the advisers of the Crown, the Colonial Secretary and the Premier of Great Britain, which, if known to all, Lord Aberdeen would not have been blamed, as he has in certain quarters; he has maintained a dignified silence under criticism which possibly he might not have remained under had the seal of silence been taken from his lips; he has been a good constitutional ruler, and the people will part from him and from Lady Aberdeen with regret."

When it is remembered that the speaker was a colleague of Sir Charles Tupper in various Conservative ministries, up to the time of his appointment to the governorship of Manitoba, it will be at once apparent that he knew exactly whereof he spoke, and must have been particularly impressed with the necessity of speaking, before he would refer to the matter at all.

SHOULD BE SATISFIED NOW.

As has been observed before in these letters the honoured leader of the Opposition and his supporters should be the happiest among men, for their two great troubles, that were making life burdensome to them, have been entirely removed. They feared that injustice had been done when the constables were allowed to vote at the Provincial elections, but the full bench of Judges in the Court of Appeal has said with absolute unanimity and remarkable emphasis that there was no ground for this fear. Then they were terribly perturbed because two ministers were temporarily without seats, and neither British precedent nor any other consideration could induce them to wait patiently for election protests to be dealt with. Now these ministers have been elected by big majorities and it is hoped the country has heard the last of the "pegleggged Government," whatever that may have meant. The peg can now be used by the Opposition as an additional nail in the coffin of their hopes of office, or as a peg whereon to hang their aspirations for another term of four years.

THE PLEBISCITE.

The full returns of the prohibition vote have been received, and they show that 278,468 votes were cast in favour of prohibition and 264,579 against, or a majority of the actual vote polled of 13,884 in favour of prohibition. Of the eight provinces and territories seven favoured prohibition with majorities ranging from 983 in British Columbia to 39,224 in Ontario, or a total of 107,899; but Quebec alone rolled up 94,015 against the proposed enactment, leaving the favourable balance so small as to make the vote practically an even thing. By provinces the vote has shown that in Ontario only 22 per cent. on the list supported prohibition; in Quebec, only 8 per cent.; in Nova Scotia, 34 per cent.; in New Brunswick, 29 per cent.; in Prince Edward Island, 37½ per cent.; in Manitoba, 25 per cent.; in British Columbia, 16 per cent., and in the Territories, 27 per cent. Of the total 1,238,849 voters on the lists only 543,042 recorded their votes, or less than 45 per cent., and the total in favour of prohibition throughout the country was but 22 1-2 of the total electorate.

ONLY ONE WAY

To Banish the Demon Dyspepsia.

THE SUFFERER MUST USE PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Heaven help all miserable sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion who are not making use of Paine's Celery Compound! Their position must prove hard and hazardous if they continue with medicine that in many cases is really aggravating suffering.

To-day thousands of men and fair women are veritable slaves to the demon dyspepsia. They are firmly bound with the chains of a disease that tortures both body and mind. Their digestive organism is almost destroyed, and many are reduced to skeletons. Such people do not live; they merely endure life.

The symptoms and troubles that precede and follow the course of dyspepsia are poor and variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, heartburn, sallow skin, coated tongue, foul breath, constipation, failing sight, sleeplessness, headache, low spirits and tired feelings.

Advertised pills, mineral waters, pepsins and other medicines will never bring back digestive vigour and health. It is only by the use of Dr. Phelps' great discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, that the terrible disease can be banished. The wonderful medicine at once fortifies the nervous system; when this is done the digestive organs are toned and work like a perfectly regulated machine. Paine's Celery Compound opens up all the sewers of the body and removes the waste matters that have in the past interfered with the work of nutrition, the blood is made rich, and healthy muscle and tissue formed. Your path of duty is now made clear, poor sufferer; you must use Paine's Celery Compound as thousands in the past have done, then, only then, will your life be worth living.

Killed by a Fall From a Bridge.

Creemore, Ont., Nov. 8.—While returning from New Lowell on Saturday night, and when almost home, Samuel Gowan, blacksmith, of Glencairn, met with an accident which cost him his life. It appears workmen had been rebuilding a bridge near Stephen's Mill, at Glencairn, and had all the flooring torn up. While the bridge was impassable a road to one side of it and going through the water was used. In the intense darkness Mr. Gowan got on the road leading to the bridge, and going on the horse plunged headlong into the river, taking Mr. Gowan and the rig with it. He fell 15 feet into about five feet of water and when taken out about 10 minutes later by some boys who had heard the noise life was extinct, he having received a terrible blow on the side of the head.

A QUINTETTE DROWNED.

By the Capsizing of a Small Boat From Kingsville, Bound for Pelee Island.

Kingsville, Ont., Nov. 6.—Sunday night a small sail boat containing five persons left here for Pelee Island. The boat belonged to Mr. Robinson of the island. By some means the boat was capsized and all are supposed to have been drowned, as the boat had drifted ashore at noon yesterday at Point Pelee, with only the dead body of Charles Barnes lashed to it. The following are the names of those in the boat, and who no doubt are drowned: Hugh Hooper and his two sisters, aged 18 and 20, all of Kingsville; Fred. White and Charles Barnes of Pelee Island.

Walter Carr, mail carrier, who has just arrived from Pelee Island, where he went just ahead of the ill-fated boat, says that the lake was very rough and that he kept the boat in sight until within about three miles from the island, when it suddenly disappeared. Carl Kaufmann, who was at first reported drowned, went in the mail boat and thus was saved. A satchel has come ashore.

The Homestead Entries.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The homestead entries, which usually give a pretty fair gauge of the prosperity and development of the Canadian West, will this year double those of last season. For the first seven months of the current year the entries numbered 2,388; last year for the twelve months they totalled 2,398.

MARKET NOT STRONG.

Liverpool Wheat Opened Much Depressed, But Recovered Later in the Day—The Latest Prices.

Monday Evening, Nov. 7.

Liverpool wheat was erratic to-day. Futures opened weak, ⅝d below Saturday's close, but rallied, and closed ⅝d per cental higher than Saturday's final figures.

Paris wheat closed 15 to 20 centimes lower for the day, with flour off to the same extent. Antwerp declined 50 centimes.

On the Chicago board this morning some buying of wheat was occasioned by the decline in consols, and an advance of nearly a cent a bushel occurred. Later the heaviness of the European markets, a bearish official statement as regards the Russian crop and the good increase in the visible supply for the past week depressed the market. All deliveries closed ¼c to ⅝c above Saturday's final figures.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,524,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 1,011,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 387,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 41,080,000 bushels, against 39,296,000 bushels a week ago and 58,248,000 bushels a year ago.

WORK HAS BEEN SUSPENDED

On Pier 3 of Interprovincial Bridge at Nepean Point.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Work on pier No. 3 of the Interprovincial Bridge at Nepean Point has been suspended owing to a decision of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals regarding the placing of concrete in the bottom of the piers.

Mr. Schreiber, Chief Engineer of the Department, says he did not stop the work, but told the bridge company that if they did not comply with certain requirements of the department respecting the putting in of concrete he would not pass the bridge when completed. It was necessary, he said, that he should be able to inspect the concrete after it had set and with the cofferdam in use he would be unable to do this, as the concrete would be covered with water. This precaution, he said, was necessary, owing to the height of this pier, which is higher than most bridge piers, and also owing to the late accident at Cornwall having been caused through the concrete not being properly set. So far everything in connection with the construction of the bridge has been satisfactory to the department.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 6th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,594 26
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

DEATH TO THE RED SHIRTS.

An Outbreak of Negroes in Wilmington Is Momentarily Expected.

Wilmington, N.C., Nov. 8.—The negroes, while outwardly quiet, are manœuvring in secret. They have recently received another supply of arms, as shown by 34 of them parading the streets at midnight last night with rifles and other arms. They gave it out that their various orders have sworn death to the red shirts.

But few white citizens slept soundly last night. Lawless bands of armed negroes gathered in the northern portion of the city. An outbreak is momentarily expected. A number of white women in that section were nearly prostrated with fear.

White men guarded their houses and the Wilmington Light Infantry and Naval Reserves rendezvoused at night at their armories. Street cars were stoned by negroes last night and white people were compelled to desert them and walk. The police force was unable to command order.

"LAURA SECORD."

Her Biographer, Mrs. Curzon, Passes Away—Sketch of Her Career.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Ann Curzon, the authoress and poetess, died on Sunday, at the residence of her son here.

The deceased was born in 1833, near Birmingham, Eng. In 1849 she married Robert Curzon of Norfolk, and came with him to Canada in 1862. She was from early childhood a contributor to family journals and magazines. In 1873 she became an advocate of women's rights. In 1887 Mrs. Curzon published "Laura Secord, the Heroine of 1812," a drama of much force. The deceased was an honorary member of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society, the York Pioneer Association and the Woman's Art Association.

THE BEAR IRRITATED.

Russian Journals Say Her Settlement of Fashoda Affair Will Arouse the Powers.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—The St. Petersburg newspapers show great irritation at England over the settlement of the Fashoda affair, and agree in the declaration that her conduct will arouse the powers interested in the Suez Canal to open discussion of the best means of preventing the final establishment of England in Egypt.

The Novosti says that, since the Egyptian question is purely of an international character, it must be solved by a congress of the powers, which can proclaim the neutrality of Egypt under the protectorate of all the powers.

GERMAN ATTACKS ON U. S.

Irritation of the Press Will Not Influence the Philippine Attitude.

London, Nov. 8.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times, commenting upon the irritation of the German press over the attitude of the United States toward the Philippine question, says:

"It has little importance, and is only likely to excite scorn and defiance of the Americans, and tend to confirm them in their determination to keep the Philippines. The Freudenblatt, in a temperate article that gives the German newspapers an example of impartiality, recognizes that it is purely a question for the Americans to decide for themselves." The Berlin correspondent of the Times, after giving extracts from another long and violent article in the Koinische Zeitung, declaring that the fate of the Philippines cannot be a matter of indifference to Germany, expresses the opinion that such utterances will only stiffen the attitude of the United States.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says:

"The semi-official papers have received a hint to stop their attacks upon America. I have good reason to believe, however, that Germany will doff her reserve so soon as other powers seek a share in the spoil of the Philippines."

Spain Must Accept.

London, Nov. 8.—The Standard says editorially this morning: We can see no alternative. Spain must accept as inevitable the loss of the Philippines. No doubt the United States will assume a heavy and serious responsibility, but it augurs well for the future that the public men

"SLEEP LIKE A CHILD."

Sweet Refreshing Sleep Comes to those who use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is impossible for those whose nervous system is shattered, and whose heart action is weak, to get undisturbed and refreshing slumber. Their sleep is broken into by terrible dreams, startings, Smothering Spells, Sinking Sensations, and fear of impending death.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, bring back the much-needed night's rest, by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthening the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep peaceful as a child.

Mrs. E. Coburn, of Blenheim, Ont., suffered severely for many years, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured her. Here is her statement:

"When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills my heart troubles were very bad.

"I could get but little sleep because of the terrible smothering sensation, and was also weak and run down. I have taken three boxes of these wonderful pills. They relieved my heart trouble, enabled me to get restful sleep, removed the smothering sensation, and made me feel better than I have for years. I have been treated by a number of well-known and skillful physicians, both in Michigan and Canada, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only medicine which has acted well in my case, and I heartily commend their use to any person suffering as I did."

THE HOOLEY CASE.

The Bankrupt Promoter Brings Lord Churchill Into His Lies.

London, Nov. 8.—The examination of Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, in bankruptcy proceedings, was resumed yesterday. The court was crowded.

During the day Hooley made a number of curious statements, one being that he gave Lord Churchill $55,000 to induce the latter to sell an estate to a Mr. Drucos. But he could not explain why he gave the money, and later could not remember what a cheque for $6,500 was for. When shown a pencil note on the counter-foil, reading: "For introducing Lord D," the bankrupt said it meant Lord Deerhurst. He could not, however, remember the circumstances.

Later Hooley said the gold communion plate, which he presented to St. Paul's Cathedral, cost $1,504, and he added that he gave $39,000 to charity last year, and that his living expenses were from $10,000 to $12,000 yearly. The examination was then concluded, and the case was adjourned for a week.

UNHAPPY PARIS.

A Revolution Again Threatened Against the Civil Power—Assassination Is in the Air.

London, Nov. 8.—The Daily Chronicle says this morning:

"We have received information from a reliable quarter of a well-organized plot in Paris, in the event of the enquiry before the Court of Cassation proving favorable to Dreyfus, to foment a riotous outburst in the French capital, to attempt to overthrow the civil power and to assassinate the leading champions of Dreyfus.

"These reports are confirmed by interviews had with M. Trarieux, former Minister of Justice, and M. De Pressensee, foreign editor of the Temps, as well as others. The police have warned those friends of Dreyfus to change their residences temporarily, or at least to carry revolvers."

FRANCE REPUDIATES GOD.

Henceforth the Motto, "God Protects France," Is to Be Stricken From French Coin.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The Gaulois announces that henceforth the motto "God Protects France" will be stricken from French coin. The paper remarks sarcastically that it is a good thing, since foreigners might be led to believe from seeing the inscription that Frenchmen still have faith in Providence.

It suggests that the Government adopt the motto: "Schwart-Koppen Protects the Republic."

NEW JAPANESE CABINET.

Yokohama, Nov. 8.—Field Marshal Marquis Yamagata, Aritomo has formed a Ministry to succeed the Cabinet of Count Okuma Shigenki—the first party Cabinet in the history of Japan—which went out of office on June 26 and resigned on October 31, owing to differences over the question of filling the portfolio of Public Instruction. The Yamagata Cabinet contains no member who is connected with any of the political parties. It is constituted as follows: President of the Council and Premier, Marquis Yamagata Aritomo; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Viscount Aoki, formerly Japanese Ambassador to Germany; Minister of the Interior, Marquis Saigo Tsugumichi; Minister of Finance, Count Matsoukata; Minister of War, Lieut.-General Katsura; Minister of Marine, Admiral Yamamoto; Minister of Justice, M. LORD HERSCHELL'S BELIEF

Is That the Czar Is Really Desirous of Peace.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8.—The Right Hon. Lord Farrer Herschel, chairman of the Joint International Commission, is in the city, a guest of Senator Fairbanks.

He was asked if, in his opinion, the era of good feeling between England and this country had arrived, and as to the depth of that feeling.

"Whatever is felt here," was the reply, "is quite reciprocated on the other side. I think, perhaps, you people of the States are more demonstrative than we. The only thing that has held our people back from great demonstration of this sentiment is the fear that the matter is being pushed rather than allowed to develop of itself."

He was asked if he thought the strained relations between England and Russia would result in war.

"I do not consider that conditions are dangerous. My personal belief is that the Czar is really desirous of peace."

UNUTTERABLE AGONY

Endured by Mrs. Ellen Fox, of St. Matthias Street, Toronto.

Stone in the Bladder Made Life Miserable—A Surgical Operation at the General Hospital Failed to Relieve Her—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Toronto, Nov. 7th.—Mrs. Ellen Fox, of No. 3 St. Matthias street, this city, is a lady well-known and highly esteemed by a large and constantly increasing acquaintanceship. For a time she was a victim of ill-health, which prevented her from performing her social and domestic duties, greatly to the regret of her many friends.

Now, however, she is enjoying the most robust health, and the story of how she escaped the clutches of the disease that held her a victim is unusually interesting, affording, as it does, one other instance of how a famous remedy—Dodd's Kidney Pills—banishes suffering, wipes out disease and brings health, strength and happiness to every home where it is used.

Mrs. Fox writes of her case thus: "I endured agonies that neither tongue nor pen can describe, and that racked my body night and day. My trouble was Stone in the Bladder.

"I was, for a time, under treatment at the Toronto General Hospital, but no relief was afforded me, much less a cure. I underwent a painful surgical operation, but still my disease continued to grow worse and worse.

"My sufferings were simply awful, and at times were enough to turn the brain. I had almost abandoned all hope of ever getting better, when I was persuaded to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I got relief from the very first, and a continued use of this Heaven-sent medicine cured me absolutely and perfectly.

I can never be thankful enough for my release, which was due wholly and solely to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured thousands of cases of Stone in the Bladder and of Gravel. They have never failed to cure. They are the only positive and unfailing cure for these diseases. Furniture Store Improvements.

This is house-cleaning time, and the furniture store of Mr. M. McFadden, Hunter street, has been taking a benefit. These well established premises have undergone quite a marked change during the past week, which keeps it right in the procession with the up-to-date furniture stores in Ontario. The fine large rooms in the front of the store have undergone the principal improvements. The walls and ceilings have been decorated with new patterns of wall papers, and the wood work and fittings done over in new colours. These changes have added more light to the surroundings and more helpful to the examination of the fine display of new furniture with which the store is now stocked. The office and visitors' room adjoining the warerooms have also been touched up and refurnished, imparting an an air of hospitality that is inviting. While it is desirable to give credit where credit is due in the matter of encouraging store improvements, it is suggested that Mr. McFadden go one better—one step further—and improve on his advertising.

1. Your Committee at a meeting on October 8th, instructed the Town Engineer to notify the contractors for the granolithic sidewalks not to do any more work this year after they had finished the south side of Charlotte street between George and Aylmer streets.
2. Your Committee had a cheque for $160 issued to the Town Engineer on account of his commission on the granolithic sidewalks and recommend that this be approved.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM DAWSON, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE reported as appended through its chairman, Mr. J. M. White:

Your Committee received a report from the Inspector of Sewers which shows the unsatisfactory condition of the sewers mentioned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

On motion of Messrs. Denne and Best the additional portion of Gilmour street petitioned for, extending west from lot 10 to lot 14 will also be constructed.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

reported as follows:—

1. Your Committee recommend that $25 00 be paid to the Fire Brigade Band when the band hall is painted and papered to the satisfaction of the chairman of the Property Committee, as a grant towards the cost of the work.
2. Your committee instructed the mayor to take steps to stop the work on the Canadian Pacific Railway siding on Wolfe street until the property owners were settled with. Your committee had a conference with Mr. Leonard, of the C.P.R. in regard to Wolfe street matters, and informed him that the town was willing to carry out the agreement come to last fall, with modifications suggested by the committee and agreed to by him. In regard to these matters your committe also recommend that, with a view of arriving at a final settlement of the difficulty with the C. P. Railway with regard to the closing of Wolfe street, be it resolved in case an amicable settlement between the C. P. Railway and the owners of Lot 2 west of George and south of Wolfe street cannot be made, we would recommend that the company appoint one valuator, the property owners a valuator and that the town appoint Mr. John James Landy as the third valuator, their decision to be final.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. H. G. DENNE, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

SOME BYLAWS.

Mr. Dawson introduced a bylaw regulating the height of awnings to a distance of seven feet from the sidewalk, the police to enforce the provisions of this bylaw, which goes into effect on Jan. 1st. It received its several readings and was passed.

On motion of Messrs. McWilliams and Langford, the bylaw aiding the William Hamilton Mfg. Co., received its third reading and was passed.

On motion of Messrs. Dawson and Denne, the Street and Bridge Committee was instructed to ask for tenders for snow ploughing.

An account of $2.50 for extra street watering done by Mr. Cameron was passed, as one of Mr. Blodgett's for $7.50 for similar work.

Messrs. Robinson and Denne moved that the Market Committee be given power to purchase the necessary scales for market accommodation.—Carried.

Messrs. Denne and McWilliams moved that the Town Commissioners be instructed to deed over to the C.P.R., the north half of lot 11, west of George street and south of Rink street, in accordance with a former agreement.—Carried.

THE C. P. R. MATTER.

Moved by Councillor Denne, seconded by Councillor Hamilton that whereas the freight shed of the C.P.R. is constructed partly upon Wolfe street and the rails enter the station yard across Wolfe street west of the creek, so as to render the crossing of the same practically impassible, and whereas the C.P.R. Co. have agreed to make and maintain a roadway from a point upon Wolfe street, west of the creek and west of their rails to George street upon the land of the said company, north of the passenger station, in lieu of Wolfe street, and it is desirable that that part of Wolfe street shown in pink upon the plan hereto annexed should be closed and conveyed to the C. P. R. Co.; be it therefore resolved that upon the execution of an agreement by the C. P. R. to make and maintain a roadway from Wolfe street west of the creek and west of the rails of the company to George street, upon the lands of the company north of the passenger station and including the bridge over the creek, the council of the Town of Peterborough consents to an order being passed by the Railway Committee of the Privy Council of Canada closing that part of Wolfe street crossed by the rails of the company and the north half of that part of Wolfe street opposite lots 1 and 2 west of George street and south of Wolfe street, upon compensation, being paid to the owners of said lots mentioned lots, one-half of the compensation payable to the owners of lot 2 to be payable by the Town of Peterborough and one-half by the C.P.R. Co. The compensation in respect to lot 1 to be payable by the said Co. except as to the sum of $20 which is to be paid by the Town of Peterborough, and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to certify to a copy of this resolution under the corporate seal to the Railway Committee of the Privy Council.

Mr. Best moved in amendment that the clause binding the town to any compensation whatever be struck out of the resolution.

Mr. Denne explained that the town was morally bound to bear half the expense of the damage sustained by the property which was injured by the C. P. R. freight shed extending out on Wolfe street. The company wished to place it on the north side of the track, but the council had thought it would be an eyesore there, and agreed to pay half the damages if it were built on the south side. A bylaw had been passed closing the street in accordance with this agreement, but as access to certain lots was thus cut off, the bylaw had been quashed by Mr. Leplante. This, however, did not free the town from its moral obligation to carry out the agreement.

Mr. McWilliams stated that the Chamberlen estate claim had been settled at $150 by the C.P.R., and with regard to lot No. 2, owned by Messrs. Harper, Leplante and Green, he thought the damage should be assessed by three valuators, one each to be named by the town, the C.P.R. and the property owners in accordance with his resolution of Saturday. The town would not be bound by this to pay anything, but would merely appoint an arbitrator in order to make a settlement more easy to reach. If the property owners were not satisfied with this arrangement they could go to law or take the question to the Railway Committee

OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

He asked Mr. Denne to allow his resolution to stand over for the present in order to ascertain if the C.P.R. could not come to some agreement with the property owners.

Mr. Dawson didn't see why the town should be called on to pay anything, when the C.P.R. and the Matthews Co. were to derive all the benefit from the new switch, which was to be put in for the latter Company.

Mayor Davis explained that the new switch had nothing to do with the question. It was the old agreement which was under consideration.

Mr. McWilliams thought the whole

The Smoke a Man Most Likes.

You know the old joke on the considerate wife buying her husband cigars and he giving them away to those he most detested. That joke will never be played if the cigars are bought of Charley LeGros. The smoke a man most likes is a pure Havana cigar, but it must be the genuine Havana leaf—no imitation, no matter how good, will "fill the bill." I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Bock & Co.," "La Espanola," "Manual Garcia," "Diaz Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue label. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "B. B. B. Own Make" of English pipes—all sizes, shapes and prices; together with a lot of snaps in French briar pipes, with or without cases.—CHARLES LEGROS, 329 George street.

DON'T USE PLASTERS

Griffith's Liniment applied to Lumbago, lame back, sore back or side will penetrate and stop pain and soreness in less time than it takes to prepare oneself for a plaster application—it's clean and healing—cures where plasters fail—the quickest acting rheumatic healer in the whole medicine kingdom.

J. Woodward, of 126 Shaw street, Toronto, was a great sufferer from rheumatism. Tried many remedies with little success, began applying Griffith's Menthol Liniment. One application of it gave him more relief than anything he had ever tried. He says, "It is certainly a wonderful Liniment."

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measure would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely be relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

A WITTY BLUNDERER

HE WAS VALET TO LINCOLN AND ADMIRAL GOLDSBOROUGH.

One Occasion When His Idiotic Bungling Nearly Got Him In Trouble With Admiral Dewey, Who Was Then a Lieutenant Commander.

W. W. Stone, who was ship's writer on board the cruiser Colorado when Dewey and Watson were lieutenant commanders on that vessel, can tell many stories about those two celebrities. Admiral Goldsborough was in command of the Colorado. His valet, John, who at one time was President Lincoln's servant, was a witty but bungling Irishman. Stone's best story centers around this quaint character.

One morning Admiral Goldsborough sent down word to John that he wanted his glass, meaning, of course, his spyglass. John, as usual, however, misunderstood, and came tramping up the bridge with a goblet in his hand.

"John, you're the devil's own valet," growled the admiral when he saw him coming.

"Faith, sor, I didn't think I'd come to that same whin I tuk service wid ye, sor."

"Throw that blamed goblet overboard and go and get me my spyglass, as I told you, you infernal idiot!"

"Yes, sor," said John, calmly tossing the glass over the side, and in doing so narrowly escaped dashing it upon the upturned face of our executive officer, Lieutenant Commander George Dewey. Mr. Dewey was on a tour of inspection, circling the frigate in one of the cutters. The Colorado had just arrived from Triest. The passage down the Adriatic sea had been a stormy one, and the painstaking executive officer of the vessel wanted to see for himself how the old ship looked after her battle with the waves.

It was a lovely spring Sunday morning. We had dropped anchor in the beautiful bay of Naples, and I had crept up into the mizzentop to drink in with boyish zest the delights of our glorious surroundings. Off our beams lay Ischia and Capri, standing like stern Roman sentinels on guard, at the horns of the bay. Ahead lay the Campanila. From its center rises old Vesuvius, from whose grim apex I could see floating upward a hazy wreath, significant of the unrest beneath. I watched the old admiral with a great deal of interest. Had I been a kodak fiend I should then and there have forfeited my appointment by taking a snap shot at the irate officer as he glared at the sleek, unconcerned menial.

"Go below, you blundering Irishman, before I have you tossed over after the glass." The man disappeared, with just the suspicion of a smirk on his innocent looking face.

"Mr. Dewey would like to have you find out, sir, who is heaving crockery over the side of the ship, sir." This came from one of the crew of the cutter. He had come up with the order and spoke to Lieutenant Commander John Crittenden Watson, at the time officer of the deck. The admiral overheard the message of the angry executive and laughed quietly.

"Tell Mr. Dewey that it was the admiral, my man," said he soberly; then, turning to Mr. Watson he remarked, "He can't very well put the admiral in the brig, though I may deserve it."

"He may look around for a substitute, admiral," answered Mr. Watson, smiling.

"Oh, no; Dewey has too keen a sense of justice. Besides, I remember him saying once that he had no use for substitutes."

A few moments after this Mr. Dewey himself came over the starboard gangway, saluting the admiral with rather a haughty air. You see, a 10 pounder may spin merrily past a fellow's head aboard a man-o'-war and serve merely as a hook on which to hang the old time jest about a "miss being as good as a mile," but when a plain matter of fact, plebeian tumbler shoots past you, contrary to the articles of war and in direct violation of established naval etiquette, the circumstance that you have escaped mutilation is only an excrescence alongside of the glaring fact that your dignity has been very violently assaulted.

The admiral looked down and took in the situation. Descending to the quarter deck, he approached Dewey and said with a friendly air, "I say, Dewey, did you ever read 'Handy Andy?'"

"Yes, sir," rather shortly.

"Well, now, I must have his cousin aboard." And the admiral related the glass incident. The two laughed over the blunder, Mr. Dewey having recovered his usual good nature by this time.

"You see, Dewey, I have a sort of interest in the fellow. The secretary recommended him to me as a good, faithful serving man. He had been attached to Mr. Lincoln as his personal attendant, and I took the scamp partly on that account. Ah, here he comes at last with my glass! John, did Mr. Lincoln ever score you for your awkwardness?"

"No, sor, he niver did. Many the time he tould me that it wor a mercy that we were thegither, because, said he, his mind wor taken off affairs of state by thinkin did he wurruk harder tellin me how to do things than if he wint and did them himself."

"Doubtless, doubtless," said the admiral, laughing.

"I want you to remember, John," said Mr. Dewey severely, "that it is strictly against the rules of this ship to throw anything over the sides. You came very near striking me in the head with your glass tossing."

"That wor a pity, sor."

"A pity!" exclaimed Dewey savagely. "By Jim, I'd have come up and had you strung up at the mainyard arm like a dog."

"No, sor, axin yer pardon, I hope not."

"What's that?" roared the admiral angrily.

"Throth, sor, d'ye mind the mornin tellin me that ye wor to do the thinkin an I wor to obey orders, even if I bruk owners!"

The two laughed heartily at this hit, and John went below with flying colors. —San Francisco Examiner.

Some Matrimonial Facts.

Widowers are more inclined to marry than bachelors. Widows are more inclined to marry than spinsters. Both facts are eloquent in favor of the comparative advantages of matrimony. For one bachelor that marries between the ages of 50 and 55 seven widowers remarry between these ages. These are marriages out of equal numbers of each class. The actual number of bachelors married will be greater only in proportion as they exceed by seven to one the actual number of widowers living at these ages.

Under the same conditions, for every spinster married between 30 and 65 two widows are remarried. Inasmuch as the total number of spinsters far exceeds that of widows, and the figures given refer to marriages out of equal numbers, this disparity is not so noticeable. Its existence, however, is beyond dispute.

Similarly out of an equal number of widowers and bachelors between 25 and 30 years of age, 30 widowers remarry for every 13 bachelors who enter the bonds of Hymen for the first time.—London Tit-Bits.

Conversational Test.

"I was noticing the other day," remarked a mutual friend, "the difference between Mrs. A. and Mrs. Z. in the way they carry on a conversation. Mrs. A. is considered to be exceedingly tactful, and Mrs. Z. the reverse, although they are equally clever and interesting women. I was wondering vaguely what constituted the difference, but in watching their methods I began to see. One little thing, for instance, seems immaterial, but I dare say that that alone would make a decided difference. Mrs. A. in talking at the table or in a room where several people were present would invariably include every one present, turning first to one person and then to another, while Mrs. Z. fastened upon one individual and almost pointedly, although of course it was unintentional, left the rest of the party entirely out of the conversation. This was only one of many such details which struck me, and which went to make up the difference between the two women."—Exchange.

The Ring In Denmark.

"In Denmark a girl never knows the pure, unadulterated joy of receiving a diamond engagement ring," remarked a returned traveler. "She gets a plain gold band known as a wedding ring in that country, and it is worn on her left third finger. On the day of her marriage the bridegroom changes it to her right third finger, which is the marriage finger in that country of queer customs. When the husband dies, his widow changes her ring again to her left third finger, and everybody knows that she is a widow. Being engaged can't mean a great deal of happiness in Denmark any way you take it, for a girl is never under any circumstances permitted to see her betrothed one minute alone."

When Women Are Hotel Guests.

"When you are about to leave a hotel," says Frances E. Lanigan in The Ladies' Home Journal in a page of advice to women who are traveling, "make your arrangements in good time; ask for your bill, leave orders where any mail or telegrams arriving after your departure may be sent to you; get your receipt; tell the hotel clerk just what train you are to take, find out from him when the omnibus will leave and be ready in time, giving up your room keys at the office and being careful that you have all your belongings together, and that the porter has given you your trunk check. At the train you must re-check your trunk."

LONDON CAR STRIKE.

No Cars Started on Saturday—A Line of Busses Put on by the Strikers.

London, Ont., Nov. 7.—The only development in the street car strike on Saturday was that the strikers have put on lines of busses covering the various routes of the street railway. There was no attempt to run the cars. The strikers are orderly and well-behaved, making no demonstrations whatever. But it is certain that no car can be moved till they are satisfied. There are many men here ready to take the place of strikers and lodgings are being fitted up in the barns, but it is certain that the people will not permit the cars to run. There are a thousand ways in which any attempt to open the system can be blocked without any breach of the laws, and the men know it. So the matter stands.

The mystery of life and death has puzzled many a wise man. The alchemists of old searched in vain for some combination of drugs that would prolong life indefinitely. Common sense, chemistry and medical science have combined in this age to show man the way to a long and healthy life.

Common sense teaches that a man should not over-work or over-worry; that he should take ample time for his meals, for resting and for recreation and sleep; that he should not neglect the little ills of life, because they are the precursors of serious and fatal maladies. Chemistry has enabled men to make combinations of drugs that were impossible in the days of the alchemists. Medical science has taught when, how and why these combinations of drugs should be used. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the most valuable of all health-restoring medicines, and the most effective. Its first work is upon the fountain-head of life—the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. This medicine makes the stomach strong, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment.

It does not make flabby fat, but solid, muscular flesh, nerve force and vital energy. All medicine dealers sell it.

J. W. Jordan, Esq., of Corbin, Whitley Co., Ky., writes: "About two and a half years ago I was taken with severe pains in the chest, began to spit up blood, was troubled with night-sweats and was so short winded that I could scarcely walk half a mile. Tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and have improved both in strength and weight."

The medicine dealer who urges some substitute is thinking of the larger profit he'll make and not of your best good.

FOLK LORE OF MICE.

CURIOUS FABLES CONCERNING THEM FROM MANY SOURCES.

The White Mouse as "The Luck of the House" in Bohemia—Where Mice Receive Honor—Stories From Oriental Sources That Have the Mystic Flavor About Them—Among Our Own Indian Tribes.

Mice do not play a great part in folk lore; even the legend of the "Pied Piper" associates them with rats. But one recalls a few cases not uninteresting. A Bohemian legend declares that they were created by the devil, whereupon Beneficence produced the cat. When Noah received a pair of them into the ark they straightway began to gnaw a hole through the bottom, instigated by their unholy parent; water was pouring in when the serpent, with admirable presence of mind, stopped the leak with his head. We should conclude that mice are specially destructive in Bohemia, and so improves to be. Both the white and gray varieties flourish there, but the former is thought inoffensive. When harvests are ripening the peasants anxiously catch a white mouse, put it in a comfortable box upon the windowsill, feed and pet it, and call it "the luck of the house." If satisfied with these attentions the animal will banish all its gray kinsfolk from the vicinity.

In that very interesting island of Bali also, where Brahmanism and Buddhism inextricably mingled survive, while all the populations round have long been Moslem, some fortunate mice receive like honor. The Balis catch a pair, clothe them in white linen, and set them in a public place, where all the inhabitants of the village bow down before them; then they release the prisoners, and straightway, with an easy conscience, trap and kill every mouse that can be found, for they are terribly destructive in the rice fields. Mr. Fraser cites an old Greek charm in "The Golden Bough," which is worth quoting: "Take a paper and write," it says, "I adjure you, ye mice now present, neither to injure me nor to let others do so I give you yonder field (specifying one not too far off), and if ever I catch you here I swear by the mother of the gods I will tear you into seven pieces. Write this, and fix the paper on an unhewn stone in your field, taking care that the writing lies uppermost." Thus a man directed all his mice to a neighbor's property as some villa residents at the present day pitch their snails over the garden wall. That proceeding has sometimes led most respectable householders into the police court, frequently into direct quarrels, as in the grand instance of Cobbett and the learned Dr. Douce. Perhaps if Greek law reports were extant it would prove that this charm had caused some discomfort to men, if not to mice.

Certain Rajput clans regard the small creature with pious veneration for its services to the hero of Moosh Varma—that is, Mouse Cave—who was protected by an army of mice when his mother deserted him, just born. Herodotus tells the Egyptian legend of the destruction of Sennacherib's host—it is one of the few stories collected by "the father of history" in his travels which some Egyptologists allow to pass without a sneer at the poor man's ignorance. Sethon, priest of "Vulcan," was warned by a dream when Sennacherib approached. He took a body of mechanics to Pelusium, upon the frontier, and encamped them there, but no soldiers. The Assyrians came down, as we know, like a wolf on the fold, but Sethon did not quail. During the night field mice gathered in their thousands and gnawed the bowstrings, the quivers, the handles of the shields. Next morning the good priest sallied out with his mechanics and slaughtered the helpless warriors. For a witness thereof "a stone statue of Sethon was set up in the Temple of Vulcan, with a mouse in his hand and the inscription, 'Whoever looks on me let him revere the gods.'" And Herodotus saw it there, or may have done, for if we remember rightly, Professor Sayce makes him visit Pelusium. But there were more important—at least more famous—statues with which the mouse was associated. Mr. Andrew Lang has glanced at the case of Apollo Timinthens, in his "Custom and Myth." In this instance the sun god was recognized as the archer who smote men with pestilence. He had a mouse in his hand, or under his foot, upon the tripod beside him. Mice were fed in the temple, and at one place in the Troad, Delian says, "white mice dwell beneath the altar." Allusions in the Assyrian records leave no doubt that Sennacherib met with a great disaster on his Egyptian campaign. Both Greeks and Egyptians associated the mouse with pestilence—that is, it was an emblem of the destroying god. So did the Philistines; when they suffered after carrying off the ark, they sent it back with five golden bells and five golden mice, "as a trespass offering to the Lord of Israel." This was ages before the Assyrian invasion. A perplexing allusion occurs in Isaiah, where it is said that wicked Jews "purify and sanctify themselves, eating swine flesh and the abomination and the mouse."

One might venture to assert, speaking humanly, that it passes the wit of man to trace an intimate connection between a mouse and a mammoth—not by poetic license or figure of speech, but in plain fact. But who shall limit the ingenuity of the Chinaman? He has succeeded, and perhaps it is not his most wonderful feat in that line, though vastly creditable. The Chinese have been aware for an indefinite number of ages that the cliffs overhanging great rivers in Siberia contain the bodies of some monstrous animal. In times when they were more enterprising than now, it seems to have been a common practice to fit out expeditions for gathering the ivory. These people noticed that the carcases made their appearance after heavy rains, either imbedded in the clay or lying at the water's edge, obviously washed out of it. They concluded that the beasts lived under the earth, and they named them Feu-shu—"digging mice"—or Shu-men—"mother of mice." The great Encyclopedia Kang-fu gives a full description. The Feu-shu, it says, is a creature of the rat genus, found upon the coast of the Northern Sea, resembling the common rat at all points except size, which is incredible. It dwells in caverns far from the water, and accordingly it has to bore through the earth whenever it wants to drink. Instinct generally guides it safe to the bottom of a river, when it takes its fill and returns; but sometimes, by an erroneous calculation, it directs the tunnel too high and emerges in the bank above. This is fatal. A glimpse of daylight strikes it dead, and then the hunters find its body half in and half out of the soil.

The Encyclopedia quotes one still more venerable book called Shin-Shin, which reports that people not infrequently catch sight of the Feu-shu at dawn disporting itself after drinking; it vanishes with amazing rapidity. No doubt the mammoth was common in those remote ages. For the rest, its flesh is excellent eating, and its teeth are as white as the tusk of the elephant, but easier to work. Curiously enough, Darwin found the same notion under like circumstance in the Parana region. Fossil mastodons are wonderfully common in those parts, and the natives have satisfied themselves, by a similar train of reasoning, that they were a colossal species of Biscacha, the small rabbit whose holes stud the Pampas. The same fancy, perhaps, explains a very old legend common among the Northern tribes of Indians in America. These people assert that th dormouse was once the largest of animals—"when it stood up it looked like a mountain." A hero of epic, whose name we must respectfully omit by reason of a constitutional inability to recollect words of more than ten syllables, once yielded to a momentary impulse and caught the sun in a noose. The astonish luminary appealed to heaven and earth. Grave inconveniences followed in both spheres. The poor moon was distracted. No power, human or divine, ventured to challenge the polysyllabic hero, until the dormouse stepped forward—urged, as the story tells, by a noble consciousness of its duty as biggest of created things. It succeeded; but, taking the sun into its arms to disengage the noose, it was burnt or dried up to its present stature. Recalling the Chinese notion—that the "Mother of Mice" perished at a glimpse of daylight—and the fact that fossil mammoths abounded in this part of America, it seems likely enough that the Indians also think them gigantic rats. As for the myth of noosing the sun, it is paralleled in many lands, and long chapters, if not books, have been devoted to it.

The words of praise bestowed upon Hood's Sarsaparilla by those who have taken it prove the merit of the medicine.

A Good Kidney Stew.

For a kidney stew, split the kidneys into halves and trim off all the sinews and fat inside. Cut them into small pieces; put in a stewpan and cover with cold water; stand over a moderate fire and bring almost to boiling point. Drain this off, cover again with cold water and heat again. Do this three times. Put one tablespoonful of butter into a frying-pan and stir until a nice brown; then add one tablespoonful of flour and half a pint of stock or boiling water. Stir constantly with a wooden spoon until it boils. Add one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoonful of mushroom ketchup, a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet, salt and pepper, and the kidney. Stir again until the kidney is thoroughly heated; take from the fire and serve immediately.

To Keep Gilt Frames Clean.

To clean gold picture frames, beat the white of an egg; add to it one pint of cold water; moisten your frames with this mixture, using a sponge. Then with a soft flannel carefully wipe. Take a second cloth, perfectly dry, and give the frames a light rubbing. If the frames are not clean and bright after this treatment you had better take them to a gilder and have them regilded.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:—

MY mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results, for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O.

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

OTHER JONAHS.

Ancient Times Produced Many Legends Resembling the Biblical Narrative—Some Surprising Similarities.

The familiar story of Jonah and the whale, recently so widely discussed on account of Dr. Lyman Abbott's recent lecture, and the numerous comments which it has aroused, has many apparent counterparts in the legends and folk lore of the past. Some of these are surprisingly like the Biblical story of Jonah and are not generally known.

There is a legend preserved to us by Berosus (330-260 B.C.) as current among the Babylonians of a certain Oannes, who taught the people the arts of agriculture and civilization. He is described as being part man, part fish, and a picture of him has been found on one of the ancient monuments which are now in the British Museum.

It is related that he was possessed of a human voice by which he communicated with men. He taught them how to write, how to build temples and cities, how to make laws, and how to sow, reap, plough and drain the land. He only appeared at daybreak, and, as the sun set, plunged into the sea, reappearing at intervals whenever men needed him most.

The Babylonian story of the creation, which bears certain resemblances to the first chapters of Genesis, is attributed to Oannes, who described how the chief god, Bel, created the other gods, the good and evil spirits, animals, man, the planets and stars, sun, moon, etc.

"Students of folk lore do not hesitate to call the story of Oannes a sun myth, finding the key to the legend in his daily disappearance at sunset.

The Phœnicians and Philistines worshipped Dagon, one of their gods in the shape of a figure half man, half fish, or sometimes as a man just coming out of the mouth of a fish. The fact that the sun is called Jawnah by the Persians, and in Troy was known as Jona, is proof positive to Professor Goldziher, an eminent German scholar, that the origin of the story lies in the sun being swallowed up by storm clouds or by the sea at setting.

Among the Persians Jemshid give Iran all of the benefits of civilization, invents the fine arts, especially music, and, being swallowed by the dragons of storm and night, afterward rises to continue his benedictions to the human race.

The Hindoos have a fable in the "Somadeva Bhatta" that the King's daughter had made a vow to marry no one but the man who had seen the "golden city." Her suitor, Saktideva, embarks upon a ship bound for Utsthala, where the "king of the fishermen" lived. A terrific storm breaks over the ship, which goes to pieces, Saktideva being swallowed by a huge fish.

The King's servants catch the fish, cut it open and Saktideva comes forth alive. He is taken to Utsthala, sees the "golden city" and returns to marry the princess.

The story appears in various forms among the Greeks. Hercules rescues Hesione from the sea monster by leaping into its jaws, where he remains for three days and nights, tearing at its entrails. Another version has it that he was swallowed by a whale, at Joppa, and when he was thrown out, three days later, his head was bald.

The story of Arion is somewhat similar. Arion was a Corinthian harper, who had amassed great wealth while playing in Italy and Sicily, and wished to return to his native city, Corinth. He took passage in a ship, but the sailors found out that he had much money with him and plotted to kill him.

He happened to overhear the conspiracy and begged for his life, offering to give them all his wealth. But the sailors refused, fearing that he would inform the authorities as soon as the ship reached Corinth, and they would be punished. So he was told to prepare for death. Taking his harp he played so melodiously that he attracted a school of dolphins to the ship.

When he had finished playing he was compelled to jump into the sea, but one of the dolphins picked him up, and, taking him on its back, carried him safely and quickly to Corinth. When the ship reached that city the sailors were punished and his wealth was restored. It is notable that Oannes and Jemshid were supposed to have introduced the art of music for which Arion was so remarkable.

The familiar character, Proteus, is associated with similar stories, which are too well known to require repetition here.

COUNCIL CONSIDER A BIG BUDGET.

matter should be considered at the same time. There was no use in closing one half the street now and then having to go to the Privy Council again when the other half had to be closed.

The Mayor, in reply, stated that the town and the C.P.R. could go to the Privy Council together and ask to have half the street closed, being the portion obstructed by the freight sheds. Arbitrators could settle the damages incurred by the property owners who would still have access to their lots. Then if the C.P.R. and the Matthews Co. wished to have the other half closed in order to place the new siding in position, it would be their own affair, and they would have to settle between them of the property owners for being completely shut off from access to the lots in question.

Mr. Langford stated that he was sure the property owners would not agree to have the town and C.P.R. both appoint valuators and have two votes to their one on an arbitration.

Mr. Lepiante, one of the property holders, who was present stated that they certainly would not.

Mr. T. F. Matthews asked that the council stand by its resolution passed in the presence of Mr. Leonard on Friday evening which was mutually satisfactory. It read as follows:—

"The town will convey, or procure to be conveyed, to the C.P.R., by a sufficient deed in fee simple, the north half of lot 11, west of George street and east of Rink street, free from all encumbrance.

"The portions of Wolfe street shown coloured pink on the map hereinto annexed, shall be closed up and conveyed by the town to the C.P.R.

"The C.P.R. agree to open and maintain a roadway for the use of the public from Wolfe street on the west side of the creek to George street, across the Company's property, such roadway to be 40 feet in width, as shown in green on the plan annexed. The corporation not to assume any liability in respect of such roadway. This roadway to be in lieu of that portion of Wolfe street, across which the tracks of the C. P. R. are laid, which portion is to be wholly closed, as shown in pink on said plan.

"The town and the C.P.R. shall bear and pay in equal proportions, the compensation (if any) to which the owners of the lands opposite the closed portions of Wolfe street may be entitled for lands injuriously affected by such closing

"This agreement is made subject to the approval, as far as may be necessary, of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council of Canada, and the town and the C.P.R. will concur in a joint application to the said committee for any order that may be necessary in the premises, in order to enable the parties hereto to carry out the purpose of this agreement, in respect of the matters aforesaid."

This had been agreed to by a majority of the council and he asked why the members wished to go back on it after Mr. Leonard had left. He was prepared to do his share by the property owners, but could get them to name no figure.

Mr. Lepiante stated that speaking for his share in the lot he was willing to accept the sum of ten dollars a year for the damage sustained. He would name no lump sum.

Mr. Deane pressed his motion,

WHICH WAS LOST.

Messrs. Langford and Best moved the same resolution with the following clause struck out:—

"One half of the compensation payable to the owners of lot 2, to be payable by the town of Peterborough and one half by the C.P.R. The compensation in respect to lot 1, to be payable by the said company, except as to the sum of $30, which is to be paid by the town of Peterborough."

The resolution was then carried.

Mr. Bamford, C.P.R. station agent, on being invited to speak, stated that Mr. Leonard came down from Toronto in good faith and had conferred with the councillors with the result that the resolution referred to by Mr. Matthews had been passed carrying out the terms of the old agreement. As soon, however, as his back was turned the council proceeded to undo what it had done on Friday evening. This effectually blocked all further proceedings and Mr. Leonard would now let the council work out the solution of the difficulty as the members saw fit. He would confer with them no more.

OTHER MATTERS.

Referring to another matter Mr. Bamford asked that the electric light at present situated near the C.P.R. track be removed about twenty feet further north, as the engineers could not distinguish the signals on account of it.

The matter was referred to the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee with power to act.

Messrs. Deane and McWilliams moved that the Treasurer be authorized to pay out on account of streets and bridges the sum of three hundred dollars in excess of the amount appropriated for the account.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. J. M. White and Best the Water Co. will be instructed to put all hydrants in proper repair.

Messrs. Robertson and Hamilton moved that Mr. Ritchie be refunded $5.00, the amount of a fine imposed last summer for removing sod from a town lot.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Langford and Allen, Mr. A. A. McIntyre will be allowed to connect with the Park street sewer on the understanding that he will pay a frontage tax if at anytime the other property holders on the street petition for a sewer to be constructed.

The Street and Bridge Committee was authorized to repair the hill on the east side of the river descending to the Smith street bridge, providing the village of Ashburnham pay half the cost.

On motion of Messrs. Dawson and Deane, the question of the assessment on the new pavement will be taken up by a Committee of the Whole Council.

Another question to be considered will be the condition of certain portions of the sewer system, which are alleged to be in disrepair.

The council adjourned until Wednesday evening.

BAIT PAILS.

Some of Them of Thirty-two Quarts in Capacity and Rather Elaborate.

A man who wasn't much interested in such things might suppose that any sort of pail would do for bait, that all you had to do was to get a pail and put in some water and put your bait in; but, as a matter of fact, there are pails designed especially for the carrying of live bait. They are made in various sizes, ranging from 1 to 32 quarts, this last a pail of capacity equal to a quarter of a barrel.

The smallest and simplest bait pail, one holding a quart, is of painted tin, with the cover on a hinge, and this cover perforated with many holes.

A 32 quart bait pail has inside of it and made of such a size as to fill the pail except for the space required to permit of lifting it out and setting it back easily a tin cylinder with many perforations in it all over, the live fishes for bait being kept in this perforated cylinder or inner pail.

The perforated cylinder in the big pail is made thus so that it can be lifted out of the pail and put overboard in a lake or a river or other body of water where the fishes in it will get the benefit of a free circulation. When the bait is wanted, the cylinder is taken up and put back in the outer pail, which is of course filled with water, and the bait is then ready for transportation or for keeping where it can be got at conveniently.

There are smaller pails of various sizes that have removable cylinders in which the live bait can be submerged. Some of these cylinders are intended to be lowered to the bottom. There are some that are made with an air compartment on top so that the perforated cylinder is kept floating in the water. Some of the largest bait pails have the outer cover made depressed in the middle, like a shallow, straight sided pan, so that a cake of ice can be laid on top.

One of those big bait pails might be used in a camp and the smallest bait pails by individual anglers. The angler is very particular about his bait.—New York Sun.

BISMARCK'S HUMOR.

It Was Rollicking and Aggressive and Didn't Even Spare Himself.

Bismarck's humor was entirely of the German stamp, says Professor Kuno Francke in The Atlantic. It was boisterous, rollicking, aggressive, unsparing—of himself as little as of others—cynic, immoderate, but never without a touch of good nature. His satire was often crushing, never venomous. His wit was racy and exuberant, never equivocal.

Whether he describes his vis-a-vis at a hotel table his excellency So-and-so, as "one of those figures which appear to one when one has the nightmare—a fat frog without legs, who opens his mouth as wide as his shoulders, like a carpetbag, for each bit, so that I am obliged to hold tight on by the table from giddiness;" whether he characterizes his colleagues at the Frankfort Bundestag as "mere caricatures of periwig diplomatists, who at once put on their official visage if I merely beg of them a light to my cigar and who study their words and looks with Regensburg care when they ask for the key of the lavatory;" whether he sums up his impression of the excited, emotional manner in which Jules Favre pleaded with him for the peace terms in these words: "He evidently took me for a public meeting;" whether he declined to look at the statue erected to him at Cologne, because "he didn't care to see himself fossilized;" whether he spoke of the unprecedented popular ovations given to him at his final departure from Berlin as a "first class funeral"—there is always the same childlike directness, the same naive impulsiveness, the same bantering earnestness, the same sublime contempt for sham and hypocrisy.

QUIT FOUR DAYS AGO.

Slackening in the British Naval War Preparations.

MUST RETAIN THE PHILIPPINES.

British and French Opinion Upon the Necessity Which Now Confronts Brother Jonathan—The Kaiser's Trip to the Holy Land—Jury's Verdict in the Harold Frederic Case.

London, Nov. 9.—(Toronto Globe Special).—I learn on excellent authority that the extraordinary naval preparations ceased four days ago. I also hear that no fresh revelations are expected in Lord Salisbury's speech this evening at the Lord Mayor's banquet.

The Peace Commission.

Paris, Nov. 9.—The Gaulois yesterday morning, referring to the day's sitting of the Peace Commission, says it will in no way modify the Spanish-American situation, "as the American commissioners have orders to await further instructions from Washington."

The Gaulois then says those instructions will depend upon the results of the elections, which the paper mentioned thinks will be favorable to the Republicans, adding: "The American Government will eventually recognize that pecuniary compensation is due to Spain for the evacuation of the Philippine Islands, and the negotiations will continue and be brought to satisfactory conclusion in a friendly spirit."

MUST GO FORWARD.

The United States Has Gone So Far on the Philippine Question That No Back Step Is Possible.

London, Nov. 9.—The Times says this morning: "Whatever may be the result of the elections in the United States, the Administration has gone too far to retreat on the Philippine question. The American reply may perhaps modify the original proposals, but there is no doubt the main demand will be pressed to a successful conclusion.

"It is impossible not to feel sympathy with Spain, and we trust that, on the financial side, the Americans will show themselves generous toward a fallen enemy."

After expressing satisfaction that "future misunderstanding will be avoided by the immediate adoption of a solution, which was ultimately inevitable," the Times says:

"We trust that America has learned to appreciate the fact that commercial restitution and Imperial expansion do not thrive together. But it must be confessed that our sympathy with the Americans in their new course suffers a great strain by such blunders as the order for the regulation of trade at Porto Rico, which reads as if borrowed from the British Navigation Acts, which the Americans found so oppressive."

The editorial concludes by expressing the opinion that the new policy and the promising economic situation will prevent any recurrence of any acute currency crisis.

No Debate on the Fashoda Question.

Paris, Nov. 9.—The Chamber of Deputies resumed its session yesterday with a crowded attendance in anticipation of a debate on the Fashoda question. But those present were disappointed by M. Brunot announcing that he withdrew his interpellation on the subject.

The Spanish-American peace commissioners notified the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, that the joint session, which was to have taken place yesterday, would not be held, and that they will notify the Minister when they have determined upon the date of another meeting.

A semi-official note was issued announcing that the peace commissioners had informed the French Minister of Foreign Affairs that their conferences were suspended.

A Verdict of Manslaughter.

London, Nov. 9.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death on Oct. 19 last of Harold Frederic, the correspondent of the New York Times, rendered a verdict yesterday of manslaughter against Kate Lyons, a member of the late Mr. Frederic's household, and Mrs. Mills, a Christian Scientist.

Emperor William Displeased.

Beyrout, Syria, Nov. 9.—Emperor William is much displeased over several jarring incidents of his trip to Jerusalem.

The reply of the Vatican to his notification of rights acquired at Mount Zion is considered extremely curt, while on all important occasions the French Consul-General attended in order to assert France's guardianship of holy places.

Moreover, it appears that the Sultan practically took forceful possession of the land he presented to Emperor William, the owner objecting to sell ecclesiastical property.

Reviewed the Turkish Garrison.

Damascus, Nov. 9.—The visit of Emperor William and the Empress Augusta Victoria to Damascus has proved most successful and interesting. Their Majesties have visited the principal sights. In the afternoon Emperor William reviewed 6,000 men of the Turkish garrison, the review ending with a picturesque fantasia by Bedouins mounted on horses and camels.

In the evening a grand banquet was given in the Emperor's honor.

Marchand Is Very Sorry.

Cairo, Nov. 9.—Major Marchand, in a speech delivered at the French Club last night, expressed great sorrow over the abandonment of Fashoda. His expedition, he said, had started to carry the French hand grip across French Africa to the French of Egypt, who, if few to-day, would be numerous to-morrow, forgetting nothing and abandoning nothing.

Stead on the Czar.

London, Nov. 9.—W. T. Stead, writing to the Daily News from Sebastopol, after having had an interview with the Czar at Livadia, reiterates his conviction of the earnestness and sincerity of the Czar's purpose in proposing disarmament.

Mr. Stead says it is impossible to repeat the conversation, but he adds: "But my opinion is summed up in a remark which I made to a princess of the court, who, meeting me, as I was leaving, asked me: 'Well, what is your opinion?' I replied simply: 'I thank God for him. If he is spared to Russia, that young man will go far.'"

Mr. Stead adds that he found the Czar possessed of exceptional rapidity of perception, united with a remarkable memory and a very wide grasp of an immense range of facts.

BRITAIN AND VENEZUELA.

Russian Official Gazette Reports Progress in the Great Arbitration.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—The Russian Official Gazette reports progress in the Venezuelan arbitration under Prof. Martins. Both Great Britain and Venezuela communicated historical documents and maps to support their respective claims in March last. The British case comprised eight large volumes and an enormous atlas, while the Venezuelan case comprised four volumes and an atlas. The second phase of the arbitration opened in August, when each Government handed in a counter case in answer to its opponent's arguments.

The members of the Arbitration Court have received, up to the present time, over 2,300 documents in English, Spanish and Dutch, covering four centuries. The Official Gazette says that, judging from the material thus far presented, the dispute is the most difficult ever submitted to international arbitration. The two Governments must furnish the arbitrators their final conclusion, or printed argument, by December. This will close the preliminary stage. The court will hear verbal arguments in the spring at Paris.

LATEST NEWS GOOD, BUT--

No Actual Terms Have Been Arrived at to End the London Car Strike Yet.

London, Nov. 9.—Of the conference that took place yesterday morning nothing can be learned, although it is generally supposed here that the recognition of the union by the company is the stumbling block in the way of a speedy settlement. The strikers still continue their 'bus service, which is being very liberally patronized, and the company are keeping a couple of cars running, with a police guard, although they do not seem to be doing very much business. The cars were not run at noon, presumably to prevent the workingmen from getting a chance at them. The operators of the cars are being jeered by some and ignored by most people, although no effort has been made to molest the non-union men.

Neither Mr. Everett nor Mr. Orr would give any particulars as to the progress of the negotiations. They did not deem it politic to talk at this stage.

All differences between the Street Railway Company and its striking employes have now been practically settled, with the exception of the scale of wages, which the men insist shall be 16 2-3 cents per hour. The company will not accede to this, and at the present writing the outlook is not so favorable to a settlement. It is understood the men are now considering the clause dealing with the scale of wages, and the question as to whether the strike is to continue or not practically hinges on their decision.

Badly Named.

Mr. Beerbohm Tree relates an amusing story about a boisterous voyage from New York. He was lying in his cabin. The luggage and fittings were flying round. The vessel was rolling terribly. Suddenly there was an extra special lurch. Mr. Tree was knocked to the floor by a heavy weight and lay half stunned. On fully recovering his senses he looked to see what it was that had felled him. It was an admirable contrivance and was marked, in bold letters, "Life Saving Apparatus."

'TEDDY' WAS ELECTED

Erstwhile Rough Rider Now Governor of New York State.

THE RETURNS INCOMPLETE.

A Very Close Vote in New York State—Senators and Assemblymen—Little Known Yet of the Elections for the Legislatures—The Returns as Far as Received.

New York, Nov. 9.—Returns received in the Associated Press office in this city from all over the country up to 12.30 this (Wednesday) morning, indicate that 95 Republicans and 109 Democrats have certainly been elected to seats in the National House of Representatives. The same districts two years ago returned to the Lower House of Congress 105 Republicans and 39 Democrats. Based solely on the estimates in these districts a Republican loss of 20 and a Democratic gain of 21 is indicated. These estimates concede to the Democrats all of the congressional districts in Greater New York, except one, the 15th.

Nothing to Be Said.

New York, Nov. 8.—At 10.50 o'clock tonight, Justice Van Wyck sent a message to the crowd of newspaper reporters who had been waiting outside his house for several hours. The message was simply: "There is nothing to be said."

ROOSEVELT NOTIFIED.

Newspaper Men Went Down to Tell Him of His Success—Would Give No Outline.

Oyster Bay, L.I., Nov. 8.—Col. Roosevelt was notified to-night of his victory by a telegram from Chairman Odell of the Republican State Committee, saying he had been elected governor by from 20,000 to 40,000 plurality.

Col. Roosevelt was at his house in Cove Neck, surrounded by his family and some friends. After arriving home during the afternoon from the city, he spent the evening quietly waiting for the returns to come in. News reached the telephone office in Oyster Bay before the despatches from New York were sent to Col. Roosevelt's house.

A party of newspaper men, as soon as the first information came that he had been elected, drove to his house and informed him that he was to be the next Governor of New York State. Mr. Roosevelt was asked to make a statement, outlining his future plans, but he laughingly replied that he wanted to be first sure that he had been elected, and did not care to say much until he received the official news from the State Committee that he was elected. Col. Roosevelt was congratulated by those present and during the night and up to the time the telegraph office closed, there was a flood of congratulatory telegrams for the successful candidate.

THE MIDNIGHT REPORT.

Majority for Rough Rider Roosevelt is Anywhere From Eighteen to Twenty Thousand.

New York, Nov. 8.—(Midnight.)—Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, late colonel of the First United States Volunteer Cavalry, has been elected Governor of this state by a plurality anywhere from 18,000 to 20,000. All Col. Roosevelt's associates on the Republican state ticket are probably elected with him. The returns both from Greater New York and from the counties outside of this municipality, are incomplete, but enough have been received to indicate a heavy falling off in the vote up the state, while that in the city was well sustained. The consequence is a falling off in the Republican plurality in the state from 242,000 to the approximated figures given above. Outside of Greater New York the vote of Van Wyck is only about one-fifth of one per cent. above that of Porter in 1896. There appears to be a loss of four Republican congressmen in the Republican districts, the 2nd, 4th, 5th and 6th. Congressman Quigg, who had a majority of about 9000 at the election last year, has been defeated by William Astor Chanler.

What the Senate Will Be.

New York, Nov. 9.—(1 a.m.)—The State Senate will probably stand 27 Republicans and 23 Democrats. The last senate contained 35 Republicans, 14 Democrats and on Independent.

The delegation to Congress from this state stands: Republican 19, Democrat 14, and one district missing. In the last election it stood: Republicans 28, Democrats 6.

Result in Brooklyn.

New York, Nov. 8.—Brooklyn, complete, gives Van Wyck 99,061, Roosevelt 82,255.

New Hampshire Republican.

Concord, N.H., Nov. 8.—Rollins (Republican) will have 9000 majority as Governor.

Wolcott in Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—Wolcott (Republican), for Governor, has from 55,000 to 60,000 plurality. Republicans claim ten of the thirteen Congressmen.

Alabama Democrats Gain.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns from Alabama show that the Democrats have carried all of the nine Congressional districts in that State. This is a Democratic gain of one.

Louisiana Solidly Democratic.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns from the six

Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN?

It means that the British Lion is becoming tired of having his tail twisted, and smiling as though he liked it. Now the immense, general and business-like preparations for war on the part of the British, means a sort of invitation to tread on the tail of John Bull's coat. For years Britain has shown a magnaminous forbearance under great provocation. France, especially in territorial matters, has pursued a policy of petty aggression and national nagging, hardly worth resenting, but in the aggregate creating a causus belli, or at least, ground for a decided understanding, such as Marchand has precipitated. Britain, as remarked, has shown remarkable patience, but that Job-exalted quality has ceased to be a virtue, and now the end must come, one way or another. If Britain is provoked to war she is preparing for clearing all scores from the slate. Russia is practically an ally of France, and if she decides to back France in her policy of petty aggression in relation to British interests, the latter is prepared to to enforce a demand of "hands off." Russia's designs on Turkey are for the moment subordinate to her grab policy in China. In the latter place she comes in conflict with British interests in a way that will before long provoke a reckoning. And in relation to Turkey, Russia will have to reckon with Germany; for recent events have developed the extent and magnitude of Germany's interests in the Sick Man. These conditions will naturally bring Britain and Germany in the relation of allies as against Russia, as the standing feud since 1870 between France and Germany makes Germany Britain's natural ally as against France. The good understanding between England and the United States points to a triple alliance, understood if not actual, between Britain Germany and the United States—a pretty strong team in case of the eventuality of war. It is to the interest of all these to checkmate Russian and French designs—of the first two for territorial reasons almost entirely, and of the United States for territorial reasons also; for, in her game of grab at Spain's colonial possessions, the United States has reason to feel that the same spirit that threw the weight and sympathy of Russia and France against the United States in their squabble with Spain will, not be withheld in relation to the disposal of the spoil by the victor. The British lion has been stirred up a little too much and he is showing his teeth in a way the world has not seen for a hundred years. He is evidently prepared for whatever comes. He is trusting in his rights and keeping his powder dry. He didn't waste any in naval manœuvres this year. He is evidently saving it for an actual exhibition of strength instead of a naval exhibition. He evidently means, not fireworks, but fight.

If there had been an explosion of gas in the capital at Washington during the ante-bellum discussions of the Senate and House of Representitives, no one would have been surprised. But a gas explosion in the Capitol in the piping times of peace is matter for a nine days wonder.

THE electors of the Northwest have not only confirmed the offence with which the Mail and Empire has charged Mr. Sifton, Minister of the Interior—that of actually having a brother who had the assurance to be a candidate in Banff for the Northwest Assembly—they have actually elected this gentleman in spite of the Mail's protest. Mr. Sifton is really carrying things a little too far. It is a bad enough political offence that he should have a brother at all, but that his brother should be allowed to be elected for the Northwest Assembly is very like an outrage. Nepotism couldn't go further.

THE CLAIMS OF CHEMONG PARK.

TO BE THE SITE OF A PROPOSED SANITARIUM.

Its Advantages Set Forth in a Letter to the Globe.

"Pro Bona Sanitate" writes to the Globe of Saturday as follows: "I noticed in a recent issue of the Globe, whose date I forget, an article dealing with the proposal or intention to erect or establish sanitariums in different suitable localities in the Province. With a desire to aid in the selection of such places I beg to submit one and present a few claims of desirability which should at least make it worthy of examination by the proper authorities. To be brief, I would suggest Chemong Park. This park is situated on Chemong Lake, one of the splendid chain of lakes that exists in the district north and northwest of Peterborough. The situation of this park is undeniably salubrious. It lies 662 feet above the level of Lake Ontario, 300 feet above the Town of Peterborough and 92 feet above the level of Chemong Lake, a body of beautifully pure water. The park, which is at present used as a summer resort—largely patronized by, among other, invalids with pulmonary affections—contains 75 acres with a fine park like lawn of about fifteen or twenty acres, dotted with clumps of evergreens and large pines and oaks. This lawn is surrounded by a comparatively dense belt of pine, which extends about half a mile along the lake shore and merges into a stretch of original forest of pine that stretches a mile or so further and extends backward from the shore line to include enough, with the 75 acres of the park proper, to make 275 acres of ever-green pine forest. At present there is an hotel building substantially constructed of brick, with an area of nearly 2000 square feet on each of the three floors, (not including the basement), which could be made available in a building scheme necessary for sanitarium purposes. The points that make for the salubrity of the situation are its elevated position, and the fact that the prevailing winds—southwest and west—blowing over the deep belt of pines constantly carry their resinous fragrance across the park. The purity of these winds is evident from the fact that for about a hundred miles, including the breadth of Lake Ontario, they pass over the lake surface and a stretch of swampless soil of a sandy nature, insuring the one great desideratum of a sanitarium, pure air. Winds blowing in any other direction would travel to Chemong over similar conditions of lake surface and the breath of pine forests growing on sandy or rocky soil. The soil of the park is itself of sandy porous loam, so that a short time after a drenching rain the turf can be used, so far as footing is concerned, by a delicate invalid. The water supply at the park is abundant, being furnished by numerous living springs that ooze through the clean sandy soil and give a supply of water, pure beyond the possibility of contamination. The park is six miles from the thriving town of Peterborough, which represents an excellent base of supply."

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not be Alarmed, but Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor indigestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, and irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

THE LENNOX CAMPAIGN.

Hon. Messrs. Ross and Ryckman Speak at Napanee—They Advance Mr. Aylesworth's Interests Immensely

Napanee, Nov. 9.—The opening rally in the interests of Mr. Bowen E. Aylesworth, held in the Brisco Opera House yesterday afternoon, was largely attended. The swing of victory was in the air, and no prouder, happier or more enthusiastic audience ever faced the Minister of Education or his able colleague of the Department of Agriculture. A large number of ladies occupied seats upon the platform, and the way they crowded around the Minister of Education at the conclusion of the meeting was prima facie evidence that his words struck a popular chord in their hearts. The meeting was called to order at 2 p.m. by Mr. Thomas Symington, who made an acceptable chairman. On the platform were Messrs. F. Wartman of Colebrook, S. Russell, M.P.P., E. M. Derochie, Q.C., D. W. Allison, Rev. Mr. White, Rev. E. T. Evans and others. Short addresses were delivered by Mr. D. W. Allison, ex-M.P., and Mr. Bowen E. Aylesworth, the able and popular candidate, after which the Chairman introduced the Hon. John Dryden, who was given a warm reception. Mr. Dryden delivered a practical and convincing address, and created a very favorable impression. Hon. Geo. W. Ross on rising to address the meeting was tendered an ovation. He paid a tribute to Mr. Dryden's worth as Minister of Agriculture. He asked them to return Mr. Aylesworth, as he had proved a capable representative. His speech dealt with all the questions of moment in Ontario politics, and was regarded as an excellent defence against the slanders of the Opposition. The meeting closed with cheers.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

A RISE IN WHEAT.

At Liverpool and Paris the Prices Went Up—Holiday in U. S.—The Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 8.

The Chicago Board of Trade and other United States grain exchanges were closed to-day on account of the Congressional elections. The British markets, however, were strong, despite an advance in consols, which latter fact in itself might be taken as an indication of an improved peace outlook. On the Liverpool board futures to-day closed ¾d to ⅞d per cental above yesterday's final figures. Paris wheat rose 5 to 15 centimes.

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 8th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. TEDDY WAS ELECTED.

Congressional districts of Louisana show the election of Democratic Congressmen. The Louisiana delegation is therefore solidly Democratic as before.

No Change in Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8.—At midnight Chairman Blacker of the Democratic State Committee conceded the state to the Republicans by over 40,000 plurality, and Chairman Daugherty of the Republican State Committee claimed the state by 60,000. The Ohio Congressional delegation remains the same as at present, 15 to 6, each party carrying precisely the same districts as at the Presidential election two years ago.

Connecticut Goes the Whole Ticket.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 8.—The entire Republican ticket was elected in this State by from 15,000 to 20,000.

Ohio Delegation Unchanged.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Returns indicate a Republican plurality of over 60,000. The Congressional delegation will likely remain unchanged: Republicans, 15; Democrats, 6.

Buffalo City Democratic.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 8.—This city gives Van Wyck about 2500 majority.

Democrats gain one Congressman in the city, R. B. Mahany (Republican) being defeated by 700.

Florida Heard From.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 8.—The vote today, judging from returns now in, is from 10 to 20 per cent. lighter for both parties than in 1896. The whole Democratic ticket is elected.

Democrats Gained Two.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—The Democrats here gained two Congressman in Maryland.

Carolina All Democratic.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns from South Carolina show that the Democrats have carried the seven congressional districts of the state.

Texas is Unchanged.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns from Texas indicate that the Democrats have carried all of the 13 congressional districts of that state, except the tenth, where R. B. Hawley, Republican, is probably elected. This leaves the Texas delegation politically unchanged.

Connecticut Remains the Same

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns from Connecticut show that the Republicans have carried all of the four congressional districts in that state. This leaves the Connecticut delegation unchanged politically.

Iowa is Republican.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 8.—The chairman of the Republican State Committee says the state has gone Republican by 50,000.

Republicans Carry New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 8.—New Jersey has been carried by the Republicans and Foster M. Voorhees, the Republican candidate, is elected Governor by about 12,000 plurality. Essex County, which was concededly the fighting ground of both parties, has gone Republican by about 8000, and both Houses of the Legislature will be Republican. This will ensure the election of a Republican to succeed James Smith, jr., Democrat, in the United States Senate.

Result in Maryland.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Full and semi-official returns from the city of Baltimore and partial returns from the balance of the state make it reasonably certain that Maryland has returned four Republican and two Democrat Congressmen after an extraordinarily close but entirely listless election. This is a Democratic gain of two.

How Is It in Illinois?

Chicago, Nov. 8.—At 10 o'clock the indications were that the Republicans had elected their entire state ticket, but the figures were coming in slowly from outside Chicago, and nothing could be estimated with accuracy. The Democrats in many counties have shown gains over the vote of 1896, and they have apparently secured several Congressmen in Cook County, and some outside of it.

Result in Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—After a canvass confined almost entirely to Congressional districts and without state issues, the Republicans have again carried Massachusetts and elected Roger Wolcott Governor for the fourth time, as well as their entire state ticket, by a safe majority.

Governor Wolcott's plurality over A. B. Bruce, his Democratic opponent, will be about 70,000, or 15,000 less than his lead last year.

The Legislature will be but little changed from its present list, namely, 181 Republicans, 59 Democrats.

BOTH SIDES SCORE

One West York Charge Held Proven—Liberal Agent Played for a "Sucker."

Toronto, Nov. 9.—In the West York election case yesterday, after hearing the arguments of counsel, their Lordships reserved decision until this morning upon the Wright section of the case.

Chas. W. Denison swore that Pearen canvassed him at the Weston Fair in 1897, when he had promised to get him a job at the Central Prison. When that fell through Pearen subsequently promised him a job on the street railway, a poll-clerkship on election day, a warehouse appointment, but they all turned out of no avail. He had played Pearen for a sucker, and had no intention of voting for Hill, anyhow.

Pearen, recalled, denied Denison's statement in toto.

T. Rennie testified that Pearen had consulted him about a job for Denison, but he could not find him one, and the latter remarked that he thought it was an election dodge.

A charge of Pearen promising one Fox a constableship at Fairbank on election day was dismissed. In the Denison case, Mr. Justice Street said the charge must be considered proved.

James Cochrane swore that Joseph Orr, an agent of Mr. Hill's, had promised him a slice of anything that was going after the election was settled if he voted for Hill. After Mrs. Cochrane had corroborated her husband's evidence, the court adjourned.

AGAINST COL. LEYS, M.P.P.

A Record-Breaking Number of Charges Against the London Liberal.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—London has succeeded in breaking all previous records in piling up charges of corruption against a sitting member. Yesterday there were filed at Osgoode Hall the particulars of a petition aimed at Col. F. B. Leys of London, in which the number of charges reached the grand total of 1,036. William Wheeler and J. B. Simpson are the names signed at the bottom of this voluminous document.

With the number, however, a good deal of the astonishing nature of the paper begins and ends. The same old charges are repeated, and reiterated. Col. Leys is said to have been up to all the well-worn dodges. He has been exceedingly liberal in the meat and drink and refreshment line.

Mr. George M. Reid, an agent of the respondent, now in New York, is to be examined by commission, and altogether Col. Leys has a lively time in store for him when the matter comes to court.

The International Commission.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The International Conference will resume its sittings at Washington on Thursday next, the 10th inst. Mr. Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, leaves to-day, and Sir Richard Cartwright, Miss M. Cartwright, Mr. W. G. Parmalee and Mr. J. C. P. O'Hara leave to-day for Kingston. Sir Louis Davies also leaves to-day, via Boston, and Messrs. W. P. King and R. N. Venning leave on Wednesday. The Anglo-Canadian Commissioners have arranged to stay at the Shoreham, whilst the meeting of the Conference will be held in the spacious parlors of the Arlington.

The Northern Belle Burned.

Parry Sound, Nov. 8.—The steamer Northern Belle was burned and totally destroyed near Byng Inlet Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The steamer was on the return trip from Collingwood to Killarney, and when going up the river near Byng Inlet fire suddenly broke out from the hold. The crew and four passengers had only time to take to the boats to save themselves. She had no cargo. The Northern Belle was owned by the Great Northern Transit Company of Collingwood.

THE NIGHT CLERK'S STORY.

A FACE LIKE CHALK.

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last winter left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but, unfortunately, did not do so. On the contrary, my blood became weaker. I daily lost strength and vitality, and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseated me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of the heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I began taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers, and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit it is useless to spend any more money. However, I finally made up my mind. It is a forlorn hope; I can but try. If I am not benefited I will not be hurt. So I bought one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and to-day am a well man in consequence; my blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health, my appetite has returned, I sleep well, I have not the slightest indications of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength." I am yours very truly,

Navy Department Without Advices—Said to Be Ashore at Cat Island.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Navy Department is without advices concerning the Maria Teresa, but, acting on newspaper statements of her reported stranding on Cat Island, in the Watling group, has sent orders to the Vulcan at Norfolk and the Potomac at Santiago to leave immediately for Cat Island, and if the vessel is found to do everything possible to save her. The expedition will be under command of Capt. McCalla, who commanded the Marblehead in the Spanish war, and is now in charge of the Norfolk navy yard. The Vulcan should reach the scene in 48 hours and the Potomac in less time.

KIDNEY-SICK PEOPLE!

By far the largest army of sufferers in the world are the kidney-sick people—but by far the largest army of the cured ones attribute their release from disease to the great South American Kidney Cure—Cures Bright's disease. Cures diabetes. Cures all bladder ailments.

Kidney diseases are the most insidious of all diseases common to humanity; within the past few years medical science has made wonderful strides in coping with its ravages. South American Kidney Cure has proved rich in healing power, and every day testimony is piled up for its great curative qualities. Where kidney disease exists it is generally indicated by certain changes in the urine, such as mucus, sediment, albumen, brick dust, acid and blood—pain is not necessarily an accompaniment, which only aggravates the insidious nature of it. Testing and experimenting has disclosed the fact that the passing through these organs of the solid particles in the ordinary course of circulation do in a remarkably short while clog up, grind out and impair them so that the functions of these organs are not performed and disease lays hold on the patient with a ruthless hand. Kidney diseases require a solvent—South American Kidney Cure is a solvent—it is a kidney specific—claims to be no more—it has been tested by eminent medical authorities on kidney diseases, and proved and testified to by them as the surest and safest cure for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. It's a purifier—a healer—a health builder—efficacious alike to man or woman.

Good News from the North Country—A young machinist in a large manufacturing concern in Northern Ontario, fell a victim to the dropsical form of kidney disease through atmospheric changes in following his daily labors—he continued his work until almost commanded to quit by the physician from whom he had been receiving treatment. He visited Toronto and consulted an eminent authority on kidney diseases. The doctor sent him home with as hopeful a story of himself as he could give, but wrote privately to the young man's physician that it was only a matter of time with him until death would claim another kidney victim. When he began to realize for himself that his case was hopeless he took his case in his own hands, determined to fight for his life. He experimented with many so-called cures without relief. South American Kidney Cure was brought to his notice, and like everything else, he tried it—to his astonishment he began to feel better under its use. He continued to gain strength—he took six bottles—and to-day that same young man can be found at that same lathe, working for that same concern, hale and hearty as the first day he went there. He gives all the credit to South American Kidney Cure.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE—Is a nerve healer. Cures indigestion and all stomach troubles which are forerunners of nervous collapses.

Prayer of a Homely Man.

A resident of Chicago, who is one of the ugliest as well as one of the best known citizens of this metropolis, met a man the other day who was as homely as himself. They exchanged condolences.

"I never but once saw a man who looked worse than I do," said the Chicago man. "I was hunting in northern Michigan when I ran against a fellow whose face would frighten an army.

"Just to get acquainted, I put up my gun and took aim at him.

"'What are you trying to do there?' he yelled at me.

"'I made a resolution a long time ago,' I told him, 'that if I ever found an uglier man than I am I would shoot him.'

"He stood there under the trees for a minute, looking me all over.

"'Well,' he said finally, with a sarcastic drawl, 'if I look any uglier than you do, for goodness' sake shoot!'"—Chicago Journal.

A Beaconsfield Story.

A lady who was his constant friend and benefactor begged Lord Beaconsfield to read Mallock's first book and say something civil about it. The prime minister replied with a groan: "Ask me anything, dear lady, except this. I am an old man. Do not make me read your young friend's romances."

"Oh, but he would be a great accession to the Tory party, and a civil word from you would secure him forever."

"Oh, well, then, give me a pen and a sheet of paper." And sitting down in the lady's drawing room he wrote: "'Dear Mrs. ——, I am sorry that I cannot dine with you, but I am going down to Hughenden for a week. Would that my solitude could be peopled by the bright creations of Mr. Mallock's fancy.' Will that do for your young friend?"

As an appreciation of a book which one has not read this is perfect.—Argonaut.

In response to many requests the choir has decided to secure the popular tenor, Mr. Harold Jarvis, to assist them. Peterborough concert-goers will be glad to hear the favourite again in secular music. In addition to Mr. Jarvis the programme will present the popular reader of Toronto, Miss Ina Fenwick. Altogether a really first-class concert is in store, which will sustain the previous good reputation of the choir and their friends to provide annual similar concerts.

"WILL DO TIME."

The Smith Brothers Received Heavy Sentences This Morning, After Pleading Guilty to Theft.

Joseph and Hector Smith were before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning, charged with the theft of a quantity of bed clothing and a number of other things from the residence of Miss Lillie during her absence from town in the summer. Both pleaded guilty to the charge.

Joseph has already spent a term in the Central Prison, and the Magistrate regarding him as an old offender, imposed a sentence of five years in the Penitentiary. Hector, the younger brother, was given two years in the Central Prison, it being his first offence in this line.

Charles Goodacre and Samuel Willison, who bought a portion of the plunder, were charged with "receiving goods knowing them to have been stolen." Both were able to establish their innocence in a manner perfectly satisfactory to the magistrate, and the charge was dismissed.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

To Mrs. James Munro by the Members of City Lodge, I.O.G.T.

Last evening about twenty members of City Lodge, I. O. G. T., assembled at the residence of Mr. McGregor in Ashburnham, to pay one more visit to Sister Munro before she leaves town to take up her residence in Collingwood, where Mr. Munro has been working for some time.

The following address was read by Sister E. Morris, and Sister Fraser presented Mrs. Munro with a berry service.

Mrs. Munro, P.V.T.:

DEAR SISTER MUNRO, Permit us on behalf of the officers and members of City Lodge, No. 404, I.O.G.T., to express in some slight measure the regret we feel that we are about to be deprived of your help and counsel in our lodge work.

While you have been a member of our lodge we have always known you as a willing and sacrificing worker in the cause of temperance, and we feel that by your removal we are suffering the loss of a member who will be missed, not only in our lodge meetings, but also in the Juvenile Department and other branches of our work. In saying farewell to you we ask you to accept this gift as a slight souvenir of a pleasant time spent together in the past, and we join together in wishing your every success and prosperity in your new home.

Signed on behalf of City Lodge, I.O.G.T.,
SISTER C. CAIRNS, Sec.,
BRO. W. DREDGE, C.T.

Mrs. Munro thanked the members warmly for their kind remembrance of her, and several hours were afterwards spent very pleasantly.

REV. A. MACWILLIAMS DELIVERS AN ADDRESS.

THE FORMER PASTOR OF ST. ANDREW'S IN TOWN.

He Spoke Under the Auspices of the Women's Missionary Society in St. Andrew's Church Last Evening—The Musical Programme.

A large number of the members of St. Andrew's congregation assembled last evening in the church to hear an address from their old pastor, Rev. A. Macwilliams, of Hamilton, who spoke under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

In opening his address Mr. Macwilliams referred to the pleasure experienced in meeting old friends in St. Andrew's and to the celerity with which he accepted the invitation of the W.F.M.S. to speak. From old associations everything seemed familiar to him. Even the mud was familiar.

Woman, the speaker stated, had assumed a most important place in the nineteenth century. That it was the century of young women and young men was certainly true to some extent, but he was inclined to think that it was more the age of the woman than of the man. Woman was now exerting her influence in spheres of labour where she was hitherto unknown. She was the great factor in moulding the character of the day. In the home particularly was her influence felt. The home is the unit from which we get our society and our state. Eve came from this unit and the home is the great sphere of influence bearing upon all conditions. Who in the home

EXERCISES THE GREATEST INFLUENCE?

In this day it is the woman and not the man, for in this age of bustle, the father and husband are away. The mothers must cultivate the children. The time of childhood is the time to implant the cardinal virtues.

When the boys and girls grow up in a home under a moral and Christian influence, these old truths will be the means of bringing them to Christ. The mother is the influence of to-day in the home, and if the home is right, the state, society and the country is right.

In the day schools the majority of the teachers are women. They have the children under their influence, and have a grand opportunity of imparting the truths of religion and Christianity.

Another way in which women have an influence in the world is through the fact that they are organized into such societies as the Y.W.C.A., W.C.T.U., etc., and thereby their influence reaches out beyond the home. Then there is women's work in the Christian Church. Women are organized as men are not. In the Sabbath schools 75 per cent. of the teachers are women. Perhaps it is right that it should be so, and seeing there are millions of Sabbath school pupils in the world, how great must be the influence of woman.

Many congregations would be dead without the women. What has the Ladies' Aid not done in the way of reviving interest. Without some of these organizations a deficit would undoubtedly be found at the end of the year and many of the poor would be WITHOUT FOOD AND CLOTHING.

In the Christian Endeavour Societies four out of five of the members are women. What would the pastor do without their assistance?

The Woman's Missionary Society was doing a great work, and the speaker congratulated the members on their showing during the last year.

Amongst the reasons why missionary work should be engaged in stood first and foremost the Divine command to go forth and teach all. Christ's example was before the world. He came as a missionary. The voice of the Holy Spirit calls men to it and makes their work effectual. Then there was the relation of the church to the world. Was it not said, "Ye are the light of the world," and "The salt of the earth." The feeding of the 5000 was a beautiful illustration of the duty of the church towards the world. No one must be sent away, but it must be given to all to eat.

To receive the Gospel makes each one a debtor. This is St. Paul's testimony. All who have God's blessing are in debt to those who have not received it. It is also said that the whole world shall receive the Gospel. It is to be spread to all, and it is the duty of each to assist in this spread. It is God's will that all should be missionaries. Consideration should be given to the condition of the heathen, their sufferings from ignorance of medicine and the injustice of their rulers. The condition of the girl widows of India and the sufferings of slavery were also instanced. There were 400 million Christians in the world and yet 1000 million heathens were perishing without the word of God. They are separated from God for all eternity without hope, and the spirit of humanity demands that all Christians assist in spreading the light of the Gospel. There should also be a sense of duty and responsibility actuating Christians to work, but deepest of all should be the spirit of love—the same spirit that actuated Jesus Christ to save the world. The great sacrifice of Jesus Christ should impel men to go forth in His name. That you might be rich He became poor and who becomes poor for His sake shall be made rich."

The chair was occupied during the evening by Rev. Mr. Glover, and a short musical programme was also introduced. Mrs. T. W. Martin and Miss Falconer gave a most exquisite rendering of the duet, 'Hope Beyond." Miss Weddell sang the solo, "Land of the Leal," with a great deal of taste, and Mrs. T. W. Martin's fine voice was heard to advantage in a pretty selection set to the air of "Ye banks and brase."

COUNCIL NOTES.

The length given to the council proceedings yesterday prevented comment on some points worthy of attention.

Speaking of the length of the reports and the long, drawn-out nature of the proceedings, Mayor Davis has inaugurated a practice that results in much time saving. Before the council meeting, he goes over the communications, and when the council sits a communication is read, and the Mayor is ready to refer it to the proper committee, without the waste of time of formal motions.

It is somewhat remarkable that the council should wait to be shown its duty by the pavement contractors. The letter of Messrs. Dolan and Sheehy, urging the council to put the streets in such a shape as to permit the carrying away of surface water, is timely. If the streets along the line of pavement are not put in a condition to allow the surface water to flow off readily, it will be absorbed by the ground, soak under the pavement, and the frost will cause ruinous heaving. Let anyone look at the disgraceful condition of George street this morning. He will see at the sides especially a thick deposit of mud and abundance of paper. The latter not only dams up the gutter, preventing the ready flow of surface water, but with a heavy flow of water, enough of it will be carried down, to block the sewer gratings, as has happened repeatedly.

It is surprising or would be surprising if anthing a corporation does, can create a surprise, that some measure is not taken to prevent the littering of the streets by merchants. Packing cases are opened on the pavement and the paper and litter are thrown on the street and allowed to remain there. When such carelessness is permitted we cannot have neat, clean streets, not to speak of the obstruction thus afforded to the free flow of surface water.

One of the first conditions of good streets is perfect drainage, and good streets cannot be maintained without it. This is especially important when permanent pavement is laid down. It will not pay to spend ten thousand dollars in laying down granolithic pavement and then, for the sake of the work of ten men for ten minutes, permit the street to be dammed so as to allow the pavement to be ruined by absorbed water combined with the action of frost.

Speaking of street drainage the town is permitting the water ways, especially at the intersection of streets, to be choked with leaves and other rubbish. This is an excellent means of allowing water to flood over the walks and crossings, to facilitate actions for damages through citizens slipping down and breaking their legs, or sustaining other injury. It is absurd to expect private citizens to do this work, as suggested. Citizens don't feel inclined to pay $10,000 or $15,000 a year for street work, and then do it at their own expense.

It seems to be difficult for the council to leave a thing done when it is done. The permanent pavement is done, but a neglect to provide for the flow of water, leading to the action of frost, may undo a lot of the apparently good paving that has been completed. And again; on Friday night a majority of the council arrived at an agreement with Mr. Leonard of the C. P. R., leading to a settlement and final disposal of the everlasting Wolfe street matter. At the subsequent council meeting the council proceeded, to employ the language of Mr. Bamford, "to undo what it had done on Friday evening." Without disputing or admitting the correctness of the council's position, it may be suggested that it is like child's play, and not business, to arrive at an agreement after mature deliberation extending over an afternoon and evening, and then upset it two or three days afterwards. This Wolfe street squabble has been going on for nearly a dozen years, and it will last another dozen years if every settlement arrived at is balked, as was the last one made. Business men abide by a deliberately-made agreement. As a rule, they do not make an agreement till they know what they are doing, and when made they stick to it like men.

In regard to the siding for the Matthews Factory, it is a good policy for the town to stand by our manufacturers. This siding question seems to be connected with the settlement of the Wolfe street matter with the C.P.R. Every important industry in the town almost has railway siding facilities and the town should be prepared in this case, as it has been in others, to assist the Matthews Company in getting such a convenience. The delay in the settlement with the railway is likely to complicate matters sadly, for this settlement seems to be as far off as ever. This will put the company to great inconvenience. The Matthews Company is a busines concern and is pushing the work of enlarging its establishment to produce a larger output, employ more hands and pay out more money in wages. They want the siding at once, but it seems that business enterprise will have to accommodate its pace to the slow-going methods of the corporation. The Matthews Company, as well as the C. P.R. is entitled to treatment founded on business principles.

The town should be prepared to deal liberally with the Dickson Company in regard to sharing the cost of a new bridge across the enlarged raceway at the foot of London street. Of course the bridge would not be necessary if it were not for the raceway, but it is to be borne in mind that the company is expending indirectly in the interest of the town (including the new light and power building) between $70,000 and $75,000 in enlarging and improving the Dickson raceway. The importance of this in relation to manufactories cannot be over estimated. We have here a continuous source of water power capable of supplying all the manufactories that could be crowded upon it. At London street the head will be 13 feet, at the new light and power building, 23 feet, and at Hunter street 30 feet. The reconstruction and improvement of this raceway will greatly facilitate negotiations by the town with manufacturers desiring to locate in Peterborough. It is to be hoped that the Committee of the Whole to which the matter of rebuilding the bridge has been referred will deal liberaly with the proposition to-night.

WEDDING BELLS

Marriage of Miss Emily F. Hunter and Mr. J. Dougan Gray, on Wednesday Afternoon, Nov. 2nd.

Over eighty invited guests assembled at the residece of Mrs. Wm. Hunter, Cedar Valley, Cavan Township, on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, the occasion being the marriage of her youngest daughter to Mr. J. D. Gray, of Garden Hill, Hope Township.

Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Millbrook Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the drawing room which was tastefully decorated with natural flowers for the occasion.

Miss Lottie Hamill presided at the pianoforte, and played the wedding march as the pretty bride entered the room on the arm of her brother, Samuel J. Hunter. The bride looked most charming in a handsome gown of queen silk, trimmed with gold lace and ribbons, and wore white carnation flowers. She was assisted by Miss Annie Hutchison, whose dress was of white organdy, trimmed with pearl passementerie and ribbons, and wore pink carnations.

The groomsman was Mr. David Hamill, of Port Hope.

After the ceremony and felicitous congratulations a sumptuous dejeuner was served, after which the happy couple took the 5 20 G.T.R. train (midst showers of rice and good wishes) for St. Catharines and other western points of interest on an extended wedding tour.

The presents to the bride were numerous and costly, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held by her very many friends.

Among the gifts was fifty dollars in gold by her brother, S. J. Hunter, and very valuable gifts from her brothers, Rev. Dr. and Rev. R. J. Hunter, of Colorado, U. S.

Among those from a distance attending the wedding were Mrs. Donnald McGregor and daughter, of Collingwood, Mr. A R. Gray and Mrs. Gray, of Cobourg, and Miss Ada Fisher, of Toronto.

THE NEW STORE 385 GEORGE STREET.

CRESSMAN'S CLAIMS TO PUBLIC PATRONAGE

EXPRESSED IN A SPLENDID NEW STORE, WITH A NEW-ERA STOCK.

A New Departure in Merchandising—The Modern Minerva Way of Entering the Arena Full Grown.

Our fathers believed that a new business should learn to creep before it tried to walk. We respected our fathers too much to dispute their ruling, and we kept on creeping when we felt we could have walked.

In 1898 things move more quickly. To-day a new business must run from its natal day, or be trampled over by those which can run.

Time was when a merchant could sit on his goods and grow up with the country. A man did not think so hard then or act so quickly. To-day he must not only keep pace with the procession, but lead it in some particular direction. To-day a man must think harder and act quicker than his father did if he would make half the money he did.

The success which has signalized the opening of Mr. A. W. Cressman's new dry goods store in Peterborough is typical of a new era in merchandising. Not many in town could be found who would have predicted such an encouraging start to another new dry goods store in our midst. Not many business men would have taken the chances Mr. Cressman so confidently accepted. He has, however, already demonstrated that there was room for him here, and is to-day being congratulated upon his energy, sagacity and good judgment.

INFLUENCE OF MODERN STOREKEEPING.

Competition, if the dealer has any sand in him at all, is a benefit rather than a detriment. This proposition will not be very readily assented to by the man without sand; but to the active, aggressive merchant food for reflection will be found in the statement. The man with a mind like Mr. Cressman's will get along anywhere; and will not be kept down by his environments. In the course of a friendly conversation you soon find this out. For instance, on this question of competition, you learn something of his personality and his views from the following broad-minded remarks:—

"The fact that five stores in the same line are close together draws trade to the quarter in which they are situated, as buyers feel certain of obtaining in one or other of the stores what they want. In fact, when I cannot suit a customer and find her about to leave, I recommend her to call on my neighbours. The friendly feeling thus manifested has a good effect upon the customer, who will return at some other time, if not buy on that occasion."

MR. CRESSMAN'S SOLID PLATFORM.

Mr. Cressman started out with a solid platform: "Put honest work in your business and it will succeed;" "Goods bought for cash, and sold for cash only, and one price to all." This fixed price system and cash basis for buying and selling render it possible to enlist the confidence of intelligent buyers, and to offer advantages which the older system of cutting and crediting fails to afford. Nothing can ever justify the selling of goods at retail on credit. It is a perversion of business. Merchants must go out of the loaning business if they do not want to be forced out of the purchasing business as well. Mr. Cressman is "not slothful in business"—he has been too busy for that ever since he came to Peterborough—if he had been so inclined. He knows that the survival of the fittest is the inevitable law of nature. And so it is in business life. Past events prove that this store has not only been blessed with a good share of public patronage, but that it has been doing a straightforward business. It has been Mr. Cressman's policy to keep faith with his customers and never to allow a deception to be practiced on his patrons. "No misrepresentation of goods" is a strong plank in his business platform. The smallest orders are treated with the same care as the largest, and by close personal attention to details is a money saver at every turn.

BRIGHT STORE—NEWEST GOODS—RIGHT METHODS.

Mr. Cressman's store has no facilities for selling old goods. Every department is bright with the newest goods and in keeping with the trend of the times. The effect of autumn activity here is exhilarating. Constant additions are made to the stock to fill up the broken ranks and strengthen the many assortments. And so it has come that the town has talked about Cressman's new store and Cressman's new goods, and advertised it as nothing else could. What he talks about in his daily announcement in the newspapers finds welcome ear, because shoppers are relying on every detail of statement, description of goods and prices quoted.

The store itself is complete, easy of access, in the centre of the first thoroughfare of the town. Is is full of light and air, thoroughly adapted for seeing things that have to be seen and inspecting things that have to be inspected, and always a cheerful welcome for all comers. "Money back if not satisfied" accompanies every parcel.

NEW FEATURES FOR SATURDAYS

will be introduced at the New Store by the inauguration of Saturday Economist Sales, particulars of which will be given on Friday and Saturday dailies of each week, and will introduce, it is claimed, a new era in the Saturday trade. The first of these sales will take place Saturday, Nov. 12th. These sales, we understand, are intended more particularly for the large numbers who come in from the country on that day, and for the wage earners, who receive their pay Saturday of each week.

OBITUARY.

Death of the Oldest Settler in Galway.

The oldest settler in the township of Galway passed peacefully away last Friday in the person of Mr. Owen Clark. Deceased gentleman was born in the county of Armagh Ireland, about 88 years ago. Mr. Clark moved from his native land to the State of Connecticut in the year 1849. He was followed by his family about one year afterwards, where they remained until 1851, when they removed to Canada and settled on lot 4 in the 15th concession of Galway, where he carried on the business of farming until about three years ago, when he retired on account of feebleness, and lived with his son Thomas, ex-reeve of Galway, up to the time of his death.

As deceased was one of the early pioneers of this township he was often heard to relate the hardship of making a home in an unbroken forest. Mrs. Clark's death preceded that of her husband by about eighteen years.

The remains were followed to the Roman Catholic burying ground last Sunday by a large number of vehicles.

MAKING MUSH.

How It Should Be Done to Produce a Royal Dish.

It would be hard to find a cook too modest to claim a knowledge of mush-making, yet how many, even among experienced housekeepers, make good mush? Boiling water, cornmeal and salt—what simpler than to put them together and cook them? Yet mush of indifferent meal properly made may be better than that made of the best meal wrongly handled. The water must be freshly boiled and salted, and all the meal as it goes in must encounter the same fiercely boiling temperature, to burst the starch cells, as direct heat "pops" corn.

Therefore making mush takes time, for the meal must be added so slowly as not to stop the boiling as well as to avoid lumps. A thick iron pot, porcelain lined, is the best thing to cook it in, and a wooden spoon or paddle should be used for the stirring. Sprinkle the meal in slowly with the left hand while stirring with the right. The proportions of the ingredients will vary with the quality of the meal or its character (whether crushed or cut), but an average rule would be four quarts of water, one quart of meal and two tablespoonfuls of salt.

When all the meal has been smoothly stirred in, cover the pot closely and stand it where it will give an occasional bubble for three or four hours, or for half a day. Do not disturb the surface, as stirring permits the "extractives" or flavors to escape. Mush made of good meal by the above method and served with rich cream is a royal dish.—Ella Morris Kretschmar in Woman's Home Companion.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Two Mothers.

I saw on a car the other day a poorly dressed young woman, too young to be matronly, too tired to seem girlish. She carried a tiny, down headed baby in her arms. Next her, while the car was outward bound, sat a woman scarcely older than herself in a black gown whose making alone must have cost more than all the young mother's toilet. The mother kept her seat when the car reached the end of the line, and the woman in black, after a moment's hesitation, kept hers too. She looked at the baby a long time. Then she leaned toward the baby's mother.

"Let me hold it awhile, won't you, please?" she said.

The mother stared, wide eyed, for a moment and then handed the baby over. The other woman snuggled its warm little face against her neck nd patted its tiny body gently. The car had nearly reached the city on its return trip before she gave the baby to its mother again.

"It's a dear little thing," she said. 'I haven't any baby"—and, with a break in her voice, she added—"now."—Washington Post.

He Said Too Much.

"Here," said the hostess at a recent colonial club function, "I want to introduce you to Miss Brinkstone."

The gentleman bowed very politely, but Miss Brinkstone smiled and said:

"Oh, I guess that Mr. Wandsley and I hardly need to be introduced to each other. He is an old friend of mine."

"Yes," he added, "I shall always regard Miss Brinkstone as one of the dearest friends I have. She once declined to become my wife."

It was several hours later when he succeeded in guessing why Miss Brinkstone's air had suddenly become so cold and distant.—Cleveland Leader.

FLAWS IN BIG GUNS.

INTERNAL DAMAGE CAUSED BY SUCCESSIVE DISCHARGES.

The "Erosive Action of Inflamed Gases" Causes the First Serious Injury—How the Projectile Helps to Kill the Gun.

The larger a cannon the more extensive are the injuries it receives with each successive discharge. All damage done to a gun is internal. The separate action of the powder and the projectile damages the piece every time it is aimed and fired. Obviously the amount of the damage depends upon the material and workmanship of the gun. Men who make big guns describe the harm done their pets with many intricate and puzzling terms of a scientific turn. In one case a gun is damaged because the part of the bore which contains the powder is enlarged. This happens when the metal is compressed, and it is more dangerous and more plainly seen if the gunners have been using wads between their explosive and their projectile.

Then, again, cavities are produced by the melting away of a part of the metal by the heat of combustion of the charge. Cracks come from the tearing asunder of the particles of the metal at the surface of the bore. When it is first made, a crack of this particular kind is barely perceptible, but it increases each time the gun is fired. Gradually it extends completely through the side of the piece. The crack usually begins at the junction of the chamber with the bore, simply because, as guns now are, this part is not so well supported as the others.

Edward S. Farrow, U. S. A., is authority on damage to guns, although, like all others who have studied the question, he does not agree with very many authorities on all the points to consider in the life of a cannon. He contends that furrowing or scoring produced by the erosive action of inflamed gases is the great disease which attacks the very big guns first. This particular injury is most apparent where the current of the gas is most rapid or at the interior orifice of the vent and on the surface of the bore, directly over the seat of the projectile. This scoring begins very early in the life of a very large gun, but it is conceded that it does not become very important until the piece has been discharged considerably. Lieutenant Farrow describes this scoring as resembling the bark of an aged elm tree, the metal being eaten away into irregular furrows and ridges. In extreme cases, however, scoring has not killed the gun, although in some cases it has acted like a wedge and split the bore at the place attacked.

Where the action of the projectile has ruined the gun the damage has been done around the projectile and in front of it. The elasticity of the metal and the crowding up of portions of it in front of the shot cause a rebounding process. The projectile, carried forward by the force of the charge, strikes against the upper part of the bore; then it is sent against the bottom and again bounds to the top, and so on until it emerges from the piece. The effect of this bounding motion is to raise and depress the gun in its trunnion holes. The accuracy of fire is diminished, and, of course, the gun is unfit for service. Bronze guns are the worst sufferers in this way. Mortars—short and dumpy—are not affected.

To stop the bounding of the projectile gunners wrap the shell in cloth or paper or else shift the base of the mass to be hurled. This last process is considered the best and is done by reducing the diameter of the cartridge and adding to its length. Projectile injury is also caused by furrows or scratches made by rough shells or case shot. Small fragments, too, break away very often from the shells and give the bore a grinding and cutting process, productive of great damage.

Enlargement of the muzzle is another serious injury produced by the projectile. This is caused by a process which seems unavoidable. As the shell leaves the piece it strikes against one portion of the bore. The resistance at the mouth being less than at any other point, the metal naturally yields, and the muzzle of the cannon is elongated in a vertical direction.

Some men who ought to know say that 150 shots is the life of a very big gun—a 12 or 13 inch weapon. Others place the number of shots at 400 or 500. As a matter of fact, it is all guesswork. The great Krupp gun shown at the World's fair and conceded to be perfect—or supposed to be so—has been discharged less than ten times, and it is now believed to have reached its limit. On the other hand, the big guns of the American battleships have passed the time allotted them by wise men who know guns and apparently are as good as when tested. How soon they may yield, however, is not in the books.

Lieutenant Farrow says that a very large gun should not be expected to stand more than 400 or 500 shots before it will be necessary to open a new vent, closing the old one at its interior orifice. When the gun dies—bursts—the lines of fracture are photographed. Specimens of the metal are saved. Tests are made and conclusions drawn. And Uncle Sam has figured out so many things in this same connection that his guns nowadays are conceded to be better than those of any other maker. They live longer than the wise ones say they should.—Chicago Times-Herald.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

KEPT HIS NAME PUBLIC.

Sir Thomas Lipton and His Unique Style of Advertising.

A good story is told of Sir Thomas Lipton and his enterprise in advertising his great provision dealing business. A dozen years ago, before he was well known, he was a passenger on an East Indian steamer bound for Ceylon. While in the Red sea the boat was disabled, and it became necessary to throw overboard a part of her cargo. Lipton was an interested spectator of the preparations for lightening the ship. He suddenly bolted the scene, and by a 25 dicker with the chief engineer secured a stencil, a paintbrush and a pot of black paint.

Then, to the astonishment of the captain and passengers, he cheerfully labeled each box and bale thrown overboard, "Use Lipton's Teas." The cargo of course floated ashore, and for miles in Araby and other lands the natives saw that legend. Subsequently the passengers of the injured steamer were compelled to abandon it and take to small boats. On reaching land Sir Thomas was the first to make a cable office and wire the destruction of the boat and safety of the travelers to London. The message was signed "Lipton."

Of course his name was in every English newspaper the next morning signed to that message, and he was the best advertised man in the kingdom.

When he first commenced business in Glasgow, he was his own clerk, bookkeeper and manager. His own peculiar individuality was kept before his customers until Lipton, one of the smallest provision dealers in Glasgow, was better known than those who had been in business for years. By and by as he prospered he found means with which to advertise. He put the name of Lipton where every man, woman and child in Scotland and England must see it. Naturally, after they knew the name they desired to further know what he did, and when they gained that knowledge they patronized him. His business grew. He started stores in London and built packing houses in America. Today he owns a big establishment in Chicago and has a string of refrigerator cars on the railroads. His Chicago house is simply a provision market for places in England and Scotland. He has 60 stores in London and 42 in other places. He has great tea plantations in Ceylon and employs 4,000 natives. His entire pay roll throughout the world carries 10,000 names. He has a printing house for his own advertising, employing 200 printers.—London Telegraph.

Washing Woolens.

The secret of washing well any woolen goods lies chiefly in having the different waters of equal temperature with none of them at any time too hot to put the hand in comfortably. Soap should not be rubbed on the article, but used in the form of thin suds. It should be a good, white soap too. A little borax is probably the best thing to soften the water. For washing blankets or baby flannels it is to be preferred. Woolen should not be wrung by the hand, but rinsed or dried by squeezing. Woolens of any sort should never be allowed to freeze.—New York Post.

THE WRITERS.

Hamlin Garland says that he got but $25 for his first published story.

It is said that Hall Caine's next production will not be a book dramatized, but a play written for the stage.

Swinburne, although he now writes little and spends months and months revising, makes $5,000 a year by his poems.

Rudyard Kipling is said to be one of the least manageable of literary lions. He dislikes compliments, shuns society and likes to live quietly.

Luigia Codemo, the Italian poetess and author of "Nohant," has died at Venice at the age of 70 years. The bad grace with which George Sand received the Signora Codemo while she was visiting Franco called forth "Nohant," in which novel the author of "Consuelo" is laid open to ridicule.

Wanted, Another Victim.

One day an agent of Fouquier Tinville came to the Luxembourg with a list of victims, drawn up by the accusateur, which contained 18 names. He collected 17 of these unfortunates, but could not find the eighteenth. A suspect was passing by, and the agent asked his name. The prisoner declined to give it, and the agent at once handed him over to the gendarmes. Next day the man was guillotined. Another day an agent summoned a prisoner of 50, but the man did not answer to his name, and a lad of 17, who was playing at ball, was seized, taken to the conciergerie and put to death.—Nineteenth Century.

The woman who is weak, nervous, tired and exhausted; who has a poor and variable appetite and no strength or nerve; who suffers from pains and aches, dragging down and burning sensations; and who recognizes, herself, that she has become irritable, cross, blue and despondent, is in almost every case suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity.

Thousands of women suffer in this way and do not recognize the cause, or if they do understand their condition, neglect it rather than submit to the obnoxious examinations and local treatment insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine for women who suffer in this way. It does away with the necessity for these trying ordeals, and may be used in the privacy of the home. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned, and makes them strong, vigorous and healthy. It banishes the discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It transforms weak, nervous, petulant invalids into happy wives and mothers. Thousands of women have testified, over their own signatures, to this fact. The "Favorite Prescription" may be procured from any good medicine dealer. Any woman who will write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., may have the advice of an eminent and skillful specialist without charge.

Mrs. Cora M. McLaurin, of Rockport, Copiah Co., Miss., writes: "I had displacement and inflammation of the uterus. I was under the treatment of our family physician for a long time, but received no benefit. I had falling of internal organs with ulceration and enlargement. I commenced using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Pleasant Pellets' and 'Extract of Smart-Weed.' From the first day I began to improve, and in a short time I was able to do all my housework. If it had not been for your medicines I would have been dead long ago."

Stomach and liver troubles with sluggish action of the bowels are cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

THE BLIND ARCHER.

Little boy Love drew his bow at a chance,
Shooting down at the ballroom floor.
He hit an old chaperon watching the dance,
And, oh, but he wounded her sore!
"Heh, Love, you couldn't mean that?
Hi, Love, what would you be at?"
No word would he say,
But he flew on his way,
For the little boy's busy, and how can he stay?

Little boy Love drew a shaft just for sport
At the soberest club in Pall Mall.
He winged an old veteran drinking his port,
And down that old veteran fell.
"Heh, Love, you mustn't do that!
Hi, Love, what would you be at?
This cannot be right.
It's indicrous quite,"
But it's no use to argue, for Love's out of sight.

A sad faced young clerk in a cell all apart
Was planning a celibate vow,
But the boy's random arrow has sunk in his heart,
And the cell is an empty one now.
"Heh, Love, you mustn't do that!
Hi, Love, what would you be at?
He isn't for you.
He has duties to do!"
"But I am his duty!" quoth Love as he flew.

The king sought a bride, and the nation had hoped
For a queen without rival or peer,
But the little boy shot, and the king has eloped
With Miss No One on nothing a year.
"Heh, Love, you couldn't mean that!
Hi, Love, what would you be at?
What an impudent thing
To make game of a king!"
"But I'm a king also!" cried Love on the wing.

Little boy Love grew pettish one day.
"If you keep on complaining," he swore,
"I'll pack both my bow and my quiver away,
And so I shall plague you no more."
"Heh, Love, you mustn't do that!
Hi, Love, what would you be at?
You may ruin our ease,
You may do what you please,
But we can't do without you, you sweet little tease!"

—A. Conan Doyle in London Speaker.

A TAR'S REVENGE.

A strange man was Tom Dalton, first mate of the whaler Ironbow—a strong man among the strong ones. In person he was six feet in height and well proportioned, and for muscular power he beat anything I ever saw in my life. Yet somehow in looking at his face one couldn't get over the idea that he had suffered great sorrow or had some wrong to avenge. He seemed to be always looking for some one, and we never had a new mate and he never met a stranger but he'd give one single, penetrating look and then drop his eyes, as if it wasn't the man he was looking for.

I told him one day how he seemed to affect me, and he gave me one of his strange looks.

"Yes, Jack, my boy," he said, "I'm looking for a man, and I'll find him yet, please God! You may be thankful for one thing, my lad."

"And what is that?" I said.

"That you are not the one I'm looking for," he answered, with a look I didn't understand then, but learned the meaning later. "See here, Jack, I must trust some one or this thing will drive me mad. I want to find a man with the little finger gone from the right hand—a sailorman, with three stars in India ink in the palm of his right hand and the letter G below them. Find me that man and you'll do an old mate a kindness. That's all I've got to say."

I was a carpenter on the Ironbow, and we had a captain who was a terror. Oh, he was a tough old salt, with a face the color of mahogany and a voice like the roar of the wind in a gale. A stove boat made him happy, if he only got the whale. That's all he asked.

But we filled early in the season and ran into port to get rid of our cargo, refit a little and get some fresh provisions. While we lay there a man came to the captain and wanted to ship as harpooner. He was a fine, tall fellow, just the kind of a man a skipper would hanker after, and he proved to the captain's satisfaction that he was a good harpooner too.

He sailed under the name of Gus Williams and was every inch a sailor, with a handsome face, black curling hair, and a devil may care look in his eyes. Although he was hail fellow well met with the crew, I didn't like the look of the man and made up my mind that I didn't want him for a chum. If I'd known what he was it seems to me now that I'd have dropped him over the rail some dark night before we were fairly out of port.

The captain shipped him when Tom Dalton was away on another island looking after a Kanaka or two that used to sail with him, and so it happened that they didn't meet until the night before we sailed, and as he always did, Tom looked at the new man hard for a moment and then turned away.

When the new man heard the name of the mate, I thought he gave a little start and turned a trifle pale, though why he did that I didn't understand.

We were well out to sea and bowling along before a ten knot breeze when Tom came to me as I stood by the rail.

"Where does Gus Williams hail from, Jack?" he asked.

"Martha's Vineyard, he says. I won't answer for it that he tells the truth," I replied.

"Do you like him?"

"No. He's got the devil in him somewhere and it's bound to come out. He's as queer a stick as ever I saw in my life, and I don't want to chum with him."

There was one thing about Gus that was rather queer, and I asked him one day why he wore the finger of an old glove on his right hand. He said he had got a bad joint there, and he had to wear a cover to keep the salt water out.

I didn't mind that so much, but one day I was working on a boat and he was helping me and holding the spike and somehow I managed to hit him on the finger covered by the glove and he didn't even flinch, and then I was sure of one thing, and that was that he had no finger inside the glove.

I didn't say anything, but somehow it struck me as queer that this man should have a finger missing, and Tom had asked me to look for such a man.

I didn't think any more of it until one night in the forecastle, when we were all pretty full of grog, the young men got to bragging about themselves and the girls, and Gus Williams looked up and laughed.

"You might brag if you had the luck I've had," he said. "There's only one thing on my conscience after all, and that's about a pretty maid I made love to in Nantucket years ago, and then left without a word. Poor little thing! I wonder what came to her?"

"Maybe I can tell you," said a quiet voice, "that is, if her name was Mary Blake."

We all looked up and saw that Tom Dalton had come into the forecastle.

"That's her name," replied Gus, nodding his head with drunken gravity, while he raised his right hand to his mouth, showing the palm plainly. There in plain view were the three stars and the letter G.

"I reckon you've led a wild life, Gus," said the mate, seating himself on a locker. "Seems to me I heard something of that yarn myself. Didn't you promise to marry her and do your best to make her set her heart on you, and then leave her a letter to say you were never coming back?"

"Why, yes. Perhaps I ought not to have done it, but it was jolly fun to make love to her. Marry her? I wouldn't do that, for I had a wife in Bedford. But I didn't tell her that—oh, no, no!"

And then he broke into a careless song, such a one as a sailor loves, and the mate got up and went out, with such a look as I never saw on a man's face before, and never want to see again. He didn't say anything to me, and I noticed he never looked at Gus Williams again.

I knew evil would come of it, and I didn't know how I could stop it, but if Gus Williams had known the danger he'd drawn on himself I think he'd have jumped overboard.

Things went on all right until one September day when we were lying off the Alaskan coast, the captain sent three boats ashore for some timber he wanted, and I went in Tom's boat. Gus Williams, who was harpoon in the second mate's boat, went too.

I saw Tom come up and speak to Williams after they landed, and they went away together, and something put it into my head to follow them. There had been a light snow, and it was easy tracking them, and after I had gone a mile I heard their voices in a little gully, and crept up close.

"You told a queer story the other night when you were drunk, Williams," the mate was saying, "about a girl named Mary Blake in Nantucket. Was it true?"

"Why, yes, as far as this: I made her think I was a single man and made her love me, and then ran away from her."

"Didn't you know or didn't you hear that she had a lover—a man that would have died for her if she asked him?"

"It seems to me, now I come to think of it, that I did hear something about a tar that had a fancy for her. But what did I care for that? I wanted my fun."

"Did you never hear what came of it, then?"

"No; I never bothered myself about it much. I've wondered sometimes if the tarry jacket came home and married her."

"I'll tell you the end," hissed Tom. "When she got your cruel letter, she drooped and faded, and when the man who loved her truly came home from a cruise she was very near the grave. Then one day when the burden of her life grew too much for her to bear, she told him of your deceit, and described you, and then died with her head upon his bosom. Then he took a vow that if you and he ever met he'd kill you."

"I'm glad we never met," said Williams, laughing.

"We have met!" cried Tom. "I'm the man that loved her and took that vow, and now I mean to keep my word. Down upon your knees and pray, for you have not five minutes to live."

Then I saw a spectacle such as I hope never to see again, as Tom slowly drew a revolver and waited. The harpooner fell on his knees, weeping and begging for his life, but that stern face never changed. The self appointed judge and executioner did not know the name of mercy. The wretch crawled upon the ground and buried his face in the snow at Tom's feet, and I couldn't stand it, and stepped out in view.

"Don't come nearer, Jack Ratlin," cried Tom, "or, as there is a God above, I'll give you a shot. This man is doomed, and he shall die."

"O Ratlin, beg for me!" cried the abject wretch. "I am, not fit to die. I cannot die now until I have repented."

"Tom," I said, "before you fire think a moment. You say you loved Mary Blake?"

"You'll never know how much, Jack—words cannot tell."

"Then listen to me. They say the good and pure, looking down from their bright homes above, are witnesses of the actions of those they loved on earth. If your dead love beholds you now, do you think it would make her happy to see you stain your hands with the blood of this base wretch? Can you hope to join her up yonder?"

He stared at me a moment, and then, raising his hand to heaven, he cried:

"Mary, I do what you would have done. See! I forgive your murderer and leave his punishment to God. Go back, Williams. From this moment you are safe from my vengeance."

The man slunk away, shaking like a leaf, and deserted at the first port we entered. And Tom Dalton, with a new light on his face, the hope of meeting her he loved in a better world than this, did his duty manfully until his death, three years after, in a battle with a giant whale. He has entered into his rest. Whether Gus Williams lives or died I do not know, but his two victims are safe in port.—Spare Moments.

When Packing Clothes.

An excellent perfume for use in packing clothes away that will retain its properties for a long time is made by taking a pound of any sachet powder and one ounce each of the following: Cloves, caraway seeds, nutmeg, mace, cinnamon and tonga beans; also as much orris root as will equal the weight of all the foregoing ingredients. Fill small bags made of linen or fine muslin. Old linen handkerchiefs will make nice bags for the purpose. Lay these bags among the garments, and it will give them a soft perfume that will cling to them even through washing.

A bed pocket is an acceptable gift to an invalid. It is made of cloth, silk or colored cretonne, in the form of a wall pocket, and if desired may have various compartments. It is hung at the head of the bed and should contain the handkerchief, watch, brush and comb, hand mirror and all the other etceteras which make the tedious life of the invalid comfortable.

When shaking heavy rugs, hold from the sides, never the ends. If possible, spread on clean grass or boards with the wrong side up. Beat first to dislodge the dirt, then brush thoroughly and hang on the line to air, using judgment about leaving too long in the hot sun. This is the method employed by the Turks, who should be connoisseurs in the care of rugs.

When tired or warm, bathing the face in tepid water will be refreshing. A cupful of sea salt diluted in the warm bath before retiring will give a healthful sleep.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Raised . . . From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SIMCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen—For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine. Wishing you every success,

Yours truly,
MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

Scotchmen will take notice by advertisement in another column that the annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Society will be held to-morrow evening in Morgan House.

MARK STREET CHURCH NOTES.

The quarterly sacramental services were conducted on Sunday by the pastor, who preached two excellent sermons. There was a good attendance at both services.

Mr. Moore is conducting special services at Salem, an appointment on this circuit, with good success. Meetings are held every week night, except Saturday.

The outside of the church is being painted. This will add greatly to its good appearance. Inside everything is now very neat and comfortable, and the future of this church should be very satisfactory.

The basement fills a long felt want, and the small class room in connection with it is quite convenient for small meetings, committee meetings, the primary class in Sunday school, etc. It has a stove in it, and can be easily warmed without lighting a fire in the furnace. The basement is used for all meetings except the morning and evening Sunday services.

A business meeting of the Sunday school teachers and officers and the Sunday school Committee will be held Monday evening, Nov. 14th, at 9 o'clock, after the League meeting, to arrange for supplies for 1899, etc.

The annual missionary sermons will be preached on Sunday, Nov. 27th, when Rev. R. D. Mackenzie, B.A., a missionary home on furlough from Japan, will officiate. On the following Monday evening he will give a lecture on Japan, illustrated by limelight views, which will, no doubt, be very interesting.

As Christmas this year falls on Sunday, the annual Christmas tree and entertainment will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 26, in the new town hall. The Sunday school is already at work arranging the programme, and a pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

Next Saturday afternoon, Nov. 12th, the official Quarterly Board will meet in the basement at 2 o'clock for regular business.

At 7.30 on Saturday evening there will be an important meeting of the church trustees in the basement. All are urged to attend.

The Ladies' Aid are arranging for some pleasant and profitable evenings in the near future.

The W. M. S. are busy preparing their annual box to send to some needy mission field. Contributions may be left at the parsonage.

A cordial invitation is extended to all, both young and old, to attend the Sunday school services every Sunday at 2.30. Bring your Bible and come along.

MEDICAL SCIENCE ADVANCES

Positive Cure for Asthma Discovered.

It has long been recognized by medical scientists throughout the world that nature has supplied all creation with some remedy in the vegetable or mineral kingdom, wherewith all forms of ailments can be cured, but it was not until the discovery by Stanley of the wonderful Kola plant along the Congo River in Africa that asthma was permanently curable. In fact it was not until investigations made by Dr. Clarke some years later that discloses was found curable; he found that by combining the extract of Kola Nut with other vegetable extracts the compound obtained would permanently cure asthma. Clarke's Kola Compound was then tried on over 100 cases in different hospitals, with the marvellous result that over 95 per cent were permanently cured in less than 30 days treatment. Clarke's Kola Compound is now recognized to be the only permanent cure for this dreaded disease. Sold by Ormond & Walsh. Price two dollars; three bottles with cure guaranteed for five dollars. The Smoke a Man Most Likes.

You know the old joke on the considerate wife buying her husband cigars and he giving them away to those he most detested. That joke will never be played if the cigars are bought of Charley LeGros. The smoke a man most likes is a pure Havana cigar, but it must be the genuine Havana leaf—no imitation, no matter how good, will "fill the bill." I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Bock & Co.," "La Espanola," "Manual Garcia," "Diaz Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue label. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "B. B. B. Own Make" of English pipes—all sizes, shapes and prices; together with a lot of snaps in French briar pipes, with or without cases.—CHARLES LEGROS, 339 George street.

GUILD HALL DINNER

Does Not See a Protectorate Declared in Egypt.

SPEECH BY LORD SALISBURY.

The Premier Does Not Make Any Sensational Announcement—The Danger Over, But Preparation Still Advisable—A New World-Power—Americans Do Not Threaten British Interests.

London, Nov. 10.—The Lord Mayor's show yesterday was favored with fine weather and was witnessed by the usual crowds of people. The enthusiasm was divided between the car representing the Soudan, with the soldiers of the regiments which took part in the battle of Omdurman, and the car representing the English speaking race. The latter displayed among other things, Britannia and Columbia seated beneath a canopy while the American flag was borne by a British sailor and the British flag was carried by an American sailor. There was also an illustration of Admiral Tatnall's "Blood is thicker than water," and of Admiral Kimberley's repetition of the same expression to Captain Lane after the disaster at Apia, Samoa. This car was warmly acclaimed.

SALISBURY SPEAKS.

A Pessimistic Utterance by the Premier—He Deals With Various Live Topics of State.

London, Nov. 10.—The annual banquet of the Lord Mayor of London took place at the Guild Hall last evening. There were 850 guests present, including members of the diplomatic corps, Cabinet Ministers and other distinguished men and their wives.

After the usual loyal toasts, the navy and army were toasted, Admiral Sir William Kennedy and Gen. Lord Wolseley responding for their respective forces, which were described as being in a perfect state of preparedness to meet any power disputing Great Britain's just claims.

The brevity of the speeches showed that everyone realized there was general anxiety to hear the Marquis of Salisbury, who, on rising to respond to the toast of "Her Majesty's Ministers," was greeted with prolonged cheers.

The Premier began by saying that a succession of events abroad had occasioned grave anxiety to the Ministry for a year past. After an allusion to the death of the Empress of Austria and Great Britain's acceptance of a place on the anti-anarchy conference, and the Cretan question, the Premier turned to the crisis with France. The Premier remarked: "We have had quite recently to consider whether the question of a European war was not very near. But, with great interest and consideration, the result has turned out happily, through the great judgment and common-sense displayed by France, under circumstances of unusual difficulty, which, I think, have relieved Europe of a very dangerous and threatening storm."

After referring to the various rumors of intended action arising out of these preparations, including the seizure of Syria and Crete, and the declaration of a protectorate over Egypt—the latter allusion being greeted with immense cheering—Lord Salisbury continued:

"I am sorry to say I cannot rise to the height of the aspirations indicated by the cheering of the audience. I do not venture to prophecy, if we are forced by others into a position we do not now occupy, what may occur, but we are well satisfied with the existing state of things, and we do not think any cause has arisen to necessitate efforts on our part at present to modify it.

"The position causes occasional friction; but, taking the situation as a whole, and considering the feelings of other people as well as our own, we can reasonably rest for the present with the existing state of affairs. I must not be understood as meaning that Great Britain's position in Egypt is the same now as it was before the fall of Omdurman; but we earnestly hope that circumstances will not make it necessary materially to modify that position, as we are convinced the world would not then get on so peaceably as now."

Referring again to the war preparations, and asking his hearers to look at the state of the world, Lord Salisbury observed:

"The Czar has invited a congress to provide for the disarmament of the world; but, while we offer our heartiest tribute to his motives and are willing to assist and sympathize in every way until the happy day when his aspirations are crowned with success, we must still provide precautions needful to counteract the dangers surrounding us. In some respects this era—this great epoch in the history of man—is marked by unhappy omens. It is the first year in which the mighty force of the American Republic has been introduced among nations, whose dominions are expanding, and whose instruments to a certain extent are war.

"I am not implying the slightest blame. Far from it. I am not refusing sympathy to the American Republic in the difficulties through which it has pushed, but no one can deny that its appearance among factors Asiatic, at all events, and possibly in European diplomacy, is a grave and serious event, which may not conduce to the interests of peace, though I think in any event it is likely to conduce to the interests of Great Britain. (Cheers.)

"But what has been impressed upon us is that the subject matter of war is terribly prevalent on all sides. We see nations decaying, whose government is so bad that they can neither maintain the power of self-defence, nor retain the affection of its subjects; and when this occurs there are always neighbors impelled by some motive—it may be the highest philanthropy, or it may be the natural desire of empire—to contest as to who shall be heir to the falling nation; and that is the cause of war."

Lord Salisbury then alluded to the rapidity and unexpectedness with which war breaks out, and said:

"If Great Britain should ever permit her sea defences to weaken her whole empire would come clattering to the ground.

"It is, therefore, impossible, in the present state and temper of the world, to intermit our naval and military precautions."

He concluded by repudiating "all suggestion that our preparations mean that the country is animated by the lust of conquest or a love of war," declaring that Great Britain was only "resolved to maintain the Empire Britons have received from their forefathers and to support the peace which is the glory and maintenance of our Empire."

A great ovation from the entire assembly marked the conclusion of the Premier's speech.

THE PEACE COMMISSION.

A Short Session Devoted to Answering Friday's Claims.

Paris, Nov. 10.—Yesterday's session of the Peace Commission began at 2.13 p.m., and ended at 3 p.m. When the meeting opened the Americans presented to their Spanish colleagues the answer of the United States to the claims submitted on Friday last in behalf of Spain. The document in which the American answer was set forth consisted of nearly 50 sheets of typewritten matter.

The American presentation of yesterday was a refutation of the Spanish allegation that because the words "possession," "ownership" or "cession" do not occur in the protocol clause touching upon the Philippine Islands, the Peace Commission have no right to discuss them here, and that even if they did so it must be in the light of the alleged fact of an exterior agreement that Spain's sovereignty should not be impaired.

FRENCH WARSHIPS READY.

Orders Issued for the Mediterranean Squadron to Assemble Immediately.

Paris, Nov. 10.—The Echo de Paris yesterday published a despatch from Toulon, which says the entire French Mediterranean squadron is ready for sea. It adds that Admiral Fournier, its commander, received a cipher despatch yesterday evening, whereupon he signalled to the Forbin, a third-class cruiser, to bank her fire and the fastest torpedo boat conveyed orders to the admiral commanding the squadron of French cruisers and torpedo boats to assembly immediately at Toulon, where all the vessels are prepared for action and where the arsenals and ship yards have been worked all night.

Later it developed that Admiral Fournier had been summoned to Paris.

Lockroy Denies It.

Paris, Nov. 10.—M. Lockroy, Minister of Marine, denies that there is any truth in the rumors published by the Echo de Paris.

A Counter to Britain.

Despite M. Lockroy's denial, there is little doubt that the news of French naval preparations is in the main correct. Admiral Fournier has arrived in response to M. Lockroy's summons; and the two have already held a long conference with several admirals at the Ministry of Marine.

It is believed that M. Lockroy intends a set-off to the British demonstration at Portsmouth, and it is rumored that he will increase the French fleet at the cost of a milliard francs, which will be obtained by a conversion of rentes into 2¾ per cents. The admirals, it is understood, have reported all the coast defences in a complete state of readiness. At Algiers there is the greatest activity. All the forts have been manned and the defences improved.

Admiral Gervais has fallen ill from over work in connection with the preparations.

Burned Himself to Death.

Tring Junction, Que., Nov. 10.—Last night France Cloutier, aged 40, a prominent farmer, shut himself up in his barn at St. Fredoric, and set fire to the building. When the fire was extinguished his body was discovered in a sitting posture, horribly burned. Cloutier leaves a widow and six children. It is supposed he was suffering from temporary insanity.

THE U. S. ELECTIONS.

It is Conceded That the Senate Will Be Republican.

HOUSE PROBABLY DEMOCRATIC.

Mr. Croker Discusses the Election of the Rough Riders' Idol—Mr. Roosevelt Returns Thanks—Mr. Van Wyck Has Nothing to Say—Fatal Election Fights in Texas.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 10.—The election returns establish with certainty that the United States Senate will have a Republican majority after March 4 next.

An analysis of the party changes show the Republicans gain seven seats from Democrats (California, Delaware, Indiana, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota and Wisconsin,) and one from Populists (Nebraska). They may lose one (Washington), which is in doubt, and gain one in West Virginia, which is also in doubt.

The political divisions of the Senate after March 4 will be: Republicans 52, Democrats 27, Populists 5, Silver Republicans 4, in doubt 2.

The House is claimed by both Democrats and Republicans. The result is very close, but the indications are it will stand as follows: Democrats 172, Republicans 167, Populists or Silver 18.

Croker Speaks.

New York, Nov. 10.—Richard Croker made his appearance at Tammany Hall shortly after noon yesterday, and when asked for an interview upon the result of the election said: "I am entirely satisfied with the vote in New York County. The Democracy did its full duty here, and if there had not been a Republican landslide up the State Van Wyck would have been elected. I thought I had reason to hope that Roosevelt would come down to the Harlem with 40,000 or 50,000 majority, but, of course, there was no hope of overcoming the 105,000 plurality that the Republicans got above the Harlem. Comparatively speaking, we did better in this county than we did last year."

Augustus Van Wyck, when seen at his home in Brooklyn yesterday, refused to discuss the result of the elections with reporters, and replied to all enquiries: "I have nothing to say."

What Roosevelt Says.

New York, Nov. 10.—The Herald publishes the following statement from Col. Roosevelt, made after his election was assured:

"I appreciate the honor of my election very deeply and I appreciate even more deeply the responsibility involved in this honor. I shall do all in my power to redeem every promise I made, expressed or implied.

"I am a good Republican, and I believe I can best serve the Republican party by doing everything to help it serve the State. I shall try to administer the office of Governor in the interest of the whole people."

A Bloody Day in Texas.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 10.—Tuesday was a bloody election day in Texas. At Hubbard, Stevens County, Rosare McCarthy, Joseph Ramby and Jefferson Squires were killed and J. P. McCartery and Riley Squires probably mortally wounded in an election quarrel.

At Steuben, in Hopkins County, R. E. Sutton and George Young were killed. William Young is in jail as a party to the killing of Sutton, who had murdered Young's brother.

At Aubrey, Denton County, Deputy Sheriff B. Taylor was shot through the neck by Lee Webb and dangerously wounded. He shot Webb through the leg.

At Sheffield, in Trinity County, J. W. Asbefield was killed and his father probably fatally wounded by persons whose names have not been learned. Many minor affrays occurred in various parts of the State as the result of election differences.

Murderer of Wm. Burton Sentenced to Death at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 10. — Paul Brown (colored), convicted of murdering

THE MURDERER.

William Burton, was sentenced yesterday morning by Judge Dubuc to hang on Dec. 23, between the hours of 8 and 10. Prisoner had not a word to say when sentence was pronounced. He is a moral monstrosity and does not seem to be in the least conscience-stricken. The insanity plea did not work with the jury.

Severe Headaches

Resulting from Catarrh Cause Great Suffering

The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. E. GREY, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

MONTREAL SEEN WITH THE HERALD'S EYES.

The Montreal Herald is now recognized as one of our best, newsiest, solidest and most enterprising journals. It has established another claim to the last mentioned characteristic by the issue of a splendid special edition, entitled, "The Herald's Montreal and the St. Lawrence route." It is a 32 page, magnificently illustrated edition, descriptive of the Royal city, its varied interests and of the great water way of the St. Lawrence. In one way it presents, as it were, a birds-eye view of the wonderful shipping and commercial resources of the metropolis of the Dominion. The traveller who may think he knows Montreal, will in perusing the Herald's special edition, confess that he had no adequate idea of its material beauty, or the extent and importance of its maritime and commercial magnitude, such as this publication reveals. The typography is excellent, and the letter press in its descriptive clearness harmonizes well with the perfection of the photogravure reproductions of the scenery, great public buildings and monuments, and the alert faces of its prominent citizens—all as clean and clear cut as a photograph. Montreal is a great city, and it is fortunate in having a journal like the Herald, with the enterprise and public spirit to worthily exploit its beauties and capabilities, and to exhibit to such splendid advantage its commercial potentialalities, present and prospective. The EXAMINER begs to congratulate the Herald on its magnificent special edition.

STAND BY THE TOWN.

THE Brockville Recorder in writing up its town, in compliment to the enterprise of the town asserts on the authority of commercial travellers, that there is but one town in Ontario to compare with her—Peterborough. It also refers thus to the "booming" means employed by other towns:

> In connection with the encouraging of manufactures, etc., Mr. Robert H. Lindsay, a Brockville boy, has sent the Recorder a booklet of 100 pages, entitled "The Book of Bradford, Pa." It contains a full description of all the advantages of that city, together with a history of the corporation, the names of its business concerns, board of trade, etc. On the back of the cover the announcement is made that Bradford offers "Free Water Power to All Manufacturers." Of course Brockville has no free water power to present, but her exceptional transportation facilities, both by water and rail, should carry weight to industries that are seeking the best location. It might be a good thing for Brockville to issue such a booklet.

And it not only might be but would be a good thing for Peterborough to issue such a book. We have never had the town properly advertised in that manner. True, the Board of Trade got out a little booklet once. But in advertising, whether it be a shop or a town, one effort doesn't necessarily bring success, any more than one swallow makes a summer, or one stroke of a hammer splits a boulder. We have a good deal more than Brockville to offer manufacturers, who desire to avail themselves of the advantages of the best railway and water power centres in the Province. An important conference of passenger representatives of American and Canadian railroads opened at the Iroquois Hotel in Buffalo on Wednesday.

John Milne of Burrow, Stewart & Milne, fell at Hamilton on Wednesday evening and broke one of his legs. He was taken to his home in the ambulance.

The case of Sidney Slocum, the private detective, is proceeding at Toronto. He is charged with having incited witnesses to commit perjury in the Dr. Eastwood case at Claremont.

Lillian, Florence and Anne Galligan, aged 3, 4 and 6 years respectively, the children of Michael Galligan, were suffocated at their home in Brooklyn during a fire on Wednesday.

The schooner Singapore, with a cargo of coal from Fairhaven to Toronto, lost her rudder when off Cobourg Wednesday morning. A life saving crew brought the schooner safely to port.

A despatch from Michigan says the steamer L. R. Doty, with the entire crew, has gone to the bottom of Lake Michigan. She carried a cargo of 107,000 bushels of corn. One of her lifeboats has drifted ashore near Grand Haven.

Mr. J. W. Junkin, proprietor of the Crystal Palace, St. Catharines, died about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Junkin home. He had been declining in health for several months, and his death was due to kidney and lung troubles.

Mr. James A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, who is now in the west inspecting the work of the immigration branch, finds that Galician settlers who have been in the country less than a year have already picked up sufficient knowledge of the English language to converse in it.

Burglars entered the tailoring and gents' furnishing establishment of A. Clark & Son at Fenelon Falls on Wednesday night, by a rear window, and carried off 10 or 12 suits of made up ordered clothing, also a quantity of winter underwear, mitts and such like. Mr. Clark estimates his loss at about $200. No clue.

At Toronto on Wednesday Mrs. Beasley, on a charge of manslaughter in causing the death of the infant child of Mary McGarvin, while in her care, was found guilty, with a recommendation to mercy. In sentencing the prisoner to two years, less one day, in the Mercer Reformatory, Chancellor Boyd pointed out that he had power to send her down for life.

NOT ENDED YET.

London Street Car Company and Its Employes Have Failed to Come to Terms.

London, Ont., Nov. 10.—Peaceful negotiations between the Street Railway Company and its striking employes are at an end. President Everett and Vice-President Moore left the city last night, leaving the conduct of the fight on the part of the company in the hands of the local officials of the company, whose action throughout the whole difficulty they fully endorsed.

The three cars which were started out on Monday have not yet been supplemented. The public is leaving them severely alone, and those who are riding are using the union busses.

Last night one of the non-union men from Montreal who had been boasting of his ability to thrash single-handed any half-dozen Western Canadians, received a terrible beating at the hands of a union sympathizer. Private detectives are guarding Manager Carr's residence. Much apprehension is expressed in regard to acts of lawlessness before the strike is settled.

The Rate of Pay.

The company offered to pay 13 cents per hour for the first year, 14 cents per hour for the second year and 15 cents per hour after the second year. This would apply to their previous service, which would mean that those men who have been in the company's employ over two years—of whom there are 57—would receive 15 cents per hour. Many of these latter would have an increase within the next month or two by reason of length of service. This scale of wages, the company claim, is higher than that paid in any city in Canada of London's size and 4 per cent. better than the men were receiving. The men were to have the option of hours, either a 9 or 10-hour day, or a 12-hour day with five days per week. The men at first stood out for 16 2-3 cents, but later offered to accept for the first six months 18 cents per hour, second six months 14 2-3 cents per hour, third six months 15 2-3 cents per hour, and after 18 months 16 2-3 cents per hour. This the company would not concede, and there the matter ended.

HALIFAX HARBOR DEFENCE.

To Be Furnished With Submarine Defences—Militia to Serve in Case of War.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 10.—Capt. Kent of the Submarine Mining Department received orders yesterday morning from the Imperial authorities to have the harbor mined next week. A number of old hulks have been obtained, and will be used in the testing of the mines. Orders have been received for the manning of the forts to-night by the full strength of the Royal Artillery and Leinster Regiment. The companies of the Royal Artillery are being drilled daily at the guns, a departure from the usual rule. The Leinster Regiment and Royal Engineers have been ordered to drill twice a day instead of once, as heretofore. This morning the entire military force is massed in one brigade on the common for inspection.

There is a defence scheme published by the War Office, which applies to each station on the British possessions. In Canada, especially Halifax, it takes into consideration the services of the Canadian militia in case of hostilities, and the 1st Regiment of Canadian Artillery, more particularly, are apportioned to the different forts at Halifax. Gen. Lord Seymour has seen fit to make some changes in this defence scheme, and intends to associate with the Canadian artillery in each fort a certain number of the officers and men of the Royal Artillery. One hundred men of the 1st Regiment of Canadian Artillery have been ordered to parade on Wednesday night next at 7 30, for the purpose of trying the new scheme. This parade is entirely voluntary on the part of the Canadian Artillery.

MANY CHARGES DISMISSED.

Many Witnesses Testify on Wednesday—The Interest Is Unabated—The Proceedings in Court.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—In the West York trial the charge against Pearen for having influenced James Fox by offering his brother a position was dismissed by their Lordships.

Mr. Pears, ex-Mayor of Toronto Junction and ex-license inspector of West York, swore that he did not, being a Government official, take any active part in the campaign of last year, though a little election money passed through his hands by accident. He admitted having paid Boyles $10, and to having seen Mr. Smith pay him over another $5. Witness had known that Mr. Hill had opposed his appointment as license inspector, though he did not expect to be dismissed, as he had been. That the Government was dissatisfied with his work was the only reason ever vouchsafed to him for his dismissal. Their Lordships thereupon declared the charges dismissed.

William Maxwell swore he had been canvassed by Joseph Orr, who had invited him to a meeting in Hill's interest. Under cross-examination witness said Orr had bothered him a good deal about renting a house to him. He could not say that Orr's promise of a position had influenced his vote. Witness' memory was confused and contradictory on several points in relation to Orr's dealings with him. He had told a Mr. Rutledge that Mr. Orr had promised him something after the election, though he really wasn't sure that it was a promise. Mr. St. John had got a statement from him, and he had been talking with him since the trial opened.

Mrs. Maxwell was next called. Orr had been to their house several times prior to the election. He asked her husband to vote for Mr. Hill, and told him he would stand a good chance for a job if he did so.

J. Clark, a bricklayer of New Toronto, was then called in connection with charge No. 20. Orr had called on him, and they had talked at the door about ten days before the election. He asked him to vote for Hill, and he said he'd use his influence to get him a job hauling coal to the asylum. Witness had never told Mr. Orr that Dr. Godfrey would remit his charges for attending his wife if he would vote for St. John.

W. J. Gibson had also been approached by Joseph Orr before the election with much the same story. He had refused to vote for Hill, however. He had jollied Mr. Orr for a job, and Orr told him his chance was as good as anyone's. The Government was good to its friends after election.

Robert Waites wasn't certain about the identity of Mr. Orr, but managed to recall him. Then it transpired that he had been canvassed by Mr. Orr, though the canvass lasted only a minute, on the street after dark. He denied point blank that Orr had offered him any consideration for his vote.

The court rose at this point for the day.

MURDER IN MONTREAL.

Armand Courteau Kills His Sweetheart and Then Suicides.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—A murder was committed here yesterday, followed by a case of deliberate suicide. For some time past Armand Courteau, aged 32, had been paying attention to Matilda Lavigeau, 18 years of age, who lived with her father, a cooper, near the Place Viger Hotel. The suitor, however, drank heavily, and the girl's parents objecting to the match, Miss Lavigeau told Courteau yesterday she could never become his wife. This refusal made the man desperate, and after drinking a great deal of intoxicants, he shot her dead, and then placing the revolver to his temple, he, too, dropped dead by the side of the murdered girl.

W. N. Hunter, who calls himself a commission merchant, was arrested here yesterday, charged by the West Lorne Canning & Evaporating Company of Western Ontario with having illegally disposed of a large consignment of canned goods. The firm, it is stated, wrote Hunter to try to dispose of the goods, which he could dispose of to the retail trade to better advantage. This was done, but Hunter, it is alleged, sold the goods to the wholesale trade and at lower prices than those called for by the invoice.

"Where is my Wife?"

What th Lindsay Post says of the company that appears at Bradbura's Opera House next week:—"This delightful comedy was presented last night at the Academy of Music by the Lorraine Hollis Co., and those who witnessed the play saw one of the best performances ever given in this town. Miss Hollis is equally mistress of her art as a comedienne as in the more trying roll of 'Camille.' The play abounds in bright situations and complications; the climaxes are well introduced and the denouement brings everything to a happy conclusion. Miss Hollis and her company deserve the most liberal patronage, as it is seldom that so good a theatrical company visits our city. To-night Miss Hollis will appear for the last time during this engagement, presenting the strongest play in her repertoire — 'Forget-me-not.' As 'Stephanie' Miss Hollis is pronounced to be incomparable." Prices 15c., 25c. and 35c.

HUNTING NOTES.

Game is Very Plentiful in the North Country This Season.

Mr. D. W. Dumble has returned from his outing with the Gold Lake Hunt Club, the members of which are encamped on the pretty sheet of water from which the club takes its name. In five days hunting the party has secured twelve deer and game is reported very plentiful. Mr. M. Costello also came home Tuesday and Mr. W. F. Johnston has left to join the camp, which will not be broken up until the season closes.

The fourteen fine deer which were strung out in Westlake's barn Tuesday are the result of the fine marksmanship of Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald's party, who were also back in the Gold Lake region. There were ten in the party.

Messrs R B Rogers, H S Greenwood, A W Spence and Macklem Poussette returned last evening from Stony Lake, where they had been hunting since the first of the season. Messrs Robt Fair and W H Hill, who belonged to the party, came in last Saturday. Three deer and a large amount of small game were secured. Mr. "Mac" Poussette shot one of the deer yesterday at a distance of 200 yards, putting a bullet through its brain.

The statement that Dickson Hall secured the first deer in the Gold Lake Hunt Club is confirmed by Mr. D. W. Dumble, who states that it was shot from a high bluff, and was about 40 yards off. The Gold Lake party is having great luck, two of their deer being actually shot within the camp limits.

One of the carrier pigeons which the party took back came into its coop at the Snowden House yesterday. A paper was fastened under its wing, but was so defaced that it was illegible. Two birds which were loosed on Thursday have not appeared yet, nor has the mate of the one arriving yesterday, which was loosed on Tuesday.

SAD STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Immorality as Existing in the Smith Family—The Third Brother in Gaol.

Henry Smith, the third brother in the notorious Smith family, two members of which were sentenced to five and two year terms in prison yesterday, was before Magistrate Dumble this morning charged with having no visible means of support.

The prisoner summoned his mother and and sister amongst others to prove his innocence.

The cross examination of the Chief of Police brought to view a sad state of affairs the immorality of the whole connection being something appalling to contemplate.

As the prisoner pleaded hard to be allowed another chance and promised to leave Peterborough forever if allowed to go, he will probably be discharged on this conditions, but in the meantime has been remanded until Nov. 17th, as he is needed as a witness against Mrs. Allen. As the prisoner is the "dead spit" of his twin brother, Hector, who was in Court yesterday, the appearance of Henry this morning rather confused things for a time.

Mr. C. B. McAllister was in Belleville on a business trip yesterday.

Mr. T. H. G. Denne is back from a business trip to Kingston.

Mr. W. H. White has returned from a hunting trip up north.

Miss Eva Diamond, of Belleville, is visiting with Miss Florence Waller, Charlotte street.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy is in Buffalo on business connected with his large stock interests.

Miss Armstrong, of R. Fair's millinery department, has returned from a visit to the wholesale centres, where she has been engaged in selecting new autumn novelties for the Golden Lion.

Mr. W. E. Green, formerly local agent for the Williams Piano Co., and who rose to the position of chief sales agent, has accepted a position as salesman with the Octavius Newcombe Company, covering the territory between Toronto and Cornwall on the Grand Trunk, and going as far east as Ottawa on the C.P.R. The Newcombe Co. is to be congratulated on securing the services of a hustler like "W. E." The Newcombe pianos are so well known in this vicinity as to need little comment. Their tone and general excellence is unsurpassed.

Guessing Contest.

The monster 200 lb. squash in the Spot Cash Grocery Company's window is showing indications of collapsing. Mr. Martin hopes, however, that it will pull itself together and put up a good fight for existence until Thanksgiving Day, when it is to be cut open and the number of seeds it contains is to be counted. The enterprising proprietor of the Spot Cash store wishes it to be stated that his prize squash was not fed on milk, bone meal, guano or any other patent fertilizer; it's bill of fare being nothing but good manure and lots of water. The guesses are likely to be numerous than the seeds, judging by the interest taken in the competition; and the lucky winner of the handsome dinner set will be a shrewd calculator. Quite a demand has already sprung up for some of the seeds of this squash by farmers and others and Mr. Martin has decided to place them on sale in small lots, so that they may go round as far as possible.

Respect Authority.

Exaggerated reports were circulated this morning regarding an alleged lively disturbance at a ward school which being investigated, resolved itself into the visit of an irrate mother to remonstrate against the punishment of her boy. It appears that the boy was detained after school for punishment for some offence that merited punishment. A younger brother reported the matter to the mother who lived not far away. She rushed to the school room and indulged in some language more marked for its vigour than elegance and equally vigorous physical demonstrations of dissent. Assuming always that punishment is properly administered for cause it is a mistake for a parent to sympathize, to put it mildly, with the pupil's recalcitrance to legitimate authority. The parent who pursues such a course is only [illegible] himself or herself future [illegible] for a child that is in its early years encouraged in or passively permitted to [illegible] of authority will learn [illegible] whatever years come. AN EXPENDITURE OF 75,000 DOLLARS.

A Busy Scene on the Dickson Raceway.

A NEW AND SUBSTANTIAL BRIDGE.

The Changes will Ensure a 18-foot Head of Water at London Street, 26 feet at Murray Street and 30 feet at Hunter street.

Unless a personal visit is paid to the operations in progress on the Dickson raceway at the head of London street, an estimate can hardly be formed of the great expenditure which is being made in that quarter of the town.

The raceway is being enlarged to more than twice its former width and the concrete abutments and piers for the new bridge have just been completed.

The two openings between the abutments and the central pier are each twenty-six feet in width, where there was formerly but one opening twenty feet wide. Into these openings stop logs are to be placed, which will give a nine-foot head of water at this point. As the big dam crossing the river is to be raised four feet higher this will give a thirteen foot head of water when the work is completed. The property from this dam to Martin dam is owned by the Dickson Company, so that no other property owners will be damaged by the raising of the water in the river to this extent. At the point on the raceway where the new power house is to be erected for the Peterborough Light & Power Co., the head of water increases to 23 feet and at Hunter street there will be a 30 foot head. This constitutes one of the most magnificent water powers in Canada and it is sufficient to supply power for all the manufactories that could be accomodated with space along the banks of the raceway.

The piers and abutments are 15 ft. 6 in. in height and about five feet in width at the top. They are 42 feet long. The height of the concrete erections are, in fact, greater than 15 ft. 6 in., as when excavating for the foundations of the new bridge great holes had to be filled up beneath the flooring of the dam, which represents a big outlay money. Great cost is also attached to the widening and deepening of the arm running in from the river to the raceway.

Yesterday there were seventy-two men and ten teams at work under the superintendence of Mr. Edward Wade, who is in charge of the work for the Dickson Company.

It is calculated that the total expenditure involved in widening the race, erecting the new power house, etc., will aggregate about $75,000.

PLUMBING AND HEALTH.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—If there are any intelligent individuals in this town who do not consider that epidemics of typhoid fever and diphtheria are in any way attributable to bad drainage or bad plumbing, they should visit Mr. Adam Hall's shop and examine a piece of plumbing taken from a house where it had been in use for years, and which, I am convinced, is duplicated in many houses now occupied by unsuspecting persons.

The writer has been forced by circumstances over which he has no control, to pay some attention to sanitary matters, and it was with no little consternation that he saw the death trap, above mentioned, exposed to view. As a piece of plumbing one cannot hesitate to pronounce it a monstrosity without thinking evil of any individual who might have been engaged in its manufacture.

Surely the intelligence of the medical profession in Peterborough, coupled with their good will to the town, should lead to an investigation that would result in the passing of a Plumbers' Bylaw that would forever prevent the perpetration of such criminal ignorance in the construction of drainage pipes, and all plumbing inside this corporation.

Surely there is real work for the Board of Health in this town, and it is now a matter of even more importance that a good, active and efficient Board of Health should be kept employed until a plumbers' bylaw is an accomplished fact than that a more efficient council should be secured to manage the public business of the town. No one denies the latter need, and all will agree that a Plumbers' Bylaw is a positive necessity, if we are to be saved from disease and death in many places where the certain cause exists, hidden from the sight of the defenceless victims.

Yours very truly,
SANITAS.

Nov. 10th, 1898.

[Our correspondent's letter is exceedingly timely. With the inauguration of a sewerage system the problem of effective plumbing should receive immediate and practical attention. As a matter of fact the council should have considered a plumbing bylaw when they were letting the contract for the first instalment of sewerage. Immediate action should be taken and a bylaw passed that would provide for required inspection to insure that no domestic plumbing that is not above the possibility of giving away should be permitted to pass. Health, and what is more, life depend upon the perfection of, especially, domestic or, indeed, any residential plumbing. Not an hour should be wasted by the Board of Health and the Council in seeing that the protection of the health of citizens as associated with proper plumbing is efficiently provided. The longer the delay the greater possibility of services being put in that will be a menace to the occupants of the house or building in which they are placed. In regard to the specimen of imperfect plumbing referred to by our correspondent, it may be easily explained and may have been as much the fault of the proprietor as the plumber. If employers insist on screwing down a plumber to an impossible price, it is not in human nature that the work should be done in a first-class manner at third-rate prices. As a rule, any article or work is worth what we pay for it. If we pay slop work price, we get scamp work of necessity. In plumbing, above all things, the work should be the best we can get, for health and life depend upon it. A man should no more think of getting poor plumbing, because he gets it cheap, than he would think of employing a poor physician for his family, instead of a good one, simply because he might get him for a smaller fee. No time should be lost in providing means by which perfect plumbing shall be insured.]

A WEEK OF SELF DENIAL.

It Will Begin in the Salvation Army on Nov. 20th.

The well-known effort of self-denial work will be observed throughout the Salvation Army in this territory, from Nov. 20th to 26th.

More than usual activity has taken possession of the Army's energetic members in anticipation of this great event of the Salvationists' year. Officers and soldiers of all ranks join in this mighty effort, denying themselves in many cases even of what may be considered the necessaries of life, that the proceeds of this week may be capable of great realization.

In this endeavour all outside friends and sympathisers of the work are invited to join in gift or sacrifice.

INTERESTING INSURANCE CASE.

Who is the Lawful Claimant Under a Beneficiary Policy?

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Mr. Justice Rose heard argument on a curious point in an insurance case at Osgoode Hall last week. James Fick, of Simcoe county, insured in 1887 for $1,000 in the Independent Order of Foresters. The policy read in favour of his "widow and orphans,' but on the outside of the document the name of his wife, Elizabeth Fick, appeared as the beneficiary. Mrs. Fick died, leaving one child, and the widower married again. After a child had been borne by his second wife Fick died without changing the wording of the policy. The question now is: who is entitled to the money, the present widow and her child, or the children of the first wife? The I.O.F. paid the money, and the advice of the court is being sought as to its disposition.

A SHORT SESSION.

The Sewerage Committee and the Council Act in the Matter of the Gilmour Street Drain.

At a meeting of the Sewerage Committee last night, with Chairman Best presiding, it was decided to accede to the petition asking for the extension of the sewer on Gilmour street, from lot 10 to lot 14, plan 78.

The council then went into session with Mayor Davis in the chair and the following members present: Messrs. Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Donne, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams and Langford.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, and the report of the Sewerage Committee was adopted, recommending the construction of the extension to the contemplated Gilmour street sewer.

The bylaw authorising the construction of the sewer from Park street to the western limit of lot 14, plan 78, then received its several readings and was passed.

The matter of purchasing new blankets for the fire teams was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

It was decided that the grocers be notified not to place fish barrels on the new pavement, as the salt destroys the pavement.

Tenders for snow ploughing will be received up to Friday, Nov. 18th.

The Street and Bridge Committee was authorized to replace the sidewalk on Dalhousie street, near the Ackerman building.

The council adjourned to meet again on Friday evening.

THE BRITISHER UNDER FIRE.

A Tribute to His Coolness in the Midst of Danger.

Richard Harding Davis writes in Scribner's Monthly: In the Porto Rican campaign a shrapnel shell struck the road within ten inches of the foot of the British naval attache, Captain Paget, and lifted five Wisconsin volunteers off their feet and knocked them down. For a moment Paget was lost to view in a cloud of dust and smoke, from which no one expected to see him reappear alive, but he strode out of it untouched, remarking, in a tone of extreme annoyance, "There was a shell in the Soudan once did exactly the same thing to me." His tone seemed to suggest that there was a limit to any man's patience. A few minutes later, a solitary tree beneath which he was sitting, was struck by another shell, which killed two and wounded three men. Paget, who had been in a dozen campaigns, took it all as a matter of course, and assisted one of the wounded out of the range of the bullets from the side of a steep and high hill. The sight did more to popularize the Anglo-American alliance with the soldiers than could the weightiest argument of ambassadors or statesmen.

They are five in number:—Teachers' Monthly, Home Study Quarterly, Primary Quarterly, Home Study and Primary Leaflet, and form a complete series carefully adapted to the needs of the teachers and scholars of the Sunday school. The covers are in good taste. The lessons are discussed with an eye to the practical, and blackboard and other illustrations have been freely used. Such well known names as Rev. Principal MacVicar, Montreal, and Rev. D. M. Ramsay, Ottawa, appear amongst the contributors, and the special Primary Department is edited by Miss Jessie A. Munro of Toronto, Secretary of Ontario Sabbath School Association. Presbyterian Sunday schools and homes are well served in these handsome publications, which should enjoy a general use.

THE NOXON BROS. MFG. CO.

A Change in the Management—A Stronger Company Than Ever—The Works to be Started in Full Blast.

The Noxon Bros. Mfg. Company has just been reorganized on a stronger basis than ever. At a meeting recently held Messrs. Wm. Watterworth, R. H. Cotter and Ball & Ball obtained a controlling interest and in future will direct the affairs of the company. Regarding the gentleman above mentioned but little need be said, their records being well known to the public. For many years past Mr. Watterworth has been actively identified with the business interests of the town of Ingersoll, having held every municipal position in the gift of the people, from councillor to reeve, and for a year very capably fulfilled the duties of mayor. In the county council his abilities were recognized by bestowing upon him the highest office in the gift of the corporation, viz., the wardenship. He has also successfully conducted the Evans Bros. Piano Co. for some years past, of which he is now sole proprietor.

Mr. Cotter has been identified with the Noxon Bros. Mfg. Co. for the past twenty-seven years, and is thoroughly familiar with the details of the extensive business. He is a thoroughly competent and shrewd man of business, genial and obliging in disposition and a man at whose hands neither the shareholders nor employees will suffer. His long experience, first, as a general agent travelling for the Noxon Co. and since, in almost every position in connection with their extensive business, is a guarantee that whatever comes under his personal supervision must be conducted on upright, just and business like principles.

The Messrs. Ball & Ball are well-known throughout Oxford county as County Crown Attorneys. They are men of high standing in their profession, and what they may lack in personal knowledge of the manufacturing business will be amply compensated for, through their wide and honourable connection in the profession throughout Ontario.

The Noxon Mfg. Co. have an enviable reputation among the farmers, not only of Canada, but of foreign lands. The business has been constantly improving, the past year having been the best in the history of the company. The capital stock incorporated in their letters patent is $500,000.

Mr. J. B. Sproule, general traveller for the Noxon Company, is at present in Peterborough on a business visit to their energetic local agent, Mr. W. J. Doughty.

The Smoke a Man Most Likes.

You know the old joke on the considerate wife buying her husband cigars and he giving them away to those he most detested. That joke will never be played if the cigars are bought of Charl LeGros. The smoke a man most likes is a pure Havana cigar, but it must be the genuine Havana leaf—no imitation, no matter how good, will "fill the bill." I buy direct from the manufacturers in Havana and secure regular consignments of high-class imported cigars direct from the factories. I have just received some of the scarce brands, which only a few dealers can get, who have got the inside track:—"Bock & Co.," "La Espanola," "Manual Garcia," "Diaz Garcia." These goods are dependable and are certified to by their blue lab. I have also a full assortment of the celebrated "B. B. B. Own Make" of English pipes—all sizes, shapes and prices; together with a lot of snaps in French briar pipes, with or without cases.—CHARLES LeGROS, 329 George street.

A BRITISH SOLDIER

Tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Conquer Disease.

Like the conquering armies of Britain, which are marching to victory in every quarter of the globe, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are everywhere triumphing over sickness, weakness and suffering, and freeing those who are bound by the shackles of disease.

Mr. David Walsh, of Carleton Place, Ont., a man who has served with distinction and credit in the British army, and is now an employee of the C. P. Railway, says, "While in the army I got broken down, and my nervous system was completely shattered.

"I was much troubled with liver complaint, loss of appetite, etc. My rest became broken and was disturbed by vivid dreams. This had been going on for 14 years, although I took a great many remedies to escape from the troubles which afflicted me.

"However, I got no relief until I started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I used together with Laxa-Liver Pills, and now after having used a few boxes, I am better than I have been for years. My nerves are restored to full force and vigor, I eat and sleep well, and my entire system has been toned and strengthened."

"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a positive and perfect remedy for Weak, Palpitating Hearts, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Weakness, Dizzy Spells, Smothering Sensations, St. Vitus Dance, Debility, Female Complaints, etc. Price 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. MILBURN & CO., Toronto, Ont.

"Laxa-Liver Pills," says John Doherty, 35 North Street, St. John, N.B., "cured me of Constipation and distress after eating. Their action is natural and effective."

REPORT ON THE YUKON.

Major Walsh Gives a Comprehensive Statement of the Conditions.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The report of Major Walsh to the Minister of the Interior upon the Yukon district has been issued. It is a comprehensive statement of the conditions as Major Walsh found them, and contains many suggestions for the guidance of the Government as well as of the public in regard to the administration and development of this richly endowed portion of the Dominion. He narrates the operations of the Canadian Yukon administration party from the time it first camped at the Big and Little Salmon Rivers until he relinquished his post as Commissioner and came out of the country on Aug. 4.

The Steamship Contract Signed.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The contract between the Government and the Allan and Dominion Steamship Lines for the winter service between St. John and Liverpool has at last been finally signed and delivered. The first boat will leave Liverpool on the 12th inst., the first sailing from St. John will be on the 30th. For the first five weeks the sailings will be weekly from Liverpool on each Saturday. After that they will be on Thursdays. From this side the sailing will be on Wednesdays, unless other arrangements are made later on. The boats to be employed are the Parisian, Numidian, California, Labrador, Vancouver and Scotsman.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser."

Serious Accident in Blenheim.

Chatham, Nov. 9.—Yesterday a serious accident happened to David Lyand, head sawyer at Pardo's mill at Blenheim. The injured man was engaged in blowing out the flues through the mud pipe. He had just turned on the steam, which blew the pipe to pieces, a flying elbow striking him on the leg, breaking the bone in two places between the knee and ankle. The man is terribly injured, but will recover.

Hostler Kicked and Trampled.

Cobourg, Nov. 9.—James Hovey, aged 45 years, who is hostler at the Albion Hotel, met with a very painful accident yesterday. He was blanketing a young horse, when it kicked him over the temple, inflicting a severe wound and knocking him down. When he fell to the floor the horse jumped on him, breaking his thigh in two places and shattering it very badly.

Postlethwaite's Trouble.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 9.—William Postlethwaite has been arrested at Brandon, charged with stealing wheat from A. Millien Company, whose elevator he managed last year. Postlethwaite was the Patron candidate for the House of Commons in Brandon at the last general elections, and he also contested North Brandon.

ODDITIES IN WILLS.

SOME PECULIAR BEQUESTS AND CURIOUS CONDITIONS.

A Patriotic American's Desire to Be Heard After Death—Wills Which Proved That In the Cases of Their Makers Marriage Was a Failure.

The admiration of our American cousins for their country is a prominent characteristic of their daily life, and some years ago a Mr. Sanborn desired that in death as in life his body should proclaim the glory of the republic. He left £1,000 to the late Professor Agassiz, in return for which he was, by an extremely scientific process set forth in the will to tan his (Sanborn's) skin into leather and from it have a drum made. Two of the most suitable bones of his body were to be made into drumsticks, and with these a Mr. Warren Simpson—to whom Sanborn left the remainder of his property—was "on every 17th of June to repair to the foot of Bunker hill and at sunrise beat on the drum, the parchment of which had been made out of the testator's skin, the spirit stirring strains of 'Yankee Doodle.'"

A somewhat similar bequest was made by a German in 1887. He died in Pittsburg and by his will directed that his body should be cremated and the ashes forwarded to the German consul at New York, who was to deliver them to the captain of the steamship Elbe. When in midocean, the captain was to request a passenger to dress himself in nautical costume, and, ascending with the funeral urn to the topmast, to scatter the ashes to the four winds of heaven. These strange directions were faithfully carried out.

Quite as peculiar were the directions for the funeral of a Mr. John Underwood. He willed that he was to be buried in a green coffin with a copy of Horace under his head and of Milton under his feet, a Greek testament in his right hand and a small Horace in his left. Six friends, who were not to wear mourning, were to follow him to the grave and there to sing a verse of the twentieth ode of the second book of Horace. After this they were to "take a cheerful glass and think no more of John Underwood."

Wills may also be admitted as evidence of the mixed blessings of the matrimonial state. A nobleman wrote, "I give and bequeath to the worst of women, whom I unfortunately married, 45 brass halfpence, which will buy her a pullet for supper."

A Glasgow doctor, dying some ten years ago, left the whole of his estate to his two sisters, and then came this extraordinary clause: "To my wife, as a recompense for deserting me and leaving me in peace, I expect the said sister Elizabeth to make her a gift of 10 shillings sterling, to buy her a pocket handkerchief to weep in after my decease."

A Mr. Sydney Dickenson bequeathed to his wife the sum of £60,000, "on condition that she undertakes to pass two hours a day at my graveside, for the ten years following my decease, in company with her sister, whom I have reason to know she loathes worse than she does me."

Another husband stated that he would have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his newspaper in peace, but as she always commenced playing and singing when he started to read he left her only £1,000. Such instances could be mutiplied indefinitely, but one other is worthy of note.

A husband left his wife £12,000, to be increased to £24,000 provided that she wore a widow's cap after his death. She accepted the larger amount, wore the cap for six months, and then put it off. A lawsuit followed, but the judge held that the testator should have inserted the word "always" and gave judgment in favor of the widow, who the day after re-entered the state of matrimony. Thus the husband's little plan for preventing his widow marrying again failed.

But the most curious will which the writer has ever come across is that of M. Zalesky, a Polish landlord, who died in 1889, leaving property valued at 100,000 rubles. His will was inclosed in an envelope bearing the words, "To Be Opened After My Death." Inside this was another envelope, "To Be Opened Six Weeks After My Death." When this time had passed, the second envelope was opened and a third uncovered, "To Be Opened One Year After My Death." At the end of the year a fourth envelope was discovered, to be opened two years after the testator's death, and so the game went on until 1894, when the actual will was discovered and read. It was quite as eccentric in its dispositions as the directions attached to its opening. The testator bequeathed half his fortune to such of his heirs as had the largest number of children. The rest of the property was to be placed in a bank and a hundred years after his death to be divided, with the accumulated interest, among the will maker's descendants. Thus by 1989, at 5 per cent compound interest, the 50,000 rubles will have swelled into 6,000,000 rubles. But what will this be among so many descendants?—Household Words.

Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.

Its Value as a Preventive and Cure of Pulmonary Diseases.

Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals of Chicago, in a paper with this title, said that the absence of systematic study by physicians and the very meager literature compelled him to be somewhat dogmatic in his paper. One of the most common observations made by medical men, he said, was that the long, narrow, flat chested individual was the one liable to the development of tuberculosis and that in patients presenting this form of chest the chances for recovery were reduced to a minimum.

This observation he considered sufficient to suggest that systematic physical training in aiding the development of the respiratory muscles, thoracic walls and pulmonary capacity would be of great service in preventing tuberculosis and in curing its early stages. Collapsed air cells, he said, furnished a most favorable nidus for the development of tuberculosis. Therefore for the prevention of the disease measures should be adopted to expand the lungs and bring the air cells into the best possible working condition.

He thought it probable that in most cases there was an early tuberculous localized anæmia, diminishing the nutrition of the parts and making them more susceptible to the tubercle bacilli and their toxins. Of the large percentage of the human family said to be affected by tuberculosis (80 per cent), the majority recovered, even when the disease affected the lungs, it not proving fatal in more than 12 per cent.

He stated that in most of those who recovered the disease had made but little progress, and that it was only at autopsy after death from other causes that its presence was detected, in view of which it was the physician's duty to recommend measures likely to strengthen the resisting power of the lungs. The beneficial influence of a high altitude he considered probably due to the increased distension of the air vessels, and that as a means of prophylaxis the first measure should be to teach the patient to breathe deeply.

Careful physical training, he said, was of the greatest importance, it being possible for the long, narrow, flat chested to increase the expansion of the chest two or three inches, improve the form and increase the circumference. He believed it possible by physical development to check the process of tuberculosis when it had become established in the chest and to promote recovery.—Medical Record.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

No other remedy can present such a record of permanent cures as B. B. B. It not only gives every sufferer prompt relief in such diseases as arise from disorders of the stomach, liver, blood and bowels, but makes cure so lasting that even after ten or twelve years there has been no return of the trouble.

Anxious mothers find Dr. Low's Worm Syrup the best medicine to expel worms. Children like it—worms don't.

NEWS OF THE MARIA THERESA.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Navy Department is without advices concerning the Maria Teresa, but, acting on newspaper statements of her reported stranding on Cat Island, in the Watling group, has sent orders to the Vulcan at Norfolk and the Potomac at Santiago to leave immediately for Cat Island, and if the vessel is found to do everything possible to save her. The expedition will be under command of Capt. McCalla, who commanded the Marblehead in the Spanish war, and is now in charge of the Norfolk navy yard. The Vulcan should reach the scene in 48 hours and the Potomac in less time.

His family reside here, and two sons are military officers—one being an attached officer of the Royal Military College, and the other connected with the Imperial forces. Both sons are graduates of the same institution. Col. Straubenzie was in the Red River expedition of 1870, and later, in 1885, went to the Northwest. For a number of years back he has been a retired, but a most popular, officer. Lieut.-Col. WAIT!

Go not far in the land of light!
A little while by the golden gate,
Lest that I loose you out of sight,
Wait, my darling, wait!

Forever now from your happy eyes
Life's scenic picture has passed away—
You have entered into realities,
And I am yet at the play!

Yet at the play of time—through all,
Thinking of you and your high estate,
A little while, and the curtain will fall—
Wait, my darling, wait!

Mine is a dreary part to do—
A mask of mirth on a mourning brow.
The chance approval, the flower or two,
Are nothing—nothing now!

The last sad act is drawing on.
A little while by the golden gate
Of the holy heaven to which you are gone,
Wait, my darling, wait!

ANNEXATION.

"Laura, Hawaii is annexed!" exclaimed Tom Worthington as he walked briskly into Laura Glenn's dooryard.

It was a fair, brown haired girl who sat on the low bench under the old tree. Tom had looked at her with a thrill of exultation as he came up the path. She had not heard him, and her brown head was bent over a book. She looked up with a smile as he sprang across the grass and approached the bench.

"Hawaii?" she queried doubtfully, smiling because he was smiling.

"Yes," don't you know that Uncle John had a coffee plantation near Honolulu?"

"No," said Laura.

"Of course I remember now that I did not tell you about it, because I had very little idea that it would mean anything to us. You see, mother's brother, my Uncle John, went out to Honolulu over 20 years ago. He did not stay long, but while he was there he befriended some rich native. We never did understand just how it was, but when the man died he left a will by which Uncle John was to inherit a certain tract of land in the Unuanu valley provided there were no direct heirs. Of course we did not think anything of it, because Uncle John used to laugh about his Hawaiian estate and say that there was no danger but that there would be plenty of heirs to keep him out of it.

"However, the interesting part is this, and that is why I am so happy, dear. The land is ours now. Since the United States have annexed the islands the property increases in value and all question about the validity of the title will be settled satisfactorily.

"Do you know what that means, little girl?" And Tom leaned tenderly toward Laura, who sat looking at him with wide open, surprised eyes.

There was a quick gleam in her eyes as she looked into his. Then her head drooped, and a blush mounted to her cheeks.

"Yes, dear," exclaimed Tom, pressing her hand. "It means that you and I can marry very soon. We will not have to work and wait, as we thought. The path is plain before us. Won't you tell me that you are glad?" And he drew her within the circle of his arm.

"It seems too good to be true," sighed the happy girl.

Tom was too happy to remain silent. He was excited and exultant. How much this news from the capital meant to him and Laura could not be estimated at once.

"Tell me about it," whispered Laura.

"You see, we knew several months ago that the last of the Hawaiian heirs was gone—that is, that he is as good as dead. Just think, Laura, he had leprosy and was sent to the leper colony. You see, the estate should have been ours then, but the native agents out there kept the facts away from us. The agitation about the annexation, however, brought all these things to light. The will of Uncle John's friend was plain. If his heirs were not able to inherit, it was to go to Uncle John and his heirs. Mother and I are the heirs, you know. So we come in for a good income, they tell me."

"And we get this blessing because of the curse of leprosy upon those poor people out there?" said Laura in a tender voice.

"Yes, dear," said Tom, sobered suddenly. He looked up into the swaying branches above him. He saw the July flowers nodding in the breeze, and then he looked at Laura, fair queen of his heart. His happiness had been purchased at a dear price indeed. Hideous leprosy had robbed another man of all that was dear to him—home and wife and friends and the enjoyment of the commonest things of life.

"It seems that the old native who was Uncle John's friend had a horror of leprosy," said Tom in explanation of the singular will. "In fact, he had it himself when Uncle John was there, but he kept it a secret. There was a curse upon his family, he often said. He hoped much, however, of this youngest son—the one who has just been taken into the leper colony."

Tom was silent for a few moments and then went on:

"The old fellow explained to Uncle John that if the leprosy carried off his entire family, the property would go to some collateral relative. It was to prevent their obtaining possession that he made the will. He hated them. Their grandmother had cursed his father and his father's children. You know how queer and superstitious those people are. Leprosy has taken the entire family of these cousins, too, so that there is no one but one leper to inherit the property. Now that the United States government is taking hold the title will be cleared up. We will prove our claim, and the income will be paid to us."

"But the poor leper!" exclaimed Laura. "Surely he has a right to the land. Just think how miserable he must be!"

"Well, it is pretty hard," admitted Tom. "You see, he is as good as dead now. In the eyes of the Hawaiians themselves he is dead. No one who goes to the leper colony ever comes back. He will be fed and clothed and that is all the poor wretch can want."

"How old is he?" asked Laura suddenly.

"Let me see," and Tom drew out some papers and turned them over. "Puoa Hunau must be about 24 now."

"Three years younger than you are," said the pitying Laura. Then, turning to her lover, she exclaimed: "Tom, he ought to have some of that money. We have no right to it—that is, of course you and your mother may do as you think best about it, but I can't take any of it. What have I ever done that I should enjoy the result of that poor fellow's misery?"

"What a conscientious little thing it is!" said Tom, caressing her brown hair. "But don't you see, Laura," he continued argumentatively, "the property is ours. It does not belong to any one else. The law gives it to us."

"Yes," replied Laura, still doubtful, "but you said that the annexation altered the state of affairs."

"So it does. There will be no difficulty now about establishing our title, and when that is done—oh, Laura, you and I can be happy together!"

"No, Tom, not at the price of another's unhappiness," said Laura very firmly. "We have no right to that property away out there in the Pacific. It belongs to the islanders. We would be usurpers. I cannot do it, Tom. You mustn't ask me."

"Not ask you to share what is mine with me!" exclaimed Tom. "That plantation is ours because it does not belong to any one else. According to Hawaiian custom, lepers have no legal rights. It is impossible for them to have, shut up in that colony as they are. Besides in the clause of the will there is a paragraph which mentions the conditions under which Uncle John was to inherit it. In case of death or leprosy removing his heirs the old fellow left the plantation to Uncle John. I told you that he had a dread of leprosy. That is why he put that clause in the will. He did not want the property to be enjoyed by a native. He wanted Uncle John to have it."

"Granting all that," returned Laura, "you cannot get around the fact that if it had not been for the leprosy we should not have got the property. The rightful owner is that poor fellow on the plague stricken island. I think the income should be used in making him comfortable for the rest of his unhappy life. That plantation is an inheritance from his ancestors. We would be interlopers."

"Trust a woman to have all the scruples in the world!" exclaimed Tom in disgust. "Can't you be reasonable for one minute, Laura? The property is there. It must be used by somebody. If it does not belong to us, it will be confiscated by some one with no right to it, while we have a right there. Haven't I been explaining and explaining that the old native wanted Uncle John to have it in case his own heirs had leprosy? I can't make it plainer. I wish you would be reasonable."

"I can't be reasonable enough to do what I think is wrong," said Laura, with great firmness and dignity. "I do not say anything about your taking the property. I do say, however, that I will have nothing to do with it."

"Well, Laura, that means that you will have nothing to do with me," said Tom in a voice as hard as her own. He could be quite as dignified as she.

"That is what it means," assented Laura coldly.

"Oh, very well," said Tom. Rising, he strode toward the gate. He turned as he opened the gate, lifted his hat and said:

"Good morning, Miss Glenn."

The annexation of Hawaii had precipitated a lover's quarrel. Tom walked down the street, viciously biting his mustache and swearing under his breath. He anathematized women's consciences, scruples and unreasonableness. This was a pretty mess, to be sure, and he thought his troubles were over.

Laura went up stairs and wept until she had a bad headache. Her eyes were so red and swollen that she had to keep away from the family. On the whole, Tom and Laura were miserable enough on that warm July day, not so many weeks ago.

Tom's face was set in hard lines all that afternoon. He was very angry with Laura, and the whole world seemed to be wrong.

When he went home that evening, he told his mother that Laura thought the poor leper ought to have the money. He would not tell her that they had quarreled, but he allowed himself to show his impatience with his sweetheart's scruples.

"Laura is right," said his mother. "A part of the money at least ought to be spent in providing comforts for that poor fellow. I am glad the woman who will be my son's wife has shown the right spirit."

Tom was silent. He had not thought much about Puoa Hunau before. The fact that his financial difficulties were to be removed from his path was all that had interested him. Now he saw the bitterness of the poor native's lot. To face a slow death on the hateful leper island was a hard fate indeed. But what could he do?

Suddenly he sprang to his feet. See Laura he must.

"Mother," he exclaimed, "I am going to ask Laura to marry me right away. Then we can go out to Honolulu right away, look after the plantation and see what can be done for poor Puoa."

Catching up his hat, he almost ran from the house in his eagerness. Fifteen minutes later he was standing at the Glenn front door asking breathlessly for Laura.

"Laura is up stairs with a headache," said the small brother who had opened the door.

Tom drew a card from his pocket and wrote: "Won't you see me for a few minutes, dear? I want you to tell me how to help Puoa."

When Laura came down—and she made haste to obey her lover's summons—she found Tom sitting on the bench under the old tree which had so often shaded them. It was here that they had quarreled that morning. As Laura approached, her white dress gleaming in the moonlight, Tom went to meet her. Taking her into his arms impulsively, he said:

"Laura, you are the best woman in the world. I am not half good enough for you."

"Why, Tom!" said Laura in surprise.

Tom's only reply was a kiss. Releasing her and holding her away from him so that he could see her face, he asked anxiously:

"Won't you go out to Honolulu with me and help me to do what is right for that poor leper? We will divide with him."

Laura's face brightened, but she was too astonished to speak.

"We must go at once," said this imperious lover. Then he spoke timidly: "You will marry me next week, won't you, Laura? We can sail from San Francisco on the next boat."

He waited for the answer.

"Oh, Tom!" said Laura at last, and there was consent in her voice.—Exchange.

Test the KIDNEYS

They are the Great Feeders of our Bodies

The Purity of the Blood is Dependent on their Cleansing Powers

There's a time to all, old and young, man or woman, when poor health brings trouble, anxiety, and burdens hard to stand up under, and one's efforts to rid himself or herself seem only to be baffled at every turn, and we are prone to grow discouraged.

That is not the time to give up—but the time for action, the time to seek out the seat of the trouble, and act as your best judgment and the experience of others will help you, guarding against mistakes in the treatment adopted for your particular ailment.

MR. GEORGE BENNER,
WIARTON, ONTARIO, says:—

As a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the Kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS are the only Combined Kidney and Liver Pill—

What they have Accomplished is but a guarantee of what they will do . . . . .

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

MAKE BRIGHT EYES, ROSY CHEEKS AND GIVE PERFECT HEALTH.

Any Girl Can Tell.

A physician who makes the test, and who is honest about the matter, can tell you that in many cases, the number of red corpuscles in the blood is doubled after a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. That this means good blood may not be entirely clear from the doctor's statement, but any girl who has tried the pills can tell you that it means red lips, rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a good appetite, absence of headache, and that it transforms the pale and sallow girl into a maiden who glows with the beauty that health alone can give.

Mothers whose daughters grow debilitated as they pass from girlhood into womanhood should not neglect the pill which is adapted for this particular ill.

See that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is on every package you buy. If in doubt, send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed post paid at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50.

SLOWLY WASTING AWAY

Mrs. Geo Annis, who resides near Orillia, Ont., says:—"I thought at one time we were going to lose our eldest daughter. She was run down, weak, and had no ambition. She did not suffer pain, but appeared to be slowly wasting away. She was under treatment from two doctors, but neither seemed to benefit her, and for nearly two years this condition of affairs went on. Having seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills highly recommended, we decided to try them. Two months' treatment worked wonders. She gained so much strength that she is now able to do any work about the house, and her cheeks, once so pallid, now present a rosy glow of health. I gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to mothers whose daughters may be feeble."

PALE AND EASILY TIRED

Miss Minnie V. McNeil, St. Peters N. B., says:—"It gives me much pleasure to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sincerely believe but for their use I would be in my grave. My health was completely broken down. The least work or exertion would fatigue me, and I was subject to headache and palpitation of the heart. I was very pale and my appetite was poor. I had heard so many good words spoken of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I determined to gave them a trial, and after using four boxes I began to feel as well as ever I had been. In recommending them to others I feel that I am doing a service to our common humanity."

WEAK AND LOST FLESH.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reep live in the township of Caradac, Middlesex Co., Ont., and their home has been the scene of one of those remarkable cures which follow the fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Reep says:—"My daughter Dora, became weak and gradually lost flesh until she was merely a living skeleton. She was so weak that she could not walk across a room without the most serious effort and her heart would beat so rapidly and violently that we feared she would die. After trying a number of medicines without benefit, we gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and five boxes completely restored her health, and I can assure you we are grateful for what your medicine has done for her. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood by supplying it with the elements which enrich it and strengthen the nerves. In this way they cure all diseases having their origin in poor and watery blood.

CROSS BREEDING POULTRY.

Much Naturally Depends Upon What the Market Requires.

If your market calls for yellow poultry, you must not select stock that does not produce chickens having yellow skin and legs. The pin feathers of the dark plumaged birds are also objectionable. Some dark breeds when mated with white breeds produce white or very light chickens. White and buff fowls are to be preferred. If you are to raise brown eggs, you must not keep pure breeds of the nonsitting varieties. You may cross them with the breeds that lay brown eggs and get excellent stock that produce brown eggs. If you are to keep your stock pure, you have from which to choose White and Buff Wyandottes and White Plymouth Rocks, which have no feathers on their legs, and Light Brahmas and Buff Cochins, which do have feathers on their legs. They also make excellent yellow poultry. If you cross for brown eggs, mate White Leghorns or Buff Cochins rather than with Wyandottes or Plymouth Rocks, as the results will be better.

If you cross for flesh production, mate compact, yellow legged games, white or light colored birds preferred, with any of the foregoing, or stocky Wyandottes or Plymouth Rocks with the Light Brahmas or Buff Cochins. Both Cornish and Indian games, which are slow growers, and Houdans, which are quick growers, have full flesh development, but dark plumage, and may be mated with Light Brahmas and Buff Cochins and Wyandottes with good results.

The best pure breds for white eggs where yellow poultry is a consideration are White Leghorns (large strain) and White Plymouth Rocks (white egg strain). If you cross for white eggs, try the White Minorca-White Leghorn cross.

When dark legs and white skin are not objected to, keep Black Minorcas for large, white eggs, and Black Langshans, which are hardy, for deep brown eggs. A Black Minorca-Langshan cross is probably the best cross for egg production if size and number of eggs and hardiness only are considered. Houdans are for flesh. Indian games and Dorking cocks may be crossed on Langshans with good results if your market does not require yellow poultry.—Samuel Cushman.

Chicken Cholera.

So called chicken cholera investigation will often prove is but an extensive development of vermin. The healthy hen is free from vermin. Almost invariably other ailments, except, of course, colds and cases of roup, are mainly due to vermin. The hens that are infested with vermin are so debilitated that they readily succumb to diseases, and are also more apt to get colds and roup than hens not infested. It is during warm weather that eternal vigilance becomes necessary to keep down insect pests that abound where neglect allows them to once get a foothold. Every known device must be utilized during summer to keep the vermin pests of the poultry yard in check. The first and most important consideration will always be cleanliness of the most thorough nature. Wild fowl rarely ever become infested with vermin to any great degree because they are not confined to restricted quarters in large colonies, like domestic fowls. Under conditions such as it is necessary to resort to in keeping domestic fowls the vermin pest takes advantage of every neglect. When the summer season arrives, which is so propitious for the increase of vermin in the poultry yards and houses, extra exertions and all known methods must become the order of the day. Finely pulverized soil kept under cover will afford the fowls a chance to indulge in dust baths—nature's plan for ridding birds of vermin. If some tobacco dust, insect powder and once in awhile powdered sulphur, is added to the dust bath, either will hasten the extermination of the pests.—Boston Cultivator.

Figures Don't Lie.

It doesn't take much knowledge of mathematics to figure out the facts about that dread disease—consumption. Statisticians long ago demonstrated that one-seventh of all the deaths in Christendom each year may be safely attributed to consumption and allied diseases.

There is an almost certain cure and a positive preventive for this fatal disease if taken in time. The story of what it will do is told in the following letter:

"About two and a half years ago, when I was at Flat Lick, Ky.," writes J. W. Jordan, Esq., of Corbin, Whitley Co., Ky., "I was taken with severe pains in the chest, after which I began to spit up blood and was also troubled with night-sweats. I was so short winded that I could hardly walk half a mile at once, and if I got the least bit wearied, I would have an attack of phthisic (asthma) and almost die for about two or three days. I concluded to try Dr. R. V. Pierce, and I related my case to him. He wrote me that I should take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I began using it and used about six bottles. I began to see that it was helping me, so concluded to continue its use. I did so and have improved both in strength and in weight. I have not had the phthisic, nor spit up any blood since last spring."

This great remedy—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—cures 98 per cent. of all laryngial, bronchial, throat and kindred affections which, if neglected lead up to consumption. It strengthens the stomach and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It invigorates the liver and aids the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It makes the assimilation of the food perfect. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. Honest dealers will not urge you to take a substitute said to be "just as good."

Send for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. FREE. Enclose 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a paper-covered copy. Cloth binding 50 stamps. It is a thousand page book with over seven hundred illustrations; formerly sold for $1.50. For limited time can be had for cost of customs and mailing.

Guinea Fowls.

It would be a good plan for all poultry raisers to have a few guinea fowls about their poultry premises. They are hardy, good natured and beautiful. It is well to keep them as tame as possible and always have them around the home, as they make an excellent "watchdog," their shrill cry frightening away hawks and other murderers. The poultryman's greatest enemy in the south is the sparrow hawk, and our neighbors have lost as many as a dozen chickens a day by hawks alone, while we never lost but three chicks from that source, and we believe all credit is due the guineas.

They will live and prove profitable for eight or ten years, and no farm should be so crowded but that it could make room for at least one pair of guineas. They destroy a vast amount of insects and clean the fields of seeds that would otherwise go to waste, costing almost nothing to raise, and no better meat can be found in the poultry line unless it be the turkey.—Poultry Herald.

Sex of the Egg.

By the way, we heard the other day that eggs wrinkled at the narrow ends produce cockerels. To the student of embryology this fallacy is at once apparent. For the first few days the chicken is sexual. From then to about the seventh day it is distinctly hermaphrodite and contains within itself the elements of both sexes. After this stage it diverges in one direction, one set of organs developing and the other diminishing, according to whether the germ is going to produce a male or a female. So that if the germ had a living consciousness it would not know at the sixth day which sex it would ultimately be.—Poultry.

Feeding Bones.

The best way to feed bones is to pound them up into bits small enough for the fowls to swallow. The fresher they are the better. Give the fowls all that they will eat

BOARD OF HEALTH.

At a meeting of the local Board of Health last week the following report was presented by the medical health officer, Dr. Bell. The board also decided to have all children attending the schools vaccinated, as over 80 per cent have not been done. Parents who desire to have it done by the board's health officer, Dr. A. Bell, will send word by their children to the teacher of the room attended by the child, when a date will be set to do all. No charge will be made and the vaccine used will be direct from the Government farm at Palmerston, Ont.

The secretary presented the following report:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Lakefield Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—

This has been an uneventful year from a medical point of view, for the local board and your officers.

In the spring months an epidemic of measles and chicken pox was prevalent in the village and neighbourhood, but of such a mild type that it did not call for any special attention and no death were reported. No other case of contagious diseases occurred.

Two mild cases of typhoid fever reported. No deaths.

Your inspector, Mr. Morrison, put up the usual notices, and made the usual inspection. Only seven were reported unclean, and on his second visit he found all satisfactory, so that the only work he had during the summer was seeing that some animals dead in the corporation were burned or buried.

A greater interest has been taken by our citizens this year in regard to the water supply, as over sixty samples of water has been received by your Medical Health Officer, and where any were found bad, the parties have at once cleaned their wells and again brought a sample for testing, which, if still impure, the well has been closed for the time being and the cause of the impurity if possible traced. The freedom of the village from typhoid fever, while in all the surrounding towns and villages, is no doubt in a great measure due to the care exercised here in regard to the water used for drinking.

Appended will be found the usual report of the deaths in the village for the past year, with the age, cause, etc.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALEX. BELL, M.D.,
Medical Health Officer.

AULTHOUSE GOES TO TRIAL.

Charged With Being Implicated in the Death of Mary M. Rogers.

Bloomfield, Ont., Nov. 10. — The Rogers case was resumed yesterday before D. S. Hubbs, J.P. J. Roland Brown appeared for the Crown, E. M. Young for the prisoner, George Aulthouse.

Gideon Bowerman first gave evidence of seeing the prisoner and deceased girl, Mary M. Rogers, on the train together.

Merrill Jackson's evidence showed that the prisoner was enquiring for medicine for improper purposes.

Dr. Wright of Picton, who conducted the post-mortem, gave evidence of foul play that caused deceased's death.

Some other witnesses were called to show that Aulthouse and deceased were frequently seen together. The Crown offered no more evidence, and there being no defence, after addresses by counsel, the prisoner was sent to jail to stand his trial for manslaughter at the next Assizes.

The prisoner is an intelligent appearing young man of about 24 years of age, the youngest of a large and respectable family, for whom much sympathy is felt. Mary M. Rogers, the victim, was scarcely 15 years of age, and was also well connected.

WILL GO ON AT TORONTO.

The East Lambton Trial Reopens at Osgoode Hall on Monday.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The East Lambton election trial will be continued at Osgoods Hall before Judges Osler and Ferguson at 11 o'clock next Monday. It began at Sarnia on October 1, and after several days' hearing was adjourned indefinitely. The respondent in the case is Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., Liberal. It is understood the first step on the reopening of the trial will be the argument of counsel regarding the case of one or two students who said they had received transportation from Toronto to their Lambton homes to vote on election day. It is possible also that the petitioner may offer more evidence during the sitting.

Sagasta's Government Tottering.

Russia's Hand Shown.

London, Nov. 10.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says:

EUROPE'S SENSATION

Has Been Quickened by Lord Salisbury's Speech.

SPEECH IS CLOSELY SCANNED.

Criticism by French and German Papers —Meanwhile Britain Is Actively Preparing for Emergencies—France Is Likewise Arming and Mobilizing or Bluffing — Emperor William Toasts Moslems.

London, Nov. 11.—Lord Salisbury's speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guild Hall—especially his reference to America—is making a stir throughout Europe. The Paris evening papers yesterday having longer time for reflection, had a much less satisfied tone than the utterances of the morning press in the French capital, while the whole Continent reflects the feeling that the speech conveys a grave menace for the future.

La Liberte of Paris says: "It is a question of an Anglo-American agreement respecting the Philippines against Germany."

The Journal des Debats regards the speech as "an invitation to America to make an alliance against Europe, but doubts whether Americans will willingly "play the role of train-bearers to English politics."

The London morning papers revert to the subject and again take occasion to wish well to America's colonial mission. The Times says editorially:

"No doubt the idea of La Liberte is grotesque, yet it shows a truer appreciation of the spirit of Lord Salisbury's remarks than the singular interpretation put upon them by one correspondent, Mr. Henry Norman, who finds in them the preposterous implication that the English attitude during the war was due to the notion that our interests would be furthered by the United States being plunged into war. Lord Salisbury clearly did not refer to the late war at all. He paid the United States the compliment of holding that their entry into Old World politics is an event of great importance. His further remarks obviously meant that America and England would stand together in a friendship based upon community of aims, sentiments and interests.

"It needs a strangely perverted ingenuity to see a slight to America in a view of this kind enunciated by the statesman who directed English policy throughout the Hispano-American war and the Anglo-American rapprochement it produced. German critics evidently dislike the prospect Lord Salisbury suggested."

The Daily Mail, which deprecates Emperor William's visit to Spain as "most ill-advised and inopportune," says:

"The first article of our national policy is a close friendship with the United States, and it would be better for Germany to act in harmony with Great Britain than to try to irritate America."

The Standard, in its editorial, absolves Lord Salisbury of any intention to sound a note of warning in alluding to America's entry into Old World politics, and welcomes the co operation of the United States with England in "preventing the vast domains of China, should they become derelict, from becoming the preserve of any single European state."

The Daily News says: "Lord Salisbury's remarks were unusually obscure. Perhaps he was alluding to Germany's irritation; in any case Germany cannot contemplate the supreme folly of fighting to exclude America from the Philippines. If she wants to display colonial energy in that direction, Germany is too late.

"America has been deeply and justly incensed at Germany's favor toward Spain; and she certainly will not ask the Kaiser's leave before appropriating the fruits of victory."

IS FRANCE BLUFFING?

30 Reserve Ships Ordered Into Commission—Comment on Salisbury's Speech.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The Matin says that at a council of the admirals held yesterday it was decided to fit out all the French war vessels available, and 30 reserve ships have been ordered into commission.

The newspapers of this city, notably the Gaulois and the Figaro, express satisfaction at the Marquis of Salisbury's speech, delivered at the Guild Hall banquet last night, which they consider as tending towards a peaceful solution of a misunderstanding, and as replacing the Fashoda question on its proper ground.

German Paper Suspicious.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The National Zeitung said yesterday: "Germans regard the American reference in Lord Salisbury's Guild Hall speech as the most significant portion of his remarks. They believe it was the hope of American support that gave him the courage to speak with resolution."

They Want to Know.

London, Nov. 11.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"M. Patenotre and Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the French and British Ambassadors, visited Duke Almodovar de Rio, Minister of Foreign Affairs, to-day (Thursday) to ascertain the motives and details of Emperor William's visit. The Duke replied that nothing had been done officially; that the visit would be incognito and that the authorities would do nothing beyond the usual salutes."

The Emperor and Moslems.

Damascus, Nov. 11.—At a banquet Emperor William assured the Mohammedans of his Imperial friendship and proposed a toast to their health and prosperity.

The Pope to the Czar.

London, Nov. 11.—The Central News' Rome despatch says the Pope has telegraphed to the Czar, confirming the rights of France as the protector of the Catholics in the East. His Holiness adds, however, that he would very much regret to be responsible for any painful events which might compromise that peace of which the Czar is the principal exponent.

Beresford at Niu Chwang.

London, Nov. 11.—A despatch to the Times from Niu Chwang says that Lord Beresford, who is visiting China in the interests of the British Associated Chambers of Commerce, arrived at that place on Nov. 4. He is deeply impressed by the importance of Niu Chwang and the necessity for maintaining the open door.

He was struck by the facts that there is no Russian trade with Niu Chwang, but that there is great Russian railway building activity. He is also struck by the fact of Russian military domination, armed Cossacks being in a treaty port and Cossacks patrolling the railroad and guarding the military posts along the line throughout Manchuria.

EMPRESS ELIZABETH'S ASSASSIN.

Lucheni, Who Killed Her Majesty, Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 11.—The Italian Anarchist, Luigi Lucheni, who stabbed and killed Empress Elizabeth of Austria on Sept. 10 last in this city, was placed on trial here yesterday.

The court was crowded and the prisoner was strongly guarded, but there was no excitement. The result of the trial was regarded as certain. Lucheni bowed politely to the court and the public and answered the preliminary questions through an interpreter in a clear, strong voice.

The public prosecutor, in reciting the circumstances of the crime, said there was no clear evidence that Lucheni had accomplices, except in the fact of the prisoner's own silence on certain points, which, as he in his declaration had not spared himself, could only be intended to shield accomplices.

The evidence of an electrician, a boatman and a cabman, who assisted in Lucheni's capture, was then taken.

Lucheni was sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for life.

Esterhazy Papers Seized.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The Figaro says that at the instance of the Court of Cassation, another seizure of papers has been made in the house of a person who had relations with Major Esterhazy, and many letters belonging to Esterhazy have been handed to the court.

Terrible Flood in China.

London, Nov. 11.—A despatch from the Baptist mission in the Province of Shan Tung, China, announces that a flood of the Hoang Ho, in that province, has destroyed hundreds of villages, and threatens a million people with famine.

There's Something in This.

Moscow, Nov. 11.—The Sultan's extraordinary ambassador, Turkhua Pasha, has gone to Livadia, bearing gifts and a letter from the Sultan to Emperor Nicholas.

"It has been decided to bring Dreyfus back to Paris."

LONDON CAR STRIKE.

An Agreement Reached—Old Hands Will Again Run the Cars.

London, Ont., Nov. 11.—The proposition made by Mayor Wilson that the Street Railway strike be settled by a compromise at 15 1-8 cents per hour, has been accepted by the local officers of the company, subject, however, to confirmation by President Everett.

It is not expected that he will oppose the settlement on this basis, and the cars will probably be started out early this forenoon with the old employes in charge.

WEST YORK ELECTION

The Wright Series of Charges Thrown Out.

WALTER J. IS DISCREDITED.

A Careless and Reckless Witness According to Their Lordships—They Decide That He Was Not an Agent of Mr. Hill—Some Strong Evidence for the Respondent.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The first half hour of yesterday morning's sitting in the West York election trial was taken up with the delivery of judgment on the charges in which Wright was concerned. Their Lordships held that in regard to the half cord of wood, bribery could not be proved, as it was known to the agents of the party, and to Mr. Hill himself, that Neilson did not have a vote at the time the wood was sent. It was therefore an act of charity. There was no doubt that the groceries had been given Redmond to influence his vote, and they found that in that Wright was guilty of a corrupt act. Regarding Wright's claim to agency, they held that as far as it referred to the time before the election there was no evidence except his own to show that he was an authorized agent of the respondent.

Wright's evidence was careless, not to say reckless. When confronted with conflicting statemen's in the box he acknowledged that one of them was a falsehood. It was evident that he had hard feeling against Mr. Pearen, and was giving his testimony to unseat Mr. Hill to injure Mr. Pearen if possible. He admitted having committed an illegal act, and of working up evidence to prove that he had done so. Regarding his taking a position of outside scrutineer, their Lordships said Pearen's evidence, although not discreditable to the same extent as that of Mr. Wright, was not entirely satisfactory. Pearen had originally intended to act as outside scrutineer himself, but was obliged to go away early in the day, and did not return. It was quite natural for him to ask Wright. They held, therefore, that Wright had no authority to act as agent for the respondent until taking the position at the polling place, and the respondent could not therefore be held responsible for any corrupt act of his previous to that date.

The destruction of the correspondence by Messrs. Irwin and Hartman their Lordships characterized as foolish, and ill-advised, if not dishonest. They were obliged to find this because of their finding on the evidence. They therefore dismissed the charges, but held Wright guilty of a corrupt practice in furnishing groceries to Redmond.

The Orr charges were then resumed, and Mr. Nesbitt informed the court that he would not press for conviction in the charges in which Messrs. Gibson and Waites were concerned, as he considered Mr. Gibson's evidence very unsatisfactory. He intended to press for conviction in the charges in which Messrs. William Maxwell, James Cochrane, and Marshall Wellington Clark were supposed to have been offered positions. He had examined all the witnesses he intended to call for the petitioner.

Mr. Joseph Orr was called. He swore that he had never attended a committee meeting, and had never been asked to work for Mr. Hill. He gave a flat denial to the evidence of the Crown witnesses, but became tangled when Mr. Nesbitt questioned him as to who was running the division in which he resided. He said at first that Mr. Burgess was running it, but desired to take back the statement.

William Burgess swore as to the committee meetings at his house, but he had never invited Orr to attend, nor did he attend, nor was he ever asked to work for Hill, nor did he, as a matter of fact, work, to the witness' knowledge

Mr. Irwin's evidence, which followed, also went to show that Orr was not a regular canvasser of the party. He outlined the method of the campaign, which precluded men like Orr from taking an active part in it.

Mr. Hill, the respondent, also told what he knew of Orr. Orr, being well acquainted with the country, had driven him out to valuate a farm once. He had made no political calls that day. They stopped to get warm at a couple of hotels, but with no political end in view. He could not remember particularly having met Orr very often. He had never asked Orr to work for him to his knowledge. He considered Esobicoke poorly canvassed.

The court adjourned at 4.45.

CIRCULAR SAW AGAIN.

The Father of Dr. Hillier of Leamington Instantly Killed in a Sawmill.

Chatham, Ont., Nov. 11.—While engaged in a sawmill in the Township of Dawn yesterday, Mr. Hillier, father of Dr. Hillier, a well-known practitioner of Leamington, was instantly killed. The deceased was in the mill when, by some unknown means, a board fell across the rapidly revolving circular saw. The board was hurled with terrific force across the mill, striking Mr. Hillier in the face, killing him instantly. The blow fractured the jaw and skull and literally tore away the whole of one side of the face. The remains were taken to Woodslee, Essex County.

Was McDonald Drowned?

Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 11.—Search was being made in the Cornwall Canal yesterday for the body of John A. A. McDonald of St. Andrews, who was supposed to have been drowned here on Monday night. A splash and a cry were heard near the swing bridge, but no one was seen in the water. McDonald, who is said to have been drinking heavily during the day, has not since been seen, and it is now supposed that he was drowned. He was about 60 years of age.

Beet Sugar of Europe.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Consul Britain has made a report to the State Department in regard to the beet sugar cultivation of Europe, from which it appears that the total estimate of the crop for the present season will fall $75,000 tons short of the production of raw sugar for last season. Holland is the only country in which an increase is shown.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. CHRISTIAN UNITY.

The subject of Christian Unity is engrossing the attention of a continually growing body of the community, and the importance of the question is thus set forth in the following manifesto of the Canadian Society of ChristianUnity: Whereas, but few years ago the idea appeared to the mass of men a mere dream, the realization of which was impossible, it is now recognized to be of practical interest. In England and the United States there are several societies for the promotion of Christian Unity, but as far as we are aware, there is none in Canada, and it has occurred to persons represented by the undersigned committee that by the formation of a Canadian Society, those who are interested in this great subject may, no matter to what Christian communion they belong, meet together for mutual prayer, for combined study, and for the consideration of the ways by which the subject could be brought more prominently and systematically before the people. For this reason a society has been formed for the purpose of bringing the subject of Christian Unity before the public in any way that may be deemed practicable. Further by the co-operation of members of various communions for the special object of united prayer and consultation, we believe that mutual prejudices might be abolished and mutual ignorance dispelled, whilst the unity of the Spirit would be promoted, leading under the Providence of God to a larger measure of the realization of our Saviour's last prayer, that His followers might be one, that the world might believe that He was sent from God. The following members of the provisional committee show how general is its composition from the denominational standpoint:—S. D. Chown, Wesley Methodist Church Toronto; W. Frizzell, Queen Street East Presbyterian Church, Toronto; J. P. Gerrie, Broadview Avenue Congregational Church, Toronto; G. Grant, Queen's University, Kingston; J. Hamilton, Mimico; W. H. In our political contests in Ontario zealous politicians may fill the electors full of whiskey, but we haven't risen to the high level attained on the United States side of the line, where politicians fill the electors full of lead. In one State alone half a dozen shooting affrays marked the voting on Tuesday last. We have a good deal to learn yet from our American cousins in the way of vigourous campaigning.

THE Woodstock Sentinel Review has set a bold face to new opposition and has resolved to carry the war into Africa. It has put in a perfecting press and reduced the price of its daily issue to one cent. This is a bold move and while under normal conditions in a town of Woodstock's size, unnecessary to be contemplated, it will doubtless, if possible, be carried under the energetic management that characterizes the Sentinel-Review.

Great things are expected of the new Governor of New York, Hon. Theodore Roosevelt. He is expected to justify his title. The people of Buffalo expect that the Governor-General's party will visit the Pan-American Exposition. The issue of the electoral votes are limited as the representative Col. Roosevelt, will be governor Public Commissioner of New York.

attended, on invitation, a bout at the old Broadway Athletic Club, in which Peter Maher and Choynski were the principals. The fight was a fast and furious affair, and Maher finally put Choynski clean out with a punch on the jaw. Col. Roosevelt applauded the combat, and declared that he saw nothing brutal or degrading in the bout, and was satisfied that a well trained man had nothing to fear from blows of the character which knocked out Choynski. "Indeed," said he, "I have often been knocked out harder than that myself at polo." In regard to raising the standard of public morality, one fails to see much advantage in replacing the Tammany Tiger by the Roosevelt Slugger.

ABANDONED AT SEA.

The SS. Westmeath With a Cargo Worth $400,000 Crew of the Vessel on the Montevidean.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—The SS. Westmeath has been abandoned at sea. This was the intelligence signalled from an Allan Line steamship, the Montevidean, as she passed Capt. Magdalen, inwards, yesterday morning, herself several days overdue. The vessel and cargo were valued at $800,000, evenly divided. Captain J. Johnson was her commander, and her crew, including three officers and four engineers, are said to number about 40. She sailed from Hamburg on Oct. 13 and from Antwerp, direct for Montreal, on the 22nd. For some time past anxious enquirers have presented themselves at the counter of the Hamburg-American Packet Company to learn if any news of her had been received. The company, while admitting that she was considerably overdue, did not think that there was any cause for anxiety.

The Westmeath carried a very large cargo, her consignees numbering 314. It was composed principally of sugar and cement, there being 3,400 tons of the former for the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery and 17,000 barrels of the latter for different Montreal dealers. Besides this there were five or six hundred tons of liquor on board, and some few hundred tons of fine goods, the total amounting up to about 10,000 tons.

The Westmeath was one of the finest freight vessels ever seen in the port of Montreal, and, like the ill-fated Arabia of the same line, which came so near being totally destroyed about a year ago, she has the honor of having carried one of the largest cargoes ever taken from the port of Montreal. She was a fine steel screw boat, having been built as late as 1895 by Swan & Hunter of Newcastle. Her dimensions were 450 feet long by 50 beam, 31 feet deep amidships. Her dead weight capacity was about 10,500 tons, and she steamed at a speed of about ten knots. She was owned by R. M. Hodson of Sunderland, from whom the Hamburg-American Packet Co. had her on a time charter.

It is said that the General Marine Insurance would be the heaviest loser on the cargo, as the sugar, valued at about $200,000, had been placed with that company. The other losers would be the Boston Insurance Company, the British & Foreign Marine Insurance Company, the Indemnity Insurance Company, Mannheim Insurance Company and the Western. The hull is said to have been insured with the North of England Clubs and Mutual Companies.

THE COMMISSION.

The International, Late Quebec, Arbitrators Meet in Washington and Decide Upon a Programme of Work.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The Anglo-American Joint High Commission began its session here yesterday, having adjourned its early sessions at Quebec to meet at Washington after the elections. Lord Herschell former Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir James S. Winters and Mr. John Charlton, M.P., are present, representing Great Britain and Canada. The American members of the commission present are Senators Fairbanks of Indiana, and Faulkner of West Virginia, Representative Dingley of Maine, Ex-Secretary of State John W. Sherman, and Mr. John A. Kasson. The absentees yesterday were Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies, who are detained at Quebec to do honor to Lord Minto, the new Governor-General of Canada, and Mr. T. J. Coolidge of Massachusetts.

The preliminary gathering yesterday was in the diplomatic room of the State Department, where, after an exchange of greetings, the commission was welcomed by Secretary Hay, who accompanied the members to the White House, where they were presented to the President. The business session followed at the commission's commodious quarters, which comprise a floor of the Arlington Hotel annex. The meeting was mainly for the purpose of adopting a general plan of business to be followed here. The early meetings at Quebec permitted a considerable advance on the various questions under consideration, although it is stated positively that no conclusion has been reached on any one subject or set of subjects. The principal topics are fixed by a protocol and comprise: Behring Sea seal fisheries, Atlantic and Pacific Coast fisheries, Alaska-Canadian boundary, transportation of merchandise in bond across the border, alien labor laws of the United States and Canada, mining rights in the Klondike and other points; reciprocity and tariff arrangements, naval vessels on the great lakes, new marking of the frontier line by land and water, extradition of criminals, mutual wrecking and salvage arrangements. There are some subordinate questions growing out of these, but the foregoing cover all the main topics.

Besides these actual topics of discussion, considerable significance had been attached to the work of the commission because of the expression it gave to friendly sentiments developed between Great Britain and the United States. This was given marked prominence during the session of the commission at Quebec, but has found no official expression. The commission has nothing to do with an Anglo-American peace treaty and the commissioners wish the misapprehension on that point to be cleared up. Their sole duties are along the line of actual differences already specified, but there is an underlying sentiment that the settlement of these will go far towards placing the relations of Canada and the United States on a stable and amicable basis.

A HAMILTON CASE.

How Mr. Joseph Rickards Won His Freedom.

Bright's Disease Held Him in a Deadly Grip Which Nothing Could Loosen Till he Used Dodd's Kidney Pills —They Cured Him.

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—The Ambitious City is never behind her rival, Toronto, in any enterprise, commercial or otherwise, and recently, would seem to have made fair progress towards outstripping her neighbour in one respect, viz., the number of cures of Kidney Diseases effected here by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hardly a day passes without recording a cure by means of this famous and wonderful medicine.

Interest just now is centred in the case of Mr. Joseph Rickards, of 184 Emerald street. Hundreds of Hamiltonians know that Mr. Rickards suffered for more than six years, with that terrible complaint, Bright's Disease. Hundreds know also that he engaged the best medical assistance he could secure, but without receiving either cure or relief.

Mr. Rickards is now hale and hearty, healthy and happy, and his deliverance is due entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Writing of his case, he says: "I used many remedies that were advertised to cure Bright's Disease, but none of them gave me even temporary relief. I cannot describe the severity of my sufferings. They were terrible.

"I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I am thankful I took that advice. I used only four boxes, but they drove every vestige of Bright's Disease from my system and made a man of me."

A statement like this cannot be lightly passed by. It carries a message of hope and freedom from disease, of health and happiness, to every sufferer in Canada. Dodd's Kidney Pills should be in every home in the land. Kidney Diseases can not exist where Dodd's Kidney Pills are used.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

Dear Sir,—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 6th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,504 00
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	106 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This represents the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

INSANE MOTHER'S DEED.

Prepared Her Baby for the Oven and Was About to Cook the Infant When Her Husband Came.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Word has been received from Holland Landing, Ont., of the narrow escape from death of the infant child of William and Sarah Green, of that place. Green and his wife live in a frame house on one of the side streets of the place. Green being a carpenter by trade. He is in the habit of going down into Newmarket every Saturday for supplies and generally returns late at night. On Saturday last he got home at 5 o'clock and it is due to this fact only that the babe was not murdered by the mother. She had taken the child, trussed it up like a fowl with strings, put it in a large dish, given it a liberal coating of pepper and salt, and was in the act of putting the dish in the oven, heated by a roaring fire, when Green opened the door and entered the house. He snatched the baby away, cut the strings and then ran into a neighbor's house, where the baby was taken care of. He then procured a rig and drove Mrs. Green into Newmarket, where she was examined by medical men, who declared that she was hopelessly insane and should have been in the asylum two years ago.

BREACH OF LORD'S DAY ACT.

Foreman of Old G.T.R. Elevator at Midland Found Guilty.

Midland, Nov. 11.—Robert Reid, foreman of the old G.T.R. elevator of Midland, and Joseph Bourne, shoveller of the same elevator, were yesterday tried before J. B. Horrell, Adolphus Jackall and Samuel Fraser, Justices of the Peace, for a breach of Sec. 1 of the Lord's Day Act. Reid and Bourne were engaged in unloading the steam barge S.S. Curry, which arrived here on Saturday, the 5th inst., with 17,000 bushels of corn from Chicago. David McCoy, the first witness, swore that on Sunday, the 6th inst., he saw Reid acting as foreman at the old elevator, which was unloading from the Curry. D. W. Ackerman also gave evidence to the same effect.

Mr. F. J. McCallum, G.T.R. agent here, swore that on Saturday he had advices of the steamer Algonquin's arrival on Monday, with about 80,000 bushels of grain, and the Iosco, with about 110,000 bushels, expected to arrive on Tuesday morning, and that owing to an accident at the new elevator, they expected they would have to handle the cargoes at the old elevator, as the vessels were expected in on Monday or Tuesday. He also swore that the Curry contained some wet grain, which is very dangerous, because it spreads and destroys the cargo, and also as the season of navigation was almost over, it was considered necessary to work on Sunday to meet the traffic.

On behalf of defendants it was urged that the prosecution ought to have been against the company, and not the individuals, and that, in any event, the defendant was not within the prohibition of this section of the Act, and that the Act did not apply to the G.T.R. Company, which is a Dominion corporation.

The prosecution argued that it was not a work of necessity, and was done simply to expedite traffic, and for the purpose of making money.

The court decided that a conviction should be made against the foreman, Reid, of $5 and costs. The other case was withdrawn. The Grand Trunk intend to appeal to the High Court of Justice at Toronto to test the matter.

The Two Simcoes.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Justices Falconbridge and Street yesterday morning at Osgoode carried into effect an arrangement which practically amounts to a saw-off between East and the Centre Simcoe election cases. The Conservatives called off their dog in the East riding and the Liberals reciprocated by transferring their case to Toronto, where it was enlarged and will be dismissed on the 26th inst. Messrs. Andrew Miscampbell and A. B. Thompson are the two members benefited by the plan.

Something of a hitch occurred yesterday when the court opened, by Mr. A. F. Hunter, the Liberal petitioner, demanding that the case be proceeded with, as he had never consented to its removal to Toronto. An arrangement was effected, however, by which the matter will be tided over till the 26th.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not be Alarmed, but Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor indigestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, and irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of the tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents.

Wheat Went Down Sharply Owing to the Speech of Lord Salisbury—The Latest Quotations.

Thursday Evening, Nov. 10.

Lord Salisbury's pacific utterances at the Lord Mayor's banquet in London last night dispelled the fears of war, and hence, no doubt, most of to-day's weakness in the wheat markets. Liverpool futures opened heavy and closed quiet at ¼d per cental below yesterday's final figures. Paris wheat closed 5 to 10 centimes higher than yesterday, with flour up 5 centimes.

Chicago followed Liverpool's lead, declined a full cent a bushel, and closed at the bottom figure.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 40 calves and 1400 sheep an dlambs offered for sale at the East End abattoir to-day. The weather was rather wintry, and though the butchers came out strong they seemed in no hurry to buy, and business was rather dull, the prices of pretty good cattle being lower. The best cattle sold at 4½c per lb., pretty good stock at from 3c to 3½c per lb.; common dry cows and thrifty young stock at from 2½c to 2¾c, and the thinner beasts and Buffalo bulls at about 2c per lb.

About 800 small bulls were bought for the Buffalo market at an average of rather less than 2c per lb. Calves sold at from $2.50 to $11 each, or from 3c to 4½c per lb. Shippers were paying from 4c to 4¼c per lb. for good large sheep. The others sold at from 2½c to 3c per lb. Lambs sold at from 3¼c to 4¼c per lb. Fat hogs sold at about 4¼c per lb., just off the cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 10.—Cattle—There was no change in the market, the continuous rains for the last few days have checked the consumptive demand for meats and the inquiry for cattle has been light. Calves were in light supply, good demand and sold steady with yesterday's close. Choice to extra veals were quotable $7.50 to $8; good to choice, $7 to $7.50; heavy fed steer calves, $4 to $5; common, $3 to $4.

Sheep and Lambs—The total offerings were about 18 loads, of which three loads were left over, and 12 loads of Canada lambs. The bulk of the offerings arrived wet and were not in good condition to sell, and with a light demand prices were somewhat easier to a shade lower on lambs and about steady on sheep. Lambs, choice to extra, were quotable $5.15 to $5.30; good to choice, $5 to $5.15; common to fair, $4.50 to $5; sheep, choice to extra, $4.35 to $4.40; good to choice, $4 to $4.25; common to fair, $3 to $3.85. Most of the Canada lambs arrived late and sales were on the basis of $5.25 for good lambs. The general close was dull.

REPUBLICAN CLAIMS.

Chairman Babcock of That Committee Says They Will Have 20 Majority in the House of Representatives.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 11.—Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee, in his latest estimate of the standing of the parties in the next House of Representatives, states that a Republican majority of at least 20 is now assured. Mr. Babcock says that the public hardly realize the full extent of the Republican victory on Tuesday. Even more important, he says, than the fact that the next House will be Republican, is the sweeping change in the Senate, where the fruits of Tuesday's election will give the Republicans 18 majority. "That majority cannot possibly be overcome for eight years," said Mr. Babcock, "and for at least that period the business interests of the country are safe. Republican policies must prevail for that length of time. Even if the House and the next President should be for free silver, the Republican Senate would block their path. Besides, the majority in the Senate will give us a clean working majority there for the enactment of our policies, without the embarrassment that comes from narrow and unstable majorities. There need be no deals with the kickers. We will have a Republican majority sufficient to work with freely. What we do can be done with the knowledge that our legislation will have ample time to vindicate itself before a hostile Senate can be elected to upset it."

Facts About Clothing.

There has been so much juggling with quality that the public has learned to look with suspicion upon all clothing that is not backed by good reputation. Grafton clothing has been good clothing for over a quarter of a century. It is good to-day. It is all that the best tailors, best cloths, best linings and best manufacturing methods can make it. When it comes to cheapness remember that that which is best is cheapest. Grafton & Co's, clothing is the cheapest.

Respect the Ladies.

"A women can't pick out a good cigar."
"So much the better for a woman; but she has a keen scent for a bad one."

Married or single, few women object to the odor of a good cigar. Why, then, will men smoke rank, vile cigars? It is injurious to themselves and an annoyance to all with whom they come in contact. The elegant lines of imported Havanas kept on sale by C. LeGros cannot offend the most sensitive tastes. Men who are at all particular what they smoke, are advised to to look for the "blue label," which always accompanies first-class brands, such as LeGros keeps.

Contemptible Work.

The Tweed News says: "One of the meanest, most cowardly and most despicable crimes ever committed in this or any other community is that now going on in parts of Hungerford and Elzevir townships. There may be a certain kind of respect for the courage of a man who will blow a bank safe up or hold up a railway train, but there is none whatever for the coward who will creep through the long grass in the darkness of the night and slay the cattle, merely for the pecuniary benefit he can get from the sale of the hides, leaving the carcasses of the animals in the open fields. There is no punishment too severe for such despicable cowards, and there should be no delay in reporting the matter to the Attorney-General with a request to have him send a shrewd detective here and hunt down the criminals. If such conduct is allowed to go unpunished it will be but a short time before even the owners of the cattle may be slaughtered on the public highways."

What Kingston Says.

Read what the Kingston Whig says of "A Trip to Coon Town," which appeared there on Wednesday night: Every seat in the Grand Opera House was occupied last night, and many people were compelled to be content with standing room, the attraction being the re-appearance of Cole and Johnson's company in their play, "A Trip to Coon Town." From beginning to end the performance was provocative of irrepressible mirth—indeed the only complaint heard was that scarcely an interval of rest was allowed between the sessions of unbounded hilarity. Withal, the entertainment was devoid of rough horseplay and inane clown-talk, being rather of the nature of refined comedy, and therefore agreeable to lovers of true art, who occasionally relish a thorough diversion. The scenery and the stage effects were all of a superior order, the management of colours and lighting being especially noteworthy. Where all were so good, it were idle to particularize in reference to the many characters. This company appears at Bradburn's opera house to-morrow night. Prices 25, 35 and 50c, with a few seats at 75c.

MR. R. J. FIFE IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

Of the Peterborough Hockey Club Last Evening.

SATISFACTORY ANNUAL REPORTS.

The Club's Most Successful Year, Financially, Since its Inception—Re-organized for the Season's Play.

The Hockey Club was re-organized last evening at a largely attended meeting held in the rink parlours.

President R. J. Fife occupied the chair and, after the reading of the minutes, called upon the secretary, Mr. W. A. Buchanan, for his annual report, which was read as appended:—

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. President and Gentlemen:

In presenting my report as secretary, I am pleased to be able to say that while the teams which competed under our auspices for championship honours—senior and junior—did not meet with the success aimed at, that is, landing at least one of the banners, yet the season was the most successful in the club's history.

The finances of the club were never in better condition at the end of the season, as the treasurer's report will show.

Mr. Kennar, Mr King and myself represented the annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association in Toronto last December, entering the teams in the junior and senior series. At this meeting your delegates also strongly favoured the anti-professionalism resolutions, which were adopted.

Our candidate for a position on the O.H.A. Executive, Mr. Lionel King, was elected on the second ballot. He proved himself to be a useful and energetic member of the Executive, and carefully watched after the interests of the Peterborough club as well as the other clubs in this district. Mr. King, I understand, is again a candidate for the O.H.A. Executive, and a resolution pledging our support is in order.

The season's matches with the exception of two, were all champion events. The exhibition games were with Belleville and Winnipeg, the visit of the latter team being the event of the season. The Winnipegers were handsomely entertained while in town.

In the junior O.H.A. series we won the first round from the T.A.C. team by 2½ goals to 1½; the second round was lost to Osgoode Hall by 10 to 16. The Juniors won their first round but lost the second to the Frontenacs of Kingston. Altogether during the season the Seniors scored 59 goals to 47 against. The Juniors scored 29 to 24 against.

The club has to thank Mr. Angus McIntosh for his many kindnesses to the officers and members during the winter, and as a slight token of the appreciation in which he is held by us we presented him with a group photo of the club.

One fact I would like to mention in connection with the officers of the club, and that is that they did not look upon their position as an honorary one. They attended the meetings of the executive when called and took an active interest in the club's welfare.

The Peterborough Hockey Club by the removal of Mr. W. J. Montgomery, sustained a severe loss. He was the father of the game in Peterborough. As a player he ranked amongst the best in the Province. Amongst the members of the team he was extremely popular, and his departure was marked by a presentation. Amongst those rendering valuable assistance to the club was Mr. Walter Stocker, and his many thoughtful acts during the year can not be passed unmentioned.

The report was adopted, after which Mr. H. R. H. Kenner submitted the Treasurer's report as follows:—

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. President and Gentlemen:

In presenting the financial report of the Peterborough Hockey Club for the season of 1897-8, it affords me much pleasure to state that the finances are in a very healthy condition. The gross receipts were $677.77, and the expenditures were $633.61, leaving a balance at the end of the season of $44.66. The Executive was aware that there were some accounts from the previous season, which the late secretary-treasurer, in his hurried departure for the Klondyke, forgot to settle, and decided to pay them. These accounts amounted to $27.16. A detailed statement of receipts and expenditures will be found below. I must say that my duties as treasurer have been very light, as the principal work was done by our efficient secretary, Mr Buchanan. I would suggest that in the future the offices of secretary and treasurer be amalgamated. It is necessary that the treasurer accompany the team when out of town, and to curtail unnecessary expenses these two offices should, I think, be made one.

A balance of $17.55 was accordingly on hand at the close of the season. The Executive was of the opinion that each year should pay for itself, and decided to present the members and officers of the hockey team with a photo of the playing members and officers of the club. The balance was expended in doing this, and accordingly at the present time we start the year with a clean sheet. All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. R. H. KENNER,
Treasurer.

The report was adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers aroused a great deal of interest, resulting as follows:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hatton.
Chaplain—Rev. V. Clementi.
Honorary President—R. C. McHarrie.
President—R. J. Fife.
1st Vice-President—W. A. Sanderson.
2nd Vice-President—Walter Stocker.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. A. Buchanan.
Executive Committee—The officers and Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, R. H. Kells, H. R. H. Kenner, Alf. Terrill, R. Wasson, Roger Davidson and the Captain.
Delegates to O. H. A. annual meeting—W. A. Buchanan and H. R. H. Kenner.

Dr. King, W. J. Montgomery and Lionel King were unanimously elected honorary members of the club with full privileges.

On motion of Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner and Alf. Terrill a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hatton for entertaining the Winnipeg hockey team and other kindnesses extended during the season.

It was decided, as a token of the club's esteem, to present Rev. V. Clementi with a group photo of the club.

The matter of deciding in which series of the O. H. A. teams should be entered was left to the Executive Committee.

Mr. Hollingshead and Mr. Kenner moved that the club do all in its power to secure the adding of a rule to the constitution of the O. H. A. limiting the age to under 18 years in the junior series.—Carried.

The playing members will elect their own captain after the opening of the season.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting—The Old Society has Still a Good Lease of Life.

The fortieth annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Society was held in parlour No 2 of the Morgan House on Thursday evening, 10th inst. The attendance, if not large, was loyal and lifey.

The President, R. A. W. Bell, M. D., took the chair and congratulated the members on the survival of the society until its fortieth birthday, and hoped there was life enough in the old society yet to bring it safely through another year.

The secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which on motion were confirmed.

The following accounts were received:

A P Morgan, charity orders	$1 00
Examiner Ptg Co	2 40
Review Ptg Co	2 63

The treasurer reported that all the liabilities of the society had been paid up to the last annual meeting and that the few small accounts now presented were the only obligations existing up to date.

On motion of Chas. Cameron, seconded by W. Menzies, Mr. R. Kerr and Mr. Jas. Noble were elected new members of the society.

An intermission was allowed for the payment of annual fees, with the result that quite a number deposited their dollars with the treasurer for another year, and others promised their contributions when called upon.

The president confessed he had been a little derelict in his duty in not devoting more time to rallying the members. He, however, promised to interview as many as possible during the next month.

Moved by Mr. Menzies, seconded by Mr. Kerr, that the efforts of the president to secure new members be further strengthened by authorising him to arrange for the collection of fees in such a manner as he may think best; and that he be requested to call a special meeting of the society one month from this date—say Thursday, December 8th.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Kerr, seconded by Mr Gibson, that the president and Messrs. Jas. Noble, Chas. Cameron and W. Menzies be a committee to represent this society at the Sons of Scotland supper on St. Andrew's Day.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cameron, seconded by Mr. Grieves, that we hold no celebration this year, but that this society join with the Sons of Scotland in celebrating St. Andrew's Day.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Menzies that the account of A. P. Morgan, for charity order, be paid.—Carried.

On motion it was unanimously agreed to postpone the election of officers until the special meeting, to be called on Thursday, December 8th.

The meeting then adjourned.

FATHER CHIDWICK'S LECTURE

Preparations Assuming Colossal Proportions.

Although only the barest announcements has as yet been made that the gallant chaplain of the ill-fated battleship Maine, will lecture here in the opera house on Friday evening, Nov. 25th, for the benefit of the orphans and poor in the care of the Sisters of St. Joseph, considerable interest has been already aroused.

Father Chidwick, as Chaplain in the United States Navy, takes rank as a first Lieutenant in the Navy. A number of ladies and gentlemen prominent in the town have taken charge of the matter and the occasion bids fair to be a memorable one. The subject of Father Chidwick's lecture will be "The War: Its Causes, and Its Results." The tickets have been placed at 25 and 50 cents, and are on sale at Lynch's drug store, where plan of opera house can be seen. 2d

MR. H. P. KENNEDY'S PROPOSITION.

Peterborough's prosperity, present and prospective, and her future growth are dependent on the large extent to which she is made a commercial centre. In regard to railway communication, so far as traffic is concerned, Peterborough is an important centre, her shipping facilities both inward and outward being unsurpassed by any town in the country. As a manufacturing centre the town has an enviable distinction. Peterborough as a centre of one of the best agricultural districts in Canada, should be and is in a position to reap the fullest measure of advantages as a central market for the varied agricultural and stock resources of the area of which it is the hub.

In this connection the application of Mr. H. P. Kennedy, an extensive stock buyer, as set forth in his letter to the council the other night, is worthy of special attention, especially worthy of the council whose meat weighing bylaw has rather detracted, temporarily, at least, from the popularity of our market. In the past the facilities for handling live stock have had to answer the purpose, but they have not been equal to what the trade demands. Mr. Kennedy's important letter to the council sets forth that Peterborough is a natural centre for the cattle trade. It also shows to what extent Mr. Kennedy's stock buying business has reached. Last year his business represented a turn over of $250,000. During the past month Mr. Kennedy paid out over $50,000 for stock and $700 in wages, equal to a yearly payment of half a million dollars, and between $7,000 and $8,000 in wages. With the facilities necessary to accommodate an increasing trade, Mr. Kennedy anticipates that next year his turn-over will reach a million of dollars, with a corresponding increase in wages paid. To provide necessary facilities, Mr. Kennedy applies to the council for the use of two vacant lots belonging to the town, near the intersection of the G.T.R. and C. P. R.

The town council should consider his application in a liberal spirit. The aim of the council should be to make grist of everything that comes to our mill. And the benefit of making Peterborough the centre of such trade as Mr. Kennedy represents, should not be lost sight of. He guarantees, in case the use of the lots mentioned are accorded, that he will erect suitable buildings, and, in his own interest, he will no doubt comply with all the sanitary requirements that are necessary to make the presence of the shipping yards he proposes to establish, unobjectionable to the public. We hope that the council in committee of the whole will take a big view of Mr. Kennedy's application, and if it is not able to meet his wishes in regard to the site he applies for, that some alternative proposition will be made that will show the town's recognition of his enterprise and the important commercial benefit to the town it represents. We should make straight as possible the path of those who aim to centre trade of any kind in Peterborough. Gentlemen of the council, while protecting the interests of the town, deal liberally with business enterprises. Welcome expansion with open arms.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY REGULAR MEETING.

LIMITED ATTENDANCE BUT AN INTERESTING SESSION.

Important Reports From the Museum Committee and from the Secretary—Paper on Early History of Belmont.

At the regular meeting of the town and county of Peterborough Historical Society, held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms last night, there was a limited attendance, owing to the unpleasant nature of the streets.

Col. H. C. Rogers occupied the chair.

Several new members were admitted at the preliminary meeting of the Executive Committee.

A letter was received from Miss Fitzgibbon, inclosing a resolution of the Women's Historical Society, embodying a petition to the Government to take no action in regard to the petition of the relatives of General Montgomery, in regard to a public monument in Quebec. The secretary was instructed to draft and forward a resolution embodying, in similar spirit, the objection and protest of the Peterborough Historical Society.

The secretary, with much pride, exhibited a valuable gift to the museum, consisting of two beautifully executed pencil sketches of Peterborough as it appeared in 1837. The town at that time consisted of some half a dozen modest cottages, surrounded by forest. The sketches were given by Mrs. (Rev. J. W. R.) Beck, and were done in a most artistic manner by Miss E. Boulton, of the Cobourg Boultons, and sister of the first wife of the late Rev. Mr. Beck.

The report of the Museum Committee set forth their action in opening the museum to the public, the results of which have heretofore been reported in the EXAMINER. Gratification was expressed at the great interest manifested by the public, especially the school children. Cordial thanks were also given Mr. Richard Hall and the press for the interest shown in the interim opening of the museum and the members of the society were urged to increased activity during the winter, so that the opening in April might present a greatly increased collection. The contents of the museum have been insured.

The secretary also presented a report, or rather address, as follows:

I wish to draw the attention of members to the fact that the society now has a museum that it has no reason to be ashamed of. Having got so far let us not stand aside and allow the institution to grow "cob-webby." Let us all take an active interest in its welfare, and so keep it ever fresh by constant additions of interesting articles.

It is intended to divide the museum into several departments, under the following headings, which will be further subdivided.

1 Documents.
2 Newspapers.
3 Magazines.
4 Books.
5 Pamphlets.
6 Maps.
7 Photos.
8 Engravings and etchings.
9 Paintings.
10 Old China, etc.
11 Bronzes.
12 Statuary.
13 Sculpture.
14 Indian antiquities.
15 Esquimaux clothing, etc.
16 Minerals.
17 Paleontology.
18 Philately.
19 Musical instruments.
20 Philosophical instruments.
21 Natural History.
22 Botany.
23 Arms and Armour.
24 Tapestry.
25 Embroidery and lace.
26 Wearing apparel.
27 Mechanical devices.
28 Household utensils.
29 Fabrics.
30 Miscellaneous.

Many of which are particularly adapted to the taste of the ladies, as for instance, No. 24, Botanical Specimens, such as preserved grasses, seaweeds and plants generally; No 25 and 26, tapestry, embroidery and old lace; No 28, wearing apparel, and 28, household utensils.

For such collections the Museum Committee will gladly fit up rooms with suitable cases, so far as the finances will allow.

Some time ago a number of note books were distributed among the members for the purpose of noting information as to where material could be procured to stock the Museum. It is to be hoped that the members will make good use of them.

During the time I was in attendance, while the Museum was open, I took occasion to enquire of a great many visitors whether they had any contribution to add, and in almost every case, promises were made of articles. Indeed, several were so much in earnest that they returned a second time, bringing their contributions with them, so that we had some valuable additions made during the week.

If each member will make an effort to do something to help, you will be surprised to find how much the people are interested and how few refusals you will meet with.

I have to-day received from Mrs. Beck two very well executed sketches of Peterborough in 1837, by Miss Boulton, for which the thanks of the Society are due. They are of great historical value, as they show very clearly what the settlement consisted of 71 years ago.

T. A. S. HAY, Secretary.

Peterborough, No. 10th, 1898.

A paper was then read, founded on the minutes of the township council of Belmont from 1841 to 1849 as follows:

Through the courtesy of Mr. J. B. McWilliams I have been placed in possession of some interesting documents relating to the early history and settlement of the township of Belmont. These papers were furnished by Mr. William Rea, one of the very earliest settlers of Belmont, and now a venerable gentleman of eighty-six years. Mr. Rea, to speak metaphorically, pitched his tent in what was then a wilderness of giant trees, the haunts and homes of the bear, the wolf and the wild cat, in the year 1838, the earliest recorded settler having preceded him in 1834. Mr. Rea, who was born in 1812, came to Canada from Ireland in 1834, landing in quaint Quebec Quebec on June 10th. He was not only one of the foremost residents in point of time but took a most active part in the primitive government of the settlement, being the first township clerk and occupying that office altogether about sixteen years—nine years at first consecutively, and after a brief interregnum, seven years continuously.

A brief interview with Mr. Rea, while yielding considerable information respecting was more important as affording an indication of the great amount of information of this kind that would be available for the objects of this society if deliberate and systematic effort could be made to draw upon his store of recollections. It is the primary object of the Historical Society to collect facts relating to the period contemporaneous with the early settlement of the country; but, unfortunately, it has not been the function of the society to carry on this work. Lack of means, which often hampers useful activities in all directions, has prevented a systematic attempt to collect by viva voce interviews with early settlers, whose numbers are rapidly growing less, the information which they only have the power to supply, for recorded details of the first days of the occupation of the county are not available to the extent which their importance merits. Year by year, and almost month by month, facts pregnant with the most important interest to the Historical Society are sinking with the hardy pioneers into the grave which death opens all too frequently.

This little paper does not claim to be even as ambitious as a sketch, only an undigested presentation of data, a sort of specimen assay to indicate of historical wealth that can be furnished by the early residents of the different townships of the county.

At the first period of the settlement of Belmont, amongst other undesirable conditions the settlers had, as Mr. Rea naively expressed it, "a very poor quality of road." The late Mr. Birdsall, P.L.S., surveyed a road across the township of Marmora, several years previous to the time of settlement, but this road was never cut, only "blazed." At a later period the late John Reid, P.L.S., was appointed by the district council and surveyed a road to the iron deposits in Marmora. His assistants in the work were Messrs. Robert Stewart, Peter Buchanan, jr., Robt. Sloan and Wm. Rea. The result of the construction of this, even primitive, highway was to give the settlers access to a market for the products of the soil upon which thick, standing stumps disputed possession with the crops. At this time (Mr. Rea did not fix the date) the smelting works were in operation in Marmora, a condition compared with subsequent cessation of operation, suggestive of the working of the Cornwall tin mines by the alphabetic Phœnician, or of the prehistoric construction work on the Trent Valley Canal. In evidence of the that existed amongst the early residents, about forty settlers turned out and cut the present road through to Marmora. The manager of the mines also appreciated the importance of this road for every day, while the work was in progress, he entertained the men employed on the road, and at night there were amusements which took the form of trials of strength between the settlers working on the road and the mine employees. This road was subsequently "improved" so that it served as a highway to the market at Marmora. Mr. Rea could tell thrilling tales of the ravages of wolves, which were very plentiful in those days, and did not hesitate to collect rental for the use of their former undisputed haunts in the form of sheep and lambs carried off to furnish material for wolfish convivialities.

The first sawmill in the township was erected and operated by Mr. John Brookbridge and the second by the late Mr. James McWilliams, father of Mr. J. B. McWilliams. Mr. Rea also furnished the information that he was the first reeve of the township after the Newcastle District was abolished, and the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria erected into a distinct municipality. The first lodge of the Orange Society was organized in Belmont in 1843, and the glory that hallowed the name of one of the heroes who laid down their lives for the Empire in the great Indian Mutiny was reflected in the application of the name of Havelock to the first post-office opened in Belmont in 1858.

It might be of interest to give a list of the names of those who might be considered

THE PIONEER SETTLERS

of Belmont with the year of settlement, the number of their holdings, together with the concession and number:—

1834—Robt Stewart, "king of Belmont," lot east half 5, con 11; Thos McBurnie, lot west half 6, con 10; John McNichol, lot 15, con 9; Eugene McNichol, lot 15, con 9; Edward O'Brien (Ballyporeen), lot 18, con 11

1835—Jas Johnston, lot east half 7 con 10; James Harper, lot west half 9, con 11; Geo Harper, lot west half 9, con 11; Robert McWilliams, lot 14, con 11.

1836—George McWilliams, lot east half 6, con 11; John Rea, west half 5, con 10; William Rea, west half 5, con 10; Jas Reid, west half 6, con 11; Thomas Johnston, east half 3, con 11; John Johnston, east half 5, con 10; George Ingles, west half 6, con 11.

1838—Wm McLaughlin, sr, lot 6, con 12; Wm McLaughlin, jr, lot west half 7, con 11; Nathaniel Nesbitt, lot 8, con 22; Peter Buchanan, west half 9, con 11; John Buchanan, west half 10, con 11, James Tarbitt lot 10, con 12; John Bannon, sr, lot 17, con 10; John Bannon, jr, lot 17, con 10; Robert Bannon, east half lot 16, con. 9; Robert Johnston, lot east half 7, con 11; Robert Sloane, west half 8, con 11.

1840—Patrick Dowd, lot west half 7, con 10; Andrew Matthewson, lot east half 9, con 10; David Burgess, lot 5, con 12; Wm Burgess, west half 4, con 11; James Burgess, east half 4, con 11; Edward Johns, west half 3, con 10.

Among the papers furnished by Mr. Rea are twelve or fourteen leaves of the minute book used by him during his first term as township clerk. The circumstance that the "Government archives" of the township for nearly ten years—from 1841 to 1849—covered so little paper may be taken to indicate that the early settlers were more than to prose about them when they had been done—a somewhat sharp contrast to the marvellous wind power employed in these modern days by legislative bodies, from a township council to the national museum of super-ripe statesmen, whose voices wake the echoes of the Senate chamber in fractured sweetness long drawn out. There is a simple, somewhat monotonous sameness in these early township records which are bald jottings of meetings held about once a year, generally in January—though there were sometimes special sessions. The principal business recorded was the appointment of officers, which at first consisted of five school commissioners, who were first appointed in 1842, assessor and collector, two pathmasters (one for each of the two road districts into which the township was divided), pound keepers, fence viewers and five town wardens. A peculiarity in connection with the record of these appointments was that every official's name in the annual list represents his own signature, and all the signatures are easily legible and characterized by the dignified neatness of half a century ago so immensely superior to the slovenly penmanship of these (in this respect) degenerate days, when a signature derives its merit from its illegibility, as if the writer were ashamed of it, and as a sign of superior ability, as if looking as a fool could be an indication of wisdom.

THE BUSINESS RECORDED

included, besides these appointments a record of the "statutes." This rather grandiose title applied to the legal enactments, and to reports of the expenditure on roads which annually amounted to £12, 12s, 6d, though in the minutes of 1841 we find that the township received, what is still much sought after, a "county grant," as witness the following copy of the minute as it appears on the faded sheet in faded ink:

"On the thirtieth day of December, the sum of thirty-one pounds, ten shillings and sixpence, currency, was paid by the Honourable Zacheus Burnham, treasurer of the Newcastle district by a order from the magistrates out of absentee, or road money in his hands, for the township work having been done to that amount."

The "statutes" provided that a lawful fence should be "five feet high, of poles or rails laid zigzag, brush fences not lawful." "Cattle breaking brush or other unlawful fence not poundable." The close season for hogs was from April 15th to November 15th. They were not allowed to run at large during this period. The "statutes" also enacted "Bulls over three years old not to run at large, no kind of breachy cattle to run as commoners.

AS TO EDUCATION.

In 1844, the year of Dr. Ryerson's appointment as Superintendent of Education, five school commissioners first appear in the list of appointed officials. On February 28th of the same year a general meeting of the "inhabitant householders of this township" met in solemn conclave and "unanimously agreed and resolved that the said inhabitants of Belmont will not come under the new school act nor agree to any school taxation, and consequently have appointed no school superintendent, nor do not intend to have one, as they consider themselves at present unable to pay any additional tax to that which is now upon them."

In 1845 James Harper was APPOINTED DISTRICT COUNCILLOR

"with power to appoint another, if his property does not allow him to qualify for such."

The following year, 1846, seems to have been a sort of red letter year for Belmont. The announcement grand in its short simplicity appears in a single line at the bottom of the page reading thus: "Mr. John Robertson, district councillor for Belmont."

This must have been considered a very important and and momentous function for the town clerk writes his signature under this statement in all capital letters. The explanation is perhaps furnished by the next page, which contains the report of an election, the first recorded in the minutes. The candidates were James Foley, Esq., and Mr. John Robertson. The spirit of democracy seemed to exercise its levelling influence even in these primitive days, for the more distinguished title of "Esq." at the end of Foley's name proved to be, like the curl in a pig's tail, more for ornament than use—especially so far as winning popular approval was concerned—it did not save his bacon, for he was defeated by of over two to one. There were only 21 votes polled, as follows:

For Foley.	For Robertson.
Robert Sloan,	Jas McWilliams,
John Buchanan,	Jas Harper,
Jas Johnston,	Robt McWilliams,
John Johnston,	John Bannon,
Andrew Matthewson,	Geo Seaney,
Wm McLaughlin, sr,	David Burgess,
Robt Stewart.	Henry Tamblin,
	Nathaniel Nesbitt, sr,
	Geo Harper,
	Jas Burgess,
	Wm Taylor,
	Geo Ingles,
	Wm Rea.

For Foley, 7; for Robertson, 14.

Signed

JOHN BUCHANAN, Chairman. WM. REA, Town Clerk.

In 1848 there was a contest for the chairmanship of the town meeting. John Matthewson and William Brown were proposed and a poll being demanded, Mr. Brown won by the close score of 15 to 14. This was a fighting session, for at the same time, in the contest for councillor, Thomas McBurnie defeated David Burgess by the narrow majority of one vote—a prototype of a certain memorable parliamentary contest in West Peterborough. The vote was 13 to 12, an increase of the enrolled electorate of four, the total vote in 1846 having been 21. Party feeling must have run high, for in the '48 election James McWilliams entered a protest against the return of Mr. McBurnie on the ground of lack of property qualification. The election courts bowled out Mr. McBurnie, and in the following February Mr. Charles Hudson was elected, it would appear, by acclamation. His return was recorded as follows: "The 'pole' being closed, was as follows: For Mr. Charles Hudson, 14; majority, 14."

Sic transit gloria mundi—the record of the manner of Mr. Hudson's discharge of his high trust is lost to posterity, for as far as Mr. Rea's minute book is concerned, it closes with a report of a special meeting at which Mr. McLaughlin was elected chairman, and the sole business was the handing over of their returns by the overseers of highways.

And a very good place to leave our worthy predecessors—on the highway to the prosperity that has since come to the good Township of Belmont.

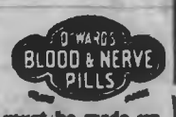
Energy Easily Earned.



Wasted energy must be made up or the body will weaken and perhaps perish.

For a long time prior to taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my nerve system was greatly deranged and I was terribly nervous, so much so that in my business (Linesman of the Kingston Electric Light Co.,) my extreme nervousness naturally made the following of my business extremely hazardous. Before taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my kidneys had been affected for some time. I had constant soreness and stiffnese across my loins and the small of my back. My appetite was variable and very poor. I also suffered greatly with constant headaches. I am glad to be able to inform you that Dr. Ward's Pills completely cured me of all the above ailments and made me a well man. I have found no medicine like Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, although I have tried many different kinds. They acted quickly and effectually on my nerve system, making my nerves strong and removing all indications of nervousness. These valuable pills also removed all kidney and back trouble and restored to me a healthy vigorous appetite. I have had no headache since five months ago and feel justified in saying that they are a wonderful remedy. They not only removed nervousness, but gave me healthy kidneys, removed all soreness and stiffness from my back and loins, cured me of headache and gave me a good appetite, consequently I am highly pleased. I know of no medicine that equals Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills for nervousness, chronic headache, sore kidneys and back and loss of appetite. Yours truly, John McCutcheon, 522 Princess St., Kingston, Ont.

COMMERCIAL ENGLISH.

Warning to Those Who Would Send Trade Circulars Abroad.

Manufacturers who wish to do an export business must have their circulars and catalogues translated into foreign languages, says Engineering, but care should be taken that the translator is not only a good linguist, but also an expert in the particular business to which the documents to be translated refer. Otherwise the translation is apt to be a matter of ridicule to those to whom it is sent.

We cannot well give an instance to show how an English circular might be translated into bad German, for example, but the London Engineer gives us the following illustration of a translation from another language into English, which is probably no worse than many translations from English.

"We pique ourselves," says the circular, "on making you known that the sale of the —— has, by us, undertaken. This preparated, exclusively arranged by some vegetables, is entirely spoiled about something hurtful to the steam boiler blades. By our preparated every calcareous substance is neutralised, reducing it to power, and at the same time steam boiler blades are conserved from the usual corrosion, not only, but the ebullition, is totally avoided, as it appears about some very interesting experiments, which have been made in several establishments."

In conclusion the circular adds, "To be willing, this preparated may be decomposed."

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this kind. It may absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman, whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Pokey.

A citizen, while crossing Fort street at Griswold, picked from the crosswalk a Yale lock key with a tag attachment on which was pen printed in capital letters the word "Pokey." He was wondering over the significance of the word when the loser of the key happened along in search of it. As the two men were old friends, the key was handed over to its rightful owner.

"Excuse my curiosity," said the finder of the key, "to know the purport of that word upon the tag."

"Certainly," came the reply. "The key unlocks my postoffice box. 'P. O.' stands for postoffice; 'k-e-y,' key. Post-office key. See?"

Then the two citizens hurriedly started in opposite directions, each with a broad grin on his face.—Detroit Free Press.

THE SPEED OF A SHIP

METHODS BY WHICH ITS KNOTS PER HOUR ARE MEASURED.

An Interesting Description of the Mechanism and Use of the Log, With a Truthful Red Sea Shark Story Attachment.

"How do you ascertain the speed of a vessel?" is a question frequently addressed to naval men, and an explanation will therefore probably be of interest to many readers. There are several methods, the commonest and most ancient being by the use of the "log." This instrument consists of three parts —the logship, the line and the marks. The logship is a piece of wood about half an inch thick and shaped like a quadrant, with a piece of lead let in round the circular edge to make it float perpendicularly in the water. It is slung by lines at each angle, the three lines being joined together about two feet from the logship. Two of the lines are securely fixed to the ship and the other has a bone peg at the end, which, being pushed into a hole in the ship, temporarily fastens it there.

From the point of juncture of the three lines a sufficient length is measured, generally about 100 feet, to take the logship well clear of the ship's wash. This is called the "stray line" and is marked with a piece of bunting. From the bunting is measured 47 feet 3 inches, and the line marked here with a piece of leather. Then another 47 feet 3 inches is measured off and marked with two knots, then another space the same length, and marked with three knots, and so on as far as seven knots. Halfway between each batch of knots one single knot is made. The log line is then ready for use.

The space between the knots is found from the simple little rule of three sum: As 3,600 seconds (number of seconds in an hour), 28 seconds (length of sand-glass), 6,080 feet (number of feet in a nautical mile); length of line required —which works out to 47 feet 3 inches.

To use the log four persons are required—two men to hold the reel on which the line is wound; the quartermaster, to hold the glass, and the midshipman of the watch, to heave the log. The last named puts the peg firmly in the logship and then gathers three or four coils of line in his hand, sufficient to admit of the logship being thrown well clear of the ship. He asks, "Clear glass, quartermaster?"

"Clear glass, sir!" comes the reply, and overboard go the logship and line, the reel rapidly revolving. Presently the middy feels the piece of bunting passing through his hand, and he gives the order, "Turn." The quartermaster turns the glass and watches the sand while one "reeler" holds the reel well over his head, so as to give the line fair play. When the sand has run out, "Stop!" cries the quartermaster.

The midshipman grasps the line, assisted by the other reeler, and looks for the nearest knot, finding a single one close to his hand. Then the line is hauled in, and four knots appear, which signify that the ship is going four and a half knots through the water. The jerk of the line draws the peg from the logship, which now floats on its flat side and is easily hauled in. When a ship is going over four knots, a 14 second glass is used, the speed being double that shown by the knots on the line.

Another method in use is the patent log. This is altogether mechanical and consists of a long cylindge with clock-work inside it and four fins on the outside. It is towed astern of the ship by a line made fast to a swivel in the head of it. As it is dragged through the water the four fins make it revolve, actuating the clockwork inside, which registers on a series of dials the number of knots run. This log has to be hauled in every time one wants to read it, but there is another kind where the fan is towed astern and the dial is a fixture in the ship. This is called a "cherub."

These logs are not always accurate, and are constantly verified when near land by cross bearings—that is, the bearings of two well known points are taken, and the position so obtained is marked on the chart, the time of observation being noted and the reading on the patent log. After an interval has elapsed the position of the ship is again taken by cross bearings, when the straight line joining the two places on the chart will show the direction of the course steered and its length the distance run. A comparison with the readings by patent log will give the error of the machine.

To finish here is a patent log yarn, as told by an old messmate. I give it in his own words: "When in the Crocodile in the Red sea, just after taking the reading one night at 8 o'clock, the quartermaster reported, 'Shark taken the patent log, sir!' I got another one over at once. At 9:30 next morning we stopped for half an hour. To amuse the ladies I tried for and caught a shark. On opening him we found our patent log, and," he added gravely, "strange to say, it registered the same as the one in use. The line had jammed between his teeth, the fan working all the time he followed the ship. He had swum just 122 7-10 miles."—Navy and Army Illustrated.

WHEAT IS STEADY.

Chicago Responds to the Better Feeling in Liverpool, and Prices Rise a Notch.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 9.

Paris wheat declined 5 to 15 centimes to-day, with flour off to the same extent. Antwerp was unchanged.

Chicago partially responded to yesterdays' advance in Liverpool, holding strong, with a good cash demand, and closing ½c per bushel, above the previous final figures for all deliveries.

Think of living a year or two after one is dead; dead to all practical intents and purposes,—dead, with the autograph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip.

Thousands of women live for a year or two after all helpfulness and happiness have gone out of their lives. When a woman becomes hopelessly helpless and unhappy she is practically dead. The young woman to whom the future is a dreary waste, the young wife who is a helpless, nervous invalid, the mother whose babes are a burden instead of a blessing,—all these, unless they take the right measures to recover their health, are better dead than living. In the majority of cases these ghosts of women owe their condition to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently they have been deceived by the incorrect diagnosis of some obscure physician and do not understand the true nature of their trouble. It only costs a two-cent postage stamp for a woman to write and describe her condition to Dr. R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skilful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. He will answer letters from ailing women without charge. He is the discoverer of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest of all known medicines for women. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned in maternity and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the indispositions of the anxious period and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It cures all disorders and displacements and checks exhausting drains.

"Previous to motherhood my wife was very sick," writes Dennis H. Connelly, Esq., of Clear Water, Wright Co., Minn. "Two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made her well and strong."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and constipation. One a dose. They never gripe.

THE CYCLONE.

How This Wonderful and Destructive Air Fury Is Formed.

To get an idea of a cyclone's formation imagine a large circular pan or tub with quite a large hole in the middle of the bottom. With this hole plugged, fill the vessel with water; then draw out the plug and watch. There is first a rush of water from all directions toward the hole and a turbulent effort to get through. Then the water surface above begins to sink and swirl, the particles gradually circling around and around and rushing, ever faster, toward the center. At last there is actually a hollow space through the center, around which all the water in the tub is whirling, sluggishly near the rim, but with more and more violent rapidity toward the middle until it rushes downward through the bottom. Now, if that water were air, you would be watching a little cyclone turned upside down, for the air rushes upward instead of downward.

In the cradle of cyclones during the summer months, when the land and the water grow hotter and hotter because of the longer days than nights, a layer of air, hot, light and full of vapor, is for a time held down by denser air above it. Restless, expanding, tumultuous, it moves about like a beast at bay until a thinner place in the air above is found. Then up it madly rushes and into the vacuum left behind the lower atmosphere hastens from all directions, pushing and twisting and pouring upward until it has fallen into a regular spinning around a common center.

The cyclone, once formed, rushes away from the tropics toward the pole, and begins its career of destruction, bruising, wrecking and sinking the luckless ships which happen to be in its path. More and more of the surrounding atmosphere is drawn into the whirl until the storm often covers an area nearly 1,000 miles in diameter. Sometimes it flings itself upon our Atlantic coast and tears fiercely through forests, fields and cities. Then again it sweeps away across the broad ocean and dashes itself upon the coasts of Europe. Once in awhile it so adroitly avoids the land that we never know it has passed until ships come in torn and broken.—St. Nicholas.

THE BACKBONE OF A NATION.

The Brain Power of the United States Comes From the Farms.

"It is from the farm and the country districts that the great brain power of the country has come, is coming today and must come in the future," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Instead of deprecating country life and saying that 'to live in the country means to live out of the world,' intelligent people know that the free, untrammeled life of the country unquestionably gives broader views. The human mind always grows to suit its outward surroundings. Originality and a development for great things have naught to check its growth where one can look with earnest eyes from nature up to nature's God. To speak of 'the ignorance of the rural regions' is to stamp oneself as an ignoramus, not the country people. There is a soundness of core and an intelligence in the back country of this nation of ours that people who live in cities and think themselves wise never suspect. We can talk all we like of 'social revolutions' and kindred evils that are supposed to threaten this nation. When they do threaten our institutions, the danger signal will not come from the back country. Such thoughts are born and fed amid the foul atmosphere of the cities. In the clear country air of the farm nothing threatens this country, and when anything in the shape of a socialistic, anarchistic revolution does menace this land the true voice which will stamp it out will come from the country. The backbone of this land rests in the country and on the farm."

Pianists Practice Too Much.

"While studying with Rubinstein, Josef Hofmann practiced three hours a day," writes Mary B. Mullett of the famous pianist in The Ladies' Home Journal. "He believes that most students make the mistake of overpracticing. When he came to this country the first time, he was practicing an hour a day. For two years after his return to Germany he practiced two hours a day. During the next two years he averaged four hours daily, and after that, until he went to Rubinstein, six hours daily. This he regards as excessive.

" 'One's mind grows stupid and confused,' Hofmann says, 'and one's fingers follow the confusion of the brain. Another mistake of young pianists is that they use too much force in practicing. One should play just hard enough to keep the fingers and wrists from getting stiff. One is not aiming for artistic results as one is in concert playing. It is the fingers which need constant practice.' "

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disuse of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves.—Notes and Queries.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

Sowing Pansy Seed.

During early October is a good time for sowing pansy seed for next spring's supply of plants for bedding out. The reason for fall sowing out of doors is that the plants are not then subjected to the hot, drying influences of the house, which are so likely to bring on red spider and other troubles.

Prepare a bed of very rich, porous loam on a well drained location. Place over it a frame to be filled with forest leaves as a protection to the little plants over winter. After sowing the seed in the bed sift a very light covering of soil over the seed, merely enough to hide them. During the process of germination never allow the bed to dry out, as moisture is essential to perfect germination of any seed.

As severe weather approaches cover the bed with a few inches of litter of some sort, forest leaves being preferable. At the proper time in the spring the seedlings may be pricked out of the soil in the seedbed and transferred to the bed in which they are to bloom.—Woman's Home Companion.

One Day at a Time.

It is a blessed secret, says the British Weekly, this of living by the day. Any one can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means to us—just one little day. Do today's duty. Fight today's temptations, and do not weaken and distract yourself by looking forward to things you cannot see and could not understand if you saw them. God gives us nights to shut down the curtain of darkness on our little days. We cannot see beyond. Short horizons make life easier and give us one of brave, true, holy living.

Worth Discussing.

"Doctor, I don't know what's the matter with me. I can't sleep nights any more."

"Um! Let's see. What is your business?"

"I'm a night watchman."

"Ah, your case is a remarkable one. I must write it up for our Monthly Medical Record."—Chicago News.

Onions are stated to be almost the best nervine known. No medicine, it is claimed, is so useful in cases of nervous prostration, and there is nothing else that will so quickly relieve and tone up a wornout system. Onions are useful in all cases of coughs, colds and influenza. Eaten every day, they soon have a clearing and whitening effect on the complexion.

PRECIOUS METALS.

Gold and Platinum Are Cheap Compared With Some of Them.

"The majority of people when asked to name the most precious metals usually mention gold as first, platinum as second and silver as third," said the proprietor of a large assaying and refining establishment to the writer recently. "Now, let us see how near the truth they would be. Gold is worth about $250 per pound troy, platinum $180, and silver about $12.

"We will now compare these prices with those of the rarer and less well known metals. To take them in alphabetical order barium, the metal which Davy isolated from its ore, baryta, in 1808, sells for $950 a pound when it is sold at all, and calcium is worth $1,600 a pound. Cirium is a shade higher. Its cost is $160 an ounce, or $1,920 per pound. These begin to look like fabulous prices, but they do not reach the highest point, chromium being $200. Cobalt falls to about half the price of silver, while didymium, the metal isolated by Masander, is the same price as calcium. Then comes gallium, which is worth $8,250 an ounce. With this metal the highest price is reached, and it may well be called the rarest and most precious of metals.

"Glucium is worth $250 per ounce; indium, $150; iridium, $658 a pound; janthanium, $175, and lithium, $160 per ounce. Nidium costs $128 per ounce; osmium, palladium, platinum, potassium and rhodium bring respectively $640, $400, $180, $32 and $512 per pound. Strontium costs $128 an ounce; tantaum, $144; tilurium, $9; thorium, $272; vanadium, $320; yttorium, $144, and zinconium, $250 an ounce.

"Thus we see that the commonly received opinion as to what are the most precious metals is quite erroneous. Barium is nearly four times as valuable as gold and gallium more than 160 times as costly, while many of the other metals mentioned are twice and thrice as valuable. Aluminium, which cost $8 and $9 a pound in 1890, is now produced as cheaply as are iron, zinc, lead and copper.

DELAUNAY'S SAD FATE.

A Presentiment of His Death That Was Strangely Fulfilled.

Delaunay, the director of the Paris observatory, was one of the most kindly and attractive men I ever met, says Professor Simon Newcomb in The Atlantic. I found it hopeless to expect that he would ever visit America, because he assured me that he did not dare to venture on the ocean. The only voyage he had ever made was across the channel to receive a gold medal of the Royal Astronomical society for his work.

Two of his relatives, his father, and, I believe, his brother, had been drowned, and this fact gave him a horror of the water. He seemed to feel somewhat as the clients of the astrologists, who, having been told how they were to die, took every precaution to prevent it. I remember, as a boy, reading a history of astrology, in which a great many cases of this sort were described, the peculiarity being that the very measures which the victim took to avoid the decree of fate became the engines that executed it.

The sad fate of Delaunay was not exactly a case of this kind, yet it could not but bring it to mind. He was at Cherbourg in the autumn of 1872. Walking on the shore with a relative, a couple of boatmen invited them to take a sail. Through what inducement Delaunay was led to forget his fears will never be known. All we know is that he ventured into the boat, that it was struck by a sudden squall when at some distance from the land, and that all the members of the party were drowned.

His suffering from Ulcerating Piles Cured.

He says:—I was troubled with itching piles for five years, and was badly ulcerated. They were very painful, so much so that I could not sleep. I tried almost every remedy heard of, and was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box, and from the first application got such relief that I was satisfied a cure would be made. I used in all two boxes, and am now completely cured.

Every remedy given by Dr. Chase cost years of study and research, and with an eye single to its adaptation for the ailments for which it was intended. Dr. Chase detested cure-alls, and it has been proven ten thousand times that not one of his formulas leave a bad after-effect. A Helpless Invalid.

A Chatham Lady Prostrated by Severe Kidney Disease, Restored to Perfect Health by Doan's Kidney Pills.

With your food or with your clothing you may perhaps experiment—if you have money to throw away—but with disease, especially Kidney Disease, it is too serious a matter to trifle with. If your Kidneys are diseased or disordered, get the right remedy at the outset — Doan's Kidney Pills. They can cure you as effectually as they did Mrs. L. Montague, residing at the corner of Selkirk street and Victoria avenue, Chatham, Ont., who speaks as follows:

"Several years ago I was taken ill with a severe pain in the small of my back. Following this I suffered very much with urinery trouble, sleeplessness, etc., and had to quit work. Medical aid proved of little avail, and I was in a most distressing condition. To add to this an almost unbearable pain ran down the back of my neck.

"I went from bad to worse until I was obliged to take to my bed, where I remained a helpless invalid for some time. At this juncture I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and sent my boy to the drug store for a box of them, and began using them. They seemed to act directly on the weakened organs, and I was at once convinced that they were the only remedy to remove all kidney troubles. I continued taking them and day by day grew better. I gained in strength; the pain left me; I began to sleep soundly, and felt brighter and more energetic all the time. I am now better than I have been for years, and consider Doan's Kidney Pills the most excellent remedy for kidney weakness, for to them I owe my present good health and happiness.

CHRISTIAN SOCIALISM, RELIGION IN SCHOOLS,

DISCUSSED IN THE CONFERENCE OF THE ARCHDEACONRY OF PETERBOROUGH.

Interesting Sessions of the Conference—Important Subjects Ably Dealt With.

The afternoon session of the Archdeaconry in Port Hope was occupied in the beginning with a discussion of Christian Socialism, the discussion being opened by Rev. C. H. Shortt, M.A., of St. Thomas church, Toronto. Mr. Short gave a very able and interesting account of the various Socialistic movements, pointing out where they were wrong and what was the underlying element of truth. He showed how Christian Socialism differed entirely from Anarchism and Nihilism, and all perversions of the idea.

Rev. George Warren of Lakefield, followed and gave a very interesting address, embodying his views upon the subject, and suggesting several ways in which Christianity should be more fully applied to our present social condition.

Rev. Mr. Armitage of Peterborough also dealt very ably with the subject.

The discussion which followed was participated in by His Honour Judge Benson, Mr. R. Maconachie. Mr. Barlow Cumberland and others, and proved most profitable and interesting throughout.

The election of officers to the Archidiaconal Council took place Wednesday afternoon. The Archdeacon nominated Rev. Rural Dean Allen, Webb and Harding; Rev W L Cooper was elected clerical representative for Northumberland, Rev C H March, for Durham, and Rev C Lord for Haliburton. The lay representatives elected are R M Dennistoun for Northumberland, W Grace for Durham, and Mr. Maconachie for Haliburton. Rev. H. Symonds was elected treasurer, and Rev. John Bushell, corresponding reporter.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

In the evening a public service was held in St. John's church, the Rev. W. E. Cooper, M. A., the Rev. Rural Dean Allen, M. A., and the Rev. Canon Spragge, M.A., reading the prayers ; the preacher was the Rev. Canon Farncomb, of Newcastle, who took for his text God's command to Israel, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." The music was very fine and merited the highest praise. The choir was reinforced by several of the clergy, and both organ and choir were heard to splendid advantage ; the singing of the congregation also being most hearty and inspiring.

A celebration of the Holy Communion was held on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, and the morning was occupied with discussions.

THE PUBLIC MEETING.

A rather limited number attended the public meeting in the town hall Wednesday evening in connection with the conference of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough. The attraction of the evening warranted a much larger assembly, for Hon. H. S. Blake, Q. C., and Mr. Barlow Cumberland are both good speakers and earnest men.

The chairman of the evening was Rev. Archdeacon Allen, and beside him on the platform, in addition to the two speakers, were His Worship Mayor J. Walker Quinlan (who was called to the platform by the chairman) and the Rev. E. Daniel.

After the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," Rev. E. Daniel offered prayers.

The chairman, in introducing the speakers, said they were pleased to have men of such marked ability to address the meeting on such an important topic, and as they were well known public and Christian men, both being members of the church of England, he considered they needed no introduction.

Hon. Mr. Blake then gave an eloquent and highly scholarly address upon "Religious Education in our Public Schools." In the course of his remarks he animadverted upon the great prominence given to such subjects as arithmetic, geography, etc., while no time was taken in the thorough study of the Bible, to glean therefrom the history which it contained and the beauty of expression in its thoughts.

The time, he said, is one of irreverence. In the home there is none of the old-time instruction. A change has taken place, and there is none of that earnestness which characterized our forefathers. Such resulted in the religious instruction of the young being relegated to the State. A similar reason was the cause of the formation of the Y.M.C.A., in order that the young men cast upon the world in the large cities might have religious surroundings. While travelling in England, the speaker had taken a trip down to Lancashire, and had inspected a school there, where he saw a young English lass instructing in the Bible. She was doing it so thoroughly that the thought occurred to him that he would rather be that school teacher than a Doctor of Divinity. He was sorry to say that this was also an age of disobedience. Boys can swear, and we want to countervail this tendency, and since the family has ceased to instruct in the tenets of the Bible, the State has to fulfil the duty imposed upon them.

He said they were not asking for denominational schools, but wanted the Bible introduced into the day schools as a text book along side the ordinary books, so that it might be studied and memorized. There were few children to-day who knew the 23rd Psalm. In referring to his own early school days in Upper Canada College, the speaker said Catholics, Methodists, Baptists and English Church boys all studied the Bible together, and he thought it had taught them more tolerance towards each other. To carry out this change in our school system no great innovation would be involved, as already out of the 6,000 school in Ontario there were only thirty-six in which the Bible is not read. So the machinery for commencing the instruction is already there.

Mr. Barlow Cumberland followed and, supplementing the remarks of Mr. Blake, gave cogent arguments in support of Bible instruction in the schools.

Both addresses were well thought out, and instructive, and those who remained away from the meeting, no doubt on account of the bad weather, missed a rich treat.

Rev. W. R. Young, Rev. Mr. Laird and Mayor Quinlan, who were invited to the platform, also made a few remarks.

A vote of thanks was moved by His Worship Mayor Quinlan and Canon Farncomb to the speakers of the evening for their interesting addresses.

This was the closing meeting of the Archidiaconal Conference which during the past two days has had some very interesting discussions on social and religious topics.

The cup is suitably inscribed with Mr. Cox's name, and also those of the distinguished donors, and bears in addition the words, "A friend in need is a friend indeed," which doubtless had reference to the untiring and most effective work done by Mr. Cox on behalf of the Victorian Order of Nurses in the days when the cause was by no means as popular as it is now. Senator and Mrs. Cox offered the use of their handsome house to their Excellencies as a residence during their recent visit before it was decided that they were to be the city's guests.

CHRISTIAN UNITY.

The Society Which was Formed For This Purpose Held a Public Meeting in Toronto Yesterday.

A public meeting was held last evening in Toronto for the purpose of discussing the question of church unity. It was more than usually interesting, being significant of the progress which during the past few years has been made towards creating a sentiment of fellowship among the various denominations—a fact which is heightened by the existence of the society in whose interests the meeting was called. This society, the Canadian Society of Christian Unity, which now numbers 60 members, ministers of various Protestant churches, was founded one year ago by four clergymen of the Church of England—Rev. C. H. Shortt, Rev. R. T. Moore, Rev. F. C. C. Heathcote and Rev. Herbert Symonds, of Ashburnham. The object of the society is to promote the cause of unity by means of common prayer, mutual discussion and the education of the public mind. All persons who sympathize with the objects of the society are eligible for membership, and as members they are not representative of the denomination to which they belong, but are simply individuals expressing their own belief.

It was in answer to the call of this society that the public meeting was held, and one of its most distinguished members, Rev. Principal Grant, of Kingston, was asked to occupy the chair. The hall was well filled, and especially so in view of the unfavourable character of the evening. The clergy of the leading Protestant denominations, and particularly of the Church of England, were excellently represented. Many laymen who take an interest in these important church questions were also present, and a few ladies graced the occasion with their presence.

On the platform with Principal Grant were : Rev. Principal Caven, Rev. Provost Welch, Rev. Chancellor Burwash, Rev. C. H. Shortt, Rev. Herbert Symonds and Rev. C. D. Chown.

During the evening addresses, strongly in favour of the object of the society, were delivered by Rev. Principal Grant, Rev. Principal Caven, Rev. Provost Welch and Rev. Chancellor Burwash.

In the afternoon the society elected the following officers :

Chairman—Rev. H. Symonds.

Secretary-Treasurer — Rev. F. C. C. Heathcote.

Council—Revs. Principal Grant, C. H. Shortt, Symonds, Wm. Frizzel, Heathcote, Prof. Wallace, S. D. Chown, R. M. Hamilton, of Brantford, W. H. Hincks, G. O. Troop of Montreal, G. C. Mackenzie, of Brantford and Mr. Allen M. Dymond.

THE PHILIPPINES.

The Islands Again Loom Up as a Bone of Contention.

REQUIRE BRITISH GOOD WILL.

Dreyfus, the Devil's Island Prisoner, Is Dying—Mme. Dreyfus Meets With an Unnecessary Repulse—13 Murderers Hanged—Turkey Offers Crete to Russia—Kaiser's Visit to Spain—Cable News.

London, Nov. 12.—Lord Salisbury's speech at the Guild Hall banquet still reverberates through the European press.

The Times says editorially this morning: "We are gratified that the American press has not indulged in the mischievous task of reading into Lord Salisbury's utterances something disparaging to the United States. If the United States desires to establish themselves securely in the Philippines it must be with British good-will, since it is clear enough that they will not meet with much friendliness from the other nations of the world."

The Daily Chronicle says: "Emperor William's visit to Spain is probably connected with Germany's ambition to secure the Carolines, seeing that she cannot get a coaling station in the Philippines, but there is not the remotest chance of war over the matter. The fact that the British lion and the American eagle will be on the same side is the best guarantee of peace."

The Standard, which expresses some suspicion as to the Kaiser's intentions, says: "Possibly Spain is mad enough to try to renew the war, but European peace will not be further disturbed."

KAISER'S VISIT TO SPAIN.

He May Be Asked to Arbitrate in the Matter of the Philippines.

Madrid, Nov. 12.—The Heraldo yesterday asserts that the Spanish Government has resolved to maintain Spanish sovereignty in the Philippine Islands, and it adds that it has been suggested that Emperor William of Germany, who is expected to visit Cadiz and Madrid shortly, on his way back to Germany from the Holy Land, be asked to arbitrate the dispute between Spain and the United States, in the event of the peace commissions of the respective countries, now in session at Paris, failing to come to an agreement upon the terms of the proposed treaty of peace.

The Queen Regent presided at the Cabinet Council held yesterday. Premier Sagasta read a letter from Senor Montero Rios, president of the Spanish peace commission, announcing that the American peace commissioners had refused to recognize the Cuban debt and had exacted the Philippine Islands.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—The Foreign Office disposes of the various deductions drawn from the Emperor's proposed call at the port of Cadiz, by saying that His Majesty will not land, but will remain on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and thus be on German soil.

Spanish Authorities Surprised.

Madrid, Nov. 12.—Duke Almodovar de Rio, Minister of Foreign Affairs, received a telegram last evening announcing that Emperor William would arrive at Cartagena on Nov. 19. The authorities were apparently greatly surprised when they heard of the visit, and it is probable that they had had no previous notice of it.

The whole Spanish press cherishes the hope that Germany will initiate some sort of European intervention.

What German Papers Say.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—The National Zeitung, returning to the subject of Lord Salisbury's American allusions in the Guild Hall speech, says:

"It may be assumed that England persistently aims at the acquisition of the Philippines, or a portion of them. The American attitude towards this British ambition will afford a fairly accurate test of the strength of the Anglo-American friendship."

DEVIL'S ISLAND PRISONER.

The Prisoner's Devoted Wife Was Refused the Privilege of Sending Him Clothing.

Paris, Nov. 12.—Madame Dreyfus, it is said, applied at the office of the Colonial Minister yesterday for permission to send her husband some warm clothing for his return home. Her request was refused, on the ground that the Government would do whatever was necessary.

At the same time the authorities read to her a letter from her husband to the effect that, having for five months addressed appeals for revision to Gen. De Boisdeffre without getting any reply, and being wearied and exhausted by his useless appeals, he would write no more to his family or to anybody. He described himself as ill and dying, and bequeathed to the "generosity of my country, the care of rehabilitating my memory."

Madame Dreyfus then asked permission to telegraph her husband the decision of the Court of Cassation. This request was also refused. Then, through a friend, she appealed to President Faure, but with no better result. Her counsel will bring the matter before the Court of Cassation.

Dreyfus and Picquart.

London, Nov. 12.—The Morning Post's correspondent at Paris says it has been decided to bring Dreyfus back from the Isle de Diable and confront him with the witnesses of his alleged confession.

A despatch from Paris says the case of Lieut.-Col. Picquart, who is confined in the Chirche Midi military prison on the charge of forgery and using forged documents in connection with the Dreyfus case, will be decided on to-day. His unconditional release seems to be assured.

Why Marchand Hesitates.

Cairo, Nov. 12.—Major Marchand, commander of the French expedition now at Fashoda, and Captain Baratier, who carried Marchand's report to Paris, and brought him the reply of the French Government, have postponed their departure for Fashoda.

It seems that there is some hitch regarding the route he is to take. It is understood that he has received an intimation that he will get no assistance from the British unless he agrees to evacuate all Egyptian territory. He hesitates, therefore, to adopt the river route.

It is rumored that his instructions are to establish fresh posts in the Bahr-El-Ghazal Basin.

KILLED AND ROASTED A BAKER.

Horrible Murder by a Homeless Pole of a Baker's Assistant in London, Eng.

London, Nov. 12.—A sensational murder was committed in a North London bakery yesterday morning. A homeless Pole named Schneider was given a night's lodging in the bake house, and he murdered the baker's German assistant, throwing him inside the oven.

The baker, alarmed by the stench of the burning body, descended to the bake house and Schneider tried to murder him also, clubbing him over the head and stabbing him in the chest. The shrieks of the baker brought the police to the spot and Schneider was overpowered.

The bake house presented evidence of a frightful struggle having taken place there. It was splashed with blood and strewn with tufts of hair.

The charred body of the baker's assistant was found in the oven. His skull had been smashed with a hatchet.

13 Murderers Hanged.

London, Nov. 12.—The mails from Sierra Leone, West Africa, yesterday brought news of the hanging at Kwelu of 13 murderers of American missionaries, members of the United Brotherhood of Christ, in the Sherbro district of Sierra Leone, last May. The massacre of the missionaries referred to in the foregoing grew out of the dissatisfaction of the natives with the local hut tax. A number of chiefs rebelled and the insurrection spread through the Sherbro district, where the headquarters of the missionaries of the Brotherhood of Christ were located. The insurgents burned the mission houses and murdered a number of the missionaries.

"For Ways That Are Dark."

London, Nov. 12.—A special despatch from Shanghai says that the British Minister at Pekin, Sir Claude M. Macdonald, on learning from the American Minister there that a concession to build the Hankow-Canton Railroad had been granted to an American syndicate, refused to support the application of the Anglo-Eastern syndicate for the contract.

It appears that although the American concession was signed by the Chinese Minister at Washington in April, the China department of the Foreign Office advised the Anglo-Eastern syndicate to apply for it, which was done on Oct. 10.

Philippine Insurgents Rampant.

London, Nov. 12.—Advices have been received at the office in this city of the Philippine Commercial Company, saying that the insurgents have taken the Island of Negros, one of the Philippine group, separated by narrow channels from Panay and Zebu, and that they are besieging Iloilo, capital of the Island of Panay, and the second largest port in the Philippines.

Pacific Coast Calamities.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 12.—The official report of the accident which occurred on the C.P.R. on Friday states that the cause was supposed to be a broken rail. The run-off occurred on Nov. 10 at 2.50 o'clock, on the long Tangent level track. There were 20 loaded cars. The engine and two cars left the track. Brakeman A. Reed was instantly killed. Engineer James Little was injured and died next morning.

The estates of Ernest T. Hooley, the bankrupt speculator and promoter, were sold at auction at London on Friday. The Wiltshire property was sold for £93,000 to Sir Christopher Furness, the ship owner and shipbuilder of West Hartlepool. Hooley's Essex estate brought £39,650.

Fourteen-year-old John Clark of Toronto to make the fire burn well used benzine. As a result there was an explosion, and the lad was severely burned about the chest and arms. The building caught fire, and before the blaze was extinguished $200 damage was done to his father's blacksmith shop.

Fire in the general store of C. A. Stearns of Hanover, Mass., was discovered at 5.30 o'clock Friday morning, and shortly afterwards a terrific explosion occurred, which blew out the sides of the building, killing four men. The explosion, it is thought, was caused by powder and kerosene, which were stored in the cellar.

Mr. James Lockie died suddenly at Waterloo on Friday evening. The deceased gentleman was 66 years of age. The Mystery is Easily Solved.

When some women see their friends on the street well and stylishly dressed, it quickly sets them thinking how Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Green or Mrs. Brown can appear so often with new dresses or costumes, while they, with quite as large an income, can only afford two new dresses each year.

The seeming mystery is easily solved. Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Brown know how to make the best of life. They dress better than the majority of women in their station of society and save money besides, because they use the Diamond Dyes from year to year. When their dresses become faded or unsightly looking for street or church wear, they simply re-color them with Diamond Dyes at an expense of from ten to twenty cents.

This kind of neat and stylish dressing is to be commended; it is true economy, and women should not think their friends extravagant in change of dresses till they get at the facts of the case. Women with small incomes can, if they use Diamond Dyes, dress well at all times at small cost. Diamond Dyes are blessings to thrifty smart women.

FARO BUILT THE CHURCH.

Bishop Put Up a Good Fight, and the Sports Chipped In $1,800.

Bishop Worthington of Omaha is now a strict churchman. His sermons are severe in doctrine and hold out little hope to sinners unless they repent. However, the bishop knows human nature. He learned it in the best school for an education of that kind—the far west.

Years ago, when Mr. Worthington was a recent graduate from the theological seminary, he began his gospel work in Butte, Mon. The town was then a mining camp pure and simple. It had saloons, dance halls and gambling rooms, but neither church nor school. Its inhabitants were rough, tough and ready—manliness was their god, and it was this manliness which made the west what it is.

At college Worthington was a boxer and an oarsman. In Butte these accomplishments served him well, for they gave him a strong arm and a quick eye. His gospel services were held in a tent. There was no money to build a church.

One day as he was walking along the principal street the bully of the town approached him.

"Do you want to fight?" asked the desperado.

"No," replied the clergyman.

"Then take that!"

But "that" never came. Worthington warded off the blow, and with his good right fist sent the bully to grass in scientific fashion.

That night the affair was talked over in Cy Henry's gambling house.

"I like that chap Worthington," said Bill Johnson. "He strikes a good blow. Let's all play for him tonight."

The proposition was agreed to, and the next morning $1,800 won at faro was presented to the minister. That money built the first church in Butte. —Chicago Chronicle.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discouragement of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

A WAR OF RACES.

Collision Between Armed Whites and Negroes in North Carolina—Eight Colored Men Killed.

Wilmington, N.C., Nov. 11. — The negroes not having complied with the demand of the business men by 7.30 yesterday morning, "the time fixed," a column of 600 armed whites assembled at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, and at 8.30 o'clock marched to the office of the Daily Record, the negro newspaper, and destroyed all material found in the building. The building took fire. As soon as it was discovered that the building was on fire, the leaders sent for the fire engines, and the flames were confined to the Record building. On the south, only 20 feet distant, is St. Luke's, one of the largest negro churches in the city, and on the north, within 12 feet, a frame building occupied by negroes. The Record building is a wreck, being almost totally burned.

Excitement is intense. The streets are now full of armed whites, and at least 1,000 men were on guard last night. The column that moved to the Record office was composed of the best citizens of Wilmington, and even ministers were either on march or guarding the city with Winchesters.

The negro laborers in the Champion Compress—more than 500—became terrified about 11 o'clock by wild rumors of trouble and rushed into the streets. They were finally somewhat quieted and dispersed in small squads to their homes.

Six Have Been Killed.

At 11.30 a.m. serious trouble occurred in the First Ward. Three white men and three negroes have been killed. Large companies of armed citizens have gone to the scene. The negroes are reported to have retreated, but are being quietly reinforced by laborers from the Compress. Fayetteville has been telegraphed to for help.

Eight Negroes Killed.

A later despatch says: Between 1 and 2 o'clock there were several skirmishes. The total casualties at 2 p.m. were eight negroes killed, two wounded and three white men wounded—Mayo, Chadwick and Piner. Mayo is not dead, as before reported. About 1.30 two white men passing a house were fired on. A detachment of men surrounded the house and took away five negroes. It was at first proposed to kill them on the spot, but it was finally decided to put them in jail. Another negro in the house broke and ran, but, after proceeding half a square was shot dead. The negro who shot Mayo was recognized, it was claimed, and a detachment found him at his house. He was riddled and left dead. The reinforcements from Goldsboro have been turned back and the committee of 25 is considering means to preserve order. The plan most in favor is to appoint a subcommittee of six to ten men to have supreme charge of the city, superceding the mayor and other authorities.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been like a person half dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down and had almost given up hope.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proven thousands of times that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

Swimmers With Hats.

An Englishman home from the west coast of Africa says he saw a whole village swimming out to the steamer wearing as they swam renovated secondhand "stovepipe" hats in all the glory of the white tissue paper in which they are shipped out for sale.

ORIGIN OF KALAMAZOO.

Pretty Legend That Is Responsible For the Town's Name.

The name of Kalamazoo, like Oshkosh and one or two others, has come to be to foreigners a synonym of American absurdity. It is often chosen, for some occult reason, to illustrate that form of vernacular English known as "United States."

But all thought of ridicule vanishes when its romantic origin is considered, for it is the echo still lingering about the memory of two dusky lovers, who, in that long gone time when Michigan was the home mainly of Indian tribes, lived and loved on the banks of the river which now bears their names.

Kahla, the young warrior, was straight of limb and eagle eyed, while to Mahsoo had been given by the Great Spirit the many graces and virtues for which Indian maidens have become noted in song and legend. Life to these two possessed all the charm which true affection has ever granted to lovers, and the days, as they came and went, brought only abounding joy.

Each summer evening, as the twilight deepened and the time drew near for her lover's return from the chase, the maiden watched from her bower in the swaying branches of a giant elm overhanging the river's edge for the first sign of his coming. As the bow of his canoe shot round the curve away in the distance her clear musical voice called to him, "Kahla, Kahla!" and from the young warrior came in loving tones the response, "Mahsoo!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

BAD HEART—DIZZY HEAD.

Life was a Living Death, but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Relieved in Thirty Minutes.

"I was so troubled with heart disease that I could not stand on a chair without growing dizzy. Going up stairs, or being suddenly startled, brought on violent palpitation and suffocation. Had pains about the heart. Tried many remedies and physicians without relief. I took two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart and, although two years ago, I have not felt the slightest return of the trouble. I think it the greatest of remedies." Mrs. W. R. Collyer, 32 Pacific avenue, Toronto. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

He Got Coffee.

"No, there is very little chicory used in New Orleans," said a local grocer who has a large family trade, "although it really improves certain inferior grades of coffee. New Orleans is notable for the fine quality of coffee used by people of very moderate means. They will economize on everything else, substitute lard for butter, use No. 2 bacon and insist on the cheapest grade of flour, but good coffee they must and will have. I have some customers who are really quite poor, yet who drink coffee only purchased by people of wealth in the north.

"Apropos of chicory I recall an old story told years ago of the late Prince Bismarck. He stopped one day at an inn in the Black forest and called for a cup of chicory. The astonished landlord brought him about a gill. 'That's all I have in the house,' he said. 'Are you sure?' asked Bismarck. 'Yes, mein herr.' 'Very well,' said the prince, throwing the stuff away. 'Now make me some coffee.' "—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Bismarck's Retort.

This anecdote is told of the late Prince Bismarck: One evening when the German troops were before Paris Duke Ernst of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha began grumbling in Bismarck's presence because the iron cross of the first class, given for bravery in the field of battle, had been distributed too indiscriminately. Bismarck replied that the distribution of such decorations was always a delicate and difficult task, "for," said he, "conspicuous merit has to be rewarded, but in some cases conspicuous position, with or without merit, cannot be overlooked. See now," he said, "Moltke has it, Roon has it, Blumenthal has it. Excellent! But," he added, "your highness and I have it, too, and surely it is not for us to grumble."

Town Drummers.

In Scotland the town drummer was an important personage and performed many duties. When beggars or suspicious characters could not give a satisfactory account of themselves on being brought before the bailies and were ordered to be placed in the pillory or in the jougs, they were afterward drummed out of the town. The drummer would also make known, after beating his drum to attract attention, notices relating to town affairs, roupings under judicial authority, etc.—Notes and Queries.

Soon Left Her.

"I was taken with swelling in my feet and limbs. I was not able to walk for four months. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and procured a bottle. Before I had taken it all the swelling left me. I took three bottles of Hood's and have not been troubled with swelling since." Rebecca Seevers, Chatham, Ont.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Minnie Maddern Fiske is said to have given up the project of appearing this season in a dramatization of "Vanity Fair."

Gerhart Hauptmann's latest play is of peasant life in Schlesien, is written in the dialect of that country and is similar in general style to "Before Sunrise," his first acted work.

Annie Russell will have a very strong company. It includes Sarah Cowell Lemoyne, Frank Worthing, Joseph Holland, W. J. Lemoyne, Elsie de Wolfe, Ethel Barrymore and May Buckley.

Johnstone Bennett, the mannish actress, seems to have found an effective role in "A Female Drummer," in which she puts on the manners and some of the toilet accessories of a fashionable beau.

Eleanora Duse will play only in Italy unless her health is restored. She may not be seen in the northern cities of Europe for a year or more. She is to play in Cairo and Alexandria next winter.

Crows.

There is some reason for calling an owl the bird of wisdom, and yet there is cause for wondering if the crow is not mentally his superior. Crows are not disheartened by the gloom of late autumn. If the fog is too dense to fly through it, they rise above it or trot about the ground, discussing the situation with their fellows. Is this speaking too positively? I have long been familiar with an observing man who has lived all his days within sight and hearing of crows. He claims to understand their language and can repeat the "words" that make up their vocabulary. Certainly crows seem to talk, but do they? Does a certain sound made by them have always the one significance? Year after year I have listened and watched, watched and listened, and wondered if my friend was right. He believes it. I believe it—almost. Are there limitations to ornithological interpretation? And is this an instance where truth is unattainable?—Lippincott's.

The public schools teach almost every known branch of study but the one most important branch of all. What does it profit your son if he has an intellect like a Newton, and is mentally an Admiral Crichton, if he has a weak and puny body and not the remotest idea of how to care for his health? A boy should be taught from the start that his health is his most precious endowment. Without health, all the talent, all the genius, and all the ambition in the world are worthless. A boy should be taught that success in any walk of life, that happiness, and life itself, are dependent upon his care of his health.

When a man feels that he is losing his health and vigor, when his cheeks no longer glow, his step is no longer elastic and the sparkle of health is no longer in his eyes, he should work less, rest more and resort to the right remedy to restore his bodily vigor. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a natural medicine—a scientific medicine. It does no violence to nature. It works with and not against nature. It promotes the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It imparts vitality and power to the whole system. It gives plumpness and color to the cheeks, sparkle to the eyes, steadiness to the nerves, strength to the muscles and the animation of health to the whole body. It makes the appetite keen and hearty. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and nerve-tonic and restorative. Medicine dealers sell it and have absolutely nothing else "just as good."

"I was afflicted with pimples and boils, and running sores on face and neck," writes Robert B. Wert, Esq., of No. 615 Galloway Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and was cured."

Constipation is the commonest beginning and first cause of many serious diseases and it should always be treated with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets used in connection with the "Discovery." These are the most perfect natural laxatives and permanently cure.

SOONER DIE THAN SUFFER.

Is the Pain-Racked Rheumatic's Wail—South American Rheumatic Cure Nimbles the Swollen Stiff Joints—Gives New Life—New Hope—Cures Permanently.

J. H. Garrett, of Liverpool, N.S., says: "I was a great sufferer for years from acute rheumatism. Was unable to walk or put my feet under me. I tried every thing recommended, and was treated by the best physicians, but relief was in vain. I was recommended to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I procured a bottle; when half of it was taken I had great relief. A few bottles cured me. I claim today it is the only remedy that will cure rheumatism." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Homesick.

A recent article on homesickness recalls the reply made by a young Swedish maid to her mistress. It expresses clearly, though in imperfect English, what every sufferer from homesickness feels.

"You ought to be contented and not fret for your old home, Ina," said the lady as she looked at the dim eyes of the girl. "You are earning good wages, your work is light, every one is kind to you and you have plenty of friends here."

"Yas'm," said the girl, "but it is not the place where I do be that makes me vera homesick, it is the place where I don't be."—Youth's Companion.

The Real Reason.

Smithers—Why don't you run for school director, Brown?

Brown—Well, you see, sir, there is the farm to look after, and the work on the roads, the timber to cut, the strong party feeling, my views on the educational question, my tax theory, my ideas of the money problem, and then, besides—my wife wants to run.—Harper's Bazar.

Blanco Verso.

To Ramon Blanco, citizen,
In far Havana now residing,
A greeting to him from the north.

Hold now yourself in readiness,
Oh, doughty general captain,
To change your present domicile.
Pack up at once your choice belongings,
Load trunk and grip and Gladstone bag;
Select your berth and make all ready,
For, lo! the hour of parting is at hand.

Nor linger longer, Blanky,
The clock has struck that calls you far away;
Your time is up, you must begone,
We will not say auf wiedersehen,
This parting is for good and all.

Neither stay upon your going's order,
But go, yes, go, at once—
Or sooner, if 'tis possible,
But, anyway, remove yourself,
Aye, Blanky, missile, skip, avaunt, begone!

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

The Catarrh Clutch

This Disgusting Malady is at the Throat of 800 of every 1,000 of our Country's Population.

This Is Not Hearsay. It is Borne Out by Carefully Compiled Statistics of Diseases Most Prevalent. Its Development is Watched Carefully Because it is an Sure a Forerunner of Consumption if Neglected. Most Catarrh Cures Contain Cocaine, which is a Dangerous Narcotic, and Prof Heys, of the Ontario School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—

"After an examination made from samples procured on the open market, I declare that there is no COCAINE contained in the preparation of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." Most astonishing results are daily occurring into Dr. Chase's office of the cures made. Here are a few in condensed form. We ask you to call or write to the following parties if at all sceptical:

OSWALD BURKHARDT, 169 PORTLAND STREET, TORONTO, suffered from Catarrh for nine years, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. T. PALMER, HAIR DRESSER, 673 QUEEN STREET WEST, TORONTO, could not sleep for years on account of the mucus dropping into the throat; cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. WHITCOMBE, OF THE METHODIST BOOK ROOM, TORONTO, suffered for two years; cured by one box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MRS. COWLE, 467 QUEEN STREET EAST, TORONTO, thirteen years ago was attacked with Hay Fever. Never knew what it was to have any relief until she used Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. If anyone troubled with Catarrh calls on Mrs. Cowle she will give her endorsation as to her cure.

Mrs. Richard King, a widow, the daughter of a Presbyterian missionary to Texas, has landed estates in that state amounting to 1,250,000 acres, which probably make her richer than even Mrs. Hetty Green.

New Orleans boasts today of the only woman sexton of a cemetery in the United States. Twain's Material For Stories.

In Berlin, when one pays his fare to the conductor of a street car, he receives a ticket, which is soon afterward collected by an inspector, who boards the car at a fixed point. One day, just as a joke, Mark Twain paid his fare 18 times on one trip, each time throwing the ticket out of the window or under his seat as soon as he had deposited the regular fare with the conductor. A few minutes later the inspector would get on the car and demand tickets all around. Of course Twain had none to show and had to buy another, apparently with reluctance. The performance amused the American, dumfounded the conductor, who had never met so reckless a passenger, and tickled the native passengers, who thought the foreigner well punished for his negligence. By this modest investment material was obtained for a capital story, which netted Mark Twain just $500.—Ladies' Home Journal.

HOW TO LIVE LONG.

Fix deeply in mind the grand truth that life power rules the body and that it alone can cure disease.

Life power lives on air, water and food only; all else is hurtful.

Make cleanliness your motto and watch against filth in both house and grounds.

Few starve for food, but many for air. Breathe deeply a hundred times daily. Wear no tight clothing. Above all, ventilate your sleeping room.

Beware of gluttony. If the appetite is dull, eat fruit only, or eat nothing. Use no fiery condiments, but live chiefly on natural grains, vegetables and fruits.

Never ask your stomach to chew your food—employ your teeth. Adorn your table not only with viands, but with flowers and smiles and kindly words.

Deformity is not awkwardness only, but danger. A high chest will give freedom to breathing and digestion and help to cure many diseases.

Spend part of each day in muscular work, part in study and part in good deeds to men.—New York Ledger.

REDUCED TO A SHADOW.

A Fredericton Lady Tells of Her Sickness and Suffering and of Her Restoration to Health by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Messrs. T. MILBURN & CO., Toronto, Ont.

GENTLEMEN.—A year ago last September my health became much impaired, and I suffered intensely from prostration of the nerves, neuralgic headaches and general debility. The pains would shoot up my neck and down my arms producing numbness and a sensation as if my arms were frozen, so that I almost lost the use of them. My heart would flutter and palpitate; and sometimes I awakened up out of my sleep with a smothering feeling as though I was suffocating!

"Before taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was almost reduced to a shadow, and felt worn out, irritable, and melancholy. To add to my sufferings a partial paralysis set in, and, though I doctored a great deal, and took many medicines, I received no benefit. However, on trying Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got through Mr. Geo. C. Hunt, our well-known druggist here, their curative powers manifested themselves almost immediately. I could feel every dose doing me good. They seemed to act upon the heart, and stimulate the circulation so that every tissue of my body received its due share of vigor and strength.

"The intense headaches with which I was so frequently afflicted have disappeared, and, instead of being weak, worn out and run down, I am now in my normal healthy condition.

"I give this testimony for the benefit of those suffering from similar troubles, so that they may know there is a remedy within their reach well worthy of a trial."

Facts About Clothing.

There has been so much juggling with quality that the public has learned to look with suspicion upon all clothing that is not backed by good reputation. Grafton clothing has been good clothing for over a quarter of a century. It is good to-day. It is all that the best tailors, best cloths, best linings and best manufacturing methods can make it. When it comes to cheapness remember that that which is best is cheapest. Grafton & Co's, clothing is the cheapest.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S PROTEST

Against the Erection of a Statue to General Montgomery.

As empowered at the last regular meeting of the Town and County of Peterborough Historical Society, Mr. T. A. S. Hay, secretary has forwarded the following resolution to the Government at Ottawa:

Resolved, That whereas, a petition is now before the Government of Canada, from the descendants of General Richard Montgomery, for the erection of a monument, in a public square, in the city of Quebec, to commemorate the death of the said General Montgomery.

And whereas, we the officers and members of the Town and County of Peterborough Historical Society, as loyal Canadians and British subjects, desire to protest most earnestly against any such petition being granted, being of the opinion that the conduct of General Montgomery and the occasion of his death itself, clearly disentitled him to the erection of a monument on Canadian soil.

We, therefore, respectfully pray that the Government will carefully consider the importance of this protest and decline to grant the request of the petition.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

The Residence of Mr. Charles Wynn Partially Destroyed at an Early Hour this Morning.

At half past twelve this morning the alarm summoned the brigade to Mr. Chas. Wynn's residence on north Reid street, and by the time of the arrival of the hose wagon the interior of the house was a seething mass of flames.

After a three hours' battle with the fire, the last spark was extinguished, but although the structure was not entirely consumed, it is very badly scorched inside, that portion of the furniture which was not burned being smoked to such an extent as to render it valueless.

The brick wing in the rear used as a kitchen was entirely destroyed, as was that portion of the house in the vicinity of the staircase, where the fire seemed to centre.

Mr. Wynn and his family are all away from home.

On the arrival of the firemen they found the kitchen door open and the theory is that the house was set on fire beneath the staircase.

As stated Mr. Wynn and his family are away from home, he being in the north country hunting, Miss Lillie Wynn and the two boys, in the meantime, staying in Lakefield with their aunt.

The house and contents are well insured as follows: House, $1,500, in Western Assurance Co., through Cox & Davis; house, $500, in Liverpool, London & Globe, through Wm. Claxton; furniture, $300, in Western, through Cox & Davis; furniture, $900, in London Assurance, through W. H. Hill; piano, $400, in Western, through Cox & Davis; lumbermen's blankets, $100, in London Assurance, through W. H. Hill; bicycle, steamboat lamps, stuffed birds, etc., $200, in London Assurance, through W. H. Hill.

Mr. Wynn has been particularly unlucky in the way of fires during the past few years, experiencing no less than five. A telephone message has been sent to Miss Lillie Wynn at Lakefield apprising her of the state of affairs.

POLITICS AND LOVE.

How a Politician Treats Such an Apparently Incompatible Subject.

It is not often that a politician turns aside from the prosaic pre-occupations of his sphere to write on such a subject as love. But Mr. J. W. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, has brought out a book under the title of "Love," for a copy of which THE EXAMINER is indebted to Messrs. Copp, Clark & Co., Toronto, the publishers. The book is neatly printed, with gilt edge top and is in every way worthy of the subject and the literary grace with which it is treated. Mr. Longley's "Love" is not a novel, as some might suppose from the title, but a discussion of the subject in the abstract, not only as it exists between man and woman, but also as being the essence of all true religion, and the panacea of all social ills.

Mr. Longley enters upon his subject by dealing with its manifestations in its simpler forms, such as maternal love, in which the essential quality of unselfishness is most apparent, that love of country which laughs at hardships and the devotion to religious truth which enables the martyr to endure the most exquisite torture without flinching. The greater part of the book, however, deals with love between men and women, not because it is more important, but on account of its intricacy and the difficulty of distinguishing the true from the false.

Taken altogether there are many sound principles evolved in this little work, which may truthfully be regarded as sounding a healthy note in the direction of truer ideals and a higher life than seem to be generally aimed at in the present material age. That a man who has been for a long period actively engaged in political life should write upon a subject, apparently so unsympathetic with law and politics may at first sight seem an anomaly; but the probability is that some of Longley's friends, conscious of his varied abilities, have suggested the subject to him as a theme fit for his pen, and have encouraged him in the agreeable task of committing his thoughts on it to paper.

A PRESENTATION.

Mr. Frank Mason Receives a Pair of Fur Gauntlets from His Class.

Last evening the members of Mr. Frank Mason's class assembled in the basement of the George street Methodist Church, where they entertained the members of the choir and a number of guests.

Mr. D. W. Dumble occupied the chair, and an impromptu programme of unusual excellence was presented.

During the evening Mr. Frank Mason, leader of the class, was presented with a fine pair of fur gauntlets, accompanied by the following address, which was read by Mr. Jos. Succee:

DEAR MR. MASON,—We, the members of your class, assembled this evening, desire to express our appreciation of your noble service as our class leader. The self-denying way in which you have performed your task has long been noticed by us and we, therefore, ask you to accept these gauntlets as a testimony of our appreciation of your efforts on our behalf, and while you wear them may they always keep your hands as warm as your heart. We could always depend on you being present through cloud and sunshine, and may you always be spared to speak your kind and encouraging words to us and those whom God may place under your care.

The address was signed by the members of the class.

Mr. Mason replied appropriately to the address, thanking the class for their kind remembrance.

The choir desire to publicly return thanks for the hospitality extended by Mr. Mason's class.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Although only the barest announcements has as yet been made that the gallant chaplain of the ill-fated battleship Maine, will lecture here in the opera house on Friday evening, Nov. 25th, for the benefit of the orphans and poor in the care of the Sisters of St. Joseph, considerable interest has been already aroused.

Father Chidwick, as Chaplain in the United States Navy, takes rank as a first Lieutenant in the Navy. A number of ladies and gentlemen prominent in the town have taken charge of the matter and the occasion bids fair to be a memorable one. The subject of Father Chidwick's lecture will be "The War: Its Causes, and Its Results." The tickets have been placed at 25 and 50 cents, and are on sale at Lynch's drug store, where plan of opera house can be seen. 2d

STOCK YARD SCHEME WAS CONSIDERED.

H. P. KENNEDY APPEARS BEFORE THE COUNCILLORS.

The Question of Nuisance is the Only Obstacle in the Way—Manufacturers' Committee to Report on the Matter.

The council went into committee of the whole last evening, the members present being Mayor Davis and Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Denne, Allen, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams and Langford.

The first business under consideration was Mr. H. P. Kennedy's request concerning the leasing to him at a nominal rental of the town lot between the G.T.R. and C.P.R. tracks in the south end, to be utilized as cattle yards.

On motion Mr. Kennedy was invited to speak. He displayed a map of the district, on which were marked 104 shipping points, and stated that from 100 of those stations he shipped cattle into Toronto, pointing out that if he were given the lot in question, he would erect suitable buildings, and the stock would be graded and fed in Peterborough instead of at Toronto, the greater portion of the payments being consequently made in the town. The cattle had to be collected at a central point and graded before being shipped to the Buffalo and Chicago markets.

In response to an enquiry made by the mayor in regard to a shipment of cattle made by him to Omaha, Mr. Kennedy stated that he had shipped over 4,000 head to that point since April. They were fastened there for the market and Canadian cattle to the American product, being much easier to handle on account of coming from small farms instead of the big ranches, where they were never handled to any extent. The price paid for Canadian cattle was fifty cents a hundred higher. For this reason he looked forward to the development of an enormous shipping trade from Canada and the towns which opened up cattle yards first would derive the benefit and hold the trade. The Toronto market was constantly overstocked, as over 100 cars a week or 3,500 head had been shipped out during the last month and a half. All the cattle had to be fed, sorted and inspected at some point in Canada and he could see no reason why Peterborough should not be that point. Last night he had shipped four cars of cattle from Tweed, which had to be graded in Toronto. He was sending out heavier orders now than any shipper in Toronto and if he could devote more time to it instead of running up to Toronto so frequently, his shipments would double. They could not hold their cattle long enough in Toronto to make up big shipments, as the accommodation was so cramped. Owners in this vicinity would prefer shipping in their cattle to Peterboro' at 6 cents per 100 freight rate, rather than sending them on to Toronto at 12 cents, and it would make no difference to him, as it would be just as cheap to ship to Chicago from Peterborough as from Toronto. During the last two weeks he was forced to pay over $170 to the Toronto yards for feed. This money could just as well have been spent in Peterborough. Buffalo buyers had promised to twice a week if yards were established here, and would pay the same prices as in Toronto. One buyer alone that he knew purchased on an average about 15 cars a week. In the event of securing the lot he proposed erecting buildings at a cost of $3,000 to accommodate the cattle. The pens would be floored and constantly flushed, so would never be in an unsanitary condition. In Toronto the yardage charged was 10c. per head. Here he would make it free.

WERE MUCH PREFERRED

COME TO PETERBOROUGH

Mayor Davis stated that all the councillors felt disposed to do everything in their power to assist in forming stock-yards in Peterborough, if they could be assured that there would be no nuisance.

Mr. Robertson stated that the flies formed the principal source of complaint.

Mr. McWilliams inquired of Mr. Kennedy as to the length of time he wished the town to give him a lease of the lot for.

Mr. Kennedy had not made up his mind on this point, but thought if he erected buildings on the lot the lease should be for a long term, or else provision made on its expiration to reimburse him for the buildings in question. If he had a long lease he would erect more permanent buildings.

Messrs. Dawson and Langford moved—"That we are in sympathy with Mr. Kennedy's scheme to establish a live stock market in Peterborough, and that the Manufacturer's Committee take the matter into consideration and report at an early date to this committee.—Carried.

ALLEGED DEFECTIVE SEWERS.

Quite a breeze arose when Mr. Best suggested the reading of a report on the condition of the portion of the sewers in use, which had been prepared at his request by Inspector Logan, of Toronto, who is at present acting as inspector of the work being carried on by Contractor Bogue. He stated that he had asked Mr. Logan to inspect the sewers one day when he was not busy.

Mr. Langford asked what authority Mr. Best had to have the sewers inspected. He thought that if there was any inspecting to be done contractors Kennedy & Wade should have been notified to have been present, as well as the Sewerage Committee.

Mr. Denne stated that it was understood that Mr. Best was to have full power in the matter.

Mr. Robertson inquired if the sewers were found to be defective, what bearing on the matter would it have in case an inspector had called the Town Engineer's attention to faulty work and the matter had not been investigated by the Engineer?

Mr. Best claimed that the job was a botch all through. Neglect had been shown in the construction and the water was not flowing through the pipes. He had his suspicions around last July when a Lindsay man had called his attention to several peculiar facts. An investigation showed the sewer to be blocked with sand. A light lowered in one manhole could not be seen from the next one, which was conclusive evidence that something was wrong.

Councillor Langford said that if he had been chairman of the Sewerage Committee the job would not have been a botch.

Mr. Robertson enquired as to the rumour to the effect that one of the inspectors had resigned because he knew the work was and could not get the engineer to rectify the defects.

BEING DONE WRONG

Mr. Denne claimed that Mr. McFadden did not resign on this account, but for the reason that after he had passed upon some concreting which was being done, the engineer had gone to look into the character of the work himself.

On motion Mr. McFadden was heard and stated that his resignation was due to the fact that the engineer would not take his word regarding the work, but had gone to examine it himself. He had then said there was no use in two being on the same job, and resigned.

Mr. Langford was not in favour of holding an investigation into the condition of the sewers until there was a further report on them.

Mr. McFadden claimed that there was no sand in the sewer other than that thrown in by boys.

Inspector Bartlett stated that he had taken out sand put in by boys.

Town Engineer Belcher called for an inspection to be made on Monday at the latest.

On motion of Messrs. McWilliams and Langford, a committee composed of Messrs Best, Langford and McWilliams, accompanied by the engineer and both inspectors, as well as by the contractors, were given power to engage two men, if necessary, and inspect the condition of the Aylmer street sewer—Carried.

PAVEMENT ASSESSMENTS.

The Mayor asked Town Engineer Belcher how long it would take to measure up the granolithic pavement and assess the proper cost to the property owners.

Mr. Belcher calculated it would take about three weeks.

The mayor then inquired if Mr. Belcher understood that the making the assessment was included in the finding of the levels, etc., and was part of the work to be included in that for which his remuneration of five per cent. was included.

Mr. Belcher—"Certainly not."

Messrs. Dawson and Langford moved that the Town Engineer be instructed to strike the necessary assessments for the granolithic sidewalks and report same to the council by December 15th.—Carried.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall asked permission of the town to remove some soil from the street in front of his residence.—Granted on motion of Messrs. McWilliams and Denne.

Mr. W. H. White asked that the Street Inspector be instructed to have a hole filled up in front of Mr. Geo. Matthew's residence. Mr. Dawson promised to see the matter was attended to.

The council then adjourned.

The letter is in reply to one from the Sheriff, and acknowledges the receipt of his account for holding the election under the Plebiscite Act in the electoral district of West Peterborough. The Attorney-General states that owing to the large number of these accounts to be examined, as well as the pressure of work in connection with the preparation of the annual report of the office, some delay in the settlement of the claims will be unavoidable. December 6th is named as the date when the Department will be in a position to deal with the matter.

JUSTICE TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the Board of Health hardly received justice in a correspondence published in Thursday's EXAMINER. The writer pointed out that the Board of Health had work to do in seeing that a proper plumbing bylaw was passed. Some weeks ago the present Board of Health passed a resolution demanding the passage of such a bylaw as that asked for by the correspondent. Unfortunately the Board of Health has no direct executive power—its power is only mandatory, and the council generally takes its time in ignoring, or heeding, its mandates. It certainly seems sometimes as if the Board of Health should have more power, but if we should invest them with executive capacities they would, of course, be spending money, and though it might be spent to good advantage and in the public interest, it would hardly do to trust so much power to an appointed body, one not directly responsible to the people—we should need to have the members elected. Some way should be devised to make our Boards of Health of more practical value. As at present constituted their chief function is practically confined to giving good advice, which as a rule meets the fate generally meted out to good advice tendered in other spheres of life.

At its last meeting but one the Board of Health took active steps with a view of removing the nuisance existing in the present condition of the lane in rear of George street, between Brock and Hunter, by deciding that plans and specifications for a drain should be prepared to remove the nuisance. In this case the council to its credit is actively co-operating with the Board, but it is feared that the season is too far advanced to permit of the highly necessary work being done this year unless the weather should grow much milder.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Klondyke is a great country. Its foundations are built up of gold, and now bituminous coal has been discovered. Now if someone would discover a real scandal there, the Mail and Empire would be happy.

THE trial of the West York election petition shows better staying qualities than the Humber pig scandal—it—the trial is not over yet, and so far it does not seem to have much more harm in it than the Humber pig.

JOURNALISTIC amenities find a high level in Hamilton, when a rival newspaper finds the lost spectacles of another. The Herald heralds the fact that through an advertisement in its columns the lost eyeglasses of the editor of the Spectator were found.

THIS is our growing time. By the Dominion census of 1891 the population of Vancouver, B. C., was 13,685. It is now claimed to be 32,000. Not a bad ratio of growth. Yankee Columbia can't show a more rapid ratio of growth than British Columbia.

LORD MINTO is all right, even if the "Scotsman," which is bringing him to this country, is delayed by stress of weather. His twenty-four servants arrived in Ottawa, and will be able to have a "snack" ready for the new Governor-General when he arrives.

MR. E. SNOWE WIGGINS, the Civil Service savant, Ottawa, may have succeeded in squaring the circle, but he can't keep down the odour of the fertilizer applied to Parliament Hill lawns, which offends the sensitive olfactories of the curled darlings that toil their time away in the Departments.

AT a meeting of the members of the Independent Order of Foresters in Ottawa, Thursday night, a resolution condemning in effect the management of the Supreme Court for extravagance which necessitated an increase of rates of the Order was passed. The increase goes into effect in January next.

SINGLE TAX COLUMN.

Municipal Ownership Considered.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Some weeks ago re the proposal to loan to the Wm. Hamilton Co. the sum of $20,000, you pointed out the fact that the corporation could borrow the sum at a much lower rate of interest than the company; that the interest thus saved was sufficient to help the company materially in the extension of their works; that the indirect advantage gained to the town through the increase of the pay list of the company was quite a sufficient consideration to warrant the town in assuming the responsibility of endorsing the obligation of the company to the extent of the amount of the loan.

These arguments seem to have been accepted almost unanimously, as the vote of 401 to 42 will prove fairly, hence we must assume that the ratepayers, and particularly the property owners, are desirous of increasing the money in circulation in the town that a greater share may be had by the individual, and that they are willing to assume a certain financial responsibility to secure this end.

Well, sir, if the writer of this article can point to a clear and proper demonstration that a much greater advantage can be secured in the same way, it would be only reasonable to expect the town to pay some attention to the project and at least give it some little consideration. This I shall attempt to do by introducing not any new-fangled idea or anything fraught with a great deal of speculation. The only qualification required is courage to take hold of it, and the result must be to save money to every ratepayer in the town and at the same time set a large amount of private capital free for investment in private industries, and thus furnish a further stimulus to trade.

The first proposition is to take over the Water Works and manage the business of the water supply as a municipal concern. This would only require the purchase of the outfit at the expiration of the term of the present franchise agreement—merely borrowing the money by the town at a lower rate of interest than the company can possibly secure it and keeping the present, or the then present employees, to do the work as they do it now and will do it to the end of this term. The result would be that any citizen using corporation water would feel that he was lessening ordinary taxation by any excess of the ordinary quantity of water used and paid for, and use of water for lawns, etc., would not only add to the appearance of the town but also to its financial prosperity.

The second proposition is to buy out the present Electric Light & Power Company, or put in a municipal lighting and power plant at the expiration of the present company's franchise. I would favour the putting in of a new plant then, because by that time the present outfit will have become too far out of date to be tolerated in any way whatever. The writer once heard a very careful and trustworthy estimate made by the owner of an electric lighting outfit for a neighbouring town of about one-tenth of our population, placing his annual income at 40 per cent. of the actual cost of his outfit and operating expenses for the year, and he further estimated his clear profits at 20 per cent., and this where steam had to be used for nine months of the year. If this is correct, who will deny the advantage of municipal electric lighting plans for Peterborough, with unlimited water power.

A third proposition, quite as feasible and advantageous as the others, is to municipalize in the same way the supply of gas to the consumers of the town, but this could scarcely be separated from the second, for it is in the same company's hands, and they would find it less profitable to manipulate it alone, while the corporation would find it but little additional cost to take it over with the electric outfit if purchased.

Of course, Mr. Editor, the writer has little hope that any such advanced movements on the line of municipal control of public franchises will ever take place until we get a council that can agree (at least a majority of them) long enough to buy a street roller or carry to a conclusion on the second day a bargain fairly entered into on a first; but we may hope that such a council may be elected some time in the future—soon enough for some of the younger participators in the business of the town to see some of these projects attempted at least. For why should certain sources of wealth created by the community be permitted to remain entirely in the control of individuals, requiring no effort on their part to secure a large income from the necessities of the corporation? There can be no injustice in a municipality controlling and enjoying the profits of whatever business they create, more than in the case of a private individual.
